LT. VAUGHN J. Blake, (left), 52, retired last week as a commander of the Petoskey State Police Post, which serves the Charlevoix area. Blake joined the force as a trooper at Brighton in 1947 and has been in charge of the Petoskey post since 1966. He has been succeeded by Lt. David A. Leik, (right), 38, formerly commander at Marquette.

TWO TROOPERS at the Petoskey State Police Post have been cited by the department, one for bravery and one for meritorious service. Trooper James R. Alton (left) earned the bravery award for apprehending an armed subject in a barricaded home at Boyne City last March after the subject had shot and wounded two persons. Trooper Stephen D. Madden (right) was cited for his part in the case. They were among 10 State Police officers and six civilians cited by Col. John R. Plants, State Police director.

Mrs. Heise Is Honored

Mrs. Donald Heise has been named one of the Outstanding Elementary Teachers of America for 1973.

The Outstanding Teacher awards program is designed to honor men and women who have distinguished themselves by their dedication to education.

Mrs. Heise's school is in line for a $500 award if she is selected as one of the five finalists.

Obituary

Beecher

Funeral for Lester M. Beecher, 77, who died July 16 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where he had been a patient since May 24, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home July 19. The Rev. James Lugibihl officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born in Detroit Nov. 15, 1895, Mr. Beecher was a veteran of World War 1. He was a tool and die maker by trade and was employed by the Superior Machine and Engineering Co. in Detroit until coming to Charlevoix 20 years ago to make his home. He never married.

Isaman

Funeral services for Mrs. Kenneth (Theresa) Isaman, 73, who died July 11 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient for six weeks, was held at the Watson Funeral Home July 19. The Rev. Dale Turner officiated. Burial was in Jones Cemetery.

Born in East Jordan March 30, 1900, the former Theresa Burbank was married to Kenneth Isaman in 1916. They made their home in East Jordan until 1919 when they moved to New York State to live.

In 1936 they returned to East Jordan to make their home. Mr. Isaman preceded her in death in Jan., 1967. She had been a member of the South Arm Grange and attended the United Missionary Church.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Harry (Delores) Hanson of St. Cloud, Minn., and Mrs. Frona Bowman of Boyne City; a son, Kenneth of Troy; eight grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Rose

Funeral for Mrs. Ida M. Rose, 67, who died Saturday at the Grandvue Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient for four years, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Tuesday. Burial was in Brookside cemetery.

Born in Charlevoix Sept. 1, 1903, the former Ida M. Curtis was graduated from Charlevoix High School and the Charlevoix County Normal School. She taught briefly in an area rural school prior to her marriage to Glen E. Rose on March 1, 1922. They always made their home here.

She was an operator for the Michigan Bell Telephone Co. for many years. She served as matron of the Charlevoix County jail from Jan. 1, 1955, until May 31, 1966, when Mr. Rose was sheriff.

She attended the First Congregational church, and was a member of Charlevoix Chapter No. 72, Order of the Eastern Star, and Charlevoix Rebekah lodge No. 293.

Surviving are her husband; a son, Charles E. Rose of Whitmore Lake; two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Patsy) VanSchoten and Mrs. Carl (Donna) Phillips, both of Ann Arbor; six grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. Carl Eckman of Tawas and two brothers, Franklin and John, both of Charlevoix.

Marshall

Funeral for Mrs. Myrtle I. Marshall, 72, who died July 11 at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where she had been a patient for four days, was held at the First Baptist Church Monday morning. The Rev. John Call officiated. The body was taken to Sister Bay, Wisc. for services at the First Baptist Church there on Tuesday. Burial will be in Little Sister Bay Cemetery.

Born in Sister Bay, Wisc., July 2, 1901, the former Myrtle I. Appel was married to C. Y. Marshall in Chicago in 1925. They always made their home here. He preceded her in death in May 1967. She was a member of the First Baptist Church, its church circle and choir.

Surviving are a brother, Benjamin Appel, and one sister, Mrs. Ivy Wiltse, both of Sister Bay.

The Winchester Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Christakopoulos

Funeral services for Aristedes Christakopoulos, 76, of Charlevoix, were held Tuesday afternoon at the Winchester Funeral Home. The Rev. James Lugibihl officiated with interment in Brookside Cemetery.

Mr. Christakopoulos died Saturday at the Grandvue Medical Facility in East Jordan where he had been a patient for two days.

A native of Greece, he was born May 15, 1897 and came to Chicago at the age of 14. He later moved to Detroit where he was a self-employed bookkeeper. He came to Charlevoix to live with his son, Arthur Christ, seven years ago.

Survivors include five sons, Arthur Christ of Charlevoix, William of Detroit, Michael of Lansing, George and Constantinos of California; a daughter, Mrs. Theodore Howard of North Dakota and seven grandchildren.

Swaboda

Funeral for Edward Francis Swaboda, 65, of Jordan Township who died Monday at the Charlevoix Area Hospital where he had been a patient for five days, will be held at St. John Nepomucine Church at 11 a.m. Wednesday. The Rev. Fr. David Geumond of Elmira will officiate. Burial will be in St. John's Calvary Cemetery.

The body is at the Watson Funeral Home where the Rosary was to be recited at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

Born in Jordan Township, Antrim County, Feb. 26, 1908, he was married to the former Julia Mary Klocek Aug. 18, 1934 at Petoskey. They always resided in Jordan Township. He was an edger and sawyer at Byard's Mill at East Jordan.

He was a member of St. John Nepomucine Church.

Surviving are his wife; a son, Joseph J. of Plainwell; two daughters, Mrs. Michael (Marie) MacCauley of Davison and Mrs. Leon (Joann) Nemecek of Kalamazoo and nine grandchildren.

Peterson Achieves All-A's at NCMC

Making the list with him were Judith Fisher, a graduate of Mound High School; John Gibes, Petoskey St. Francis; Kathy Massey, Boyne Falls; Linda Nelson, Boyne City; Suzanne Sandling, Ann Arbor; and Nancy Taylor, Petoskey High School.

Among 33 other students making the dean's list at NCMC for the semester were Laureen Heeres of Charlevoix and Georgia McKenney and Mary Evans of East Jordan.

Although the honors list wasn't as long as usual, Vratanina said it represented a wider geographic than ever before.

Tri-County Dems To Picnic Aug. 19

Democrats from Emmet, Charlevoix and Antrim Counties met in Charlevoix recently to plan a tri-county Democratic picnic, Sunday, Aug. 19. Invitations are being sent to prominent Michigan Democrats and special emphasis is being given to bringing out-state Democrats into active participation in the party.

Plans are for a family style picnic at the Robert Wasoski farm. Admission will be by ticket or proof of party membership. Children under 18, with their families, are free. Thus, if both adults in a family join the Michigan Democratic party, no other admission tickets are needed.

Martin Paul, acting as chairman of the planning committee said this is the first time Democrats from the three counties have gotten together to sponsor an event of this kind. "It will provide an occasion to get acquainted with one another and visit with the state party leadership. With so many new families moving to this area, it's time to start building a stronger Democratic organization in Northern Michigan," he said.

Barbara Sawyer from the Democratic State Central Committee staff, will assist the planning committee.

Clem Wagner of Charlevoix has promised a picnic menu of bratwurst, burgers, beer and soft drinks. Committee members are planning entertainment for children, a prize drawing and other activities.

Judy Potter On Dean's List

Judy Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Potter of Charlevoix, has been named to the dean's list at Davenport College of Business in Grand Rapids for the spring term.

Petoskey's Gaslight District, composed of fine resort shops, is one of those rare shopping areas where the customer is overwhelmed with kindness. Each Gaslight shop is unique, and each brings to Northern Michigan the finest quality gifts available anywhere. While the shops contain plenty of gifts to take home to Aunt Minnie, merchants have scoured the globe to find the rare and unique in exclusive cashmere fabrics, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and the kind of toys and games which make browsing as much fun as buying.

A trip to Northern Michigan is not complete until you've visited the Gaslight Shops:

Zoners Weigh Changes In County Ordinance

Bill Mercer, zoning administrator for Charlevoix County, has explnined why the Charlevoix County Planning Commission is considering a number of changes to bring the ordinance more up to date and to provide more viable and sound zoning for the county.

Mercer noted that the Ordinance has been in effect roughly eight months and in that time a number of problem areas have cropped up regarding the Ordinance. He went on to detail some of these changes.

One area in which the County Planning Commission will be closely examining the reactions of the county residents is that of what to do with mobile homes. A number of appeals have been filed regarding the location of mobile homes and Mercer indicated that the Planning Commission is quite anxious to assess the feelings of the general populace in regard to locating mobile homes within the county.

Another area Mercer cited as being in need of closer examination was that of minimum square foot requirements within particular zone districts. He said a number of people have expressed concern over the square foot requirements, especially in light of the development of seasonal, or second home sites.

Mercer also pointed out that certain portions of the ordinance were not functioning well because of technical matters. He went on to say that these technical matters were in need of changes and that the Planning Commission wants to make the entire ordinance more workable in light of the speed of decisions rendered by the Planning Commission and the Zoning Board of Appeals.

The procedure to be followed to make these changes will be initiated by the holding of a number of public hearings throughout the County. These hearings are scheduled for late July and early August.

Gaylord Alpenfest Starts

The 9th annual Alpenfest gets underway in the "Alpine Village" of Gaylord on Wednesday, July 18, kicking off four days of special events and activities.

Many of the Gaylord residents will don Alpine costumes in observance of the summer festival.

The 1973 Alpenfest queen will be crowned at the queen's pageant at 8 p.m. Friday, July 30, in the Gaylord High School gymnasium. Ten girls are vying for the honor.

Other highlights of the festival include "Community Night" at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Gaylord High gym. Local and professional talent will provide the entertainment. There will be the traditional "Burning of the Boogg' when all Gaylord residents will see their troubles go up in smoke.

At 9 a.m. on Thursday, the Alpenfest Costume Parade will take place on Main Street, with 1,000 children and adults, dressed in colorful Alpine costume, parading down the street. That will be followed by the "World's Largest Coffee-Break," featuring coffee served from the world's largest coffee pot.

At 5 p.m. on Saturday, the Alpenfest Grand Parage will begin on Main Street. More than 100 units will take part.

The "Alpenstrasse" will be open during the entire festival in the courthouse square, featuring artists, caricturists, glass blowers and sculptors. There will be dancing, nature-hikes, games, pet parades, flea markets, band concerts and baseball and tennis tournaments.

The Kansas City Royals professional baseball organization will conduct a tryout camp in Gaylord in search of prospective big leaguers.

Complete Alpenfest schedules are available at most Gaylord businesses or at the Gaylord Area Chamber of Commerce.

COMMON COUNCIL

COUNCIL MINUTES

July 2, 1973
8:00 p.m.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met at the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Aldermen present: Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Absent: None.

The minutes of the June 18, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Curtis Kipke appeared before Council and outlined his program as Recreational Director. He advised Council that July had been declared Michigan Recreational month and hoped that Council would pass a Resolution to that effect.

Lee Moerland was advised that the issue of rezoning had no connection with the Sand Castle permit and that if the adjoining property owner wished to rezone his property, he should make application in accordance with the Fourth Class City's Act.

Discussion of the two separate balconies on the Sand Castle took place. Attorney Michael was instructed to make formal application, regarding the balconies, for his client before August 13, 1973; when it will be reviewed at a Board of Appeals meeting.

Wayne Carter asked if the City would consider leasing or selling the fuel oil storage tank at the Electric plant. His request was put into Utility Committee for consideration.

Bids on trucks were opened and tabulated as follows:

Bidder	Make of	Vehicle	Price-new
Barnes	International	Dump truck chassis	$4845
		Truck Box	1482
Barnes	International	¾ ton truck (one)	2784.21
		¾ ton truck (two)	5568.42
		¾ ton truck	3090.00

The bids were put into the Utility Committee for final tabulation and evaluation.

Correspondence from Bay City with reference to House Bill No. 4377 (boat pump-out facilities) was reviewed and put into the Marine Committee.

A letter from Holiday Station with reference to Trademark sign, asking permission to move the sign according to a drawing, was read. The matter will be reviewed at the Board of Appeals, August 13, 1973.

Mayor Hansen announced a change in committees as follows: Alderman Supernaw to take Alderwoman Wallace's place on the Finance and Budget Committee and Alderwoman Wallace to take Alderman Supernaw's place on the Marine, Parks, Airport and Cemetery Committee for the remainder of the year.

Alderwoman Wallace reported for the Marine Committee. They recommend that the proposal of Forbrig and Timms be turned down due to the width of the barge and the problems it could create at the pump-out facility; the traffic hazzard that could be created when loading and unloading; and also the esthetics of the downtown harbor would be greatly abused by the barge and equipment.

Alderman Supernaw made the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. RESOLVED, that it is hereby deemed adviseable to enter into a contract with the Consumers Power Company of Jackson, Michigan, for furnishing electric service to the City of Charlevoix for a period of three (3) years and thereafter from year to year, in accordance with the terms of the contract heretofore submitted to and considered by the Council; and RESOLVED, further, that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are authroized and directed to execute such contract on behalf of the city. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw made the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. RESOLVED, that the City of Charlevoix phase out the Bellaire Hydro Plant, known as the Bellaire Dam property, as of July 3, 1973, according to terms of a sales agreement with the County of Antrim, Michigan. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Selph. RESOLVED, that the City of Charlevoix enter into a lease with the Dept. of Natural Resources of the Coast Guard Property at Palmer Street for a term of 93 years beginning on January 1, 1973 and ending on June 1, 2066. RESOLVED, further, that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are authorized and directed to execute such lease on behalf of the City. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption supported by Alderman Plumm. RESOLVED, that the City of Charlevoix enter into a lease No. DOT CG 9 6813-73 for berth C, for one year commencing July 1, 1973. RESOLVED, further, that the Mayor and City Clerk be and are authorized and directed to execute such lease on behalf of the City. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Yeas: None. Absent: None.

Motion was made by Alderwoman Wallace and supported by Alderman Timms that the City Administrator be given authorization to prepare and sign application for approval of the proposed area for hangars at the airport with the Michigan Dept. of Aeronautics. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Selph. RESOLVED, that the City of Charlevoix enter into a Sales Agreement with the County of Antrim to sell the Bellaire Hydro Plant and that the Mayor and City Clerk be authorized and directed to execute such sale on behalf of the City. Resolution adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

There was no action taken on the ordinances regarding bicycles, City Administrator or Assessor. They were put into the committee as a whole for further study.

Received a petition requesting the City to change the 60 foot Newman Street right of way in the 200 block to accommodate property owners whose buildings are presently located within the right of way. The matter was referred to the Planning Commission.

Literature was circulated among the Council from the United Towns Organization regarding the twinning of Charlevoix with the town of Avian in France. The matter was put into the Public Relations Committee for further study.

By PROCLAMATION, Mayor Hansen proclaimed the month of July 1973, "Michigan Recreation Month" for the City of Charlevoix.

The City Administrator discussed fire contract service between the City and the townships and explained that townships had been charged at the rate of 0.6 mills; and that this rate was reduced to 0.5 mills in 1972, due to the increase in State Equalized Valuation. In the past the City's share has been absorbed by the General Fund. Mr. Hanna presented the following table of years and the millage required for the City's share, recommending that in the future the City's share be figured on a millage basis:

1966-67	.94
1967-68	3.95
1968-69	1.31
1969-70	.82
1970-71	.47
1971-72	1.06
1972-73	1.17
1973-74	1.42

It was further recommended that the Public Relations Committee review this matter.

Mr. Hanna also brought to the Council's attention that the contract with the Chamber of Commerce had lapsed; and should be re-instated.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $69,691.61 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Selph that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Aldermen Fochtman, and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: None.

On motion the Council adjourned.

Ida A. Heise, City Clerk.

Deer Statue Stolen From Baby's Grave

Mrs. Duane Bolduc of Charlevoix wonders if nothing is sacred anymore.

On Mother's Day, she purchased a little plaster figure of a deer to place on the grave of her daughter, DuAnne, who died last Aug. 8 at the age of one year.

She painted the little statue and placed it on DuAnne's grave, "my Mother's Day gift to my little girl."

But the last time she visited Du Anne's grave at St. Marys Cemetery the little deer was gone.

"It had been taken only hours before," Mrs. Bolduc says, "because the grass where it had been was still yellow and the ground was wet."

Mrs. Bolduc, whose husband teaches in the Charlevoix School system, says it is not the value of the little statue that counts.

"I can replace it for $10, but, after all, it was my Mother's Day gift to my little girl. It meant a lot to me."

Mrs. Bolduc has reported the incident to Charlevoix Police. But she is not particularly interested in pressing charges. The next time she visits DuAnne's grave, however, she would like to see the little deer back in its accustomed place. There will be no questions asked.

Let's Finish Bandstand

Dear Mr. Clock:

Some time this winter or spring you ran a feature "What our town needs". At that time I wrote a letter to you expressing my opinion that what we need is a band shell over our present stage in East Park. After going to the band concert last Wednesday night and hearing our band leader, Gary Stutzman make the same plea, I decided to write again about this matter.

If you took notice of all these wonderful young people who give their time for two nights a week, I think you will agree that they need some consideration. For about half of the concert many of them sat or stood facing the sun and had to squint to see their music. The concerts are a big drawing card for our summer visitors of all ages as well as our own townspeople. When the idea of a band shell was first considered some years ago, some money was collected at the concerts by people going through the crowd with baskets. Perhaps this ideas could be tried again. Where else but in Charlevoix-the Beautiful can you get such good entertainment and all for free?

Frontage, Homes Cost Far Less

Dear Bob:

Just read John E. Peterson's disgusting article in the July 9 issue of the Detroit News. In this guy Peterson a columnist or a fiction writer? I didn't know that Tom Merta was "fast talking" or that he was employed by a group of local businessmen and land developers." The article quotes Tom as saying "That's why we're trying to encourage builders to develop units that will appeal to affluent people." How about encouraging builders to construct units for the not so affluent, namely many Charlevoix residents.

As for Peterson's figures on the average prices for homes and lake frontage in our area. They are about as misleading as anything I've seen in a long while. I personally researched the official records at our Equalization Department and here are my factual findings.

Average price of 89 homes sold in 1972 and 1973, $21,000, not $23,000. Average price of Lake Michigan frontage (26 sales) $99 per foot, not $250 to $300 per foot. And the 28 sales of Lake Charlevoix frontage averaged out to $144 per foot, not $350 per foot.

I feel a rebuttal is definitely in order. As a real estate man, I too enjoy seeing Charlevoix grow, but let's be realistic. People who read Peterson's article may believe that what he says is "book." If so, we can look for another substantial price increase in land and real estate soon. May findings were based on facts – not fiction. Let's tell it like it is!

Clockwise Are We Snobs?

By BOB CLOCK

Is Charlevoix really as snobbish as John E. Peterson's piece in The Detroit News last Monday makes us seem?

I doubt it.

It is generally agreed by Chamber of Commerce Manager Tom Merta and Clockwise, two of the people whom Peterson interviewed, that they were both misquoted, which seems to be more the rule than the exception nowadays in dealing with big city reporters. Which is unfortunate.

Of course, there was a lot of truth in Peterson's article. Our property values are rising, perhaps at a faster rate than the rest of the state generally.

But local realtors are up in arms over some of the averages Peterson listed for residences and shore frontage.

Anthony Engler jr., who works for J. H. Corbin Realty, did some digging at the Equalization Office and discovered that the average price of homes sold in 1972 and so far in 1973 (89 transactions) came to $21,000, not $23,300. (See letter elsewhere in this week's Courier.)

Lake Michigan frontage (26 sales) averaged $99 a front foot, not $250 to $300. By the same token, Lake Charlevoix frontage (28 sales) averaged $144 a front foot, not $350 a front foot, as Peterson asserted.

Engler says that Petersons' misquotes make local realtors look bad, particularly if they have property listed for a client at somewhere near the true market value.

Of course, you must bear in mind that there are "unusual" sales, both high and low. The sky may be the limit for a fellow who wants to buy a certain parcel of frontage for a particular reason. Likewise, a father may sell off parcels of his property to his children at ridiculously low prices. But these sales are the exception rather than the rule and should not even be taken into consideration in determining fair market values.

The whole tone of the article, however, made it seem as though Charlevoix is out to attract the multi-millionnaire – and no one else. There is room hereabouts for persons from all economic levels and all walks of life – although sheer economics does have something to say about who settles in the Charlevoix area.

We don't have the big industry to attract many medium and low-income families. Nor do we have medium or low-income housing to accommodate them. If an unskilled worker has a family to support, he can probably do it better in Detroit or Grand Rapids than he can in Charlevoix.

There was a time not too many years ago when Charlevoix city fathers and the community generally thought the answer to all our ills was the creation of more jobs, which could only be done by encouraging industry to relocate in northern Michigan.

That was before the days of environmental awareness, however. The feeling today seems to be that although factories create jobs, they also create problems which we can well do without, particularly if we are interested in maintaining our reputation as a "vacation mecca."

Although we don't like to admit it, the racial problems confronting the big cities probably are a principal factor in our sudden growth. I don't know the doctor's wife interviewed by Peterson (and I suspect she doesn't exist), but property values in Charlevoix did start climbing rapidly right after the Detroit riot of 1967 – and they haven't stopped. And there is little doubt that the issue of cross-district bussing in the Detroit area also has been a factor. The exodus from the Detroit suburbs to areas further from the central city, which are not included in Judge Roth's scheme, is a matter of record.

But there are no figures on how many families have been willing to move this far from the central city, when the old man still has to earn his bread and butter in Detroit.

The concensus among Charlevoixans is that we do not want to be looked upon by the rest of the state as a mecca for the idle rich. We feel bad that more people cannot enjoy the benefits of living in northern Michigan. But we are aware that the steps necessary to broaden our population base to include numbers of low and middle income families could place an untenable burden on our relatively pristine environment, which, to date, has been our stock-in-trade.

As for one of the quotes Peterson attributed to Clockwise, I have never met a person who was "helpless and apathetic" in Detroit who has suddenly come to life as a contributing member of society in Charlevoix-the-Beautiful.

Quite the contrary in fact. There are a number of people living among us today in Charlevoix who were prime-movers in the Motor City and elsewhere a few short years ago. Some of them are active in out community life, but they also were active in their old hometowns. A change of locale really doesn't change a person that much.

The rest of the quotes attributed to Clockwise come close to what was actually said. I do feel bad occasionally that I cannot contribute what little talent I have toward helping my old home town – Detroit – through her perilous days.

Furthermore, the people in Charlevoix, generally, have been angered by the rapid rise in their assessments. But they are happy that property values have kept pace.

I don't think the people of Charlevoix are really racists, which was one of the implications of Peterson's article. Natives, certainly, don't give race a second thought, which is a beautiful condition. If there are racial overtones to Charlevoix's new growth, it is not a home-grown product. It is an import which, hopefully, will wither and die in these frigid climes.

for a dump truck and two pick-up trucks until Willis Peters introduced the conflict-of-interest issue. The utilities committees recommended that both bids go to Charlevoix Oil, although Bryce Barnes (International) of Eastport was low on the two pick-up trucks, with a bid of $5,568.42. Charlevoix Oil's bid is $6,180. Alderman Gerald Selph said Charlevoix Oil was selected because the truck boxes are larger and Charlevoix Oil Co., located in Charlevoix, is more handy for service calls. Charlevoix Oil was low on the dump truck bid, with a quotation fo $5,677.

--Postponed action on a proposed bicycle registration ordinance. Kenneth Staley objected strenuously to the ordinance, which he believes is unnecessary. The ordinance would reinforce state law which permits no more than one person on a bicycle. Commented Mrs. Larry Warner: "I don't feel like spending the weekend (in jail) for riding my baby on my bike."

–Referred to the Planning Commission a request by William Brady to have his lots on Sherman-st. face Upright-st. instead, portions of a recently closed alley.

–Approved fire contracts with Charlevoix, Hayes and Norwood townships. Marion Township hasn't signed the agreement yet. Ambulance contracts were approved with all of the adjoining townships except Eveline.

--Promised to give Charlevoix Township Supervisor Oscar Stroud a breakdaown on ambulance expenses. Stroud objected that patients are charged $1 a mile, in addition to the township levy.

--Sent to committee a request by James Bearss that he be allowed to purchase airport adjacent to his home, south of the railroad tracks.

–Set a hearing for Aug. 13 on a request by Norman Ance to rezone his property at 306 Petoskey-rd. from R-2 to C-1.

–Suggested that residents in the area pay for a survey of Newman-st., at a cost of about $250. There has been a movement afoot to have the street declared an alley rather than a street.

–Agreed to make Division-st. from Mercer-blvd. to U.S. 31 a one-way street, heading into the city. The change will be advertised before the effective date, Sept. 1. Signs also will be posted.

–Discussed incorporating all city owned land adjacent to the city but outside city limits into the city proper.

–Asked Hoffman to look up the deed tu see who actually owns St. Marys Cemetery. It is maintained by the city and lots are sold by the city.

–Heard a long list of complaints by Alderman Jeannine Wallace relative to the appearance of Charlevoix this summer. She cited unsightly wires and globeless lamps in East Park, broken curbs, crumbling sidewalks, weed-choked city property, a lack of trash barrels, trash and debris in the streets and dogs running loose in East Park.

–Heard a request by Tim Offenhauser to open a concession stand near East Park. The council didn't favor the move, but asked Offenhasuer to keep in touch after Mrs. Warner pointed out that the concession stand at the Lake Michigan Beach is closed more than it is open.

Boat Parade Blanks Ready to Pick Up

John Michael, chairman of this year's Venetian Boat Parade, reports that application blanks are available at the Chamber of Commerce office for persons interested in entering their boats in the parade, scheduled the evening of July 28.

In event of rainy weather, the boat parade will be held Sunday, July 29.

Michael said skippers are encouraged to decorate their vessels.

Strings of lights will be available next week at the Captain's Corner, Irish Boat Shop and Staley's Hardware for paraders. The lights are being sold, but they may be returned after the parade at a substantial credit, Michael said.

He thinks most boaters will want to keep them for future parades.

Participants should leave Round Lake for Lake Charlevoix between 9 and 9:30 p.m., stopping at the committee boat, moored near the railroad bridge, to pick up their parade number.

Bank Raises Interest

The Charlevoix County State Bank has announced dramatic new interest rates in response a lifting of the ceiling by the Federal Reserve Board recently.

Regular passbook savings will pay 5 percent and Golden Key passbook accounts will receive 5½ percent.

The bank is paying 6 percent on savings certificates with a maturity of one, one-and-one-half or two years in amounts of $500 or more.

Certificates with a maturity of two-and-a-half, three and three-and-one-half years, in amounts of $500 or more, will pay 6½ percent.

And four-year savings certificates in amounts of $1,000 or more will pay 7 percent.

Which One Will Reign As Venetian Queen?

The annual "Miss Charlevoix Venetian Queen's Pageant" will be held Friday, July 27, at 8 p.m. in the High School gymnasium, according to Mrs. Bruce Bartlett and Mrs. Larry Warner, co-chairmen.

Price of admission is $1.50 for adults and 75 cents for children under 12.

The Pageant Committee also will have souvenir programs for sale for 25 cents each. The programs include glamor pictures of the nine candidates plus a list of merchants and gifts.

Working with Mrs. Bartlett and Mrs. Warner on the pageant are Mrs. John Lignell, Mrs. James Williams and Mrs. David Phillips.

For the first time, the pageant is being conducted independent of the Chamber of Commerce and the committee is worried privately about making expenses. They hope a good turn-out at the pageant will help defray costs.

The 1973 Venetian Queen will be selected by a panel of three judges -- Al VanSummeren, executive director of the Traverse City Chamber of Commerce; Mrs. Ned (Connie) Tanner, secretary of the Little Traverse Civic Theater; and Kirk Schaller, president of the Charlevoix Courier Corp.

The pageant will start with a song-and-dance routine by the nine candidates -- Candy Klooster, Carole Pence, Maurine Wallace, Judy Hamilton, Patti Warner, Cathy Dubey, Cathy Morris, Tori Alger and Darcy McCandless. The girls will do "Raindrops Keep Falling on My Head."

Following there will be a mini-fashion show, with costumes donated by local merchants.

Each candidate will then present a three to five-minute talent skit.

The final event will be the appearance of the girls and escorts in formal dress. The candidates will be answering questions selected at random.

Winners of last year's contest will be on hand to present banners and prizes to this year's winners.

Debbie Marine will present the Miss Congeniality award, Debbie Henkel will present the second runner-up award and Debbie Bartlett will present the first runner-up award.

Climax of the pageant will be announcement of the 1973 Venetian Queen, who will be crowned and robed by the 1972 Venetian Queen, Lisa Wasoski.

Miss Wasoski has made a new robe for this year's ceremony, made of material donated by Oleson's Sewing Center. The crown was donated by Charlevoix Jewelers.

On Thursday, July 26, candidates, judges and committee members will meet together for the first time at a luncheon at the Wuodshed.

Jam-Packed Schedule On Tap for Weekend

The 44th edition of Charlevoix's famed Venetian Festival -- scheduled this weekend – promises to be the biggest and best ever, according to Tom Merta, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

The festival will start Friday noon when the booths open in East Park and will continue through Sunday evening, with a jam-packed schedule of events on tap for townspeople and visitors.

Among the highlights of the festival will be the Venetian Street Parade, scheduled to begin at noon Saturday. Floats and marchers will rendezvous near the High School athletic field and will proceed north on Bridge-st. to Clinton-st. The parade will turn left at the light and proceed down Clinton-st. before disbanding.

The new line-of-march will permit north and south bound traffic to travel through town even during the parade, using Park-ave. and State-st.

Frank Sutton, who plays Sgt. Carter on the Gomer Pyle Show, is expected to be on hand as parade marshal, Merta said. Sutton is appearing at the Cherry County Playhouse in Traverse City.

Merta said 15 clubs and organizations plan to set up booths along Bridge-st. in East Park during the festival, selling everything from candied apples and popcorn to Christian paperbacks.

Some of the booths probably will be set up Thursday evening, although they won't open to the public until Friday.

Other events scheduled for Friday is the opening of the "Super Bounce" in East Park, a big air-filled contraption billed as "fun for all ages."

Sehl's Northern Show also will open Friday at Ferry Beach.

Headquartered in Gaylord, the show will offer carnival rides and midway attractions throughout the festival.

Friday evening at 8 p.m., the Venetian Queen Pageant will be held in the High School gymnasium. (See story elsewhere on Page 1).

Beginning at 9 a.m. Saturday (and possibly as early as Friday afternoon), the Northland Helicopter Service will offer 'copter rides over the Charlevoix area. The helicopters will load and unload at the parking lot of the Bartletts' and Buller Decorating Center (formerly Kroger's).

At 11 a.m., the Lions' Club will begin serving its traditional barbecued chicken dinner in East Park, with the street parade following at noon.

At 1 p.m. The Midshipmen Drum and Bugle Corps from Petoskey will perform in East Park. At 1:15 p.m. the Palaestrum gymnastics group from Williamsburg will begin demonstrating their prowess and dexterity, followed by a fire hose fight at 2 p.m. sponsored by the Charlevoix Volunteer Fire Department.

At 2:30 p.m. there'll be a greased pole climb for kids and at 3:30 p.m. youngsters will show their stuff at the annual Doll, Pet and Dress-up Parade at the bandstand, MC'd by the Magnificent Bobby the Clown of Detroit.

Beginning at 4:30 p.m., a number of musical groups will make their appearance in East Park, starting with The Blue Blazes direct from Mr. Flood's in Ann Arbor. Other groups taking part are Linda Ford and Co. from the Weathervane, the High School Band, the City Concert Band and the City Jazz Band.

At 8:45 p.m., a flyover has tentatively been scheduled by Coast Guard units from Traverse City.

At 9:45 p.m., the new Venetian Queen and her court will be introduced and at 10 p.m. the Venetian Boat Parade will begin on Round Lake.

As in other years, the parade will end with a gigantic display of fireworks over the lake.

Sunday, from 8:30 a.m. until 10:30 a.m., Dave Phillips will be in charge of an all-you-can-eat pancake breakfast in East Parl. Sausages, coffee and milk are also on the menu. Tickets are available from downtown merchants.

At noon, the Coast Guard Cutter Sundew will hold open house for Charlevoix visitors. And at 1 p.m. Dare Devil parachutists will put on an exhibition over Round Lake.

Pork, Chicken and Eggs Cost More This Week

You'll pay more for pork, eggs and chicken in Charlevoix this week than you did last, according to the managers of Charlevoix's three major food retailers, Oleson's Shopping Center, Neff's Quality Food Store and Edwards IGA.

The hikes, which range from 25 to 30 percent on some commodities, are the result of a relaxing of price ceilings by the federal government last week.

The only major item not affected was beef. Controls on beef prices will not be lifted until Aug. 12.

Robert Neff, manager of Neff's market, said the price of large grade-A eggs jumped from 79 cents to 89 cents a dozen last week. He says the price per dozen may hit 99 cents in another week.

Dick Edwards, owner of Edwards IGA, said Monday morning that he was having trouble keeping track of the price increases. Pork loins rose 16 cents a pound Monday, bringing the price of chops to $1.79. Neff said his pork chops also would cost $1.79 a pound.

Edward said bacon zoomed up 26 cents a pound, with prices to the customer now ranging from $1.45 to $1.49 a pound.

"The situation is changing so rapidly, it's hard to quote firm prices," Edwards said. "What's true this morning may not be true this afternoon."

Edwards said his store was "busier than the dickens" on Sunday with shoppers attempting to stock up before the new prices went into effect.

Leroy Buchanan, manager of Oleson's Food Store, said he didn't even order any pork this week because of the price increase.

"It's almost up there with beef," he commented.

He said he anticipants an increase in the price of chicken. Fryers may reach 79 cents a pound this week. Prices have ranged from 69 to 73 cents a pound in recent weeks.

Edwards and Neff also anticipate higher chicken prices.

Although no milk price increases have been announced locally, Michigan Milk Producers reported July 20 that the wholesale price of milk used for bottling purposes in the Lower Peninsula will be raised 45 cents per hundred pounds the end of the month.

Dairies are expected to pass along the price hike to consumers.

The increases are the result of the latest Nixon Administration move to harness the nation's galloping economy. The relaxing of controls allows retail food prices to be raised to reflect the increased cost of raw agricultural products.

Sorry, Kids: School Will Start Sept. 5

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at a meeting held Monday night, established the opening day of school, hired a Middle School teacher and a para-professional person for the high school study halls, discussed the position of Vocational Education director, heard the appointments made by the board president, Mrs. Jane Lieberman and a report on the condition of the schools.

Wednesday, Sept. 5, was established as the first full day of school for students, with Tuesday, Sept. 4, set aside for teachers conferences and a luncheon for the faculty, school administration and the Board of Education. The site of the luncheon will be announced later.

Halbert Evans was recommended by Supt. James A. McKimmy for the position of eighth grade math teacher and assistant football coach. A 1970 graduate of Michigan State University with a B.S. degree, he enrolled in the Teachers' Corps program at Oakland University in September, 1970 and graduated with a Master's degree and an elementary certificate in 1971.

During his Teachers Corps experience, he expanded his preparation to include math, science and language arts. He taught at Capac public schools

AC SPARK PLUG reps. in convention at Boyne Mountain, tried their hand at deep sea fishing at Charlevoix Monday and Tuesday. Sixteen charter boats from around northern Lake Michigan took almost 200 of the conventioneers into the lake trout grounds off North Point and Big Rock Point. Big catches were reported, with some fish weighing up to 14 pounds.

Here's How to Join Gala Boat Parade

The following program and suggestions have been drawn up by John Michael, chairman of the Venetian Boat Parade, for skippers of boats taking part in the Saturday night event. If the weather is bad, the parade will be held Sunday.

–Buy your lights in advance from Staley's Hardware, the Captain's Corner or the Irish Boat Shop. You can return them after the parade if you wish, for a partial refund. Decorations, of course, are optional. The committee believes that yachts with runnings lights and cabin lights on are just as pretty.

–Leave your home berth in time to reach the committee boat, moored in Lake Charlevoix near the Railroad Bridge between 9 and 9:30 p.m. Fill out the entry blank on Page 16 of this week's Courier, or pick one up at the chamber office. And have it with you when you report to the committee boat to get your parade number. The blanks should contain pertinent data about the boat, owner and guests aboard.

–Take your place in the parade line-up in Lake Charlevoix. Starting at 10 p.m. boats will proceed into Round Lake at one or two minute intervals, depending on the number taking part. Vessels are to proceed at about three knots toward the stake boat at mooring buoy A in the north-west corner of Round Lake. There they should identify themselves by parade number and boat name, and then proceed south between the city docks and the Sundew, which will be moored off shore.

–Proceed eastward along the south shore back to the railroad bridge. Keep moving so you don't bottle up the boats behind you.

Prizes will be awarded Sunday noon at a place to be announced.

Boyne Makes Plans for Regatta

The Boyne Yacht Club will hold its annual Red Fox Regatta with races Saturday, Aug. 4 and Sunday, Aug. 5.

The first race will be from Hortons Bay to East Jordan and return. The second race will be from Hortons Bay to Charlevoix and then to Millers Marina in Boyne City.

Skippers and crews will have dinner at the Shed in Charlevoix Saturday night.

Cakes 'n Candles

TORSTON Lovelace will celebrate his fifth birthday Aug. 2 and his sister Deanna will be three Aug. 8. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Lovelace of Port Huron. (Their dad was born in Charlevoix). Grandparents are Robert L. Lovelace of Ann Arbor, Mrs. Willis A. Cross, jr. of San Diego, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Avers of Algonac, Mich. They are the great grandchildren of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Cartier who settled in Charlevoix in 1901.

Kullik, Wieland, Rebman Spend Day on Campus

Tony Kullik, commissioner from District 7, and Tom Wieland of the State Advisory Council of Charlevoix County were among some 200 Michigan county commissioners who visited Michigan State University as guests of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service.

Accompanied by Ed Rebman, Charlevoix County extension director, they conferred with MSU extension officials who presented an overview of statewide extension programs planned for 1973-74.

The commissioners also met with participants attending two major, annual extension events – 4-H Exploration Days and College Week for Women – which attracted more than 4,800 women and young people to the MSU campus during the week.

Another feature of this year's County Commissioners Day was a tour of 10 MSU research installations, including waste management projects at the swine research center and poultry science department; the dairy, beef and endocrine research units, the School of Packaging and the College of Humane Medicine.

Physicals July 31

Charlevoix High School boys who expect to take part in athletes during the coming school year should report to the school at 7 p.m. Tuesday, July 31, for their physical examinations.

BALDWIN ATTENDS

Accent on 'Doing' At Michigan Tech

George E. Baldwin, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Baldwin, 404 Michigan-ave., Charlevoix, was one of 530 youths from 19 states and Canada who participated in a summer youth program entitled "Explorations in Careers and Knowledge" at Michigan Technological University at Houghton July 8 to 21.

With the accent on "doing things" rather than "hearing about things", the specially-designed series of 24 intensive one and two-week programs gave students a chance to learn about and acquire skills in the field which interest them.

The youngsters were exposed to mountaineering, computer science, forestry, experimental psychology, amateur radio, mechanical engineer, field archeology, small engine repair, radio and newspaper communication, painting, sketching, design and illustrations, photography, canoeing, ecology, geology and other fields of interest.

2 City Wrestlers Attending Clinic

Take downs, break downs and escapes are some of the important moves studied from July 15 through July 27 on the Olivet College campus as the college hosts over 300 high school wrestlers from across the country who will be attending the eleventh annual Spartan Wrestling Clinic here. Phil Christ and Pat DeYoung of Charlevoix are among the young wrestlers being taught the fine points of successful competition.

Director of the program is Grady Peninger, wrestling coach at Michigan State University and coach of the 1967 NCAA Champions and holder of seven straight Big Ten Team Titles. Peninger was named "Coach-of-the-year" for his 1966-67 National Collegiate Athletic Association champion team.

Also on the staff is Stan Dziedzic, assistant director and assistant coach at Michigan State, plus Greg Johnson and Tom and Pat Milkovich, Michigan State wrestlers and NCAA Champions.

Circlin' the Bases

By JIM REUS

First of all, let me make one thing perfectly clear. I am not responsible for the veracity of the figures presented in Circlin' the Bases. As a hardworking reporter dedicated to the loftiest of journalistic ethics, I must say that I try my best. But I have to deal with that shady Novak kid, who drops off the facts and figures on my desk each week.

Well anyway, it's like trying to read Chinese. So, my loyal readers, if by chance someone has been figeting with the figures, or if there has been an attempted cover-up of what really happened out there at the diamond, let me say that I know nothing about it. And secondly, I will do everything within my power to bring these responsible for the cover-up to justice.

I must do this out of respect to the high position I hold. As your trusted reporter, and out of respect for the trust you my readers, have shown in me, I cannot allow my position to be compromised.

MEN'S SLOW-PITCH

On Monday, July 16, Medusa started the evening by zapping Airport Bar 21-6. The Airport men crashed badly as Denny Spence, Larry Huhemaker and Tony Resch all connected on roundtrippers for Medusa. Stan Johnston pitched the win for Medusa and Terry Miller took the loss for the Airport.

The second game of the evening proved to be an extra inning marathon as Topside and American Mold tied 9-9. Ralph Doan and Stew Coleman had homeruns for Topside. But they weren't enough for a victory, as Bob Crain and Don Wells pitched to a tie.

The Shed had a lot of wood in them in the nightcap as they bested the Townhouse 18-2. Glen Taylor and Mike Brade had homers for the Shed, helping Gary Baich to an easy win. Ron Weislik was the losing pitcher.

But Townhouse came back Wednesday evening in the opener as the team defeated Freedman's 11-4. Ron Weislik was the winner on a 10 hitter. Glen Cunningham took the loss, giving up 19 hits. O.F. Faust and Glen Taylor had homeruns for the winners.

American Mold, behind Don Wells' pitching and homeruns by no one, defeated Medusa 9-3. Stan Johnston took the loss. He was helped out but to no avail by a homerun from the bat of Pat Kerr.

Jim Bowman then pitched Coast Guard to an 8-6 win over Andy's Don "Dimples" Smith took the loss for the tired tire people, who have yet to win this year. Dave Novotny of Andy's and Jim Bowman of CG each had homers.

Now, since that crazy Novak boy (Carl or Chuck–I don't know which) forgot to leave me the results from Friday's games, I have nothing to report. I trust now you're beginning to see what I'm up against. So as far as I am concerned, those games don't exist. That's the breaks.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH FIRST ROUND RESULTS

W

Well, the results are in and considering Nixon's economic policies, it's about time we had a run on the banks. That is, the bank that is FIRST in size, but not–in its name, finished FIRST. Meanwhile, the up and coming bank that is second in size but FIRST in its name, finished second. Edwards IGA finished sandwiched between the two in a tie for FIRST. If you're confused by all this hyperbole don't worry. I am too and I wrote it.

Com. Reformed	0	7	1

In Tuesday night's opening game, Community Reformed suffered a heartbreaking loss at the hands of the ruthless A & W team, 10-9. Val Peters pitched the victory giving up 14 hits. Christie Potter took the loss on a 10 hitter. Denise Boss bagged a round tripper for Community Reformed, but it was in vain.

Edward's IGA edged Kentucky Fried Chicken 4-3 in the evening's second game. Marge Carey pitched the win on a 7 hitter. Jodi Alger took the loss, also giving up 7 hits.

Charlevoix County State Bank then wiped out the Hospital 7-3 behind the pitching of Arlene Blissett. Jeanne Ramsdell took the loss on a 13 hitter.

First State Bank zapped Huffords 12-3 in the evening's finale. Lilly Gallagher and Julie Elzinga bagged homers for the bank, while Terl Probert had one for Hufford's Cindy Kiteley pitched in defeat.

On Thursday, July 19th the day after my birthday, A & W started the evening with an 8-7 upset over First State Bank. The financial wizards were in a tizzy, almost as bad as having a loan go bad, but nothing was to be done as last year's champs were knocked from FIRST place. Connie Shores was the winning pitcher on a 7 hitter. Pam Parsei took the loss, giving up 8 hits.

Hufford's then narrowly slipped past Charlevoix Hospital 32-4. As you might imagine, this game was a real cliff hanger. Jeanne Ramsdell was the losing pitcher, giving up only 24 hits. Cindy Kiteley pitched the win, giving up 6 hits.

In the third game of the evening, Ski & Shore Properties, Inc., which is really a much better team than their 1-7 record would indicate, suffered another heartbreaker defeat at the hands of Kentucky Fried Chicken. Ann Carey was the winning pitcher getting homerun help from Tori Alger and Sue Martin. Sue Holm was forced again to take a narrow, unfortunate and undeserved loss.

County Bank then finished the night with a final deposit on the first round title. They cleaned up on Community Reformed 18-3. The game was a typical victory for the bank and a typical fiasco for the church. It's about time Bud Boss made a few reforms in his team I'd say, as Arlene Blisset pitched herself to another victory, getting home run help twice from Georgia Lusk. Christie Potter, of course, took the loss.

In conclusion, I would like to ask that someone please teach Cari Novak how to spell. I'd sure appreciate it. If anyone is interested please call me at the Courier, 547-6558.

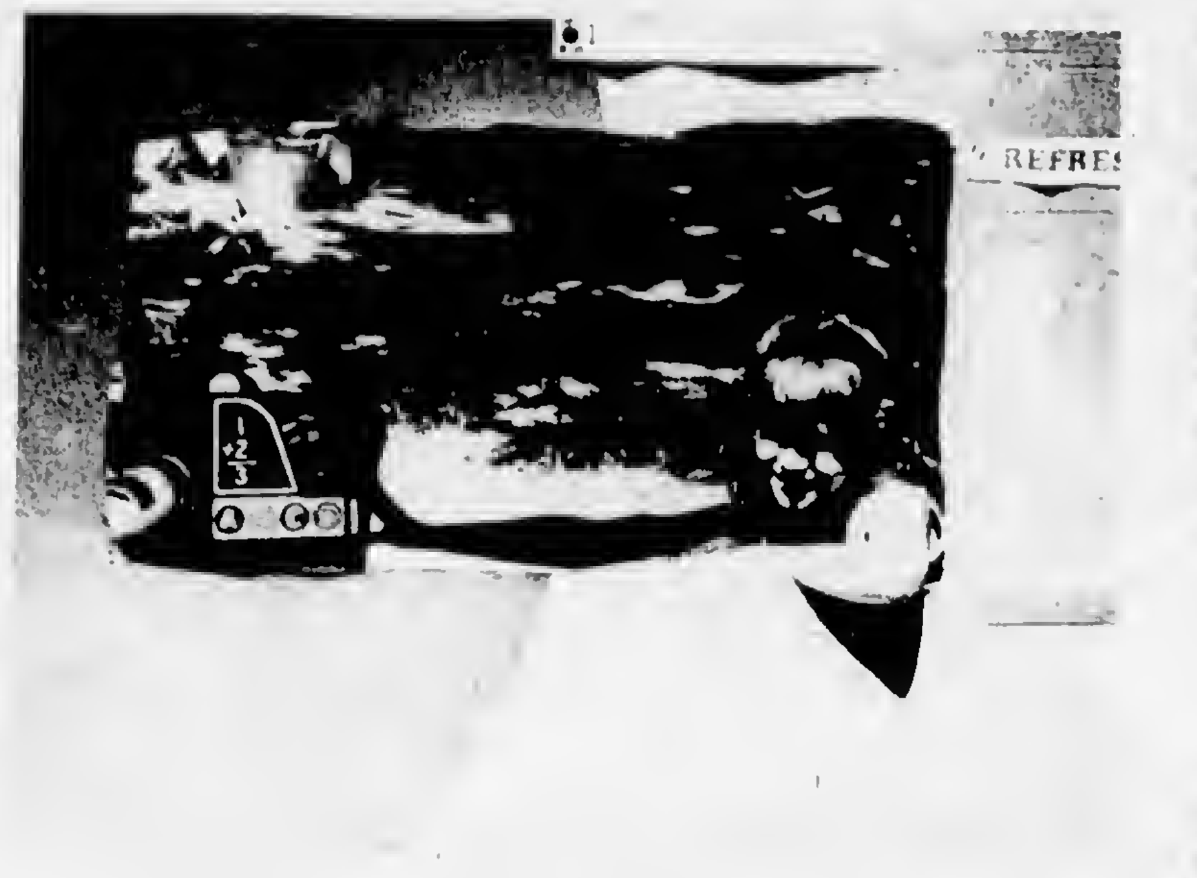
Kids Raise Funds for Dystrophy

Carnival Proceeds Donated

By JIM REUS



CATHY RUSSELL, the boss in charge of the till during last week's muscular dystrophy benefit carnival at the Russell house, was always ready to sell tickets and refreshments to young customers.

JERRY RUSSELL spent last week clowning around. He worked as a clown during the week-long carnival, to the amusement of customers and carnival workers alike.

There was a carnival in Charlevoix last week. Though small in size, it was staffed by a lot of young people with big hearts. The general manager of the carnival, in fact, was only nine years old.

Featured at the carnival were penny-pitch games, a ring toss, a puppet show and refreshments of all sorts. There was even a gallery where the work of some of Charlevoix's youngest artists was on display.

Spectators could take in the sights, play the games and have a good-tasting sweet all for less than 25 cents.

Area children put on the carnival, which was part of a nationwide campaign to raise money for research on the disease muscular dystrophy. They organized the event after receiving a envelope loaded with suggestions about carnivals from the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

Planning for the carnival actually began months ago when the children wrote the association to ask if they could sponsor the event. Not long afterwards they received an official O.K. and ideas on how to proceed. The youngsters then went to work to prepare for the carnival.

Nine year old Cathy Russell, a student in Charlevoix's Elementary School and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerald Russell of 413 Antrim, was in charge of the affair. She received help from brothers Jerry, Jack, Randy and Jim. Mrs. Russell, of course, also helped, serving as an "official observer". She was also in charge of the refreshments stand as chief cook and bottle washer.

Other children who helped were Martha Staley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Staley, Joe Jorah, son of Mr. Francis Jorah; Doug Frye, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jones Frye; and Teresa, Cindy, Mark, Jeff and Tod Russell, children of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Russell.

The carnival consisted of a four-man tent, for the art gallery and penny pitch game, a ring toss under the shade of the Russell's backyard trees, and the puppet show given every half hour on the Russell's front porch.

Jerry Russell dressed up as the carnival's clown for the week. He kept busy amusing visitors and handing out prizes. Many of the prizes were made by the children themselves, and were won by the visitors who did well in the games.

Bugs Bunny, Sylvester the Cat and Jimminy Cricket were featured in the puppet show. They provided the young visitors to the carnival with entertainment and information about muscular dystrophy.

When they weren't busy with the show, which ran Monday to Friday from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m., the children collected money from Charlevoix households. During the week they gathered more than $130 at the carnival and in donations for the Muscular Dystrophy Associations of America.

Looking back on their week-long efforts, the children were pleased with what they had done. Most thought the work was "pretty easy" and "fun". General manager Cathy said the carnival was "something I'd like to do again next year."

Even though they received no pay, no one complained about the wages. The kids seemed to enjoy just putting on the carnival. They were glad to have the proceeds go to help others less fortunate than themselves.

To help the workers through the day, there was always the fringe benefit of free access to the kool-aid, cookies, pop corn and fudge at the concession stand.

All in all it was a busy week for the children. And though the carnival was small by adult standards, perhaps it was the biggest carnival Charlevoix will have all year.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix District Court last week by Judge Arthur Reibel:

James Chanda, East Jordan, was assessed $240 on charges of careless driving and eluding a police officer. He also was servc 10 days in the county work program without pay. A charge that he drove while his license was suspended was dismissed at the request of the prosecutor.

Roger Rebel, 17, East Jordan, was sentenced to 30 days in the county jail for violation of probation.

Patrick Martin jr., 17, Charlevoix, plead innocent to a charge of malicious destruction of property (mowing down mailboxes with his automobile). He was released on $50 bond. Trial will be held later.

Keith E. Pinney, 25, East Jordan, demanded examination on a charge of assault and battery (felony). Bond of $25 was posted and case was continued.

A charge of assault and battery lodged against Eugene Vliet, Charlevoix, was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

John Fortune, 37, Boyne Falls, was sentenced $480 and sentenced to 30 days in jail on charges of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended and driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Michael G. Lambert, 34, Ellsworth, plead innocent to a charge of possessing an unregistered gun. Case was continued.

Joseph Etcher, Charlevoix, plead innocent to a charge of non-support. Bond of $50 was posted. Trial will be held later.

Ronald O. Martinchek, 32, Petoskey, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor, and demanded a jury trial. Bond of $100 was posted.

Merle R. Cole, 51, Boyne City, was assessed $50 and sentenced to three weekends in jail on a charge of operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

TAX ANTICIPATION NOTES

Sealed bids for the purchase of tax anticipation notes of Charlevoix Public Schools, Counties of Charlevoix and Antrim, Michigan, of the par value of $200,000.00 will be received by the undersigned at the Superintendent's office, Garfield Street, Charlevoix, Michigan, until 12:00 o'clock, A.M., Eastern Daylight Time on the 10th day of August, 1973, at which time and place they will be publicly opened and read.

The notes will be dated August 10, 1973, will mature March 1, 1974 and will bear interest at a rate or rates not exceeding 6 percent per annum. Both principal and interest will be payable at a bank or trust company located in the State of Michigan to be designated by the original purchaser of the notes which paying agent qualifies as such under the Statutes of the State of Michigan or of the Federal Government, subject to the approval of the Charlevoix Public Schools. Denominations and form of notes to be at the option of the purchaser. Accrued interest to date of delivery of such notes must be paid by the purchaser at the time of delivery.

The notes shall not be subject to redemption prior to maturity.

The the purpose of awarding the notes the interest cost of each bid will be computed by determining, at the rate or rates specified therein, the total dollar value of all interest on the notes from August 10, 1973, to their maturity and deducting therefrom any premium. The notes will be awarded to the bidder whose bid on the above computation produces the lowest dollar interest cost to the municipality. No proposal for the purchase of less than all of the notes or at a price less than their par value will be considered.

The loan is in anticipation of the 1973 Operating Tax due and payable December 1, 1973.

A certified or cashier's check in the amount of 2 percent of the par value of the notes, drawn upon an incorporated bank or trust company and payable to the order of the Treasurer must accompany each bid as a guarantee of good faith on the part of the bidder to be forfeited as liquidated damages if such bid be accepted and the bidder fails to take up and pay for the notes. Checks of unsuccessful bidders will be promptly returned.

Bids shall be conditioned upon the unqualified opinion of the purchaser's attorney approving the legality of the notes, to be secured at the purchaser's expense. The purchaser shall furnish notes ready for execution at his expense. Notes will be delivered at a place to be agreed upon with the purchaser. The right is reserved to reject any and all bids. Envelopes containing the bids should be plainly marked "Proposal for Notes."

Something for Everyone At MSU's 'Family Day'

Aug. 13 is Young Family Day at Michigan State University, and your family is invited, according to Mary L. Pierce, extension home economist for Charlevoix County.

Every member of the family will find activities designed especially for him. And there are some activities the whole family joins in together.

The day's program is an experimental one set up by the family living and 4-H programs of the MSU Cooperative Extension Service. Its aim, says Gail Imig, family living program leader, is to enhance family interaction and strengthen family togetherness.

The day's events are divided into three sections: morning, afternoon, and all day. These are broken down into parents-only, children-only, and whole-family classes.

Morning activities for the family as a whole include "Family Fun with Sports", "A Family Look at Ecology," and a preschool program in which parents are optional. All will run from 9:30 - 11:30 a.m.

The preschool program will offer children from 3 to 5 years a planned program that will include story time, free play, songs and art activities. Whether children come for just the morning, just the afternoon or all day, the charge is $3.00 for one child, $5.00 for two, $7.50 for three and $1.50 for each additional child. For those who stay all day, this fee will also cover lunch.

Four parents-only classes will be offered at the same time. "Quality Child Care" is a discussion of child care alternatives and the factors involved in choosing among them.

In "Population and the American Future", participants will take a look at the economics of parenthood.

"Men's Views – Women's Issues" will be an opportunity to share thoughts and feelings on the changing role of women in today's family and the effects that this change will have on individual members and the family as a whole.

"Is There A Move In Your Future?" will concentrate on the psychological, economic, physical and sociological effects of moving.

Children and youth only classes running concurrently with the parents-only classes include the preschool program and, for older children, a walking tour of the campus. Children ages 6 - 12 will explore the planetarium, museum, nature areas and other campus attractions.

The afternoon session, 1 - 2:30 will be a repeat of all the morning classes except "Quality Child Care."

Seven classes including the preschool program will run all day, 9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m.

"Parent-Child Communication" is designed for parents and children over 12 years. It will be a day of activities aimed at enriching communication and helping children and parents know each other better.

"Infant Enrichment" will deal with the importance of stimulation in the development of an infant and show parents how they can provide stimulating experiences. Parents are expected to provide food and diapers for the infants. Lunch will be provided for parents and older children. The charge is the same as for the preschool program.

"Toddler Enrichment" will focus on interaction between parents and toddler, and acquaint parents with activities appropriate for children at this age. Parents are expected to provide special foods, if necessary, and diapers. Lunch will be provided. The charge is the same as for the preschool program. Parents-only classes include "Father's Role" a look at fathers' interaction with their children. "Marital Enrichment" is an opportunity for couples to learn basic communication skills, especially increased awareness of positive interpersonal feelings.

For children only and youth only, "How To Deal With Problem Parents" will try to help children in those perplexing years over 12 to deal with their parents.

For a complete program and registration form, contact Mary L. Pierce, Extension Home Economist - 347-3291, City-Co. Bldg., Petoskey.

'Sissy' Next At Traverse

Kathy Garver, Sissy in "Family Affair," is the next star to brighten the stage of the Cherry County Playhouse. Kathy will star in "Champagne Complex," July 24 through 29.

In this love-loose comedy Kathy will play a young girl who works on a magazine in New York and is engaged to a serious and quite pompous young business executive. Just as she is being accepted by the boy's family, Kathy tries to demonstrate the age-old art of burlesque at a champagne reception. A psychiatrist enters the picture and love begins to blossom.

Performance times are Tuesday through Friday at 8:30 p.m., Saturday at 5:00 and 9:00 p.m., Sunday at 7:30 p.m. and a Thursday matinee at 2:00 p.m.

Ellsworth Grads Attend Reunion

By Anue Osterhaan

Eleven members of the 1948 graduating class from Ellsworth High School held their 25th reunion July 7 at the Palace Hotel in Central Lake. The class had 21 graduates. Class president Ted Essenberg of Grand Rapids MC's the meeting. The next reunion will be in 1978.

Jerry Ewing has been elected Ellsworth fire chief, assisted by Bud Tornga and Capt. Larry Essenberg. Others members of the force are Willard VanderArk, Art Ruis, Allen Ray Klooster, Art Miller, Allen Vanniman, Si Doctor jr. and Gordon Harthorn. The group trains every Tuesday evening. The fire department recently acquired a 2,150 gallon tank truck from the Department of Natural Resources. The department also has an inhalator for resusitation purposes.

Banks Township Senior Citizens will meet July 26 at Barnes Park, Eastport, for a picnic at 12:30 p.m.

Recent visitors with Elsie Timmer were Mrs. Viola Whitney of Breckenridge and her daughter, Mrs. Vera Phillips of Alden; and Mrs. Margaret Clow.

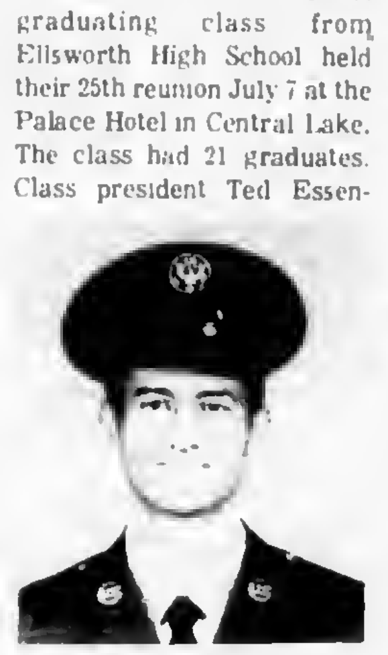
Mr. and Mrs. Del Clow jr. of Detroit are vacationing in the area.

Mrs. Eunice Miller and grandson Brian of Brighton called on Mrs. Kate Cooper and Mrs. Elsie Timmer.

Rev. and Mrs. William Armstrang, daughters, Tami and Terese, and a friend, Collette Harsha of Muscoda, Wisc., came for the Watson-Aenis wedding.

James Van Stedum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Vanstedum, and Miss Mary Lou Hill were married at the First Reformed Church in Grand Haven.

Mr. and Mrs. Myron Pastmus and five children have returned from a trip through the west.



David A. Kimble

Assigned to Chanute AFB

Airman David A. Kimble, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome H. Kimble of Rt. 1, Charlevoix, has been assigned to Chanute AFB, Ill., after completing Air Force basic training.

During his six weeks at the Air Training Command's Lackland AFB, Texas, he studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.

The airman has been assigned to the Technical Training Center at Chanute for specialized training in the aircraft equipment maintenance field.

His wife, Debbie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gardon Walgamott of Rt. 3, Burgess Road, Charlevoix.

Style Beauty Shop

EVEN AT 96, a girl should look her best. When Mrs. William Straw, who lives on the Marion Center-rd. south of Charlevoix, learned that friends and neighbors planned a picnic to celebrate her 96th birthday July 21, she hurried to town to have her hair done at the Style Beauty Shop on Park-ave. Born in Big Rapids in 1877, Mr. and Mrs. Straw moved to Marion Township 65 years ago. She still lives on the family farm. Mrs. Straw is believed to be Charlevoix County's oldest resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nielsen have returned home after a three weeks vacation trip through Minnesota, the Dakota Badlands and the Mount Rushmore National Memorial. They also stopped at Erickson, Manitoba, where they were guests of the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Beattie.

Mrs. J. A. Zinn is having a new garage built near her home on M-66.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Green and daughter Mary of Belding were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Alexander.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Harmden of Detroit, former residents, were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp and other old friends and neighbors.

Sherrie Selissen of Two Harbors, Minn., is spending the summer with her grandmother, Mrs. Mark Cross. Other guests have been the latter's cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Des Currier and family of Birmingham, Mich., Mr. and Mrs. Peternard and daughter Michele of Chicago and daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Selissen and son Ricky of Two Harbors, Minn., and Sherrie's other grandmother, Mrs. Hubert Selissen, of Green Bay, Wisc.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Hamacher of Detroit and Mr and Mrs. H. Nixon of Corning, N.Y. were guests several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olsheve.

Mr. and Mrs Earl Dick of Toronto, Ont., have been guests several days of Mable Bird and Elliot Bird.

Mrs. Beryl Sullivan and daughter Karen have returned to their home in Detroit after spending several days with her mother, Mrs. Larena Beene.

Mrs. Lorena Beene extends a thank you of appreciation to her local friends and neighbors who donated to the bake sale at Olsens Store this Friday for the benefit of the blind.

Winners of the garden club plaques for the weeks of July 13 through July 27 have been announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Saltonstall of 408 Mason-st. were winners on the north side for their "spectacular garden of color, care and imagination", according to the judges, Mrs. Dale Glass and Mrs. John Michael.

Honorable mention went to Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Staublin of 111 Prospect and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wade of 306 Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay Oliver of 408 Lincoln-ave. were winners for the south side. Judges were Mrs. H. E. Paddock and Mrs. Lou Olesak.

Honorable mention went to the Archie Balch home of 409 Upright-ave.

Gasoline Plentiful, Tourists Assured

State Sen. Robert W. Davis (R-37th District) met July 18 in Detroit with the Michigan Tourist Council and together they outline a positive program to combat vacationers fears of gasoline shortages in Northern and Upper Michigan.

Davis and the Council agreed that there is no shortage. In fact, Davis stated, "I have talked with gas station operators who have been unable to sell all of the gas they received."

The Council authorized a massive media campaign in Lower Michigan as well as surrounding states aimed at dispelling negative statements relative to the availability of gas.

We can literally guarantee that vacationers will find ample accommodations and will have no problem finding the necessary fuel to completely enjoy their vacations.

Davis urges everyone in the state to stop making negative statements and squelch all rumors about gasoline shortages in our area of Michigan.

Miss Dinwiddie On List

Dana A. Dinwiddie, a 1973 graduate of Bowdoin College, Brunswick, Me., was one of seven Michigan students to make the dean's list at the college during the semester recently ended.

Hanna's Replacement Must Be Qualified

We don't blame Thomas G. Hanna one bit for tendering his resignation as city superintendent at the close of last week's council meeting.

Although he knows that the council is largely behind him, he also knows that the months ahead hold nothing but problems, for both himself and the city in general, if he continues in his present position.

Mayor Edward P. Hansen has made no bones about the fact that he wants to replace Mr. Hanna.

However, if Mr. Hanna is to go, we hope that the council will expend every effort in finding the best possible man to replace him, someone who already has proven himself in the field of city management.

Running the City of Charlevoix isn't a two-bit operation. The complexities of the job are staggering and the man who fills Mr. Hanna's shoes must have knowledge and experience in a wide range of disciplines, including but not necessarily limited to engineering.

Although the council has not yet accepted Mr. Hanna's resignation, it has advertised for a replacement both locally and in the Michigan Municipal League bulletin. We have little doubt that the city will soon have a long list of candidates from which to choose.

In the meantime, the council must come up with the legal machinery for hiring a city superintendent, as well as a cut-and-dried description of the job. At present, it is uncertain to whom the city superintendent reports, who reports to him and just what his responsibilities are. These questions should be cleared up before a new man is hired.

Tax Collection Timing Is Costly to Schools

Once again the Charlevoix School District finds itself in the totally untenable position of having to borrow funds to meet current expenses.

So far this year the Board of Education has sought approval on loans of $200,000 against anticipated taxes and $150,000 against anticipated state aid payments.

Both loans have been approved by the Municipal Finance Commission, with maximum interest rate of six percent a year.

Which is all well and good. The money is secured for the start of the school year.

What bothers us is that the school district must make hefty, totally unnecessary interest payments every year.

The interest on the $350,000 borrowed this year will amount to something in excell of $10,000 — or the salary of another full-time teacher or other badly needed school improvements.

For several years, the school board has made appeals to the Charlevoix City Council and other local units of government to change the dates of their major tax collections from winter to summer so that the school district will have funds for operation when school opens in September.

To date the board's efforts have not borne fruit. We still pay the bulk of our taxes in December when the school year is well under way.

Admittedly, a change from winter to summer taxes collection will create pinch the first year. But after the initial squeeze it should be clear sailing - and the school district will have tax dollars when it needs them in September.

Some school districts (Alpena) already are collecting their school taxes in the summer, and there appears little reason why Charlevoix can't do the same.

State aid for schools is another matter, but it seems an affluent state like Michigan should be able to arrange payments so that school district should not be forced to borrow in anticipation of receiving them.

The money is there. It is simply a matter of timing.

Safety Valve

QUESTION: In our area I've noticed instances where a driver in a lane clearly marked "left turn only" suddenly decides to proceed without turning. If a collision should result between his car and one proceeding in the same direction but in the proper "through traffic lane," which driver would be at fault? E. L., Auburn.

ANSWER: Sure is easier to legislate "no fault" insurance than "no fault" driving, isn't it!

In the hypothetical situation you mention, if the only violation by either involved driver is the one of improper lane usage you mention, then the one who doesn't proceed according to the marking indicated in his lane would be judged the culprit and no doubt get a ticket to prove it. Basis for this theory is:

"Official signs may be erected directing slow-moving traffic to use a designated lane or designating those lanes to be used by traffic moving in a particular direction regardless of the center of the roadway and drivers of vehicles shall obey the directions of every shucb sign."

Says Reibel Deserves Pay Hike

July 19, 1973

Mr. Bob Clock, Editor
Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720

Dear Bob:

A letter appeared in the July 4th issue of the Courier that requires a response. I refer to the letter by Mr. Fred Richman ridiculing District Judge Arthur Reibel for requesting, and expecting, supplementation of his salary by the Counties of Emmet and Charlevoix. Mr. Richman leaves the impression that such a request is unreasonable. The facts indicate otherwise.

There are 170 District Court Judges in the State of Michigan. Of that number 160 or 94 percent are provided supplements to their state salary by the local counties in their particular district. These supplements amount to some $950,000.00 per year. The amount of this supplementation varies from a high of $12,500.00 per year per judge (28 judges) in some districts to a low of $800.00 per year (1 judge). Out of the total of 83 counties in the State of Michigan only 18 or 22 percent fail to supplement the salaries of their District Court Judges.

With these facts in mind, it becomes clear that supplementation is the norm rather than the exception, and that Judge Reibel was being far from unreasonable in requesting such extra compensation. In addition, it should be noted that the old saying that "One gets what one pays for" applies equally well to public officials. If we are to maintain and attract men of high calibre for positions of importance in our political system, we must provide economic incentives commensurate with the high level of responsibility.

Sincerely,

Wallace H. Tuttle

Q & A On Zoning

Q. There is a subdivision being developed in my township in which the lots are below the minimum requirements in the Zoning Ordinance. Is there anything you can do to stop this development? A.L.

A. The situation of which you speak, involves a parcel of property which was in the process of being subdivided prior to the effective date of the Zoning Ordinance. This exempts the particular parcel in question from complying with the minimum lot area requirements of the Zoning Ordinance.

Zoning is not retroactive, therefore, it cannot contest situations that were initiated prior to the ordinance.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Our pioneer builders gave us a permanent niche in construction history by contributing the Michigan basement which was a decided improvement over the dirt pit reached by a ladder beneath a trap door in the kitchen floor.

Our namesake basement was a logical development to provide a coal bin for the newly invented central heating system. Wooden walls were replaced with concrete or stone but the dirt floor was retained for the earthy freshness required to preserve a bushel of potatoes in those days before the handy three-pound plastic bag which stows neatly beneath the sink.

As expenses decreased with a maturing family, it was not uncommon to raise a ten-room house to provide an underground level for a laundry, rec room and workshop. Unlike tacking on a carport, this work required considerable savvy and even more daring.

A month or more was required for excavation and the pouring of walls using an iron wheeled wheelbarrow. The airborne house on stilts, at the mercy of gale winds and torrential rains, contributed to the insomnia of occupant and contractor alike.

Big Emil and Shorty Keener, as mismatched as two left boots, were outstanding in this field of home improvement. Lithe, rawboned, fun-loving Emil stood six feet, four inches tall and was as strong as the screw jacks he kept well greased for his five sons whom he compensated according to their exertions in promoting the family enterprise.

Shorty was a shriveled waspish tobacco-chewer who had a gimpy right leg which further dwarfed his stature. He limited his conversation to 'whoa' and 'gidyap' to emphasize his social preferences. His only friends were a prized team of blacks who alternately shared the dangerous confines of their stunted master as he rotated them in the traces of the scraper which whispered soothingly over the damp sand.

From his appearance, all grooming time was devoted to the horses and rumor had it that Mrs. Keener in her vitriolic way issued an ultimatum that he choose between her and the horses to which Shorty responded by moving his bed into the barn: It appears that he chose to be under a house than in one as the lesser of two evils.

Big Emil could move a two story house with wagon wheels as effortlessly as he would fashion a curved axe handle with drawknife and spokeshave. When approached one day about charges for raising a modest sized home 18 inches, Emil shrugged his broad shoulders and replied without hesitation,

"One hundred dollars."

At noon next day both parties to the agreement arrived at the project site; the owner to eat his lunch, and Emil & Sons to earn theirs. Sixty minutes later the roles reversed. Emil pocketed $100 and went home to lunch. The astounded homeowner pocketed his deflated wallet and went to work.

Playing Tourist

By Bob Clock

You can watch tourists only so long before you get the itch to join them.

It usually happens to the Clocks about mid-July. We pick a Saturday, pack a picnic lunch and pray for fair weather. Our excursion lasts only one day and it usually takes us to the Upper Peninsula and Canada.

This year we almost didn't go because of the gasoline situation, but we soon discovered what the experts have been telling us for weeks. Gasoline is plentiful and it was business-as-usual at most of the stations we passed, however very few of them stay open late at night.

Instead of heading straight for Sault Ste. Marie when we left the bridge, we decided to do some exploring. I particularly wanted to see the Manistique Lakes at Curtis which a U.P. realtor has been advertising in the Courier for some weeks. So we took U.S. 2 out of St. Ignace and were treated to some of the most enchanting Lake Michigan scenery we have ever seen.

Unlike highways in the Lower Peninsula which keep their distance from the big lakes, Highway 2 runs right along the shore, mile after mile. Fortunately there wasn't a south wind, because I'm sure the road is awash with spray and breakers whenever there is.

Although much of the land is low, there are many high dunes along the way that offer marvelous glimpses of Waugashaunce Point Grey's Reef, White Shoal and Lansing Shoal lights and the Beaver archepelago to the south.

We stopped at the Cut River Bridge to eat our lunch. There are picnic grounds at both sides of the bridge, a steel and masonry structure which carries U.S. 2 traffic a good 150 feet over tiny Cut River. The highway people have put in a stairway on the lake side of the bridge for anyone who wants a view of the bridge from below and doesn't mind climbing stairs.

We counted 145 steps – and we didn't even get near the river, which was gurgling happily toward Lake Michigan another 30 or 40 feet below us.

I am surprised that the State Highway Department's 1973 road map doesn't make a big thing of the Cut River Bridge. It certainly is an engineering feat of no mean proportions and the aerial view of woods and waters that it affords the traveler is stupendous – if you don't mind heights.

In the vicinity of Cut River we kept our eyes open for signs pointing toward Neverville but we couldn't find any. The residents of that fabled community certainly have done a wonderful job of keeping the location of their town a secret.

However, we did detour north to Engadine, the town that Detroit TV weatherman Sonny Elliot made famous as Enga-Ringa-Dingadine. It was a charming community and I am confident that many of the buildings have been moved from Neverville.

Past Engadine, we headed north to the Manistique Lakes and the town of Curtis. I was surprised to find an old and well-established resort community. Trim cottages rim the lakes and the tree-shaded main street of Curtis seemed busy and prosperous. A very delightful spot out in the middle of nowhere.

After Curtis, we headed east on M-28 for the Soo, with another side trip into Newberry and its only suburb, Dollarville, pretty little towns that apparently survive because of their proximity to Tahquamenon Falls.

We by-passed the American Soo on our way in and headed directly for the International Bridge and Sault Ste. Marie, Ont. The downtown section was busy as ever. Parking spaces were at a premium, but we managed to find an empty one next to the courthouse and stopped at a few shops. Prices of all commodities seemed higher than in the states.

Later, at the Churchill Shopping Plaza on 17-East, we discovered that Canadians also are paying outrageous prices for groceries, particularly fruits, vegetables and meat. However, we did invest in Canadian tea and cheese, which are always bargains regardless of the cost, and in baked goods, which are actually cheaper than they are stateside.

We also stopped at The Purple Lantern for a Chinese dinner – another good reason for crossing the bridge into Canada.

En route home, we stopped at the American Locks and spent two hours goggle-eyed as several big U.S. freighters "locked through" between Lake Superior and Lake Huron.

Even without the locks, the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers park at the Soo is something to behold. I have never seen so many flowers growing in such profusion – or lawns so carefully manicured. Who would guess those Army engineers had such an eye for beauty?

If it Fitz

And When I Die

By Jim Fitzgerald

My closest relatives should clip this column and save it for future reference. I want a classy funeral. Men with shovels need not apply.

I want a fare-thee-well similar to the one recently accorded the late Capt. Joseph Serzan of Daytona Beach, Florida. For 40 years he was captain of a 48-foot luxury yacht owned by Mrs. Flagler Matthews, granddaughter of a railroad tycoon. Serzan lived on the boat and often said he wanted to be buried at sea.

Well, Mrs. Matthews didn't slip Serzan's body into a burlap sack and throw it over the side. No way. She got a priest and mourners and set sail into the Atlantic. After a proper ceremony, the yacht seacocks were opened and the boat sank to the bottom, with Capt. Serzan's body aboard. I guess the pallbearers swam home.

That yacht was worth $60,000 which is slightly more than charged by your friendly neighborhood Digger O'Dell for a semi-deep mourning coffin with taped organ music and sing-along cards included.

What I mean, that's class. And that's the type of thing I want – to be buried in a spot that has meant something to me during my lifetime, not in some spooky cemetery I ordinarily wouldn't be caught dead in (I certainly have a way with words, don't I?)

The question is, where?

My first thought was Curley Peloso's pool room on Water St. in Port Huron. That's where I learned a valuable lesson. I learned that my choking point can be determined by money. I could always make the 9-ball for a 50-cent bet if I had $1 in my pocket. But if I was penniless I always choked and missed the shot. This meant I had to run out the door and across the 7th Street Bridge to school where I put myself in the protective custody of a nun, thus thwarting the brute who was clawing at my heels, threatening to kill me if I didn't pay him 50 cents.

Moral to live by: Don't bet more than you have. You can't always find a nun when you need one.

But I just read they are going to tear down that poolroom and build a riverside park. I never met a pigeon I trusted, so I don't want to be buried in a park.

My next thought is just a few blocks away, the Alibi Bar. This is where I spent my last, blessed days of bachelorhood – about 10 years worth. It was here that countless veterans gathered to forget the horrors of World War 2. Most of us over-succeeded, also forgetting where we lived and what our names were. But my attachment for the Alibi is not as nostalgic as it is proprietary. I have enough money sunk in the place to provide care for my grave forever, which may be longer than perpetual care, or whichever comes first.

However. Such a delicate subject demands consultation with the potential survivors. So I asked my family what they thought. And they immediately decided upon a black leather chair upon which I always sit, and no one else is allowed to sit. It is in front of the TV, next to the bookcase, and 2 small lunges from the kitchen.

It was agreed that, after a cheap cremation in the backyard incinerator, my ashes should be sifted down between the cushions of my chair.

"Whenever I sit in it," my wife explained, "it will be a pleasure to think of you down there."

So be it. The pallbearers will be allowed to keep all the coins they find. Onward and Upward.

The Rootbeer Habit

By JIM REUS

The other day I was sitting in Williams Cigar Store as the young lady at the counter served up a frothy rootbeer float, my favorite thirst-quencher.

Wouldn't it be nice, I thought, if I could make my own rootbeer so I could have an unlimited supply?

Perhaps an affection for rootbeer is in the Reus genes, because it seems to run in the family. Let me tell you about how my dad went into the rootbeer business more than 40 years ago.

Turn back the clock to circa 1932 and the small Dutch settlement of Jamestown, Mich., down by Grand Rapids. We are back in the era of the tin lizzy, the pickle barrel and the village blacksmith (in Jamestown, anyway).

Grandpa Reus is the area's local country doctor – you know, the kind who made housecalls – with a large practice through the farmland and burroughs of Byron Center, Wyoming and Hudsonville.

Grandpa Reus also had his office in the same building as the family residence, in a special section of the house. The two establishments were entirely separate, except for an attic which ran over both. Thus, the wife and six kids stayed in one side of the building, and the doctor in the other.

During the summer of 1932, the notion was in the depths of the Depression. And grandpa's six kids were always thirsty on those hot afternoons. Rootbeer was too expensive to buy for all six children, what with the devaluation of the dollar and rumors that Roosevelt would abandon the gold standard.

Something had to be done.

The oldest child, my dad, showing astute business acumen and typical Yankee ingenuity, decided to go into the rootbeer business. Why not, he decided, order a bottle capper from the Sears & Roebuck catalogue, get the recipe for rootbeer, and make our own? We could sell the stuff at reduced rates to neighborhood kids, so the logic went, and after a while you'd have the capper paid for and could be drinking all the ice-cold rootbeer you wanted for free.

Grandpa, having just lost his shirt in the crash of '29, wasn't ready for any new business ventures. He was quick to nix the idea when Dad presented it.

But that didn't stop our enterprising junior achiever. Since Grandpa Reus was often away for a few days at a time delivering babies, Dad figured he had plenty of time to take care of things.

He'd just order the capper, make a batch, sell it fast, and have the capper paid for by the time Grandpa got the bill. When the bill came Dad would tell Grandpa about the whole affair, and for his enterprising efforts receive much praise and many pats on the back.

The capper came and everything went according to plan. Being an efficiency expert, Dad was careful to fill each bottle of the recipe to the brim before he capped it – no sense wasting bottle space. The brew now only had to be stored for a few weeks for it to ferment. The attic above the office was the perfect spot; no one ever went up there. Dad even had to laugh over the whole deal; here Grandpa had nixed the idea and he would be working within a few feet of the illegal brew and never know it.

About a week later on a very hot July morning Grandpa Reus was hard at work on a tonsillectomy. He was bending over the table in the center of the office when suddenly Bam-Bam-Bam-Bam-Bam-Bam sounded from above. The noise was as if someone was playing with a WW1 machine gun in the attic. Gramps went on with his work, but in a few minutes a black, syrupy liquid started dripping through the ceiling. It surely wasn't blood, but it smelled sweet. Almost like rootbeer.

Under these extreme battle conditions the doctors and his nurse were quick to construct a hospital tent out of linen. Then amidst a cloudburst of black rain, they finished the operation.

The patient survived in good order and fortunately suffered no infection. After he had finished Gramps was quick to check out the attic and the cause of the rain. Everything was self-evident and Dad was summoned.

Dad gave his explanation of the affair, for which he received many pats, though there is some serious doubt as to whether or not they were on the back. The incident ended the operations of the Jamestown Rootbeer Co. for good.

So let me tell you, that rootbeer IS dangerous stuff. These days people worry about barbituates, amphetamines and hallucinagens, while seemingly innocuous rootbeer goes unnoticed.

But in my book, rootbeer is dangerous stuff and should be controlled by the feds.

Obituary

Furgeson

Funeral services for Grant Furgeson sr., 87, lifelong resident of Hayes Township, will be held at the Winchester Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The Rev. Albert F. Mansen will officiate, with burial in Brookside Cemetery.

Mr. Furgeson died Monday at the Charlevoix Area Hospital where he had been a patient for a month.

Born in Hayes Township July 30, 1885, Mr. Furgeson was married to the former Leah Plant in Charlevoix in 1911. They always lived in Hayes Township where he operated a farm and was employed by the Charlevoix County Road Commission. He had served on the Murray School Board for 30 years.

Surviving are his widow; three sons, LeRoy sr., and Leonard sr., of Petoskey and Grant jr., of Charlevoix; three daughters, Mrs. Floyd (Viora) Baker of Charlevoix, Mrs. Harold (Dorothy) Finney of Rogue River, Ore., and Mrs. Lawrence (Marie) Burkle of Petoskey; 16 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Brintnall

Funeral for Arthur W. Brintnall, 80, who died early Sunday at his home in South Arm Township, will be held at 2 p.m. Wednesday at the Watson Funeral Home. The Rev. Lester Priest will officiate. Burial will be in Sunset Hill Cemetery.

Born in Wilson Township May 30, 1892, Mr. Brintnall was married to the former Leden Stewart on May 16, 1918. They always resided in the East Jordan area where he worked in the lumber woods and at the East Jordan Chemical plant and later farmed and was employed at the East Jordan Creamery until his retirement. He attended the United Methodist Church, was a member and Past Master of the Wilson Grange and had been a member of the East Jordan I.O.O.F.

He is survived by his wife; two daughters, Mrs. Arthur (Lorena) Cronin of Roscommon and Mrs. Sidney (Irene) Hungerford of Sault Ste. Marie; three sons, Gale of Hudsonville, Elgy of Cadillac and Dr. Bruce of Grand Rapids; 17 grandchildren and six great-grandchildren.

for two years and also during the year he worked as a Teachers Corps candidate. He is a former All-State football player from Pittsford High School at Pittsford.

The board, by a 5-1 vote with the president abstaining, agreed to hire a para-professional person to serve in a supervisory capacity in high school study halls.

In making this recommendation, McKimmy said that in the past teachers had done this work. However, if this practice were followed it would mean hiring another teacher. By using a para-professional he said that it would provide consistency throughout the day and relieve teachers for teaching.

Novak questioned the feasibility of study halls and said a para-professional would be unable to give academic assistance. He also asked if the juke box, coke machine and similar attractions would remain in the study hall held in the cafeteria.

McKimmy suggested that such a person could serve in a supervisory capacity and added that with the library open in the building, the librarian could offer any assistance needed for research. He went on to say that the board could eliminate study halls and send the students to classes, hire a full time teacher or a para-professional. He said that he questioned the advisibility of 'planting' students in classes to get them out of study halls. When the issue came to a vote, Novak voted 'No' because he said there were too many unanswered questions regarding the move.

McKimmy recommended that the duties of the former Vocational Education director, Robert J. Cook, be re-assigned to members of the faculty serving in the various fields and that the administration of the program be worked out before the opening of school.

Robert Bogart, business manager, reported that summer maintenance on the schools was progressing satisfactorily and that the schools would be ready for the opening of the school term in September. He also said two "loaner" buses had been obtained until the buses on order are delivered.

Committees appointed by Mrs. Lieberman and approved at the meeting are as follows: Finance, Charles Elzinga, Rev. Duane Imig and Max Novak; Building and Site, Don Brown, Larry Warner and Imig; Public library, Imig, Lieberman and Novak; Transportation, Clement J. Wagner, Elzinga and Warner; Curriculum, Wagner, Brown and Elzinga; Board policy, Warner, Wagner and Brown; Negotiations, Wagner, Warner and Lieberman; Legislative, Novak, Elzinga and Imig; Recreation, Brown, Warner and Novak; Professional Study, Imig, Brown and Lieberman. The first named to each committee will serve as chairman.

In other business, the board:

–Voted to accept the offer of the Community Insurance Co. to extend the present transportation insurance at the current rate until specifications can be drawn up on the new Michigan No-fault insurance and be competitively bid under the new specifications. Novak suggested that the company now holding the contract be asked to furnish a written fleet experience report for the length of time the company had held the contract.

She Addresses Lions Club in Sign Language

Elaine Dhaseleer, a new employe at the Charlevoix County State Bank, told about life at the Michigan School for the Deaf using sign language as last week's meeting of the Lion's Club at Grey Gables.

Miss Dhaseleer's talk was interpreted for members by a representative of the Michigan Association for Better Hearing and Speech in Lansing.

Miss Dhaseleer, a graduate of the School for the Deaf, described the campus, the various buildings and discussed the curriculum – all in sign language.

New Dental Office Opens in Charlevoix

Dr. David J. Strawbridge, formerly of Ann Arbor, has opened a dental practice at 303 Belvedere-ave., the former Geiken residence.

Dr. Strawbridge is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strawbridge of Sturgis, Mich., former summer residents at Birdland Estates on Lake Charlevoix.

DR. STRAWBRIDGE

He received his bachelor's degree from Earlham College in Richmond, Ind., and his doctor's degree from the University of Michigan Dental School in 1971.

He was on the staff of the Michigan Dental School prior to moving to Charlevoix in June. He also has practiced in Ann Arbor and Milan, in addition to teaching.

Dr. Strawbridge plans to have his office open July 24. His telephone number, a new listing, is 547-4148.

GUS HARRISON, director of the State Lottery, is afraid you might have money coming and don't know about it. Harrison says a total of 42,647 tickets worth $1,066,175 were unclaimed through May 31. "All of these tickets still outstanding are valid for one year after the drawing date in which they won," Harrison says. "Time is running out for those who may still hold winning tickets from our earliest drawings." If you have any old tickets stashed away, drop in at the Courier office and check your numbers against the master list of winners. You might find yourself a few bucks richer.

PAUL Osterberg of Bit of Finland, who returned last week from a three-week buying trip to Helsinki, was struck by the similarity between northern Michigan and Finland. "Drive anywhere between Charlevoix, Petoskey and Harbor Springs and you might as well be in Finland," he reports. "The woods, waters and general landscape look the same. It's only the architecture of the farm buildings that is different." Could that be why so many Finns have settled in northern Michigan?

ALDERWOMAN Jeaanine Wallace did a fine job of summing up "What's Wrong With Charlevoix This Summer" at the last council meeting. We hadn't really noticed the absence of trash barrels along Bridge-st. But we had noticed the litter. And the unmowed city lots are a disgrace. Curb and sidewalk replacement may take a while, but there are things we can do now to make Charlevoix look better for the remainder of the summer.

Carole Pence Crowned 1973 Venetian Queen

Statuesque Carole Pence, 17, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Pence of Lewis-st., will reign as Miss Charlevoix for the coming year after her selection as Venetian Queen by a panel of three judges last Friday night.

Miss Pence reigned over the Venetian Festival activities over the weekend, just a taste of what her duties will be during the coming year as the city's official representative in the pulcritude department.

Announcement of the winner came at the close of a two-hour pageant at which nine contestants competed for the Venetian Queen title.

Candy Klooster, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Conrad Klooster, was first runner-up and Maurine Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Wallace, was second runner-up., Patti Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Warner, was selected as "Miss Congeniality."

She appeared in formal dress in the company of David Graham, her escort for the evening, and answered an extemporaneous question about the person most important in her life. Miss Pence answered: "My father."

The contest was judged by Mrs. Ned Tanner and Kirk Schaller of Petoskey and Hal VanSumeran of Traverse City.

Other contestants in the pageant were Cathy Morris, Tori Alger, Cathy Dubey, Judy Hamilton and Darcy McCandless.

The pageant kicked off the annual Venetian Festival which attracted an estimated 20,000 persons to the city over the weekend.

Highlights of the festival were an hour-long street parade Saturday noon and a lighted boat parade and fireworks Saturday night.

For pictures of the festival, please turn to Pages 8 and 9.

Re-Bid Ferry Job

The Ironton Ferry is back in operation this week after temporary repairs were made to ramps on both sides of the South Arm.

Ferry operations were suspended for about one month when high water made it almost impossible to board vehicles from the old ramps.

Last Thursday night, the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners rejected two bids for permanent reconstruction of the ramps at costs in excess of $333,000.

The W.A. Porter Co. of East Jordan bid $333,637.98 and the Gilliland Construction Co. of Alpena bid $333,791.07.

The commission agreed to ask for new bids on modified plans, giving contractors more time to work up their estimates and more time to complete the job.

Donald Foster, representing the Grand Rapids engineering firm of Williams and Works, explained how his firm had drawn up specifications for the project and why only two companies bid. (Too little time to tabulate bids and complete job.)

The commission discussed possible construction of a bridge over the South Arm, which would cost many times as much as repairing the ramps.

Nixon Gift Among Auction Items

The Ladies Auxiliary of the Charlevoix VFW Post will hold a gigantic "Celebrity Auction" Thursday, Aug. 2 at 7 p.m. at the post home on U.S. 31 North.

And dozens of personalized books, phonograph records and what have you.

Hoffman Resigns As City Attorney

City Attorney Robert Hoffman submitted his resignation to the city council Monday night, charging council members had "circumvented" his office by obtaining legal opinions from other attorneys.

He also objected to a recent decision by the council to pay him only $4,500 a year instead of the $5,500 he requested.

Hoffman was not at the meeting but tendered his resignation in a letter to the mayor and council. He said he wished to be relieved of his duties immediately, but said he would continue to serve on a fee-for-time basis until the post is filled.

Hoffman was appointed city attorney two years ago by former Mayor Andrew Essenburg.

He is the second city officer to submit his resignation to the mayor and council in two weeks. July 16, City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna resigned, effective Sept. 15.

Too Many Issues Die in Committee, Hanna Charges

Out-going City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna Monday night laid on the laps of the council a list of 63 items of important business which elected officials have allowed to die in committee during the past 2½ years, many of them in the past 12 months.

Hanna, who submitted his resignation at the July 16 meeting after being requested to do so repeatedly by Mayor Edward P. Hansen, said he has expressed his concern on many occasions over the lack of attention the council has afforded "serious and pressing" problems.

At Monday's meeting, the council took no action on Hanna's resignation. Nor was any progress made on a proposed ordinance establishing the office of city administrator and drawing up a description of his duties. The ordinance is in committee.

Hanna's resignation is effective Sept. 15.

In a cover letter on his list of business still in committee, Hanna quoted a memo of his to the mayor and council May 17, 1973:

"It is certainly a dark and dreary day for Charlevoix the Beautiful when personalities and personal commitments are allowed to creep in and take over our day-to-day lives in a way that deters the orderly and efficient operation of our City."

On Hanna's dead-in-committee list were:

–A request by the Beaver Island Boat Co. to construct larger office facilities.

–A request by the council June 14, 1972, for the mayor to set up a joint meeting with the Charlevoix Township Board.

–Setting up of a fee for use of the city's new septic tank dump station.

By the close of Monday's meeting, the council had failed to take action on either resignation.

Representatives of the Ann Arbor based consulting engineering firm of McNamee, Porter and Seeley opened 12 bids on the proposed city sewer construction. Bid on the May-st. system ranged from the high of $320,192.60 by the Ann Arbor firm of F.J. Siller to the low of $201,179.25 by G & T Contractors of Traverse City. Bids on the separation of the storm and sanitary sewers on Bridge-st. north of the channel varied from $29,770 submitted by the Lansing firm of Reed & Noyce to $10,763 bid by W.A. Porter of East Jordan.

Mrs. Pauline Russell and Mrs. Virginia Cunningham complained to the council about the riff-raff in town. They were concerned about persons who loiter outside the Topside Bar and in the park. Wishing to know if something could be done to clean these people out, the ladies were upset about the foul language, consumption of alcoholic beverages in the park and the personal appearance of park freaks.

The council was sympathetic, but said all the city can do is enforce an ordinance which prohibits consumption of alcoholic beverages within 1,000 feet of a U.S. highway.

They stated that little could be done about the loitering since, as Alderman Sam Supernaw observed, "That's what the park is for."

In a related issue, John Haggard asked if something could be done about the "hippies living in the trees" on the lake Michigan side of Mt. McSauba. Haggard said there were five or six tree houses occupied by people this summer. Council tabled all action concerning Mt. McSauba until the recreation committee meets Aug. 6.

Commenting on the hippie problem, Mayor Hansen said it is up to the citizenry as well as the council and police to enforce the law.

In other business the council:

–Awarded contracts for a dump truck (5,677) and two pick-up trucks ($6,180) to Charlevoix Oil Co. The council was ready to award contracts at the last meeting, but the issue was stalled when a conflict-of-interest question was raised by Bill Peters, who pointed out that Alderman Richard Fochtman is a co-owner of Charlevoix Oil. In the absence of Robert Hoffman, who was to research the question, the council accepted an attorney general's opinion submitted by former Mayor William Fochtman to the effect that no conflict-of-interest exists in such cases. Bryce Barnes (International) of Eastport actually was low bidder on the pick-ups ($5,568.42).

–Sent to the Land Use Committee a request by John Sharrow to purchase Sheridan-st. between Lincoln and Garfield. Sharrow wishes to put in a garden where the street is. That section of Sheridan has been virtually abandoned for many years.

–Approved the lease of the 40,000 gallon oil tank at the city power plant to Wayne Carter for one year. Carter submitted a bid of $200 for the tank.

–Was questioned by Tom LaBlance about the "sewergate" affair. Two weeks ago the council learned that a new home on Division-st. has purportedly hooked on to the city sewer line without a permit or even the knowledge of city officials. Mayor Hansen promised a full investigation.

Zoning Vote Set Aug. 14

County Planner William Mercer reminds all registered voters living in unincorporated areas of Charlevoix County that they are eligible to vote in the upcoming Aug. 14 election on County-wide zoning.

Here are some of the questions he is asked most frequently about the election:

Q. When is the referendum election on Zoning?

A. The Election will be held on Aug. 14, 1973 in each Township within the County.

Q. Who gets to vote in this election?

A. All registered voters in the fifteen townships within the county.

Q. Do seasonal residents get to vote?

A. No, just as in any other election, the registered voters will determine the outcome,.

Bargains Galore

Most downtown merchants will move outdoors this Friday and Saturday for Charlevoix's big annual "Sidewalk Days" sale, according to Tom Merta, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce.

THE PALACE theater, remodeled and renamed the Cinema III, will hold its grand opening Wednesday. See stories and congratulatory messages on pages 14 and 15 of this week's Courier.

Nielsens Celebrate 40th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Nielsen of Ironton will celebrate their 40th Wedding Anniversary on Oct. 28th.

The couple will be guests of honor at an open house held at their home on Saturday, Aug. 18. Friends of the family are invited to stop by between two and five in the afternoon.

The Nielsen's five daughters will host the open house, which is being held in August to enable the entire family to attend.

The children of Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen include Mrs. Roger (Doris) Phend of Winstom Salem, North Carolina; Mrs. Gilbert (Joyce) Rhodes of Cleveland, Ohio; Mrs. Geoffery (Terry) Enland of Coldwater, Mi.; Mrs. James (Sharon) Huff of Durand, Mi. and Mary Nielsen of Ironton.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Nielsen are natives of Charlevoix. She is the former Mary Jensen Beattie. Mr. Nielsen is a retired stonemason who did much of the work in Boulder Park.

Obituary

French

Funeral for George A. French, 66, who died Saturday at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where he had been a patient for five weeks, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Monday. The Rev. Lester Priest of the Barnard Methodist church officiated. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born in Detroit March 12, 1907, Mr. French was married to the former Agnes Neil June 17, 1930, and lived in Detroit where he was a superintendent in the steel manufacturing industry until retiring and moving to Marion Township 25 years ago.

He was a member of the Barnard Methodist Church and the Ellsworth Lions Club. He was a former member of the I.O.O.F.

Surviving are his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Bob (Phyllis) Hilton of Charlevoix; four grandchildren; a brother, Arthur of St. Clair Shores and one sister, Mrs. William Welcher of Detroit.

The family suggests that anyone wishing to honor the memory of Mr. French contribute to the American Cancer Society in his name.

Township Cites Strides In Water, Fire, Roads

A Charlevoix Township "Progress Report" pointing to giant strides in the areas of water distribution, fire protection and blacktopping has been mailed to all township residents by Mrs. Rose Bergmann, township treasurer.

As most of you probably know, our township is in the water business. There are 18 families signed up, with most of them already receiving water. The State Health Department has given permission for 170 water connections on these two wells. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Shanahan donated land for the wells, and Greg Shadko contributed the engineering. We are still trying to negotiate with the City for extension of their mains to the South side of Charlevoix. Failing that, we plan on a well and distribution system there too.

The Federal Government has implemented a plan of revenue sharing with all units of government. The formula is based primarily on the effort of the people to tax themselves. For that reason we are fortunate to have had the 2.7 mills you voted three years ago, as it has resulted in our township receiving more money than any other township in the county. This additional $17,062, for 1972 (and slightly more than that for this year) has helped immensely to defray te cost of the water system. If we should reduce our millage, then a portion of our Federal Sharing will be decreased. So now seems an expedient time to make capital improvements.

Our road program is moving ahead too. Ninety percent of Boulder Park is ready for black-topping next year. The high water has caused some damage to the launching ramps. Temporary repairs have been made, with some thanks going to American Mold for placing some concrete slabs on the Lake Michigan ramp for protection.

The cost of our fire protection contract with the City (over $9,000 per yr.) has been cause for concern for some time. The Township Supervisor has talked with other townships about their fire-fighting costs, and the Board now feels that we should be able to undertake this service ourselves. Consequently, when fire equipment became available from larger cities who were using their Federal Revenue Sharing funds to enlarge their own units, we bid on several trucks. We plan on going to the City of Wyoming this week to pick up the three trucks we bid on. They will be stored this year in our well house, until we purchase new hoses and other necessary fire-fighting gear. Meanwhile, we have signed our current contract for City fire protection so that our citizens and their property are full covered. Our plan now is to have one truck on the South side of our township when we do have our own fire department going.

Regurding the special election August 14th, on County Zoning: Take careful thought to the consequences of leaving even parts of the County without zoning, allowing land speculators to chop up undeveloped areas at will. It is necessary to cast an affirmative vote in order to offset the expected "no" votes of those who feel they don't want the County telling them what to do with their land. There are two sides to this question, and we urge most strongly that all of you go to the polls. Our Township will be very little touched by the results, regardless of the outcome.

Finally, we wish to thank those of you who do attend our Township meetings, All are welcome. We meet the second Monday of each month, at 8 p.m. in the summer; 7 p.m. starting in October, at the Township Hall.

Blood Bank Will Visit Boyne City on Aug. 15

The mobile Red Cross blood collection unit will set up shop at Christ Lutheran Church in Boyne City Aug. 15 from 2 p.m. until 8 p.m., according to the Boyne City Red Cross Blood Committee.

Members report that the blood is badly needed. The Flint Regional Red Cross Blood Center, which includes Charlevoix County and 16 other Michigan counties, says that 33 hospitals throughout the area are threatened by a critical blood shortage.

During the past year, several Charlevoix County residents have required large quantities of blood. One Boyne Falls resident needed more than 15 pints as the result of a firearm accident. Another Charlevoix resident required 14 pints.

Without the Red Cross Blood Bank, members of the patients families would have been required to supply the blood needed.

Commercial blood, if available, may be purchased for from $40 to $45 a pint. However commercial blood from hired donors is of poorer quality than that received from volunteer donors. Red Cross donors are not remunerated and are truthful in reporting past illnesses which may affect the quality of their blood.

County Participates In CD Exercise

County Civil Defense leaders handled a series of man-made and natural "disasters" last Thursday, yet most county residents were unaware of the dire events.

The occasion was a simulated disaster drill, conducted by the Civil Defense office with the cooperation of Michigan Technological University.

More than two dozen county, city and township officials took part in the exercise from a command post at the VFW hall on U.S. 31 North.

The day actually started with a severe thunderstorm, as it was supposed to in the Civil Defense scenario, but after that it was pure fiction – starting a barge fire in St. James Harbor at 8:15 a.m. with 10 seriously injured, followed by tornado touch-downs, blocked roads, scattered fires, power blackouts, and evacuation of the Grandvue Medical Care Facility.

The CD crew handled the emergencies as they arose, dispatching imaginary ambulances to transport the wounded and sending make-believe police and fire fighters wherever they were needed.

A spokesman for Michigan Tech said the exercise was intended to point up where the county's Civil Defense network needs improvement.

County CD Director Mrs. Alice Tunison was in charge of the exercise, assisted by Thomas Hampton, Phil Wheeler and Cass Win of Michigan Tech and Sgt. William Ogden of the State Police Post at Traverse City.

Gardeners Award Plaques for August

Garden Club award winners for the first two weeks in August have been announced.

Winning the plaque for the south side was the Fred Nordlie residence at 814 State-st. The garden featured hanging baskets of geraniums with myrtle ground cover. A well-kept yard with stately old trees accentuated the flowers. Arrangements of daisies and petunias bordered th back fence to the home.

On the north side Mr. and Mrs. Robert Close, Cherry Street, received the garden Club Plaque. Marigold and sweet allysum border the front walk and driveway.

Perennials and annuals make up the back yard border including snapdragons, white and yellow lillies, asters, yarden, white delphiniums and labelia.

Honorable mention on the north side went to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Neff, 507 Dixon-ave., for their patio plantings of shasta daisies intermixed with galardia, blue delphiniums and lemon lillies. The hedge and trees serve as a background to make up a very attractive display.

Judges for the awards were Mrs. Gordon Rower and Mrs. Anthony Stabnick on the south side and Mrs. A. Vantek and Mrs. H. Totten on the north side.

Plan Picnic

Graduates of the Charlevoix County Normal School are reminded that the annual picnic and get-together will be Tuesday, Aug. 8, at the March residence at the junction of M-75 and U.S. 131 in Walloon Lake.

MRS. MARGORIE Coleman (left) and Mrs. Virginia Woods, both employes of Charlevoix Public Schools, were among 261 secretaries from across the state who attended the 17th annual Work Conference for Secretaries held at Ferris State College July 23-25.

Watershed Meeting Scheduled Aug. 6

The Jordan River Watershed Commission will host a listening meeting to discuss use of the state forest land in the Jordan River Valley.

The DNR wants to know what uses the public feels are compatible in the Valley and why.

The meeting will be held at the American Legion building in East Jordan at 7:30 p.m. on Aug. 6th. All interested people are encouraged to attend.

Ned Caveney, recreation planner for the Forestry Division, will discuss the plan and its objectives. This will be followed by comments from the public on use of the Valley.

The Jordan Valley has many unique features which give it special significance. The river itself has been designated as a wild scenic river. Recreational use of the state land has increased rapidly in the past few years. It is expected that use will continue to increase.

Forestry Division of Michigan Department of Natural Resources is in the beginning stages of preparing a public use and resource management plan for the state forest land in the Jordan River Valley. Information needed to prepare a comprehensive plan is now being gathered.

The objective of the management plan is to protect the unique features of the Jordan Valley from misuse and overuse.

Beaver Lifeboat Station Essential, Milliken Says

Gov. William G. Milliken said last week that the restoration of U.S. Coast Guard search and rescue stations at Beaver Island Munising, Manistee, South Haven, Portage, and Harbor Beach is "essential to the safety of recreational boating on the Great Lakes."

The governor said he was continuing to work toward reversing the decision of the U.S. Coast Guard to close six of 17 search and rescue stations in Michigan. He noted activity at these stations has shown an increase over the past several years.

In a letter to Vice Admiral T. R. Sargent, Acting Commandant, U.S. Coast Guard, Milliken said, "In particular, the increased activity at South Haven and Manistee has closely paralleled increasing sportfishing at those areas. With similarly increased activity predicted for Harbor Beach, I believe that a much stronger case for retaining these stations in operation could be made than was apparently made by the Coast Guard."

The Governor said he was pleased with the action of the U.S. House of Representatives which increased the appropriation of the Department of Transportation by $600,000 to permit restoration of search and rescue sites, and praised members of the Michigan congressional delegation for their work in increasing that appropriation.

"I firmly believe that restoration of the services provided by these six stations is essential to the safety of recreational boating on the Great Lakes, and I intend to continue to work toward restoration of the necessary funds in the U.S. Senate."

Milliken earlier this year has urged the Michigan congressional delegation and the U.S. Coast Guard to reconsider decisions to close the six stations.

Toll-Free Phone Calls To Detroit Are in Effect

Michigan veterans and their dependents may now make toll-free telephone calls to the Detroit Veterans Administration (VA) Regional Office.

Frank J. Kilcullen, jr., acting director of the Detroit VA Office, said this service is available through the installation of a wide area telephone service (WATS) line for all parts of the state except for certain cities which have their one numbers.

The Detroit VA switchboard is open from 7:50 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

The special service will enable us to give the state's veterans accurate information and assistance promptly, Kilcullen said.

Veterans or their beneficiaries who have been assigned a claim number previously by the VA should give us this number when calling to further speed service to them Kilcullen said.

Course Slated on Island

A course in mycology, the branch of biology dealing with fungi, is scheduled to be taught at Central Michigan University's Beaver Island Research Center this summer. The dates are Aug. 13-22 and applications are now being taken by CMU's Off Campus Education Office.

The course is listed as Biology 419, "Mycology," and the instructor will be Dr. Raymond Hammond. Study will cover the basic morphological structure and taxonomy of fungi. Also a survey of fungi in relation to ecology, physiology, sexuality, life cycles and nutrition will be made.

Two semester hours graduate or undergraduate credit will be earned with classes through August 22.

Those enrolling will be staying at the Beaver Island dormitory facility where meals will be served. Course cost is based upon room and board as well as the regular tuition fees.

Crusade Is Over Top

The Charlevoix County Cancer Crusade is over the top!

A last minute gift of $100 from an anonymous donor brought the county total to $9,770.60 – $70.60 over the goal, according to Mrs. Albert Seger, Charlevoix area chairman, and Mrs. Maurice Dixon, Crusade treasurer.

The Charlevoix area contribution was $5,077.52, including $866 in memorial gifts.

Mrs. Harvey Varnum, Boyne City chairman, reports contributions of $2,638.45, including $291 in memorials.

Chairman Ann Hite at East Jordan says her workers collected $2,054.63, including $97 in memorials.

Mrs. Leroy Sorenson of Boyne City, president of the County Crusade, credits success of the drive to her team of highly organized and hard working volunteers. She singled out Mrs. Seger for special recognition.

Funds contributed will assist cancer victims in the immediate area and will help finance the nationwide war against cancer.

Medusa Earnings Rise 16 Percent for Quarter

Medusa Corp reported earnings per common share of $1 for the second quarter of 1973, ending June 30, according to the stockholders' report.

The figure compares to 86 cents for the same quarter of 1972, an increase of 16 percent.

Billings to customers were $38,013,000, up from $33,573,000, an increase of 13 percent.

Income before taxes was $4,211,000, up from $3,440,000, an increase of 22 percent and net income was $2,524,000, up from $2,157,000 last year, an increase of 17 percent.

For the first six months of 1973, earnings per common share were 83 cents, compared to 69 cents in 1972.

Income before taxes for the six-month period showed a whopping increase of 78 percent, up from $2,032,000 to $3,618,000. Net income rose 64 percent, from $1,291,000 in 1972 to $2,119,000 this year.

Billings to customers rose from $50,073,000 in 1972 to $58,761,000 this year, an increase of 17 percent.

For the past year, earnings per common share were $3.04, compared to $283. Billings rose 12 percent, income before taxes 17 percent and net income 12 percent.

Corporate officers attributed the increases to good weather in the Great Lakes area and strong demand in Medusa's market area.

"Our shipments gained more than the industry," Board Chairman Ellery Sedgwick jr. and President Robert W. Fort reported to stockholders "Cement production was up 11 percent in the first half, which helped offset rising costs.

The report to shareholders included a picture of the recently completed clinker storage building at Charlevoix's Medusa Plant which is 90 feet high and 225 feet in diamenter. The shelter protects clinker from the weather.

Honored

Three Charlevoix County students were among 600 honored by Ferris State College at its annual Academic Awards banquet.

They were David E. Engstrom, 414 Michigan-ave., Charlevoix; Gerald K. Wheat, R-1, Charlevoix; and Louis R. Dunson, R-1, East Jordan.

All three were cited for "consistent academic excellence."

In pioneer days, good neighbors helped rebuild when a home was destroyed. Today, a State Farm Homeowners Policy with INFLATION COVERAGE applies that same "good neighbor" principle to home insurance.

It can automatically increase your protection as the value of your home increases. So, if something happens, you'll be able to rebuild your home tomorrow the way it is today. Call or come in.

DID YOU know that your kitchen cutting board is a potential source of tiny organisms that cause food poisoning? That's the word from Ken Stevenson, assistant professor of food science and human nutrition at Michigan State University. He says you should either buy a new plastic covered cutting board or wash your old wooden board thoroughly after each use with hot water, detergent and a stiff brush.

Atwood School Chums Convene

By Mrs. Henry Burns

More than 140 persons attended the Atwood School Reunion July 7 at the Ellsworth American Legion Hall.

The group included six former teachers, 86 former pupils, their husbands and wives and other guests.

Lewis Essenburg, president of the reunion committee, read the minutes of the Annual School meeting of Sept. 2, 1895. School that year was held eight months – two months in the fall and spring with one teacher and four months in the winter with two teachers. Some $260 was earmarked for teachers' wages and $270 for indebtedness and contingencies.

The old schoolmates looked at pictures taken in years past heard interesting anecdotes by some of the former teachers, including Mrs. William (Maud Best) Patterson of Ellsworth, Mrs. Vern (Ruth Carpenter) Vance of East Jordan, Mrs. Robert (Ona Elzinga) Baker of Albion and Mrs. Max (Janet Elzinga) Bolser of Ellsworth. Also present were former teachers Miss Ruth Bartlett of Central Lake and Harvey Essenburg of R-1, Ellsworth.

William Boss of Ellsworth was elected president of the 1977 reunion. Mrs. Burns will remain as secretary and Mrs. George (Fannie) Koster as treasurer.

Petoskey's Gaslight District, composed of fine resort shops, is one of those rare shopping areas where the customer is overwhelmed with kindness. Each Gaslight shop is unique, and each brings to Northern Michigan the finest quality gifts available anywhere. While the shops contain plenty of gifts to take home to Aunt Minnie, merchants have scoured the globe to find the rare and unique in exclusive cashmere fabrics, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and the kind of toys and games which make browsing as much fun as buying.

A trip to Northern Michigan is not complete until you've visited the Gaslight Shops:

SEHL'S Northern Show set up at Ferry Beach throughout the festival, offering rides, a midway and refreshments.

A WATERBALL fight sponsored by the Charlevoix Volunteer Fire Department took place in East Park in mid-afternoon. Although the rain held off, youngsters got wet anyway.

CHARLEVOIX Jaycees sponsored a "Water Dunk" as their part of the festival. If the ball thrower hit the target, the victim would get dunked. And the water wasn't all that warm.

Josh Barnes Wins CYC Sailboat Race

Josh Barnes won the second in a series of six Wednesday evening sailboat races held last week, July 25. The races are sponsored by the Charlevoix Yacht Club.

Jack Begrow, winner of the first race, was first to cross the finish line. He placed third, however, in his Pearson 30 on the basis of corrected time. Bill Kenfeck placed second in his Ericson 27.

Six boats started last Wednesday's race. The next race in the series is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. on Wednesday, Aug. 1. All sailors having boats over 22' long are invited to participate. A $5.00 racing fee is required along with membership in the Charlevoix Yacht Club.

Persons interested may contact Rod Stebbins at Irish Boat Shop or Bill Kenfeck at Stnley's Hardware for more information.

THE DIAMOND CAPER

Your loyal and trustworthy reporter has only just this past week been made aware of new developments concerning the purported cover-up of the facts out at the diamond.

In light of these new developmets, I may find it necessary to ask for the resignation of Carl Novak, who is, I might add, one of the finest public servants with whom it has been my privilege to be associated. I have every confidence that when the facts are made known and the air has cleared, Mr. Novak will be cleared of any wrong doing.

I pledge to you, my fellow readers, that I will do everything within the power of my office as your trusted reporter to get to the bottom of this scandal. I owe this to you out of the confidence you have shown in me, and also to keep me from being robbed of my rightful place in the history of this summer's softball season.

Let others wallow in the mud of the diamond, (it has been raining out there a lot lately, hasn't it?), I have a job to do–a mandate from my boss. Without further delay then, this week's edition of good ole Circlin'.

MEN'S SLOW-PITCH

To start out the week, Jim's Standard did the job on Freedman's in the first game Monday evening, 10-9. This game was a real cliff hanger, as each team garnered 13 hits. Tom Pence picked up the victory for Jim's, while Glen Cunningham picked up the loss for Freedman's.

The second game proved to be the battle of the sides, with the Top coming out on top. Bob Crain pitched a 9 hitter in leading Topside to a 10-5 victory over Portside. Fritz Allard gave up 8 hits in a losing effort.

Medusa then cemented down Freedman's 14-12 with the help of a homer by Pat Kerr. Stan Johnston was the winning pitcher while Glenn Cunningham pitched the loss.

The nightcap proved to be one of the biggest games of the season, as big Bill Supernaw and friends from Andy's won their first game 8-7. The Airport Bar crashed, as they gave Andy's a much needed win. Supernaw was the winning pitcher. Terry Miller took the loss.

On Wednesday evening, the first game was a match between the leagues two top teams. The Shed came out on top, besting Topside 10-7. For the winners Faust, DeVries, Beaudoin and Randy Faust all had roundtrippers. Gary Balch got credit for the victory. Bob Crain took the loss.

Coast Guard then made quick work of Townhouse 11-5, aided by Wayne Beiher's homer. Jim Bowmen pitched for the guard, Ron Weislik for Townhouse.

Shed won its second game of the evening, this time over Freedman's 22-7 behind the pitching of Randy Faust and homeruns of O.J. Faust and two of Bernie DeVries. Glen Cunningham was the losing pitcher, giving up only 17 hits.

American Mold took some tread off Andy's, beating the tire people in a heartbreaker 12-11. It was a tough break for big Bill and friends, who had just won their first game of the year on Monday. They were done in by 5 homeruns; two by Roger Crain, two by Bill Carey and one by Mike Crain. Andy Carey bagged one for the losers.

Portside cracked through Medusa 10-6 in the evening's opener on Friday. Each team had one homer, as Harry Biggs bagged one for Portside and Denny Spence had one for Medusa. Stan Johnston took the loss.

Airport Bar got back in the air behind the pitching of Beano Archey. The men were flying high, as they came up with 11 runs in the seventh to tie the game and then won it in the eighth.

In the last game of the week, the Shed destroyed Topside 13-1. Gary Balch got the win and Fritz Allard the loss.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH

Well, my fellow readers, after last week's little essay about the inaccuracies of the facts, I now have a revised edition of the standings at the end of the first round. I'm going to print them as they were given to me, though I know for a fact they are inaccurate. It is precisely this bit of information that has triggered my new investigation into what is going on out at the diamond.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH FIRST ROUND STANDINGS

TEAM	W	L	T
Co. St. Bk.	7	1
1st St. Bk.	7	1
Edward's IGA	6	1
K.F. Chicken	5	3
A & W	4	3
Hufford's	2	5	1
Hospital	2	6
Ski & Shore	1	7
Com. Reformed	0	7	1

Those are the standings from the first round. Next week the standings from the second round will be printed, assuming of course that Carl Novak gets around to doing them.

THE COLONEL IS BACK ON TOP: COMMUNITY REFORMED MAINTAINS PERFECT RECORD.

On Tuesday the ladies' league opened action with another heartbreaking loss for Ski & Shore. I've never seen a team more deserving of victory be so frustrated. They lost to the rootbeer rompers 14-12, snatching defeat from the jaws of victory or something like that. Barb White was the winning pitcher for A & W, getting homerun help from Connie Shores. Pat "ace" Lass pitched the loss.

In the biweekly massacre, First State Bank wiped out Community Reformed 21-9.. Pam Parsel was the winning pitcher, getting homerun help from herself, Kit Lieberman, two from Lilly Gallagher and Judy VanderArk. Christie Potter pitched one of her better games for the church in defeat, giving up only 19 hits, 21 runs and 5 homeruns. It certainly wasn't pitching that caused defeat this week. If only the girls would start hitting.

I asked coach Bud Ross how he had managed to maintain a perfect winless season this year. He remarked that it wasn't easy, but that "I'm just a poor farm boy trying to coach the girls on."

Now at least we know why corn has been sprouting in the infield. But it still hasn't helped the church win any games. I told Bud his team certainly seemed to have a lot of potential if he could get things going. He readily agreed, and mentioned that his team might not make bad softball players either.

Moving right along, in the evening's third game Edward's IGA did in County State Bank 19-14. The hits category was the exact opposite, as Edward's had 14 and the bank 19. But it's the runs that count, I guess, as Marge Carey pitched the win for Edward's and Arlene Blissett was tagged with the loss for the bank.

In the last game of the night, Kentucky Fried Chicken whipped Hufford's 9-8 behind the seven hit pitching of Ann Carey. Cindy Kiteley took the loss.

If you were out at the diamond on Thursday, you no doubt observed that the games were cancelled because of the rain. You no doubt also got quite wet. The games will be rescheduled for a later date.

My thanks to the person who is helping Carl Novak with his spelling. Now if you'd only help me.

On October 11, 1972 the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners adopted a county zoning ordinance. The ordinance was approved by the Office of Economic Expansion, Michigan Department of Commerce on October 24, 1972. This ordinance does not apply to townships which have their own zoning ordinances, and would cease to apply to any township which may later adopt its own zoning ordinance.

PROPOSITION

Shall Charlevoix County continue to provide zoning under its ordinance for those townships in the County that do not have their own zoning?

YES ☐

NO ☐

Mrs. Minor Becomes Island Postmistress

Mrs Arcine (Mary) Minor has been named officer in charge of the St. James Post Office on Beaver Island, succeeding Frank Nackerman who has retired after 44 years on the job.

According to the recent issue of The Beaver Islander, Nackerman was honored at a retirement party at the Nackerman homestead on Barney's Lake-rd. July 21.

Nackerman's entire family was in attendance, including Mrs. Barbara Huston, Mr. and Mrs. Rodney Nackerman, Mr. and Mrs. Hal (Rosemary) Smith and family, Mr. and Mrs. Richard (Ellen) Verduyn and family and Mr. and Mrs. Jack (Colleen) Volk and family.

Mrs. Minor has served several years as a postal clerk until her recent promotion. She is the daughter of Patrick LaFreniere and Mrs. Elizabeth LaFreniere of the island.

The Beaver Island Post Office was established as a Fourth Class Office January 13, 1849, when the island was a part of Michilimackinac County. The Island became a part of Emmet County Jan. 29, 1853, of Manitou County Feb. 12, 1855, and of Charlevoix County May 27, 1895.

The office has had its ups and downs over the years. It was discontinued on March 6, 1868, and reestablished as a Fourth Class Office Dec. 19, 1968.

The office has had its ups and downs over the years. It was discontinued on March 6, 1868, and reestablished as a Fourth Class Office Dec. 19, 1868. Oct. 19, 1854, the name was changed from the Beaver Island Post Office to the St. James Post Office.

And on July 1, 1945, the office was changed from a Fourth Class office to a Third Class office, which it remains today.

The building was erected by the late William Boyle who operated it as the Silver Top Saloon. Silver top beer was one of the beverages dispensed.

Living quarters were located on the second story and the residence was the scene of many a Beaver Island card game.

"For the convenience of the players, a scuttle was cut through the floor so refreshments could be passed up from the bar below via a box with a rope attached," the Beaver Islander reports.

Prohibition rang the death knell for the Silver Top Saloon. For a while a tailor occupied the premises and it was there that Nackerman was outfitted with his first pair of long pants.

When the tailor left, the building stood vacant for many years.

"The downstairs doors were either removed or fell off," the Beaver Islander reports. "Cattle, dogs and cats passed in and out and, needless to say, the building soon was a shambles."

In 1923, the building was pressed into service again – this time as the U.S. Post Office. It is there that islanders have picked up their mail and posted letters ever since.

Charles R. Wright, Jan. 13, 1849; Peter McKinely, Sept. 19, 1851; Dennis Chidester, Feb. 14, 1852; Edeard Chidester, June 27, 1856; Bradner Curran, Aug. 1, 1856; James M. McKinley, Sept. 19, 1857; D. D. Lodbell, May, 1861; John O. Mala, Dec. 1, 1862; Charles R. Wright, Nov. 20, 1863 and Dec. 19, 1868; George Miller, Nov. 4, 1881; James Gibson, Dec. 6, 1881; Ida Gibson, April 2, 1903, Michael J. McCann, July 3, 1903; William W. Boyle, Jan. 23, 1923 (Acting), March 9, 1923 (Commissioned); Frank J. Nackerman, Aug. 15, 1939 (Acting), Feb. 20, 1940 (Commissioned; and Mary C. Minor, July 1, 1973 (Official in Charge).

The Beaver Islander also reports that there were once post offices on the Fox Islands, March 11, 1906 to Nov. 30, 1917; High Island, June 5, 1913 to June 15, 1914; and Garden Island, June 31, 1913, to Feb. 15, 1914.

There also was a postoffice at the town of Nomad on the south end of Beaver Island from March 10, 1917, to Oct. 31, 1933. Julia Cole was postmistress.

121 Cards of Thanks

I WOULD LIKE to say thank you to my friends and acquaintances in the area in general and at Charlevoix Area Hospital in particular for having been so kind and thoughtful throughout my recent illness. Although it has been difficult to answer each card and letter and note, I am trying to do so. It is no fun to be sick but it is even less fun to be sick and never hear from anybody. The flowers and plants were especially nice, and I just wanted to thank everybody and say I hope to be back to work by fall. Mary I. Smith, 311 West Garfield, Charlevoix, Mich. 49720.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Judge Arthur Reibel:

Frank Michalowski, 20, Oak Park, Mich., was assessed $25 after pleading guilty to speeding.

Michael Mitchell, 30, Charlevoix, was assessed $25 on a charge of being drunk and disorderly.

Leo Murray, 44, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. He demanded a jury trial and was released on $10 bond.

David Shepard, 27, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor. Case was continued.

John Thompson, 17, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of assault and battery. He requested the services of a court-appointed attorney.

Richard M. Rebec, 18, and Frank Gibbard, 17, both of East Jordan, appeared on charged of violation of probation. Case was continued for sentencing.

Randolf W. Linterman, 18, Charlevoix, was assessed $15 for consuming alcoholic beverages on a public highway.

Two persons were sentenced under a new state law which prohibits the transporting of unsealed bottled of alcoholic beverages in a motor vehicle. David R. LeBrecque, 21, Boyne City and William Barker jr., 20, Elmira, each were assessed $15.

Lawrence Price, 18, Boyne Falls, was assessed $15 for consuming alcoholic beverages on a public highway.

Louie Hadix, Boyne City, was assessed $35 for drag racing.

Ferris Cites Top Students

On the list from Boyne was Robert D. Simons. Honorees from East Jordan were Daniel T. McDonald and Ernest A. Finch.

STAN KENTON and his band will appear at Interlochen Tuesday, Aug. 7, for a jazz workshop and twin concerts. The 8 p.m. concert is open to the public. Appearing with him will be percussionist Peter Erskine, 19, a 1971 Interlochen Arts Academy honor graduate.

COMMON COUNCIL

COUNCIL MINUTES

July 16, 1973
8:00 P.M.

The Common Council met at the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Ald. Present: Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Ald. Fochtman. Absent: None.

The minutes of the July 2, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Ald. Supernaw offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Ald. Selph. BE IT RESOLVED that the City Administrator be authorized to advertise for taking of bids to lease the 40,000 gallon storage tank located at the Electric Plant. Bids to be received by the City Clerk until 8:00 p.m., July 30, 1973. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Ald. Fochtman. Nays: None, Absent: None.

On behalf of the Chamber of Commerce, Bill Cooper presented two trophies won by the float and expressed the Chamber's gratitude for the renovation of the float. He also expressed a need for storage of the float. The trophies will be displayed at the Chamber of Commerce Building.

Mrs. Karl Kohler and Mrs. Ed Loop were present to register their complaint regarding the new tennis courts -- asking that something be done to stop damage to their fences and shrubs by persons retrieving tennis balls, as well as infringement of their privacy. It was suggested that the City extend the height of the fence, put up "no trespass" signs, limit the hours of playing, and extend the chain fence between the corners of the courts and the property owner's fence.

Max Hosmer's request to lease a triangular shaped segment of the City property adjoining his property at 205 Elm Street, as outlined in his letter of July 3, 1973, was discussed and put into the Recreational Committee for further study.

The written request of Jim Bearss to buy airport land adjoining his property was put into the Land Use Committee for further study.

The Planning Commission recommends that a survey of Newman Street from State Street to Sherman be made so that they can make their recommendations. Council advised that such a survey should be made by the property owners.

A letter from the Charlevoix Community Chest was read, stating the allocated sum for the Recreation Program has been set at $2400.

The request of the Planning Commission to review the proposed City Zoning Ordinance with the committee's proposed additions or deletions was read and discussed.

Ald. Timms offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. BE IT RESOLVED by the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix, that Pyro-Sonic Device Co. of Grand Haven, Michigan be given permission to exhibit a Fireworks Display in the City of Charlevoix on July 28, 1973. The Fireworks Display is in connection with the annual Venetian Night celebration, and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that a certified copy of this Resolution be forwarded to the Pyro-Sonic Device Co. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Selph of the Utility Committee offered the following resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Supernaw. BE IT RESOLVED THAT the City of Charlevoix accept the bids of Charlevoix Oil Company for two V-8 pick-up trucks with snow tires at $6180 and one dump truck with snow tires for $5677.

Mr. William Peters, a visitor, questioned the legality of buying trucks from a Council member. The City Attorney was uncertain about the statutes and asked for time to research it.

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderman Timms that the resolution to accept the bids to purchase trucks be tabled until the next regular Council meeting. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote: Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Attorney Hoffman reported that the Bicycle Ordinance was ready for committee, except he questioned the paragraph regarding "impounded" bicycles and committee asked that the wording be changed to "abandoned or unclaimed" bicycles. It was put back into committee for further study.

Alderman Timms offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the West 100 feet of Lots 154 and 155 of Upright and Hurlbut's Addition to the Village (now city) of Charlevoix according to the plat recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan be known as Parcel One, and BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the East 48.5 ft. of lots 154 and 155 of Upright and Hurlbut's Addition to the Village (now City) of Charlevoix and the West 8.35 ft. of the adjoining vacated alley, according to the plat recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds for Charlevoix County, Michigan be known as Parcel Two. The resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: Alderman Supernaw. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Selph. RESOLVED THAT the City renew the Ambulance contracts with the following townships: Charlevoix, Hayes and Norwood, which have been signed by them and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign said contracts on behalf of the City of Charlevoix. The resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Selph. RESOLVED THAT the City renew the Fire contracts with the following townships: Charlevoix, Eveline, Hayes and Norwood, which have been signed by them and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to sign said contracts on behalf of the City of Charlevoix. The resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman, Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Fochtman asked what steps are necessary for parcels of city owned property, adjacent to corporate limits, to be included in the city limits, namely: airport, Catholic cemetery, and Mt. McSauba. Attorney Hoffman was asked to run titles on these.

Alderwoman Wallace voiced concern about the downtown areas unkempt appearance; listing unsightly wires in East Park, dogs running loose, shuffleboards in need of painting, broken curbs and sidewalks, need of more trash barrels, unkempt park next to the Polly-Kay Store. It was put into the Ecology Committee for further study.

Ivan Phillips asked what the city's policy is for sewer connections outside the city, with specific reference to Division Avenue. He was told that no permits had been issued, but the City would check into the matter.

The Public Notice for proposed docks and pilings in Round Lake by D.L., Paul and Alan Weston was discussed and referred to Attorney Hoffman. It will be considered at the July 30, 1973 meeting.

Mayor Hansen announced a candidate, James Sneathen, for the position of City Administrator. Alderman Supernaw requested a committee meeting of the whole, July 23, 1973 to discuss and review his application.

Alderwoman Wallace asked Attorney Hoffman to review the Chamber of Commerce contract and to add a paragraph regarding a request for a quarterly report from the Chamber.

A motion was made by Ald. Plumm and supported by Alderman Supernaw that Hydaker-Wheatlake Company be hired in accordance with their contract proposal of July 2, 1973; said work to consist of constructing larger capacity distribution lines from the Loeb Farm on US 66 to the Sequanota Club and move the electric distribution lines from the street to the rear property lines on Bridge Street between Carpenter and State.

The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

A petition signed by Eileen Duty Ance, owner and Norman D. Ance, tenant, to rezone land at 306 Petoskey Avenue from R2 to C1, described as follows was reviewed:

"Beginning at a point on the West Line of Burns Street 445 feet North of the North line of Dixon Avenue; thence North 136 feet; thence West 156.25 feet; thence South 136 feet; thence East 126.25 feet to the point of beginning; being part of Government Lot 2, Sec. 26, T 34N, R 8 W."

Motion was made by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderman Plumm that the matter be referred to the Planning Commission for their recommendation; and that the necessary advertising be done for a Public Hearing set for August 13, 1973.

The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote: Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Alderman Supernaw and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that Sept. 1, 1973 be set for making Division Street a one-way street going West from US 31 to Mercer Blvd., as passed at a regular Council meeting, May 7, 1973 and that three ads be published in the local paper. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The City Administrator explained that it was doubtful the Federal Government would release any more Grant money in view of the Council's failure to adopt an equitable industrial waste cost recovery program, and that if this proved to be the case it would be necessary to cash C.D. No. 1612 in the amount of $100,000 which is due for re-investment on July 18, 1973. On the basis of 180-day investment, at present interest rates, this will result in a loss to the tax payers of approximately $4,000.

A meeting of the Utility Committee was set for July 19, 1973 at 8:00 P.M.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution, and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace. BE IT RESOLVED that the City Administrator is hereby authorized to re-invest at the best interest rate C.D. No. 1612 in the amount of $100,000 Wednesday July 18, 1973 ($91,000 belonging to the Electric Fund and $9,000 to the Water Fund); or if the Federal money is not available for the Waste Water Treatment Plant, cash it and loan the money, less accumulated interest, to the Public Improvement Fund. The resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $356,037.51 (including the $100,000 C.D., cashed - contingent upon receipt of Federal Grant) find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Motion was made by Alderman Plumm and supported by Alderman Timms that they be allowed and orders drawn for same. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote: Yeas: Aldermen Plumm, Selph, Supernaw, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Nays: None. Absent: None.

City Administrator Hanna presented his written resignation to the Mayor and each of the Council members, dated July 16, 1973 and effective Sept. 15, 1973. No action was taken.

Moved by Alderman Fochtman and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that Council adjourn,

Cinema III Holds Grand Opening

Charlevoix's Palace Theater, which is enjoying a rebirth this week as the Cinema III, has had its share of dramatic moments, aside from those on the silver screen.

Take, for example, the afternoon of March 5, 1945, when the theater was gutted by fire.

"Fire Razes New Palace Theater. Structure Laid to Ruins in Early Afternoon Blaze. Projectors and Sound Equipment Undamaged; Plans for Rebuilding to be Drawn Up in Near Future.

"The 500-seat New Palace Theatre today is completely destroyed as the result of a fire Monday afternoon which, for a time, threatened adjoining buildings. The theater is owned by Mrs. Elizabeth Moon of Petoskey.

The fire, which started in the boiler room at the rear of the building, went unnoticed for some time as passersby noticed smoke seeping through the openings, but mistook it for fog. William (Billy) Smith, however, became suspicious and called (it) to the attention of Mrs. Fox, who turned in the alarm at 1:15 o'clock.

"Fire Chief Charles Marshall and his crew were on the scene in record time and only the alertness of the firemen and the speed with which the apparatus was brought into use saved adjoining buildings from damage. Only the walls remain of the theater structure.

The Sugar Bowl, operated by Mr. and Mrs. George Clados was only slightly damaged by smoke. Two windows were broken. No damage was done to the interior of the Young Realtor building adjoining the theatre to the south. However, the roof was damaged slightly.

"A spokesman for Mrs. Moon said this morning that it was possible the projector machine and sound equipment which was housed in the booth at the front of the building could be salvaged to some extent.

"Backstage speakers, screening as well as all seats were totally destroyed.

"Hope was expressed by L.H. Taylor that the building could be rebuilt and that Charlevoix theatre-goers again could be served with the best pictures possible.

Not since 1925 has this city experienced a fire of this proportion. Old timers will recall the fire 2-years ago which destroyed the stores of F. J. Fessenden, H. B. Jacobs and J. E. Redpath. The buildings involved were the Odd Fellow building and the See building, lying between the Charlevoix Hardware Co. and Park avenue on Bridge street.

The New Palace Theatre was constructed 25 years ago and for many years was owned and operated by Mrs. Elizabeth Moon. In recent years, Mrs. Moon became less active in the operating of the theatre. L. H. Taylor, Mgr. of the Palace and Temple theatres in Petoskey, was active in booking and caring for Mrs. Moon's interests here.

Turrets Grow on Theater

The newly remodeled Palace Theatre will hold its grand opening Wednesday, Aug. 1 with the spine-tingling drama "The Poseidon Adventure" billed for the evening and the rest of the week.

The theatre, which has been renamed Cinema III, was purchased last December by Sam Supernaw, William Supernaw and Thomas Merta, all of Charlevoix, from Mr. and Mrs. Les Taylor of Petoskey.

The most striking change in the building is the exterior which has been completely remodeled to resemble a French castle, complete with a lighted turret on the south end and a clock tower on the north, with a pelican carved by Gordon Neff atop the cupola.

The concession stand, formerly located at the rear of the lobby, has been moved to the south side, with an opening onto Bridge-st. so that theatergoers may make their purchases while in line for tickets. The window also serves casual passer-by as well.

The entire lobby has been remodeled and redecorated, with a smoking alcove, blue cushion vinyl runners, olive carpeting and earth-tone wallpaper of gold, olive and brown.

An unusual feature of the new theatre is a spiral staircase to the second level where the projection booth and a "theatre intime" for small theater parties are located. The room is available by reservation.

The theater remodeling was designed by Merta, with the approval of architect Jack Begrow. Cost of the project is expected to come to about $30,000.

The theater presently has seven employes, including projectionists Butch Wagner and Fred Davison.

Cinema III will remain open every evening throughout the summer, with Wednesday matinees.

Upcoming attractions include, "Soylent Green," "Last Tango in Paris," and "Sound of Music."

54 Years In One Family

The old Palace Theater, which is undergoing a rebirth this week as the Cinema III, was owned by members of one family for more than 50 years before it was purchased last December by Thomas Merta, Bill Supernaw and Sam Supernaw of Charlevoix.

The theater was built in 1918 by Lou and Elizabeth Galster Moon of Pestokey and operated by them for many years. A new front was added to the building in 1936 and the theater was almost completely rebuilt in 1945 following a disasterous fire which left only the walls standing.

The Moons also owned theaters in Petoskey and a second theater in Charlevoix — The Majestic — located on

Hang Onto Your Hats! Here's the Challenger

The following story about Charlevoix's own "Medusa Challenger" is reprinted from the July 14 edition of the Chicago Tribune. The old girl is still up to her hijinks in the Windy City.

By Anne Keegan

THE "ole man" did a good job.

The tugs were late, the bridges were slow, but the "ole man" got here thru yesterday—snaked her up the north branch to the Penn-Dixie dock.

They could have been there hours earlier. But the tugs were busy elsewhere, so the Medusa Challenger, the largest ship to squeeze thru the bends of the Chicago River, past the rotten pilings, up the labyrinthine narrows, and between the dry-docked barges, waited off Navy Pier in the early morning calm.

Three hours after the scheduled arrival the Medusa, a 562-foot cement carrying dinosaur impatient to dock and unload her 42,000 barrels of bulk cement, glided maaded into the Chicago River locks.

She passed thru the locks and the tugs, following like a faithful pair of river ducks, paddling behind, full steam, to catch up. But the first bridge, the Outer Drive Bridge, remained closed—impervious to the Medusa's deep-throated warning horn.

It was Friday the 13th, ironically coupled with the arrival of the legendary ship that has, for years, jinxed the aging drawbridges of the Chicago River.

The bridge had a power failure. It often happens when the Medusa comes to town. Eighteeen minutes later the traffic gates were cranked down by hand. The Medusa sailed thru.

The tugs caught up, and the lead tug, the "Florida," huffing and puffing, crisscrossing in front of the ship like a worried shepherd, pulled her in tow as the lines groaned and the bridges of downtown yawned open like an arch of sabers.

The "Chadburn" (the engine room enunciator) clanged as she cleared the Wabash Ave. bridge, skimming by a mere three feet from where office workers sat entranced as the hulk cruised by.

"We're lucky we got her around there at all," yelled the first mate from the second deck.

Then, the cement elevators on Goose Island came in sight.

The "ole Man" gave four honks on the horn—"telling the tugs to give some slack," said a deckhand.

And the tugs, moving off after safely delivering her honked back, three times, telling the men on the Medusa that "it's all over but the hollerin."

School Board Business

During its regular business meeting on July 23, the Charlevoix School Board:

—Voted to transfer $377 from the general fund to the culinary arts fund.

The board adjourned to executive session to duscuss board goals and non-certified personnel salaries.

Before determining the salaries, it was decided to establish job classifications and ranges based on length of service from starting wage up to two years of service. This was done after making a survey of area employers for comparable positions.

The board voted to follow the wage price freeze guidelines of 5.5 percent increases for hourly wages as her classification.

Library notes

We have new and varied titles to bring to the attention of our patrons this week. There is Law and Order written by Dorothy Uhnak, a highly specialized criminologist who has written the story of the O'Malley family. The O'Malleys are cops, Irish immigrants who are proud, ruthless and unforgiving.

The grandfather is a huge and violent man who commands respect and rules his household with the iron fist of old-fashioned Irish Catholic authoritarianism. His eldest son is a rigid and uncompromising man who forces himself to be everything a policeman should be: honest, incorruptible, impartial.

The grandson, Pat, a veteran of the Vietnam War, is determined tu be an honest cop or no cop at all. This is an unusual family saga, written by a policewoman who tells what it's like to represent and enforce Law and Order.

We want to recommend a lovely book called Hanging Gardens because basket plants both indoors and out are so lovely during the summer months. This is the first book completely devoted to growing plants in hanging containers for patios and terraces.

There are detailed how-to-do drawings and complete instructions for what to put in window boxes and plant stands, and interesting and unusual ideas for growing plants in unusual containers.

Must the Seas Die? by Colin Moorcraft is a sober, thought-provoking book. The seas could die. Some are now dying. Life may be extinct in the Mediterranean, the Baltic or the Caspian before the end of the present decade, and within a shockingly small number of years, the whole world ocean could be dead.

The author notes that some fish banks in the North Sea have twice been saved temporarily from extermination only by the interludes afforded by World War I and II. He also states that an increasing proportion of the world fish catch does not go to the tables of people who need it most, but is transformed into meal for chickens and the pigs of rich nations.

THE CHAMBER of Commerce has arranged to have King Bros. Circus appear in Charlevoix Friday, Aug. 3 with performances at 4 and 8 p.m. The circus will set up on M-66 across from Kit Carson Lumber Co. The circus features almost every type of entertainment known to the circus bigtop, including a variety of performing horses and ponies. Tickets are available at the Chamber of Commerce office or may be purchased at the gate.

Church Plans Inspirational Weekend

The Community Reformed Church of Charlevoix is planning an "Inspirational Weekend" for Aug. 3-4. The church extends an invitation to anyone in the area to attend the weekend activities.

Dr. Harold F. Leestma, founding pastor of the Lake Hills Community Church in south Orange County, Calif., will be the featured speaker. A native of Michigan, Dr. Leestma is a nationally known lecturer and author. A dynamic and warmhearted person, Dr. Leestma was Co-Pastor and Minister of Evangelism at the famous Garden Grove Community Church in California for 11 years.

Featured as soloist for the weekend will be Charlene Banker of Grand Rapids. Mrs. Baker is a recording artist well-known throughout the midwest for her conference, radio, and television appearances.

The Inspirational Weekend will begin Friday evening. Designated as Community Night, Dr. Leestma will speak at the church at 8 p.m.

On Saturday morning there will be a Men's breakfast from 7 to 8 a.m. at Leutheuser's Restaurant on Bridge-st. in Charlevoix.

At noon on Saturday there will be a Ladies' Luncheon in the Fellowship Hall of the church. Mrs. Lois Leestma will speak. On Saturday evening the Fellowship Hall will be the site of a potluck supper at 7 p.m.

Dr. Leestma will speak during the Sunday Morning Service.

Nazarene Fetes Youth

Services are scheduled every evening starting at 7:30 p.m.

The Sunday services on Aug. 5 will emphasize Christ and Youth. The visiting group, known as IMPACT (Immediate Personal Action for Christ Today) will take part in both the morning and evening services Aug. 5.

The public is invited to take part in the week long festival of worship and song.

Township Should Call For Annexation Vote

There are discouraging implications in a one-page "progress report" recently mailed to residents of Charlevoix Township of the township board.

Two items touched on in the report are the work the township has done thus far in establishing both a municipal water system and a municipal fire department.

Both, needless to say, are highly worthwhile projects.

The report is discouraging because it makes us wonder anew why Charlevoix and Charlevoix Township are still operating as separate government entities after low! these many years.

Our problems are virtually the same and our goals are identical. It seems to us that we could solve our problems more economically and achieve our goals more quickly if we operated under a single city government.

Annexation of the township by the city was attempted in the late 1960's, but it was turned down by a mere 17 township votes.

We think the time is ripe for the township to again request annexation to determine if voters have had a change of heart.

Such a move should take place before Charlevoix's charter revision swings into high gear, so that township residents would have a full voice in the new form of government.

Unless annexation takes place in the near future, we surely will see more and more duplication of services in the township. The township already has sunk two wells and 18 families have signed up for water service.

Last week, the township picked up three pieces of equipment from the City of Wyoming, the first step toward the establishment of not one but two township fire halls, one north of the city and one south of the city.

The township is going into the fire protection business because it feels that with its $18 million valuation, including the Medusa Cement Plant, it is paying more than its share of the operation of the Charlevoix Volunteer Fire Department. The township's share comes to more than $9,000 a year.

Frankly, we are inclined to agree. The city bills the townships one mill a year for fire protection, which seems fair enough in a township that is largely residential with a number of highly incindiary buildings.

But the bulk of Charlevoix Township's assessment is the Medusa Cement Plant, which certainly is a lesser fire risk than any home in the township.

It seems to us that a more equitable assessment for fire protection would be based on population, with additional increments for industries depending on their hazard ratings.

However, to combat what it considers unfair treatment, the township is going into the fire protection business, for better or worse.

One of the township's chief problems is that its land isn't contiguous. The City of Charlevoix lies squarely in the middle of the township, meaning that whatever services the township supplies for the more populous northern portion, it must also, in time, provide for the southern portion.

For these reasons, we find the township's "progress report" highly discouraging. There will be very little real progress in either the township or city until we are consolidated under a single government.

Annexation of the township would give the city an increased tax base and room for orderly growth and expansion.

The township would benefit from the ready availability of existing city services and elimination of the Charlevoix bottleneck which necessitates the costly duplication of every service provided township residents.

Courier Makes 'Record'

Charlevoix Courier:

You might like to tell your readers that major excerpts from an editorial from the Charlevoix Courier (April 11, 1973) were printed in the Congressional Record of the United States Senate May 31, 1973. The material was introduced by Hon. Mike Gravel, senator from Alaska, on Friday, June 22, 1973.

The editorial was titled "Until We Clean Up A-Waste, Moratorium Is only Sane Solution."

The editorial quotes such authorities as John W. Gofman, M.D., Ph.D., professor of medical physics at the University of California and a former associate director at the Lawrence Radiation Laboratory and Dr. Alvin Weinberg, director of the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

Dr. Weinberg, was quoted as saying: "We nuclear people have made a Faustian bargain with society. On the one hand, we offer an inexhaustible source of energy. But the price that we demand of society for this magical energy source is both a vigilance and a longevity of our social institutions that we are quite unaccustomed to."

"For all practical purposes, such waste (front nuclear power plants) must be stored forever on this plant under eternal surveillance, while suffering mankind keeps its fingers crossed that the atomic garbage dump remains untouched by calamities man-made or natural for untold generations to come."

This issue of Chemical Technology, a publication of the American Chemical Society which has a membership of 110,000 chemists. This editorial strongly urges its readers to give their attention to the Nuclear Power Moratorium Act of 1973, S. 1217, which was introduced by Mike Gravel of Alaska. (Bill places a federal moratorium on construction of nuclear power plants.)

Sincerely,
Mrs. Albert (Doris) Schaller

Mom Hopes Deer Will Be Returned

Mr. Bob Clock, Editor
Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Mich.

Dear Mr. Clock:

Thank you for your kind editorial regarding the theft of a little deer from our baby's grave at St. Mary's Cemetery. I hope your effort brings happy results.

I might add, your editorial was dated July 18. Had our baby lived, she would have celebrated her second birthday on that date.

Clockwise — Chicken Necks

By BOB CLOCK

There was a time not too many months ago when the Clocks would buy a chicken, throw out the giblets and the neck and have ourselves a chicken dinner.

Today the price of chicken is out of sight. Only the wealthy can afford giblets. And the Clocks have been reduced to buying chicken necks to make soup.

In fact, I get weak thinking about the hundreds of chicken necks I have relegated to the garbage can over the years.

Ordinarily I wouldn't make such a confession in the public prints, but this price situation has everyone we know in virtually the same bind.

You have to eat to live, that much is certain. The problem is finding food you can afford that meet your nutritional requirements.

The big pinch up to the present has been in the protein department, namely meat. I don't mind telling you that we are no longer substantial meat eaters. We simply couldn't be and remain solvent. We started celebrating meatless Tuesday back in Jaunary. Then it was Meatless Tuesdays and Fridays. Now it is meatless weekdays, with a pound or two of hamburger to tide us over the weekends.

But now our insidious national inflation has spread to virtually all foods, thanks, at least indirectly, to the whopping grain deal President Nixon aranged with the Soviet Union last year.

The most productive food producer in the world now finds itself faced with shortages and resulting high prices. resulting high prices.

Eggs and pork took the big jump last week. Beef, which has been high for months, will probably skyrocket again in August when controls are lifted. The price of milk should go up this week. The price of flour is going up shortly.

And there is no end in sight.

Faced with the early summer price freeze, many farmers began sending their brood sows and hens to the slaughterhouse. They couldn't see the sense of raising more piglets and chicks when it cost more to feed them than they could get for the finished product.

Now the ceilings have been lifted, prices are going up and they probably will continue to climb for the foreseeable future because you can't restock a farmyard overnight.

In the meantime, what are we going to put on our dinner tables?

I don't have the answer, but I do know that we are finding ways to economize at our house—ways we never thought possible.

Like chicken necks. They aren't the most appetizing morsels in the world, but they do make delicious soup which should be fairly high in nutritional value.

We also have learned that such commodities as dry onions keep better in the refrigerator than they do in the pantry. Time was when we'd buy a three-pound bag of onions and use them at our leisure. If they sprouted, we threw them out and never gave them a second thought.

Today we don't buy onions by the bag because you can't tell how many bad ones are hiding behind the good ones.

Instead we pick them out one by one, selecting only firm, unblemished specimens. And we keep them in the vegetable cooler where they stay fresh until ready to use.

We also have learned that you don't really need meat everyday, although I would be the last person in te world to endorse a meat boycott. Boycotts, in my book, only encourage reduced production, which in turn encourages higher prices. If you can afford meat, by all means buy it.

However, we have found that meatless chop suey, with the vegetables cooked in one-half cup of bouillon-flavored water tastes almost like the real thing. In fact, we find ourselves fishing around for pieces of meat which aren't there.

Of course, Judy and I worry whether or not they are getting enough protein. That's why we're happy when they settled for peanut butter or grilled cheese sandwiches for lunch, both of which are excellent sources.

We also encourage them to eat such whole grain cereals as Heartland, which not only is tasty but contains protein lacking in highly refined breakfast cereals.

Furthermore, we keep a supply of hard-boiled eggs in the refrigerator for sandwiches and snacks. Even at present prices, eggs are still a bargain when you weigh the cost against their nutritional value. We also are eating more fish than ever before.

Although I sort of miss the old days when we had steak, grilled pork chops, baked ham, roast beef or fricasseed chicken on the table every night, I think we probably better off from a nutritional standpoint than we were a year ago. It is still a problem to get the kids to cozy up to a bowl of spinach, but they eat lettuce by the bushel right from the garden and they keep the raspberry bushes picked clean with their daily assaults.

With the price of other commodities on the rise, we have also been forced into a rather rigid household accounting system. Until we did, we found that we were allowing our grocery expenses to erode money which should have been set aside for house payments, insurance, fuel oil, utilities and other necessities.

Now groceries are budgeted like everything else. There is still nothing left over, but we are keeping current, which, I suppose, is all that matters.

If it Fitz — A Woman's Place

By JIM FITZGERALD

It was somewhat ironic. Because of a crime, I had to quit watching the TV Watergate hearings long enough to go to the court house. I had to pay a speeding ticket.

"You must come with me," I told my wife. "You have to sit behind me while I testify."

"You must be kidding," she said.

"Not a bit. You've seen John Dean and Jeb Magruder and the others on TV. Their wives always sit right behind them. Wear something sexy but dignified. Maybe a bare midriff but fold your arms in front of the bare. Nothing flashy. We don't want to appear ostentatious."

"That's funny. Everyone knows why I'm the first to volunteer to work at the rummage sales at 15 different churches. It's so I can get first pick. Besides, those wives are behind their husbands because the TV cameras are there. I really don't think NBC will be in Magistrate Ruth Knack's court today."

"That's not the point. The point is that behind every decent man there is a loving, faithful wife who smiles quietly at his quips and frowns polietly when someone calls him a liar. And she always sits with her knees pressed tightly together. It is called the Dr. Joyce Brothers sit."

"I don't think either of us have to worry about sitting in magistrate's court. There is only one chair and Ruth Knack is in it."

"I don't think you are taking this matter seriously enough," I said, getting slightly perturbed. "A wife is an important part of her husband's image. Smart politicians sent Christmas cards with photos of their families posed in the Nativity scene. The voters are suspicious of bachelors. They like a man who is happily married to a solid woman with a dog in a cloth coat. And when the man goes to court, his wife must go with him. Otherwise, people will think she doesn't love him because he is a liar."

"I could bring the cats to court," she said. "I could dress them as the Three Wise Men. I could borrow our granddaughter to play the part of the holy infant. We can tell the magistrate there was no room in the Holiday Inn. And you could be the jackass whose breath keeps the baby warm."

"Listen, I'm serious about this. John Dean admitted he temporarily swiped $4,000 to finance his honeymoon. But who could blame him after seeing that blond dish sitting behind him? Any American boy from Harvard would have done the same thing. I need the same kind of backing. I am going to tell the magistrate I was speeding because you were deathly sick and I had to get to the Blue Cross office quickly to pay overdue premiums. I need you there to nod your head and caress the back of my neck when the going gets tough."

"I'm sorry," she said, "but I cannot live a lie. If that is the type of wife you want, you'd better get a new one."

"At this point in time," I said, "I think I will go up to Camp David to prepare a report on my reaction to your tempting suggestion."

Condo's Last Straw For Summer Visitor

To the Mayor And Council,
Charlevoix, Mich.

Gentlemen:

I want to extend my congratulations on your beautiful town. In 20 years my husband and I have spent every summer in Charlevoix, anxiously waiting from the end of one vacation to the beginning of another.

Our first view as we entered town was the Venetian sign that hung across the main street, telling us when Venetian Night would be and we would have our many friends make certain they planned their trip North to coincide with that particular weekend.

We recall the delicious dinners Mrs. Cross served for years in a tumble-down shack that had all the atmosphere one could ever ask for.

Our next stop would be the park to see the beautiful yachts in the basin and we would proceed to have lunch at "The Turkey Wing" at the bridge. One would be able to run outside when they heard the sound of the warning bell and watch the bridge rise and the boats majestically ride through the channel. Even the smallest boat was made to feel like the Queen Mary — as the bridge was opened at her captain's command.

Then as we continued north to our rented cottage, either at Steve Rabb's Flat El Rancho, or now at North Point, we would look at the breath-taking view of Lake Michigan as we made our turn on U.S. 31 toward the city golf course, that Keith and Lois Carey, along with dear Walt Henley and his crew, would so proudly and painstakingly look after. The friendly greeting one would receive from everyone at the golf course, and the friendship made over the big table at the clubhouse, will live in our memory forever.

Now that you have used up all the Kleenex you have, just let me congratulate you once again.

True, you have improved store fronts and now "the last of the old time picture shows", but have you thought for one minute what you are doing to your town?

The smell from the Medusa Cement plant was bad enough the past three years, but we accepted it as part of our changing world. But the thought of going through "your town" and not ever seeing the sight of Lake Michigan, unless one travels to the Michigan Beach, is more than this person can take. I hope and pray that the men who gave the OK to put up all the condominiums — where the only ones who will enjoy the sight of Lake Michigan are the well-heeled residents — will be able to sleep nights. May they go to bed at night with their gas masks on, one hand on their wallet and the other reaching for their sleeping pills. Charlevoix has lost its charm for me. I'm heading for the North Country, where the air is pure and the God-given scenery is still available.

Mrs. Gordon (Ethel) Gilbert
Southfield, Mich.

Cigaret Smuggling Big in State

By State Sen. Robert W. Davis

Q. Is Cigaret smuggling big business in Michigan?

A. Since Michigan raised the tax on a package of cigarets from 7 to 11 cents two years ago, cigaret smuggling has been rising sharply — and now the smugglers are battling the hijackers.

That's the word of state revenue officials who estimate that the state has lost about $25 million in cigaret taxes because of smuggling.

A means to help combat the smuggling — a two cent reduction in the cigaret tax — has been introduced both in the Senate and the House of Representatives but it is not likely to pass because it would eat heavily into the $10 million a year the state receives on taxes from cigaret sales. Much of this money helps pay for the education of Michigan's public school children.

Revenue officials report that Michigan residents purchase more than 90 million packages of cigarets a month. If you think cigaret sales are dropping because television advertising has been banned, you are wrong because they are up nearly 3 percent over last year.

Jim's Journal — Writing in Circles

By JIM REUS

Well, enough is enough and I've had it. There are times when newspaper work really stinks. Like right now. It's a hot muggy Friday afternoon and the garbage men were here this morning.

They parked in front of the Courier office just after making round to the local fisheries. There was a leak in the seal of the truck and water spilled all over Bridge-st. in front of the office.

The odor this afternoon is more than I can handle.

Clockwise swept down the city's street in an attempt to rid us of the odor. For all his civic-minded, alturistic work, now there's a smelly old broom in the backroom with me. I always knew fish were wrapped in old newspapers, and we do have stacks of back issues stored in the back room with me, but this is ridiculous.

One good thing came of the incident, however. I found out Lysol Disinfectant Spray can make a vicious anti-perspirant. It also can double as an effective maggot killer. I had to hose down both Clockwise and myself with it. It's an anti-perspirant, maggot killer and cologne all in one. In case you're wondering, we did manage to save Bridge-st. from the maggots, but it was a tough battle.

Thinking of dead fish reminds me of the reason for writing a column this week. I'm writing to find out about another weekly column of mine that's been appearing in the Courier, namely, Circlin' the Bases.

I want to find out if anyone at all in Charlevoix reads that weekly masterpiece. And if you do, I'd like to know what's the matter with you.

For those of you who are sane, though, and don't read Circlin', let me tell you a little about it.

It's in this column that I summarize the results of games played the previous week. It amounts to saying so-and-so team beat such-and-such by such-and-such a score for every game that was played at the diamond, about 30 times in total.

Needless to say, it drives me fruity. So last week I got to wondering, if it drives me fruity writing this stuff, it must drive people fruity who try and read it.

So that's the purpose of this week's journal. There will be no trite, boring little anecdote today for you to read. You may all sigh a deep one in relief.

No sir. This column is dedicated to the social science psychology. I'm conducting an extensive analysis of the mental health of those who read the Courier. So if you do read good ole Circlin', call the Courier at 547-6558 and tell me.

So not only is my journal written out of the most sterling of scientific principles, with the hope of elucidating new, profound insights into the psychology of Courier readers and the general mental health of people in northern Michigan, but I also have another reason.

You see, there's a lot of typing involved in putting out Circlin', And what's worse, I have to do it first thing Monday morning. By the time everything is done, I've typed the equivalent of an eight-page paper.

So I figure if no one reads it anyway, and since I'm basically lazy, perhaps I should do just a summary.

For not only is that eight pages, but it's eight pages of the same thing over and over as I keep saying over and over again. And it's on Monday morning.

So in the interest of science, and for the betterment of your fellow man, and to make my Monday mornings more bearable, please let me know: Does anyone read Circlin'?

WISH I'D SAID THAT

GOOD BUYS FOR THE WISE PURCHASER

East Jordan Art Fair Planned for Weekend

East Jordan's 11th annual Portside Arts Fair will be held this weekend from 10 a.m. until 7 p.m. Saturday and from 1 p.m. until 5 p.m. Sunday.

As a departure from other years, the fair will be held at Elm Pointe on M-66 west of estate -- the carefully manicured Westgate Estate donated recently to the city of East Jordan, by Dr. and Mrs. George Westgate.

The fair committee reported on Sunday that 80 artists are expected to show their works during the fair, and exhibitors are still being signed up.

In order to keep the fair to a manageable size, no more than 100 artists will be permitted to exhibit.

On hand for the show will be Miss Carol Wald of New York City, East Jordan's artist-in-residence during the summer season. Miss Wald will display her own works and also do portraits during the fair.

Also expected to take part in Zoltan Szabo of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., one of Canada's foremost painter-authors. Szabo was a juror for the purchase-prize awards at the fair last year.

Once again this year, fair visitors will be asked to select "The People's Choice" — their favorite work of art on display.

There also will be a large "Kiddies Kanvas" on which youngsters can try their own hand at creative design.

Throughout the fair, women of the East Jordan Evangelical Church will maintain a canteen offering light lunches and refreshments.

Miss Wald, who is giving lessons in charcoal, watercolor, oils and other mediums to 70 students at Elm Pointe this summer, has returned to East Jordan after an absence of six years. She conducted a similar program for area residents in 1967.

She has studied art at Cranbrook in Bloomfield Hills, the Society of Arts and Crafts in Detroit, the art school in Skowhegan, Me., and at the Art Students League in New York City.

Miss Wald has her own studio in the Soho district of New York and has entered the field of magazine cover work, using attractive and sometimes provocative collages.

City Track Meet Slated

The city's track and field meet will be held Aug. 1 and 2 for all boys and girls 8 through 13, according to Curt Kipke, city recreation director.

Junior Division participants will meet at the High School track at 1 p.m. Wednesday. The Senior Division will compete at 1 p.m. Thursday. The Junior Division embraces ages 8 to 10 and the Senior Division ages 11 through 13.

Each division will compete in the 25-yard dash, 75-yard dash, 60-yard hurdles, broad jump, high jump, softball throw and the 440-yard relay.

Ribbons will be awarded the first three finishers in each event.

Les Taylor of Petoskey, whose wife Louise was a niece of the Moons, recalls that the Majestic was housed in a wood frame building with steps in front. The building was razed in the mid-1940's when the State Highway Department put in the new bascule bridge over Pine River Channel.

The Taylors were intimately involved in the operation of the Palace Theater for 38 years, and owned the theater for 10 years before Merta and the Supernews bought them out last year.

Artists Will Move Into Town This Saturday

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

Vol 78 No. 38 -- 14 Pages | Charlevoix Courier, Wednesday, August 8, 1973 | 15¢ a copy

BOOTHS for the artists fill East Park to overflowing during the fair. Some visitors come to shop, while some come only to take in the sight. People arrive by boat, car, bicycle and foot. But regardless of how or why people attend the fair, one thing's certain: the park is packed full from 10 a.m. when the fair starts till the sun sinks into Lake Michigan.

Art Meets the People At Big Waterfront Fair

By JIM REUS

Art is moving out to meet people, or so claims a recent article in the Detroit News.

Art shows are being staged in shopping malls and small towns throughout the state. Solo exhibitions are more popular now than ever.

Following a trend that began with the paperback novel and open air concert, art "culture" is finally blossoming in today's world.

Billed as the state's largest show outside of metropolitan areas, the Charlevoix Waterfront Art Fair is one of the early reasons for the present art "culture" boom. The 15th annual edition of the fair is scheduled for Saturday, Aug. 11.

From 10 a.m. to dusk 150 artists, representing many diverse schools of the arts and crafts, will display their work in the park. As different as the works they bring, the artists come in all shapes and sizes, and from all the different backgrounds.

Some are experienced professionals known all over the state and nation. Some are beginners exhibiting in one of their first shows. Many have fine arts degrees from noted universities. Others have degrees from the noted school of life.

Louis Torres, for example, started work as a body shop mechanic in Saginaw five years ago. There he learned welding and cutting techniques with an acetylene torch.

Today Torres is admired throughout the state for his sculpture. He works only with an acetylene torch, fashioning sheet steel and rods into creative sculptures of animals and trees. The tensile strength of these works greatly contrasts the aireness of his mobiles and flowers.

Torres has exhibited in many shows, including the Ann Arbor Street Fair and the Saginaw Art Fair where he was awarded first place in sculpture.

In contrast, Norm Stewart is the chairman of the Design and Fine Arts Department of Bloomfield Hills Lasher High School in Bloomfield Hills. The 26-year-old artist holds Bachelor of Fine Arts and Master of Arts Degree, and has exhibited in shows in Michigan and on the east coast.

Antrim to Restore Former Power Dam

The old Charlevoix Power Dam in Bellaire, which the city council sold to Antrim County for $1 last May, will undergo rennovation soon.

The Antrim County Board of Commissioners awarded the Fargo Engineering Company of Jackson a contract of $120,500 for the work, which is slated for completion prior to the 1974 summer season.

After consideration of several alternatives, the board decided to abandon the powerhouse structure. The powerhouse area will be restored to its previous natural condition.

The plan calls for a dike across the intake channel to diver flow from the present spillway. A gated spillway will be restored and the overflow spillway will be removed. A new and bigger arrangement will be put in its place sufficient to handle the volume of water with a large margin of safety.

Automatic gates will control the flow and maintain the lake level. An alarm system will be installed to warn officials of any malfunction or high levels.

North Side Will Protest Strip Commercial Zoning

A group of Charlevoix citizens interested in preventing commercial development along Petoskey-rd. will present a stack of more than 70 letters to the City Council Monday night protesting zoning changes which will alter the character of the neighborhood.

Presentation of the letters will coincide with a zoning hearing requested by Norm Ance who wants his property on Petoskey-rd. rezoned from Residential-2 to Commercial-1.

The letter actually was drawn up several months ago after the council gave Carlos Almonrode permission to construct a pole-frame laundromat adjacent to his gift shop in the Edwards IGA block.

About 150 letters were mailed to North Side residents. About half of them were signed and returned, far more than the backers of the drive expected.

"Many cities have found to their dismay and decay that strip commercial zoning, which is the allowing of commercial structures along a main street, eventually evolves to be a blighted and abandoned area, when large shopping centers are built outside of the town," the letter reads. "Time and again, from city to city, this is obvious and a fact known to all planners. Strip zoning has been avoided like the plague in any city of small town where the governing fathers have shown an insight into the experience of other cities."

"It apparently is not enough that Bridge-st. south of town is a jumble of signs, a dozen odd gas stations, farm-type metal buildings and in effect a total collage of all known types of construction. It seems the intention to duplicate this incredible display on Petoskey-ave. north of town," the letter continues.

"This thinking that " since there is already one commercial building there how can we stop another going in?' will obviously and ultimately produce another Las Vegas-like strip as opposed to the residential tenor of Petoskey-ave. today," the letter reads.

Recipients of the letter were asked to make their views known to First Ward Aldermen Richard Fochtman and Sam Supernaw. They also were asked to sign copies of the letter and forward them to the Charlevoix Courier.

Freedman Works Year Without Injury

Freedman Artcraft Engineering Corp. of Charlevoix has been awarded a plaque in honor of the achievement of one year's operation without a disabling injury.

During the period April 13, 1972 to April 13, 1973, employes of the company worked 354,383 man hours.

J.O. Crawford, Senior Engineer for American Mutual Liability Insurance Co., who presented the award to employe Eugene Bergmann, said "This outstanding achievement is truly the result of cooperative effort by every employee. Less than ten per cent of industries the size of Freedman Artcraft operate this length of time without someone being injured and unable to return to work.

"Last year in manufacturing plants in the United States, there were over 500,000 disabling injuries among 18,800,000 workers," he said. "On the average, one out of every 38 workers was unable to work sometime during the year because of an industrial accident. In the State of Michigan, the average woodworking plant of this size had five injuries to workers severe enough to cause lost work time."

Hufford Industries Wins Half-Million AMC Job

Hufford Industries of Charlevoix reports that it has received an order for automation equipment totaling almost $500,000 from American Motors, headquartered in Kenosha, Wisc.

Donald Hufford says the order will necessitate the construction of a 6,500-square foot addition at the rear of the present plant on U.S. 31 North.

The plant also will take on approximately 15 more men as a result of the contract, boosting employment at the plant to about 40.

The automation equipment will be used at American Motors press plant in Kenosha. The company is spending about $10 million for two new press lines.

Hufford said the equipment supplied by the Charlevoix plant will take the "back work" and the danger out of the feeding of the new presses.

The order is the largest ever received by the local company, which has patented an automatic transfer machine called the Huffy, designed expressly for loading presses.

Many of the principles of the Huffy, which utilizes a forward drive exclusively eliminating the wear-and-tear of forward and reverse machinery, will be incorporated into the equipment to be manufactured for American Motors.

Hufford calls it a "new concept in press room equipment."

All engineering for the equipment will be done in Charlevoix, with deliver of the units scheduled from January through April.

Book Sale Will Start On Thursday

The Charlevoix Women's Club will sponsor its annual Ch-I-C-O book sale Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Aug. 9 through 11, in front of the Charlevoix Library on Clinton-st.

Mrs. Ethel Wiesinger reports that more than 2,000 books already have been donated for the sale, which will be held from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m. each of the three days, including the Waterfront Fair for Artists and Craftsmen on Saturday.

Persons with books to donate should leave them at the library, Mrs. Wiesinger says.

Hard cover and paperback books in saleable condition will be gratefully accepted.

Beef Rare In Charlevoix

Some stores still had hamburger and skinless frankfurters, but steaks and roasts had disappeared as most downstate meat packers closed their doors as a result of the federal government's freeze and thaw policies.

Supplies of chicken, pork and lamb appeared abundant, but prices were high in the wake of the recent thaw on those commodities.

How 'Yes' Vote on Zoning Will Protect You

Residents of all of the unincorporated areas of Charlevoix County will go to the polls Tuesday, Aug. 14 to answer what is probably the most important public question they will be asked this year:

"Shall Charlevoix County continue to provide zoning under its ordinance for those townships in the County that do not have their own zoning?"

A "yes" vote will mean that the residents and land owners is unzoned Charlevoix County areas will continue to have their property rights protected by the county-wide zoning ordinance adopted last year by the Board of Commissioners.

A "no" vote will ring the death knell for county-wide zoning and abolish the office of county zoning administrator.

Seven townships in Charlevoix County already have zoning ordinances of their own. They are Eveline, Evangeline, Marion, Norwood, South Arm, Wilson and Charlevoix. The remaining townships are unzoned. They are Peaine, St. James, Hayes, Bay, Melrose, Chandler, Hudson and Boyne Valley.

Whether they live in zoned or unzoned townships, all township residents will be eligible to vote on the zoning question at their local town halls. The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m.

Residents of the incorporated areas of the county, namely the cities of Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City, are ineligible to vote.

The county's present zoning ordinance was adopted unanimously by the Board of Commissioners last Oct. 11 and went into effect Oct. 24.

Almost immediately, a group of watchdog residents known as Citizens' Information Service, headquartered in Boyne City, served notice that it intended to challenge the ordinance via a referendum vote.

Led by Carl Waldner of Boyne City and Mrs. Rosalie Ottinger, a former resident of Norwood Township who has since moved to Southfield, the group secured the necessary signatures on petitions and the Board of Commissioners call the special election.

That is why a "yes" vote means the ordinance will "continue" to provide zoning. A "no" vote will mean that the years of work that have gone into county zoning will be scrapped.

Copies of the ordinance are available at the office of Zoning Administrator William Mercer on the second floor of the County Building. There will also be a copy available at the Courier office for your perusual right up until election day.

The major portion of the ordinance sets up ten distinct zones designed to insure the proper use of land and natural resources.

The largest zone, of course,

Sander Levin to Attend Democrat Picnic Aug. 19

Sander Levin, 1970 Democratic candidate for governor of Michigan, will be in Charlevoix Aug. 19 to attend the Tri-County Democratic picnic, according to Bill Grant, Emmet County Democratic Chairman.

Levin said he wants to "get out and meet the people" and this picnic is planned to provide just an opportunity for Michigan Democratic leaders and outstate Democrats to talk together.

The event is sponsored by Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet Democrats.

Representatives of the three counties met last week at the home of Clement Wagner to complete plans. Mrs. Phyllis Starkey, Antrim County chairman, and Mrs Irma Phillips, Antrim County treasurer, were present.

Emmet County was represented by Bill Grant, chairman, and Mr and Mrs Ken Glaser. Mrs. Glaser is Emmet County secretary.

Charlevoix county Democratic officers, Martin Paul, chairman, Janis Dietrich, vice chairman; Margaret Duerr, secretary and Jean Rosewig, treasurer, were present.

The picnic wil be held at the Robert Wasaski Farm, 6 miles south of Charlevoix on the Marion Center-rd. from 1 to 5 p.m. August 19.

Lake Property Owners Meet At Whiting

William Mercer, director of the Charlevoix County Planning commission, discussed "The Need for Zoning" at a meeting of the Lake Charlevoix Property Owners Association Saturday at Whiting Park.

Also on the program were Dean Mikulski, environmentalist for District Health Department No. 3 who spoke on "Environment Control" and Joan Blanchard, director of the Charlevoix County Equalization Department, who spoke on "Assessment Evaluation and Taxes."

The Association also was expected to elect three directors at the meeting.

Fire Fighters Issued New Suits

Department of Natural Resources forest fire fighters in the northern Lower Peninsula will be sporting a new look when fighting fires from now on.

They have been issued bright yellow fire resistant suits of the same type that are worn by race track drivers.

Charles J. Bomaster, Sr., Roscommon, Regional Fire Supervisor for the DNR, said the suits have been issued to each of the 80 fire personnel in the region to give them greater protection while fighting wild fires.

On October 11, 1972 the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners adopted a county zoning ordinance. The ordinance was approved by the Office of Economic Expansion, Michigan Department of Commerce on October 24, 1972. This ordinance does not apply to townships which have their own zoning ordinances, and would cease to apply to any township which may later adopt its own zoning ordinance.

PROPOSITION

Shall Charlevoix County continue to provide zoning under its ordinance for those townships in the County that do not have their own zoning?

YES ☐

NO ☐

Town House Blasts Medusa

Circlin' the Bases

By Jim Reus

MEN'S SLOW PITCH

Monday, July 30th's games started with Townhouse and blasting Medusa 11-8. Tony Resek had a round tripper for the cement company. But it was to no avail, as Ron Wieslik an hammered them with his pitching. Stan Johnston pitched a good game for the crumbling cementers, giving up only 11 hits in defeat.

In the second game American Mold did the trick on Coast Guard by a handy 15-2 margin. Don Wells was winning pitcher warping the guard on a six hitter. Jim Bowman took the loss.

Andy's Tire World, playing like a team with a shot of new air, did in Freedman's 9-8. The game was close, but he patch work done on the tire team help up. Don "Dimples" Smith got credit for the victory. Glen Cunningham took the loss.

In the evening's nightcap Medusa recovered after being with the Townhouse to defeat Jim's Standard, 7-6. Though a bit woosey, Stan Johnston got credit for the win and Tom Penee the loss.

Wednesday certainly was no day to play ball, as it rained and was quite cool and the games were cancelled. So it goes.

On Friday, Aug. 3, the evening began with the Mold molding Townhouse 5-4. This game was another cliff-hanger, as Don Wells pitched a 9-hitter to get the win. Ron Wieslik took the loss, giving up 10 hits.

Then in the second game, Andy's won its second game of the week over Portside 8-5.

Don Blalock had a homerun to help Andy's to victory. Fritz Allard pitched in defeat for Portside.

In the third game, however, Jim's Standard ended the tire people's winning streak in two games, 5-3. The tired tire men just couldn't get it together for this one. Frank Wilson got credit for the victory. Donny Dimples was tagged with the loss for Andy's.

SCHEDULE

The following is a schedule for the week beginning Aug. 8. With all the rained out games, players better check with their coaches to find out about all their games.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH

In the evening's second game A & W sent the hospital to the morgue 18-13. Valerie Peters, pitching for those ravenous rampaging root beer rompers, did the job in giving up only 8 hits. Jeanne Ramsdell took the loss for the hospital.

In the last game on Tuesday, Edward's IGA destroyed Ski & Shore 18-7. It was a most untimely loss for the ravaged realtors, who had just so selflessly given a game to the church. Marge Carey pitched the win for Edward's getting homerun help from herself and Chris Davenport. Pat Lass was tagged with the loss.

Thursday's games were once again cancelled – that's the third Thursday in a row that it's been raining.

The following is a schedule for the next week. Players check with your coaches for the times of the make-up games.

is Agricultural, which comprises about 60 percent of the county. The zone embraces farms, low-density single family dwelling units and other special uses (golf courses, ski areas, etc.) requiring large tracts of land.

The remaining 40 percent of the county has been divided into residential, commercial and industrial zones, with a fifth zone called the Conservation Reserve District which encompasses state and county owned lands. It is designed to preserve park, forest and recreation areas.

In an effort to be both general and specific at the same time, the drafters of the ordinance have broken down the residential zones into five sub-zones.

R2 provides for medium density housing. Lots are smaller, but they still accommodate only single family dwelling units. This district is mainly found near those areas of the county that are already well developed.

R3 permits single family and two-family dwelling units, along with mobile home parks. The mobile home parks must satisfy a number of requirement before they will be approved.

The fourth zone, R4, allows for multiple family developments as well as mobile home parks, both of which must meet strict requirements to protect public health and safety.

The last zone, R5, is particularly important to Charlevoix County. It covers the development of land abutting lakes and waterways generally with an eye toward protecting water supplies form pollution and preserving the natural beauty of those unique places where land and water meet.

Uses under R5 are limited to single family and seasonal dwellings, camps, clubs, campgrounds and related uses. The zone provides a "greenbelt" on frontage property, calling for a 50-foot setback from the waterline of all buildings and structures. Furthermore, trees and shrubs must be maintained in a natural state in the "greenbelt", although they may be pruned.

If such a provision had been in effect years ago, many buildings now threatened by rising water levels would still be high and dry.

The commercial zone is divided into C1 and C2. C1 provides for resort-oriented uses. C2 is a general commercial area.

The Industrial zone is structured to accommodate the industrial needs of the county so that no unreasonable noise, dust, vibration or any other similar nuisance affects adjoining property owners.

The ordinance also has provisions against large and gaudy signboards, establishes rules and regulations for off-street parking and loading areas, makes provision for existing "non-conforming" uses and establishes a Zoning Board of Appeals where persons who feel they have been wronged by the ordinance –or those would like to have its provisions stretched to cover unusual situations – may appeal.

The ordinance also establishes the office of zoning administrator, the position presently filled by William Mercer, and establishes the machinery for the permits and applications necessary to make zoning work.

Although Mercer feels the outcome of next Tuesday's election is still up in the air, he says he is growing more confident every day that most townships residents favoring zoning.

He was particularly encouraged by a recent endorsement of the zoning ordinance by the Charlevoix Township Board. Although the township has its own zoning ordinance and will continue to be governed by its provisions, as will the residents of other zoned townships, the board came out in favor of a "yes" vote next Tuesday.

Mercer's biggest worry at present is that the persons who favor zoning will not turn out at the polls in sufficient numbers to defeat the small group which sees zoning as some kind of nebulous threat to their property rights.

He is confident that a big turnout will mean a big "yes" vote. A small turnout could be fatal to county-wide zoning.

Mr. & Mrs. Shopper,

FIGHT BACK

SUPPORT THE MERCHANT WHO ADVERTISES HIS BARGAINS LOCALLY.

He cuts his margin of profit to give you a better buy. He maintains a clean store & strives to keep his stock turning in order to provide you with the newest merchandise possible.

But even more important - when you shop at home. Approximately 1/3 of your purchase is fed back to your community for the support, upkeep & services which you enjoy.

Of course the same holds true for the local merchant. If he advertises out of town his money is supporting his competitors city.

County Jail Aides Vote to Join Union

In a close (6-5) vote, deputies, clerk-dispatchers and the jail security officer of the Charlevoix County Sheriff's Department have voted to join Teamsters State, County and Municipal Workers, Local 214.

The election was held by a representative of the Employment Relations Commission of the Michigan Department of Labor and was certified on Monday.

The decision to have Local 214 represent these employes does not include the sheriff, under sheriff, the wife and son of the sheriff.

VOTE YES AUGUST 14

The Farm Bureau of Charlevoix County urges you to vote YES on the Countywide Zoning Referendum, August 14, 1973.

REASONS

1. The County must be protected from over-development and over-use.
2. Zoning helps to stabilize sky-rocketing increases in land values.
3. The Zoning Ordinance will help preserve farm lands for crop production and for dairy and beef cattle grazing land.
4. Planning & Zoning are needed to guarantee sound, orderly growth.

College Students May Apply for Federal Aid

Dr. William Rattigan, Charlevoix High School counselor, reports that a federal aid program designed to provide financial assistance to post high school students is now open for registration.

Complete registration materials and instructions are available at the principal's office at the high school.

Dr. Rattigan says he believes the packets of materials will be generally adequate for students familiar with the "Parents' Confidential Statement" and other forms.

He added that the new "Basic Opportunity Grants" will be more liberal and inclusive than other past federal student assistance programs, since they make allowance for higher family incomes and are not based on rigid test scores.

university and in life is the leather craftsman Scott Nelles. He has studied fine arts at Western Michigan University and Oakland Community College.

To further educate himself with his medium, Nelles apprenticed himself to one of the few remaining "Old World" shoemakers. He learned the art of shoemaking along with the structural uses, possibilities and limitations of leather. Nelles has a working relationship with the Head Resident Shoe and Harness Craftsman of Colonial Williamsburg, Va.

Another display of special interest to Charlevoians is the "Waiting Room" by the Black American artist Benny Andrews. Painted in 1959, the work is on loan to the Waterfront Fair from the private collection of Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cummings.

The painting features four figures done in three-deminsions. The figures are pasted onto a solid white background with painted denim and corduroy material. The technique is as interesting as it is unusual.

The paper mache sculptor who was so popular last year will exhibit again. The more unconventional mediums of glass, weavings, unusual ceramics and jewelry in silver and gold will also be on display.

Work on the Waterfront Fair actually began early in the year. The 150 exhibitors were juried from among hundreds of applications by May 10. Arrangements for aiding the artists on exhibition day have long been ready.

Members of the Waterfront Fair Committee this year include, Mrs. Paul Olsen, Mrs. Julius Gilbert, Miss Fran Martin, Mrs. James Driggett, Mrs. Edward McNamara, Mrs. Paul Osterberg, Mrs. Jack Rader, Mr. and Mrs. William Staffel and Mrs. Thomas Pointer.

The committee arrives at the park early on fair day. By 6 a.m. many are at work on preparations. It's a long day, as some stay as late as 11 p.m. to clean up. They make sure the fair runs efficiently and that all the artist' needs are taken care of.

If the fair day brings rain, which hasn't happened in its 14-year history, the exhibits will be on display in the Elementary School.

Plenty of parking for East Park exhibitors will be available in the old Kroger parking lot, courtesy of William Kusina.

The moment an artist arrives, he will be greeted by someone from the art committee, who will show him where to unload his exhibits and help him set up his work.

Because of the exhibiting arrangement, the fair gives artist a chance to compare their work with that of other artists. They can evaluate trends in the art world, observing what established as well as younger artists are doing.

Visitors enjoy viewing the many different forms of art all in one setting. And many artists will be performing throughout the day. Leather craftsmen, glass blowers and artists doing portrait sketches will be there for first hand observation.

Of course, the fair offers people the chance to purchase art. The work is not just a copy, either, but original art. Considering the myriad of mediums and techniques at the fair, it is a good opportunity for a visitor to express his individuality with an art object that is "just right."

And with just a little luck, that's how the Waterfront Fair will be. Everything will be "just right".

VA Mobile Unit To Visit Petoskey

A Mobile Van staffed by specialists in veterans benefits and counseling will be arriving in Petoskey for a one day stay on Aug. 14. The van will be open for business from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the city parking lot on Lake-st.

The visit by the van is part of a state tour to provide one-stop, on-the-spot aid for former servicemen and women.

The aim of the new program, called "National Assistance for Veterans" is to reach veterans who have not made full use of VA benefits and governmental services.

The on-board specialists explain VA benefits, such as G.I. Bill educational allowance, home loans, medical care and job training and give help and counseling on housing and family problems.

DNR Boat Meet Set For Aug. 8

The Department of Natural Resources, in conjunction with the Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners and Planning Commission, will hold a Public Information Meeting on Aug. 8, 1973 at 8 p.m. in the Commissioner's Room, County Building Annex, Charlevoix.

Purpose of this meeting will be to discuss the boat use problems currently being encountered by persons using Lake Charlevoix and Walloon Lake.

James Walker, Marine Safety Section, Department of Natural Resources, will be on hand to discuss off-shore mooring, speed limits, boat use times, and other related topics.

Library notes

There are new titles on the Library shelves this week which offer absorbing and thought-provoking reading for our patrons.

"Richie" by Thomas Thompson is an emotionally shattering story of an American family and the tragedy that wrecked it. Richie was the son of an ordinary man named George, a good man who lived by the rules. He worked hard as a salesman, bought an attractive home and spent Sunday afternoons trying to be a pal to his son. When Richie was 14, everything changed. George tried to ignore the strange new friends, the rock noise, Richie's infatuation with drugs; then he fought them, playing detective, eaves-dropping, issuing threats and ultimatums. War rages in the home for more than a year and ends in a horror sene of unbelievable proportions. This is a fictionalized account of a true story, written by an editor and staff writer for Life magazine. It is a heart-breaking, shuttering account of a father-son relationship in which neither the boy or the man understood each other.

There were seven of them, wanted for murder in Arizona, hounded across the Mexican border, captured by a renegade band of Pancho Villa's soldiers. Their only way to freedom lay across the Sierra Madre in an ancient, derelict automobile. This marvelous tough-fibred novel of chase and suspence is "Escape from Sonora" by Will Bryant, an author whose own life has been as fast-paced and colorful as the book he has written. Guaranteed – top entertainment!

"After" is a beautiful and inspiring new book by Robert Anderson, author of "Tea and Sympathy," and one of our most distinguished playwrights. This is his first novel, and it is the story of what happens to a man after his wife dies.

BIRTHS

A baby boy was born Saturday July 21, 1973, to Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Renkiewicz of East Jordan.

Nancy Novak Wed At Shanty Creek

Shanty Creek Lodge, Bellaire, was the scene for the Saturday afternoon wedding of Nancy C. Novak and Frank E. Letherby of Grand Rapids.

Parents of the bride are Mr. and Mrs. Max Novak of Charlevoix. Mrs. Jessie Letherby of Traverse City and Mr. Jesse Letherby of Williamsburg are parents of the groom.

Mrs. Novak selected a gown of chiffon floral print over an aqua skirt and matching accessories for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Lehterby, mother of the groom, wore an aqua blue shantung coat and dress ensemble. Their corsages were of white carnations.

A reception hosted by the bride's parents followed at Shanty Creek Lodge. Jeanette Fowler, sister of the bride, assisted. The couple will reside at 3003 Eastern Avenue S.E., Grand Rapids, Michigan. Both are teachers in the East Grand Rapids School system.

Hole-in-One For Belding At Indian Hills

Warren Belding, 26, son of Wayne Belding of Charlevoix, shot a hole-in-one at the Indian Hills Golf Course at Okemos Aug. 6.

Vic Strecker, course manager, said it was the first hole-in-one at Indian Hills this summer.

Strecker said Belding, who is head groundskeeper at the course, made his record shot on the fourth hole.

—Edward Behr, Newsweek

"Last Tango in Paris was presented for the first time October 14, 1972; that date should become a landmark in movie history. A film that has made the strongest impression on me in almost twenty years of reviewing."
—Pauline Kael, New Yorker

"Last Tango in Paris is not a 'dirty' movie. The film is stark, sensitive and completely shattering in its intensity. Yes, by all means, see 'Last Tango'."
—Aaron Schindler, Family Circle

"Last Tango in Paris is not prurient. Rather, it uses sex to study human pain, failure, loneliness, despair and at moments even love."

121 Cards of Thanks

WE WOULD LIKE TO express our deepest appreciation to Dr Mansfield, and all the nurses of Charlevoix Hospital. Also to Rev. Albert Mansen and a special thanks to the many friends and neighbors for the food, floral arrangements, and other acts of kindness during the illness and passing of our beloved Husband, Father and Grandfather. The family of Grant Furgeson, Sr.

(8-8-121)

WE WISH TO THANK all who sent cards, and visited Dad while he was in the hospital. We deeply appreciate too, the cards to the family, lovely flowers, and gifts to the World Home Bible League Memorial. Also the many kindnesses shown to us by friends and relatives. The James Ruis family.

Midshipmen Place First In City's Street Parade

Winners in the Venetian Street Parade and the Doll, Pet and Dress-up Parade have been announced by the Chamber of Commerce.

Thomas Merta, executive Manager, reports that the Midshipmen Drum and Bugle Corps of Petoskey received the best-in-parade award among the marchers. The group, which was organized only six months ago, will receive a $25 cash award.

Second place money ($15) went to the Rainbow Bar Dixieland Jazz Combo.

Third place money ($10) was awarded to the Grey Gables float, which carried live trees which will be planted for the beautification of Charlevoix.

In the Doll, Dress-Up and Pet Parade, Catherine Shepherd, 6, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Shepherd of Charlevoix, won first prize in the doll category.

In the Dress-up category, winners were Kristy and Kathy Washburn, four-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Washburn of Charlevoix, first; Michel Allard, 10, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Allard of Charlevoix; second; Heide, 4, and Mollie Bolduc, 5, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Bolduc of Charlevoix, third; and Kent Christopher Warner, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Warner of Charlevoix, fourth.

In the Pet category, first place winners were Jeffrey DeVries, 6, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernie DeVries; Becky Allard, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Allard, second; Jeff Young, 4, son of Mr. and Mrs. Drew Young Jr., third; and Holly Richardson, 11, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Richardson, and Margie Timms, 12, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Timms, fourth.

All of the winners received cash awards.

Gerald Keiser

Gerald Keiser Is Promoted by Mead

Gerald Keiser, formerly of Charlevoix, has been named district manager for the Mead Corp. in the Upper Peninsula.

Keiser attended Charlevoix High School, North Central Michigan College in Petoskey and the North Dakota College of Forestry before receiving his degree in forestry from the University of Michigan in 1966.

Before his recent appointment, Keiser was district forester in charge of Mead's wood yard at Trout Lake, a subsidiary of the Newberry yard. In his new capacity, Keiser will be headquartered in Ishpeming.

He succeeds Emery Feero of Ishpeming, who has been named manager of wood procurement for the corporation.

Zonked by Zoning?

ODDS ARE YOU PAY TWICE FOR ZONING. ONCE FOR CITY, OR TOWNSHIP, IF SELF-ZONED, AND THEN AGAIN FOR COUNTY ZONING.

FOR THIS YOU MAY THANK THE DICTATES OF YOUR QUIET CHARLEVOIX COUNTY COMMISSIONERS WHICH FORCES ¾ OF ALL COUNTY TAXPAYERS TO DO SO (INCLUDING CITY TAXPAYERS WHO ARE NOT ALLOWED TO VOTE AT ALL ON COUNTY ZONING).

BUT THE REALLY FRIGHTENING TRUTH ABOUT COUNTY ZONING LIES HIDDEN IN ITS GENERAL DEVELOPMENT PLAN VOLUMES. THESE SPELL OUT, IN DETAIL, THE TACTICAL ROLES PLAYED BY LOCAL & STATE UNITS OF GOVERNMENT IN THE PRESENT AND FUTURE, COMMERCIAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL RAPE OF CHARLEVOIX COUNTY.

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS

JULY 26, 1973

The Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners meeting was called to order at 7:00 P.M. by Ira L. Davis, Chairman.

ROLL CALL

Roll call and the following members were present, Commissioners Ingalls, Smith, Davis, Richardson, Griffin, Kullik, Kotowich, Milstein, Kassin, Tompkins, Kujawski, Carson, Staley and Moerland, 14. Absent, Commissioner Cunningham, 1.

PLEDGE OF ALLEGIANCE

Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was led by Commissioner Staley.

CORRECTION TO MINUTES

A correction to the minutes of July 10, 1973 to include a resolution requesting a mooring study on Lake Charlevoix and Walloon Lake.

RESOLUTION - RECREATIONAL WATERCRAFT

WHEREAS, the Board of Commissioners, Charlevoix County, State of Michigan, has become aware that the recreational boating and surface water use problems exist on Walloon Lake, and

WHEREAS, such recreational boating and surface water use problems consist of mooring and anchoring of recreational watercraft, and

WHEREAS, Act 303 of the Public Acts of 1967 requires that the Department of Natural Resources conduct a public hearing and such investigations as are deemed necessary prior to recommending local watercraft controls on problem waters;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that the Board of Commissioners does hereby request the Department of Natural Resources to hold a public hearing to inquire into the need for special local watercraft controls on Walloon Lake, Charlevoix County, State of Michigan.

There being no further corrections, it was moved by Commissioner Richardson and supported by Commissioner Tompkins that the minutes be approved as corrected.

IRONTON FERRY RAMPS

The bids were opened Monday, July 23, 1973. There were two bids received.

1.	Gilliland Construction Company	$333,791.07
2.	William A. Porter of East Jordan	$333,637.98

Moved by Commissioner Richardson to reject all bids and supported by Commissioner Kassin. Motion Carried.

Commissioner Cunningham entered at 7:22 P.M.

Don Foster from the firm of Williams and Works - Engineers on the Ironton Ferry Ramps project explained the condition of the old ramps. The project was designed for 30 years service with relatively no maintenance and could be built under high water conditions. Options:

1. Keep repairing what you have.
2. Drop it.
3. Re-advertise for bids.
4. Some things could be cut out of the project.
5. The project could be redesigned to something less durable.
6. Bids could be split up in about four contracts to incourage more bidders.
7. Time could be extended for performance of contract.

Irving Stirm, County Road Commissioner, reported on the repair work now in progress and his findings of the conditions of the ramps. The Ferry should be back in operation next week.

Moved by Commissioner Richardson to rebid the project with modifications to lower the cost and extend the time, supported by Commissioner Tompkins. Motion Carried.

Commissioner Staley asked for a show of hands of those who would approve a $100,000.00 bid. VOTE: Yeas, 14.

Moved by Comm. Griffin and supported by Comm. Kassin to recess to August 7, 1973. Motion Carried.

CLARENCE [illegible] RAPACH, CLERK   IRA L. DAVIS, [illegible]

EPISCOPALIANS from Charlevoix and Elk Rapids converged on tiny St. James Episcopal Church on Beaver Island over the weekend for the first of what is hoped to become an annual outing. More than 70 worshipers filled the tiny island mission chapel for the 10:45 a.m. service.

Episcopalians Weather Seas for Island Reunion

More than 50 members of Christ Episcopal Church in Charlevoix and St. Pauls Episcopal Church in Elk Rapids joined Beaver Island Episcopalians over the weekend for the first of what is hoped will become an annual get-together on the island.

About 75 worshipers filled the tiny St. James Church chapel on the island for the 10:45 a.m. service Sunday, conducted by Bishop Dudley Barr McNeil, associate bishop of Western New York state, who maintains a summer home on Sand Bay.

After the service, the island women hosted a potluck dinner at the church for the visitors.

Bishop McNeil said the congregation Sunday was the largest ever to attend a single service at the log church in St. James.

Attending along with local Episcopalians were visitors from both the east and west coasts and Florida.

St. James Church was started in July, 1954, with services in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Spaulding. The house is now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Christie.

In less than a month, the congregation became too large for the home and Mr. and Mrs. David Wilson volunteered the use of their farm home on Freesoil-rd., which was used for a number of years.

The present log building was constructed in 1961-'62 and has been used ever since during the summer months. The altar, cross, candlesticks and communion rail were made by members of the mission. The altar cross is made of Petoskey stones.

Originally, music was provided by a fiddler. Now the church has a new electric organ.

The church is supported entirely by pledges and offerings of those who attend services.

Members of the Charlevoix and Elk Rapids congregations will remember the weekend for something besides the hospitality of island Episcopalians.

Trips Sunday morning and again Sunday evening aboard the motor launch Beaver Islander were among the roughest in the memory of veteran Beaver Island visitors.

A stout breeze out of the southwest washed the decks with spray and pitched the boat at crazy angles between sea and sky. There were a good many cases of mal-de-mer aboard, but none of them proved fatal.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Court Judge Arthur Reibel.

Charges that Paul Parish, 23, East Jordan, drove while under the influence of intoxicating liquor and used indecent language in the presence of a female were dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

Michael Sessions, 24, Bay Shore, plead guilty to a reduced charge of unlawfully driving away an automobile without permission. He was sentenced to time served, five days.

Kenneth B. Chanda, 27, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge of being a disorderly person. Bond of $5 was furnished and the case was continued.

Joseph S. Myers, 26, Petoskey, appeared on charges of possession and control of marijuana and eluding a police officer. Bond was set at $600 and the case was continued.

Ted M. Davies, 26, Petoskey, plead innocent to a charge that he was drunk and disorderly. Bond of $10 was posted and the case was continued.

A charge that Robert Elston, Mesick, wrote a no-account check was dismissed at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

Robert Castelein, 22, Big Rapids, plead guilty to a reduced charge of speeding and was assessed $10. He originally had been charged with drag racing.

Dale E. Boss, 17, Charlevoix, plead guilty to a reduced charge of speeding and was assessed $10. He originally had been charged with drag racing.

A MESSAGE TO THE REGISTERED VOTERS IN THE UNINCORPORATED AREA OF CHARLEVOIX COUNTY, IN THE TOWNSHIPS OF:

BAY — CHARLEVOIX — HAYES — MELROSE — SOUTH ARM
BOYNE VALLEY — EVANGELINE — HUDSON — NORWOOD — ST. JAMES CHANDLER — EVELINE — MARION — PEAINE — WILSON

Last October 11, 1972, your Charlevoix County Board of Commissioners voted unanimously to adopt the present Charlevoix County Zoning Ordinance, designed to protect your property and our County Lakes and Streams. This Zoning Ordinance had then been in preparation for ten years by a Planning Commission, appointed by the Board of Supervisors in 1963, and developed with the help of qualified professionals.

It became legal and enforceable upon approval by the State of Michigan on October 24, 1972. Both the Board of Commissioners and the Planning Commission believe the Ordinance is necessary as Charlevoix County population rapidly expands over the coming few years. More and more developers are moving into the scene (more than 2200 condominium units are in various stages of development in this county today that were not even on the drawing board 20 months ago.)

The program is now being challenged by a group who have asked for a referendum to give voters a chance to endorse or repeal the Ordinance. Please look into the facts, and then, if you agree that a county-wide set of "ground rules" is important to the future of Charlevoix County--

VOTE "YES"

TO RETAIN THE PRESENT COUNTY-WIDE ZONING ORDINANCE

PROPOSITION

Shall Charlevoix County continue to provide zoning under its Ordinance for those townships in the County that do not have their own zoning?

YES ☐

NO ☐

WHY ZONING?

Most people know what happens to a rapidly growing community when there is no zoning, or inadequate zoning:

--Some of us visit Florida during the winter for warmth and sunshine. Great; but Florida is beginning to be overrun by people...as we may soon be. Do you remember the headlines there last winter? -- A typhoid breakout in southern Dade County; Contaminated drinking water in Miami Beach; Rats out of control at Marco Island!

--Closer to home there are many signs of increasing pollution here and there. Whole towns and counties, even in our part of the state, are having serious problems ... everyone knows what is happening at Houghton Lake!

THE PURPOSE OF ZONING IS TO PROVIDE FOR ORDERLY GROWTH IN CHARLEVOIX COUNTY.

There is no stopping the influx of people from "down below." But it is important to have rules to follow for their good -- and your protection.

The situation was pretty well summed up by Bob Clock in the Charlevoix Courier in an editorial "Zoning vs. Owning," May 2, 1972. He said, in part, in his column, "Clockwise;"

"When the land developers first started moving into Charlevoix County in 1966, the promoters supplied the press with a little pamphlet entitled "Zoning vs Owning." "The main thrust was to the effect that zoning laws deprive the individual of his rights by telling him what he cannot do with his land"...(but the bad side of it is that)"...unscrupulous land developers are against zoning because unzoned land is easier to manipulate into high profits. No minimum lot size is required. Setbacks and side and rear yard clearances are unheard of. One-hundred square foot shacks can be built alongside palatial mansions. Owners are allowed to build right up to the water's edge on lakefront property..."

It is such abuses that zoning can prevent and we greatly need protection.

YOUR VOTE IS IMPORTANT!

Most every Charlevoix County citizen probably agrees in general with most of the above. That is why it is so important for every eligible voter to go to the polls to vote YES on the referendum.

THIS WILL INSURE:

--that the County-wide Ordinance will stay in effect, thus assuring that every township in Charlevoix County will be protected.

--that all Charlevoix County Zoning will remain under local administration by local people as opposed to State Zoning, which may be coming soon.

--that the full-time County Zoning Office that is now open to all residents and property owners to help them with zoning matters, will continue to serve. This busy office considers and handles dozens of questions and problems regularly -- from every township in Charlevoix County.

SPECIAL NOTE — As in the past, any present township zoning Ordinance, and any enacted in the future, automatically supersede the County Ordinance. Thus the County Ordinance always represents protection; it can never be a straightjacket.

Prayer Group Planning 'Day of Renewal'

"A Day of Renewal" will be held at the Petoskey Senior High School, on Saturday, Aug. 18. This will be a day of prayer, instruction, and mutual sharing for Christians interested in learning about the Charismatic or Pentecostal Renewal in the Christian churches and also for those people who are already participating in this movement and wish to increase their own knowledge.

Fr. Charles Antekeier of Assumption Parish in Belmont, Mich., will speak on "The Call to Grow in the Spirit." Fr. Antekeier is also the coordinator of the St. Mary's Prayer Group in Grand Rapids.

Van Vandagriff and his wife, Janet, of Grand Rapids, will speak on "Commitment to Community" and "Prayer in the Life of the Christian."

There will be a variety of workshops including an introductory one on the Baptism in the Holy Spirit.

Registration will be at 8 a.m. and the first talk at 9 a.m. The day will close after dinner at 6 p.m. There is a small registration fee that will cover the cost of both lunch and dinner which will be provided.

The sponsoring organization, the Petoskey Prayer Group, is primarily a Catholic group, but Christians of all denominations who are interested are cordially invited. For additional information please contact Rose Mary or Jack Ternes at 347-8797 or 347-8993.

On Saturday, Aug. 17, Fr. Antekeier will address the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship at the Holiday Inn. Reservations may be obtained locally by contacting Jim Bearss at 547-4291.

Friends of Zoning Must Vote Tuesday

If you're a gambling man, you can make book on the fact that the opponents of county-wide zoning will be out in force Tuesday, Aug. 14, to kill the zoning ordinance which has been in effect in all of the county's unzoned townships since last October.

The big question as we get down into the short rows of the zoning election is whether the friends of zoning will be able to muster enough support in a mid-summer election to save the county from the chaos of uncontrolled growth.

All registered voters in the townships are eligible to vote, whether or not their township is already zoned. A quirk in the election law prevents residents of the cities of Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City from casting ballots.

The polls will be open from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. at all township halls, or at regular township polling places.

And it shouldn't take you too long to vote, because the issue is simply stated: "Shall Charlevoix County continue to provide zoning under its ordinance for those townships in the County that do not have their own zoning? Yes or No."

A "Yes" vote means that residents will continue to enjoy the protection of their property rights under the zoning ordinance. A "No" vote will mean that county-wide zoning will be scrapped.

Although the cities of Charlevoix, Boyne City and East Jordan along with the townships of Charlevoix, Eveline, Evangeline, Marion, Norwood South Arm and Wilson, already have zoning laws, it is the unzoned townships that are the prime targets for unscrupulous developers.

Regardless of the weather or whatever commitments you have made for Tuesday, Aug. 14, plan to vote before you do anything else. The foes of zoning will be out in force. The friends of zoning should be, too.

New City Policy Could Cost Bundle

The City Council set a dangerous and costly precedent in awarding contracts for both the new dump truck and the two new pick-up trucks to Charlevoix Oil Co.

And it's not because of the conflict-of-interest question which arose three weeks ago because Alderman Richard Fochtman, co-owner of Charlevoix Oil, is a member of the City Council.

We fully agree with the attorney general that in small towns there are going to be times when elected city officials are put in the position of having to do business with the city. Such situations are virtually unavoidable if we want top-flight men in city government.

Alderman Fochtman was not a member of the committee which recommended making both purchases from Charlevoix Oil. His colleagues on the council are fully aware that he is co-owner of the oil company with brother Bill. And, of course, he abstained from voting on the purchase.

None-the-less, we feel that Bryce Barnes of Eastport should have been awarded the pick-up truck contract simply because he was low bidder and met all of the published specifications.

Barnes' bid for the two trucks was $5,568.42 -- some $611.58 less than Charlevoix Oil's bid of $6,180 for two similar trucks.

The committee which recommended Charlevoix Oil be awarded both bids said the boxes on the Chevy trucks are somewhat larger than those on the Internationals, although the Internationals did meet all of the specs.

The committee also felt that Charlevoix Oil is handier for service calls, being located smack in the center of town instead of 19 miles south.

Hogwash!

The Charlevoix School District has purchased many buses from Bryce Barnes in the past and service has never been a problem.

If the City Council is going to patronize only local businesses, then it certainly should say so in its bid advertising.

In our book, it is the height of discourtesy for the city to put out-of-town suppliers to the trouble of preparing bids, and then turn about and award its contracts to high bidders, simply because they live and operate closer to city hall.

The whole purpose of the bid-taking process is to buy the best possible material and equipment at the lowest possible cost to the taxpayers.

The City Council's new "Charlevoix Only" policy in accepting bids not only is immoral, but is going to cost us a heap of money in the years ahead.

Cost-conscious councils in the past have not hesitated to make purchases in East Jordan, Boyne City and Petoskey if they could save their constituents a buck or two.

By the same token, councils in East Jordan, Boyne City and Petoskey don't give a second thought to doing business in Charlevoix when the price is right.

In the long run, it will be our own business community which will suffer if neighboring cities choose to adopt Charlevoix's insular buying policy.

Moerland Endorses 'Yes' Vote

August 2, 1973

Dear Citizens of Charlevoix County:

A County unified can grow with healthy aspects!

To facilitate Charlevoix County's growth in the proper direction and to protect and develop our resources and attractions, your County Board of Supervisors (now Commissioners) have for a number of years been directing efforts to long range planning for the best utilization of Charlevoix County.

One point of the Board's concern was the desirability that all local political units have zoning to help develop orderly growth and expansion. Therefore, the Board, through its Planning Commission, comprised of citizens who are your neighbors, have encouraged and helped in any way asked, the townships developing local zoning. This has been successful in that in addition to six (6) earlier zoned townships, there has been added one (1) zoned township for a total of seven (7) townships under their own ordinances.

The other eight (8) townships need the protection of zoning and, in the interim, until these townships find the need or desire to develop their own zoning, the Umbrella of County Zoning was developed and is in effect.

Full zoning in the County is a must, whether local, or by County, and the Board welcomes and encourages each township to be self zoned.

However, the advisability of your Board has been questioned by some people and the question now by petition has been given to you voters to decide.

Most opponents of the question are not concerned with County Zoning because if they were, the most logical way to circumvent countywide zoning would be to adopt township zoning and whether more or less stringent than County Zoning, the township ordinance is law.

The opponents are against zoning, priced, whether county or township, and will go to any end to see growth controls in Charlevoix County removed.

I leave this question to your judgment and only ask that you look Charlevoix County over in your mind, see the rapid development and visualize what uncontrolled growth CAN be like.

FOR A HEALTHY DESIRABLE COUNTY

I REMAIN:
I. Lee Moerland
15th District Commissioner
City of Charlevoix

QUESTION: How does that new law work that says I can't drink beer in the car on the highways these hot summer days, even when I'm not the one driving? L. S. T., Escanaba

ANSWER: It's always been a "sin" to consume alcoholic beverages on the public highways of our state, but this new wrinkle makes it easier for enforcement officials to apprehend the culprits. It says, "A person shall not transport or possess any alcoholic liquor in a container which is open, uncapped or upon which the seal is broken within the passenger compartment of a vehicle on the highways of this state.

"If the vehicle does not have a trunk or compartment separate from the passenger compartment, a container which is open, uncapped, or upon which the seal is broken shall be encased or enclosed. This section shall not apply to any chartered passenger vehicle licensed by the Michigan Public Service Commission."

Thomas and Mary Jane

By BOB CLOCK

I don't think 17-month-old Danny will ever become a man of the cloth. He gets fidgety in church, tries to compete with the pulpit and desecrates hymnals and prayer books.

Everyone breathes more freely when I pick him up and trundle him outside right after the first hymn.

This happens regularly in Charlevoix. But last Sunday we attended the first annual Charlevoix-Elk Rapids-Beaver Island Episcopal outing at St. James and I thought Danny's behavior would improve in a strange church amid strange faces.

But it didn't. Bishop Dudley McNeil, pastor of St. James Episcopal Church, had scarcely begun the service when Danny started pulling his old hi-jinks. To make things worse, we were sitting in the front row where everyone could see.

So Danny and I hied ourselves outside where the sun was shining brightly, distilling heady aromas from the island's wild juniper and red pine.

Directly across the road from the church is the island's Protestant Cemetery, a fenced-in and sparsely populated graveyard that seemed to be just the right size play pen for a little boy going-on-two.

So that's where we headed.

While Danny collected pine cones and acorns (which he ate, I discovered later when I removed a handful of shells from his mouth), I browsed among the old tombstones, wondering about the lives and loves of the island residents who lay sleeping beneath my feet.

In one little clump of scrub oak I came upon a tombstone that hinted at a story of sorts, although the facts are sketchy.

At the top of the stone is inscribed "Mary Jane Hawkins, Wife of Thomas J. Hawkins. Died July 27, 1859, Aged 29 Yr's. 7 M's and 24 D's.

Beneath it is inscribed: "Thomas J. Hawkins, Killed at the Battle of the Wilderness, Va., June 6, 1864, Aged 36 Years."

Across the street the congregation had launched another hymn, competing with the cry of seagulls and the gentle rustle of oak leaves. Danny was examining a pot of plastic flowers on a distant grave. There was no need to hurry back, so I let myself think a while about Mary Jane and Thomas who went to their eternal rest in the Protestant Cemetery on Beaver Island more than a century ago.

I pictured her as a fair-haired, willowy young woman who probably died in childbirth in those days when medical science was little removed from the black arts in the northern Michigan wilderness.

With a name like Mary Jane, she could well have been an Irish immigrant who came to the United States as a girl during the potato famine of the 1840's. Although what was a good Irish lass doing in a Protestant Cemetery, where most of the Irish still adhere to the Catholic faith?

Thomas Hawkins sounded more English than Irish. Perhaps he was. Perhaps he came to the island as a lumberjack, fell wildly in love with Mary Jane and married her, despite the protests of her frenzied parents.

When she died he was distraught. He spent too many nights downtown drinking with the boys while Mary Jane's folks took care of the kids. When Civil War started two years later, he enlisted, hoping that time and distance from the island would ease his pain.

Less than five years after Mary Jane's death, one of the hundreds of thousands of bullets fired at the Battle of the Wilderness had 'Thomas' name on it.

They sent him home to his island in a box of Virginia pine, probably by train to Detroit or Chicago, then north by steamer to Beaver Island.

I am sure the islanders gave him a hero's return, regardless of his faith. I can see the flag draped caisson even now, moving slowly down the harbor road from the village, friends and neighbors dressed in their Sunday best trooping behind.

And there, in the Protestant Cemetery, they laid him beside his beloved Mary Jane where they sleep to this day.

The singing had stopped in the church across the road and I knew from my watch that Bishop McNeil was starting communion. Danny came up to find out why I wasn't chasing him.

I took his hand and we walked back to church, subdued and thoughtful after our brief visit with Thomas and Mary Jane.

Betty and Clara

By JIM FITZGERALD

There they went two chunks of my childhood, both in the same week. Betty Grable and Aunt Clara Embury. In the wake of their wakes, I am not pleased with myself. I did not drip a tear.

Not cry at the death of Betty Grable? How could that be? I loved her.

About 1941, I saw her in "Down Argentina Way" 14 times by actual count. It was a contest between me and a kid named Tom Studer. He insisted he loved her more than I did. The only way a guy could prove his love was by how many times he'd pay a dime to see her movies.

I would tell Studer I was going to stay home and study algebra that night. Then I'd run to the Pine Grove Theatre and watch Betty make Alice Faye look like an old bag again.

And someone would whack me on the back of the head and there was Studer sitting behind me.

This was not lusting after a pinup, ala the soldiers who made Betty Grable a latrine legend during World War II. I was no soldier when I fell in love. I was a 15-year-old kid just beginning to wrestle with life's problems; just beginning to make the important decisions which would determine the pattern I would follow the rest of my years.

Such decisions as: breasts or legs? Jane Russell or Betty Grable?

As constant readers (Mother and Aunt Madeline) well know, legs won out. Betty Grable made a leman out of me when I was 15 and I have never since wandered from my chosen path. Show me a pretty girl and I'll show you a girl I'd rather walk behind than toward.

Ask me today what has been mankind's greatest advancement, the moonshot or the Salk vaccine, and I'll have to tell you the mini skirt. The world's greatest perversion is Shirley Jones in elephant pants....

But most of you are probably wondering about Aunt Clara Embury. She was no movie star. In fact, I'm certain she and Betty Grable never had one thing in common until they died the same week.

Mrs. Embury wasn't really my aunt. She was simply a neighbor, in the 1930s, who had no children of her own so she adopted the Fitz kids as honorary brats. She called me "Jimmie Dugan" but I can't remember why. No one else ever called me that.

Mrs. Embury's husband was blind. I suppose my sisters and I brought some welcome cheer into their gloomy little home, but I never looked at it that way then. I was there for Aunt Clara's rhubarb and pecan rolls and whatever else I could glom onto. I used to force my younger sister to beg the blindman for candy – "Or I'll throw you in front of a truck." I was a real sweetheart.

I was 40 years old before Aunt Clara stopped mailing me $2 on my birthday. I guess she finally decided I was never going to write her a thank-you note. Once I wrote a column about how I'd owed her a letter for 30 years. I meant it as sort of an apology but I don't even know if she read it.

When I heard about Aunt Clara's death, I phoned my mother and said I thought I should drive her over for the funeral. "You wouldn't visit her the last 15 years she was alive, so it seems silly to come to look at her when she's dead," my mother said.

Mothers say things like that to sons who don't grow up all the way.

I feel worse about Aunt Clara than I do about Betty Grable. You can say that for me. And you haven't said much.

Rainy Day

By JIM REUS

Until today I never fully appreciated the true aesthetic qualities of an empty parking space on Bridge-st. The lines of the cement curb, the angles and just the right touch of yellow paint have an appeal not quite matched by any painting, even one of Van Gogh's.

This morning is the first morning in August. It is not the most pleasant of summer days. A cool, almost chilling wind comes into the city off the lake.

It's 10:00 a.m. and I have to go to the post office for the mail. Today, because of the cold, I put on a yellow slicker, snap it up, and then begin my jaunt down Bridge-st. The skies are overcast, and my face is washed in a foggy mist. My lungs are filled with the cool wetness about the time I pass under the Haggard's Bath and Bed sign.

By all standards it's a blah day; there will be few, if any, kids swimming at Depot Beach. And for the first time in quite a while there aren't any freaks in East Park.

The whole scene got me to feeling pretty turned down. Then suddenly, I saw it. Just as I crossed Clinton, there it was: big, beautiful empty parking space. And not just one, but several of them. I smiled, straightened up and walked on.

Now, I'm the first one to admit that as a resort town, Charlevoix needs tourists. Our economy is centered around them. If the tourists don't come we're in trouble.

Merchants get upset. They call the Courier and, because there is no one to read their ads, cancel them. My boss then gets upset and I get cancelled. It's all a vicious circle.

But still, after the hazzle of the Venetian Festival, it's nice to see an empty parking space, if only a few hours. I am reminded as I walk of days in late autumn, just after the leaves have fallen and just before the snow does the same. On those days I'd spend hours sitting in Leautheasuers over a cup of coffee or hot chocolate. If I was in the mood, after the coffee I'd go down to Neff's, buy a loaf of bread, and walk to the boat dock.

The yachts are long gone, but in no time I would have ducks swimming by my feet after pieces of bread.

It's good to dress warmly those days and walk the beach. It's that time of year when the sand is often frozen, and I like to study the imprints in the sand. They always get me to thinking about good ole entropy and thermodynamics. And since "entropy flow" is contingently related to "time flow", from marcromoleuclar chemistry I move on to the philosophy of time. But my concept of time is inherent in the mind, so I end up thinking of such things as "self-identity", "self-knowledge", "reason", "intelligence", "logic" etc. etc. etc.

It may all be nonsense, but the big lake is good for the soul. There's something about it that leads one to introspection, though I can't just put my finger on what that "something" is.

In the summer, if I want to badly enough, I can still find those quiet moments. And there are lots of places to walk for extraordinary views of this pretty little resort village. I've found many, but am not going to give them away, so you'll have to find your own. The best time to go is one o'clock in the morning when the people are few and the streets are clear.

I have the mail now, which means I have stories to write, pictures to take and ads to do. It's funny, but amid the work-a-day "responsibilities" and the hustle and bustle of the summer tourist season, every now and then it's good to have a drab and dreary, chilly and drizzly summer day. It really can be quite invigorating. And on those days, an empty parking spot can be a very pretty sight indeed.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Most who can remember, regret the passing of the hat box; that symbol of social propriety in which Aunt Esther stored her wide-brimmed hat, which was gaily festooned with feathers, assorted shrubbery, and three bright red, green stemmed cherries.

Uncle Charlie, being less fastidious, was content to whack the accummulated dust off his derby when the occasion merited formal attire.

Weather permitting, they drove to church each Sunday in the buggy. The derby sat conservatively atop the driver. Aunt Esther's colorful Sears Roebuck creation perched primly over her hand-braided coiffure, wound into a bun, which was held in place with an ornamented celluloid salad fork.

Charlie's mule, Jenny, likewise wore a hat which was cocked saucily over her left eye to hold her hair in place against the breeze prevalent in that open country. She conveyed her taste in headgear most convincingly to Charlie the day he cut slits in a cast-off fedora and placed it on her head. She favored him with one withering glance before trampling it underfoot. Thenceforth, she wore a hat befitting her station, one of Aunt Esther's.

To appear in public uncovered, was unthinkable, even to a mule, and it must be conceded that an avenue of colorful bonnets was more pleasing to the masculine eye than bobbing sea of hair curlers.

The man's hat had both a romantic and practical value. In those days when fair maidens were chaperoned by a gimlet-eyed mother or a prudish maiden aunt, a polite tip of the hat and a shy answering smile paved the way for the formal introduction, which was demanded in the era prior to the wolf whistle.

The hat box has been replaced with a wig receptacle to accommodate the artificial tresses which have become as superior to the natural product as artifical turf is to grass – except for animal feed.

Grandma views in disbelief these refinements in "husband snaring," as she recalls her 'permanents' of yesteryear. These were a do-it-yourself operation involving an adaptation of the rear view mirror and wooden handled metal tongs inserted into the chimney of the kerosene lamp. The odor of charring wood and singeing hair was somewhat akin to cattle branding, and certainly a far cry from sending two heads of hair to the beauty parlor and choosing false eyelashes to match.

Aunt Esther may have been quaint to the point of being eccentric, but in justice to her, it must be pointed out to those who lift a bemused painted eyebrow that everything about her was as genuine as the hat box in her closet.

The first time Charlie saw a bare headed woman in public, he snorted violently.

"A mule has better manners!"

THIS 28-FOOT CHRIS Craft owner by Jerry Bingham of Elmira turned into an All Terrain Vehicle in the wake of the Venetian Festival July 28. Bingham was returning to Bay Marina after the boat parade when his craft ran aground on Loeb's Two Mile Point. None of the eight persons aboard the five ton cruiser were hurt, although the boat climbed huge boulders and came to a stop 10 feet from the shoreline. The craft was removed by a crane the next day and towed by the Bay Marine service boat to the Irish Boat Shop. Inspection in the cradle showed a broken prop and bent shafts but very little damage to the husky fiberglass hull.

Motorcycle Hits Boat

A motorcycle hit a boat on U.S. 31 six miles northeast of Charlevoix – one of two accidents that occurred on virtually the same section of highway on Saturday.

Five persons were injured in the two crashes.

At 12:30 p.m., Bud Ryder of Charlevoix was traveling west when a car and boat trailer with a boat aboard pulled out of the boat launching area in front of him. The car was driven by Edward Stark, 68, of Ossineke. Ryder was taken to Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey for treatment of broken ribs, cuts and bruises. Stark wasn't injured.

At 9:12 Saturday evening, Mrs. Millie (Sherwood) VanHoosier of Charlevoix was attempting to pass two vehicles which had slowed down for the Burgess-rd. junction when she collided head-on with a west-bound vehicle driven by Clifford Simmons, 49, of Sterling Heights.

Mrs. VanHoosier, Debbie Sanchez, 16, of Charlevoix, a passenger in her car, and Mrs. Cecelia Simmons, 50, a passenger in her husband's car, were taken to Charlevoix Hospital by ambulance. Mrs. VanHoosier is reported in fair condition with a broken arm, cuts and abrasions. Mrs. Simmons was held overnight and Miss Sanchez and Simmons were treated and released.

Phil Christ 23rd

Charlevoix High School wrestler Phil Christ, 16, placed 23rd out of 36 in the National Freestyle Olympic Tournament at Iowa City, Iowa, July 26-29.

Christ wrestled in the junior heavyweight division.

Winner in Christ's category was Jimmy Jackson of Grand Rapids. Christ was runner-up to Jackson in state tourneys earlier this summer at Owosso. The second place slot qualified him for the nationals.

Christ was accompanied to Iowa City by Norm Probert.

Obituary

Funerals for Mrs. Jacob (Anna M.) Speigl, 71, was held Aug. 4 at St. Francis Xavier Church in Petoskey, the Rev. Adolph Thillman, OFM, officiating. Interment was in St. Francis Cemetery. Rosary service was held Aug. 3 at the Winchester Funeral Home.

Mrs. Speigle died Aug. 1 at Charlevoix Hospital where she had been a patient for three days.

The former Anna Schatz was born Oct. 2, 1902, in Buchenbach, Germany, and came to the United States about 1922. She lived in New York before moving to Chicago and then Petoskey.

She was married Sept. 17, 1923, to Jacob Speigl in Petoskey and they lived in Bay Shore and Petoskey before moving to Charlevoix to make their home.

Mrs. Speigl was a member of St. Marys Church and its altar society.

For many years Mrs. Speigl worked as a cook at Charlevoix's Argonne Restaurant.

In addition to her widower, Mrs. Speigl is survived by three sons, Lawrence of Charlevoix, Fred of Petoskey and John of Bay Shore; three daughters, Mrs. Ted (Clara) Ager, Mrs. Herbert (Ann) Moore of Charlevoix and Mrs. Daniel (Mary) Simon of Bay Shore; 17 grandchildren; one great-grandchild; and two sisters, Lina Schatz of Buchenbach, Germany, and Mrs. Joseph Geplein of Bayreuth, Germany.

Ance Appointed City Attorney

Acting on the recommendation of Mayor Edward P. Hansen, the City Council Monday evening approved the appointment of Normon Ance as city attorney.

Ance will replace Robert Hoffman, who resigned two weeks ago. The appointment was effective immediately. Ance served as city attorney for many years in the past.

Voting in favor of the appointment were Alderwoman Jeannine Wallace and Aldermen Richard Fochtman, Gerald Selph and George Plumm. Aldermen Sam Supernaw and Robert Timms were absent from the meeting.

The council took no formal action on the resignation of City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna who plans to leave his post in September, however back vacation pay was approved.

Mayor Hansen stated there were 19 applications on file to fill Hanna's position. He recommended council meet as a committee-of-the-whole in the near future to go over the applications.

The council was questioned by William Supernaw as to what effect the denial of a waiver to the Sand Castle developers for their balconies would have. Meeting of the board of appeals earlier in the evening, council had denied the developers a waiver for their balconies. The existing balconies on the Park-ave side of the Sand Castle are thus in direct violation of zoning ordinances.

Local attorney Donald Berlage stated that given the present situation, the city has a "mandate" to enforce the existing zoning code, and to take the steps necessary to bring the Sand Castle into compliance with the code.

Mayor Hansen stated, however, that he would do nothing to enforce the code. He added the long discussion over the issue did nothing more than "prove my patience."

Berlage then noted it was most "newsworthy" that waiver denials issued by the Board of Appeals have no force.

Attrney John Michael, representing the Sand Castle owners, said any action by the city resulting in removal of the existing balconies would involve litigation.

According to Michael, council issued a building permit after reviewing the present floor plan. After the balconies were built, council then reversed its stand.

Michael said originally council specified only supporting walls had to be a minimum of 10 feet from the property line. The Sand Castle developer then build the balconies to within five feet of the property line.

After the balconies were built, Michael claimed the council determined that all parts of the building, including balconies, had to be 10 feet from the property line.

James Fiedler of the Charlevoix Township Board asked council to set up a meeting date with the board for October. Citing a recent editorial in the Charlevoix Courier, Fiedler said it would be advantagous to both city and township to avoid any future duplication of services.

Norman Ance then questioned council about the rezoning of his residence at 306 Petoskey-ave. from R-2 to C-1. Ance claimed recent publicity in the Courier had "misrepresented" his petition for rezoning.

Ance referred to an article in the Aug. 8 edition of the courier, which claimed that a letter co-signed by some 70 persons was to be filed with

'Tango' un Succès Malgré Protestation

Il y était quelque chose pour tout le monde au premiere du film "La Derniere Tango a Paris", jouant jusqu's 21 Août au Cinema III en Charlevoix.

Le conte était dramatique.

Le photographs était superb.

Les rôles etait joué avec sensibilité.

Et, si vous demandez de l'action, il y était beaucoup hors du theatre a lu Rue Pont ou presque 70 citoyens irrités marchait avec les signes pour protester la premiere "X" classé film en Charlevoix.

La protestation était organisé par Mme. Ralph Hess jr., qui ne prends pas part sur l'avis des agents de police. Mme. Hess dit qu'ell a recu des menaces a la telephone quand le mot s'étendait qu'elle était actif dans la protestation.

Malgré la protestation, "Derniere Tango" était un "sell-out" pour la premiere, avec presque 600 billets vendé, selon Tom Merta de Charlevoix, un member du trio a acheté le theâtre l'annee passeé. Ses associees sont Guillaume and Sam Supernaw, aussi de Charlevoix.

"Derniere Tango" est le conte d'un homme de 45 ans de qui la femme se suicide. Il est triste et se blame, mais a la meme fois il faut qu'il eprouve sa virilité. Il trouve une jeune fille, et une chambre a louer et la nature prends son cours.

Les scenes sexuel sont une partie integral du film et, comme ca, ne sont pas reprochable. (B.C.)

TED McCUTCHEON, owner of the McCutcheon Boat Works, planes stern post for replica of the old British Navy ship Welcome, which the shop is reconstructing for display at Mackinaw City. The original Welcome was believed to have been built at Fort Michilimackinac in 1777. It was taken over by the British Navy the following year.

Old British Sloop Back in Production

Ted McCutcheon and his shipbuilders at McCutcheon Boat Works are busy rebuilding the old British Navy vessel Welcome which eventually will be on display at Mackinaw City.

The original ship was believed to have been built at Fort Michilimackinac in 1774 and was taken over by the British Navy the following year.

The idea of building a new Welcome was the brainchild of Frederick S. Ford jr., a naval architect from Grosse Pointe Shores. Ford sold the idea to the Mackinac Island State Park Commission, which is financing the project.

McCutcheon and Ford agree that rebuilding a 200-year-old ship is a different ball game from constructing boats along today's lines with today's materials.

McCutcheon has had to translate the drawings into workable, full-scale drawings and templates.

Most of the work is being down at the former Jesse Penn fabrication plant on Carpenter-st. White cedar planking and assemblies will be moved to Mackinaw City for final assembly.

The armed sloop will be 55 feet long with a 19 foot beam. The bowsprit will measure 47 feet and the main boom 52 feet.

The reconstruction should be ready for the nation's 200th birthday party in 1976.

THIS TANGLED wreckage is all that is left of the small Beechcraft plane that crashed on takeoff Saturday evening at Charlevoix Airport.

Scott Family Is Injured As Plane Cartwheels

Jeanne Marie Scott, 10, of East Lansing will undergo surgery at Sparrow Hospital in Lansing later this week to repair a depressed skull fracture she suffered Saturday evening when a small Beechcraft stagger-wing airplane crashed on take-off from Charlevoix Airport.

The plane was piloted by her father, Dr. James S. Scott, 43, a Dewitt physician who lives in E. Lansing. The craft was demolished.

Jeanne Marie was the most seriously injured of five members of the Scott family hurt in the crash, which happened about 7 p.m. after the Scotts had attended the Waterfront Art Fair in Charlevoix.

Dr. Scott says he is uncertain just what caused the aircraft to veer to the right off the east-west runway and cartwheel across the airport.

He had just fueled the airplane with 100 gallons of gasoline, but had the presence of mind to shut off the fuel supply, possibly averting a tradegy.

With him in the plane were his wife, Ruth K., 45; daughters Jeanne Marie and Kimberly Lynn, 14; and son James C., 12.

All were taken to Charlevoix Hospital for emergency treatment. About 9 p.m. Saturday they were flown by ambulance plane out of Traverse City to Lansing.

Jeanne Marie was released from Sparrow Hospital Monday, but will return later for surgery.

The Scotts have spent many summer vacations in Charlevoix, either at the Wayside Motel or Stroud's cottages on the Lake Michigan shore.

Flying Saucers Spotted in Area

Flying saucers are back! Charlevoix Advertising Manager Robert Young, members of his family and friends have watched a mysterious object in the evening sky for the past two weeks.

The unidentified flying object (UFO) also has been spotted over Lake Michigan by Ted Schantz and Randy Winchester of Charlevoix.

According to Young, the object is oval shaped with bright cross-lines like the "Star of Bethlehem." The oval is surrounded by a glowing diamond shaped rim, although connecting struts are not visible.

The object hovers in one place for several minutes and then darts at incredible speeds across the heavens. It has been visible for as long as one hour at a time, usually beginning about 9:15 p.m.

Young, who lives south of Vanderbilt, says the object usually appears in the west, over Charlevoix or Lake Michigan. He is unable to judge its altitude.

To date, more than 17 members of Young's family and friends have observed the UFO in the Vanderbilt area. The most recent observers included Otsego Sheriff's Department deputies.

A characteristic of the UFO is that it makes sharp, right-angle turns.

If you spot the UFO over Charlevoix, please let the Courier know about it.

Charlevoix Abstract Plans Open House

Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering Co. will hold open house at its newly remodeled offices at 213 Bridge-st., Thursday, Aug. 23, from 2 until 7 p.m., according to Mary B. Feindt, engineer.

The open house is planned not only to show off the newly decorated and remodeled quarters but also to introduce the professional staff to the public.

The firm's newest employe is Dr. Arthur Alvin Ranger, who joined the company Aug. 15. He, formerly was a professor of engineering at Purdue University.

Ranger's work in civil and mechanical engineering design will supplement the firm's surveying and abstract services, Mrs. Feindt said. He also will be available for consulting on technical problems.

Ranger is a native of Charlevoix, the son of the late Arthur Ranger and Mrs. Ralph Wade. He is married to the former Patricia Ratigan, daughter of Dr. and Mrs William Ratigan.

The company was organized prior to the turn of the century by D. C. Nettleton, an old time abstractor and surveyor. It became officially known as Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering Co. in 1916.

R. F. Sloan managed the company from 1916 until 1944 when it was taken over by Mrs. Feindt. She inherited two employes, Mrs. Walker (Sylvia) Miles and Francis C.

Dale Boss Buys Out Maxbauer

Maxbauer's Dairy on Lincoln-st. has been purchased from the Maxbauer family of Traverse City by Dale Boss of North Point, a part-time employe of the dairy for 20 years.

Boss' father, John Boss, who has been manager of the dairy since it was purchased by John Maxbauer in 1939, is retiring, but will continue to serve as a consultant.

The younger Boss says he has plans to remodel the present block building along a "farm yard" theme, using barn siding and fieldstone.

A "silo" will rise at the northwest corner of the structure. It actually will be a fireplace for the general office.

A "corn crib" will conceal the gas pump on the corner.

Boss also plans to add a third cooler

The senior Boss actually has been the dairy business 44 years, starting with the former Northern Creamery in 1929. John Maxbauer sr. of Traverse City bought out Northern in 1939 and Boss was retained as manager until his "retirement" last Friday, when the business changed hands.

From 1932 to 1934 he was manager of the Northern Creamery branch in Mackinaw City.

Dale Boss says the creamery was started around the turn of the century by a man named Bill Johnson. Johnson eventually sold out to Charles Lamphere. The business originally was located behind the Min-Eva restaurant on the shore of Round Lake.

Lamphere sold the business to the Northern Creamery Co. about 1912 and the dairy was moved to Clinton-st. in a building more recently owned by Novotny Plumbing and Heating Co. The building has since been razed and the site is now the library parking lot.

Dale Boss joind the business on an informal basis in 1943 when he was 12 years old.

In those days, Joe Williams (later proprietor of Joe Williams Cigar Store) delivered milk for Maxbauers and Dale would help him make deliveries.

In 1947, while he was still a sophomore in high school, Boss got his own retail route, making deliveries in the morning before school.

When he opened his insurance company agency in 1953, he continued working for the dairy four or five hours each morning making deliveries.

"When I found that the dairy was available for purchase, I had a decision to make," Boss says. "I called on the Lord for guidance. He opened every door, and with His Help, this business will continue to prosper."

He says the dairy is one of only two independent dairies still operating in Michigan north of Bay City and Muskegon. The other is the Inverness Dairy at Cheboygan.

Boss sais this big creamery operation in southern Michigan have gobbled up the rest and closed them.

He is staking Maxbauer's continued success on "quality and service" which have been the hallmarks of the operation in the past.

Boss says he has purchased the name as well as the business and will continue to do business as "Maxbauer's Village Milk House."

The dairy buys raw milk from more than a dozen area farms and processes its own homogenized, two percent, skimmed and half-and-half milk products.

Butter, orange juice, cottage cheese and sour cream sold under the Maxbauer name are purchased elsewhere.

Boss also plans to move his insurance office from his home at North Point to the dairy building, when remodeling is completed.

The senior Boss was born on Barnard-rd. and has lived all his life in the Charlevoix, with the exception of his two-year stay in Mackinaw City.

In addition to Dale, Mr. and Mrs. John Boss have a daughter, Mrs. Marlene Terry the wife of Rev. James Terry of Snyder, Texas, and two other sons, Dwight, a teacher at the Ellsworth Community School, and Dean, who owns an appliance store at Spring Lake.

Dale and his wife Marilyn have five children: Mrs. Charles (Sharon) Elzinga, a student at Michigan State College; Diane, a student at North Central Michigan College; Dale jr., Jim and Pam, students in the Charlevoix school system.

The Dale Bosses also have two foster daughters, Mrs. Robert (Kathy) Castelein and Mrs. David (Kay) Falting, both of Charlevoix.

Boss expects to keep all of Maxbauer's present employees: Louis Lakies, Sonny Belfy, Delora Richardson, Al Noirot, Ron Geer, Dale Boss jr., and Bud Boss.

Baptist Church Scene Of Corp-Borths Nuptials

Loretta Marie Corp became the bride of Robert Eugene Borths in ceremonies Aug. [illegible] at the First Baptist Church, the Rev. [illegible] officiating.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Borths

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Jane Corp of Charlevoix. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Borths of Charlevoix.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with pink and orchid glads, white mums and carnations.

Given in marriage by her brother, Alfred J. Corp, the bride wore a white floor-length gown of nylon taffeta, styled on Empire lines and accented with beaded lace. A crown secured her chapel-length train and she carried a bouquet of white Fuji mums and pink sweetheart roses.

She was attended by Debra Marie Marme as maid of honor, who wore a "Southern Belle" gown of orchid, and Mrs. Donald Ward and Dianna Lynn Corp as bridesmaids. Their costumes were Empire-style pink chiffon formals.

Charles Borths was best man and Scott Crandall and Dave Plumm served as groomsmen. Donald Ward and Jim Borths were ushers.

Following a wedding trip to WaWa, Ont., the couple will make their home in Wojan's Apartments.

Fire Won't Affect VA Benefits, Wasoski Says

"Any damage to service records in the July 12 fire at the Military Records Center in St. Louis, will have no impact on the 13-million veterans and dependents currently receiving Veterans Administration benefits, according to Robert Wososki, Charlevoix County.

This assurance was given today by Donald E. Johnson, Administrator of Veterans Affairs.

VA records for those now receiving benefits are maintained mostly at the agency's 57 regional offices throughout the nation, and also at VA's 169 hospitals and two insurance centers.

VA does operate its own Records Processing Center in the St. Louis area, but this is located about 10 miles from the fire-damaged military records unit. This VA Center serves as a repository for records of older veterans and beneficiaries no longer receiving VA payments or benefits.

The VA, Johnson said, also maintains other backup files containing essential, though not complete, military service information which would prove helpful in processing any new applications for benefits from veterans whose military records might have been destroyed in the fire.

Since 1968, the VA Data Processing Center at Austin, Texas, has kept computer master records on some 3-million Vietnam veterans.

Old-growth, kiln-dried cedar gives a Lindal vacation home a beautiful advantage to begin with. A solid post-and-beam frame, double-thick roof and floor decking, and steel-reinforced beams strengthen that edge.

A professional can handle it in as little as 1/4 the time it takes to build an ordinary house. And, by following our comprehensive construction manual from start to finish, even an amateur can put it together (more than 1/3 of our buyers have).

Pricewise, a Lindal stands between the plywood quickies and the stick-built conventional types.

But in terms of structural integrity and enduring value, a Lindal cedar home stands alone.

Stop by and see for yourself. Or send $1 for our 44-page Planbook with its 82 better vacation-home designs.

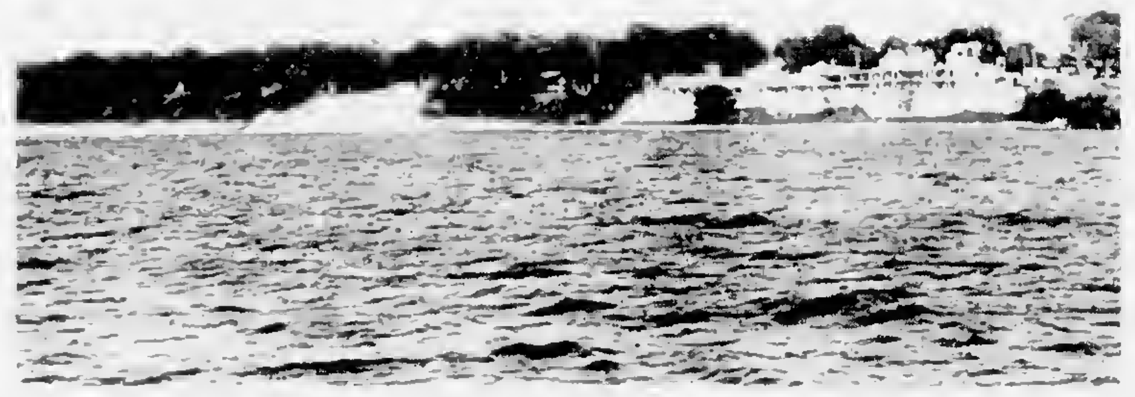
THE CONCRETE promenade along Charlevoix's waterfront is under water as a result of record high levels. The watery walkway may pose a problem for yachtsmen docked at the city yacht basin but Jackie and Janet Pence of Charlevoix take the high water in stride.



ALTHOUGH construction has a long way to go, the Lake Michigan waterfront of La Croft condominium at the foot of Dixon-ave. has been landscaped to prevent soil erosion. The cleared area to the left is the site of The Dunes condominium.

Normal Grads Meet

The third annual meeting of the Charlevoix County Normal Alumni Club was held at the March Inn at Walloon Lake Aug. 8, with 27 members and four guests present.

The business meeting was conducted by Josephine (Ellis) Rehkopf.

Roll call revealed the eldest alumna present was Mayme Scroggie of the class of 1908.

Minutes of last year's meeting were read and approved.

All present officers were re-elected for another year.

Next year's meeting will be held at the March Inn, July 31, according to Mrs. Florence (Spidel) Davis, corresponding secretary.

Ironton

Jerry Olsheve of Detroit and Brian Olsheve of Traverse City are guests of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ole Olsheve.

Mr. and Mrs. James Moser and family of Madison, Wisc., are spending two weeks with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Keating.

Mr. and Mrs. Klon Johnstone of East Jordan were guests Saturday afternoon and evening at the home of the former's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp.

"OH BOY, what a catch! I spent 40 minutes bringing this one in, using only six pound test line," said Dr. C.J. Clueck of Cincinnati, Ohio. Dr. Clueck caught this big pike while trolling on Lake Charlevoix last week, using a Mepps No. 3 spinner. Dr. Clueck resorts in Charlevoix during the summer at the corner of Cherry and Mercer-st.

Rec. Dept. Plans Tennis Tournament

A tennis tournament, sponsored by the Charlevoix Recreation Department, is slated for Aug. 18-21.

Adults aged 16 and older will compete on Aug. 18-19. Youngsters aged 15 and under will play Aug. 22-23.

Adults interested in competing must sign up by Aug. 16 at 8:00 p.m. at the tennis courts. A $2.00 entry fee is required.

Youngsters must sign-up by Aug. 16 at 4:00 p.m. They must pay a $1.50 entry fee. Children who were in the tennis lessons sponsored by the recreation department, however, will not have to pay the entry fee.

Adults will compete in men's singles and doubles and women's singles and doubles. Youngsters will be divided into three divisions; 15 years of age and under, 13 years of age and under, and 11 years of age and under. Each division will compete in boys' singles and doubles and girls' singles and doubles.

School Sign-up Aug. 23

Parents of kindergarten children registered last spring should return their youngster's completed health record to the school Thursday, Aug. 23, according to Glenn Snider, principal.

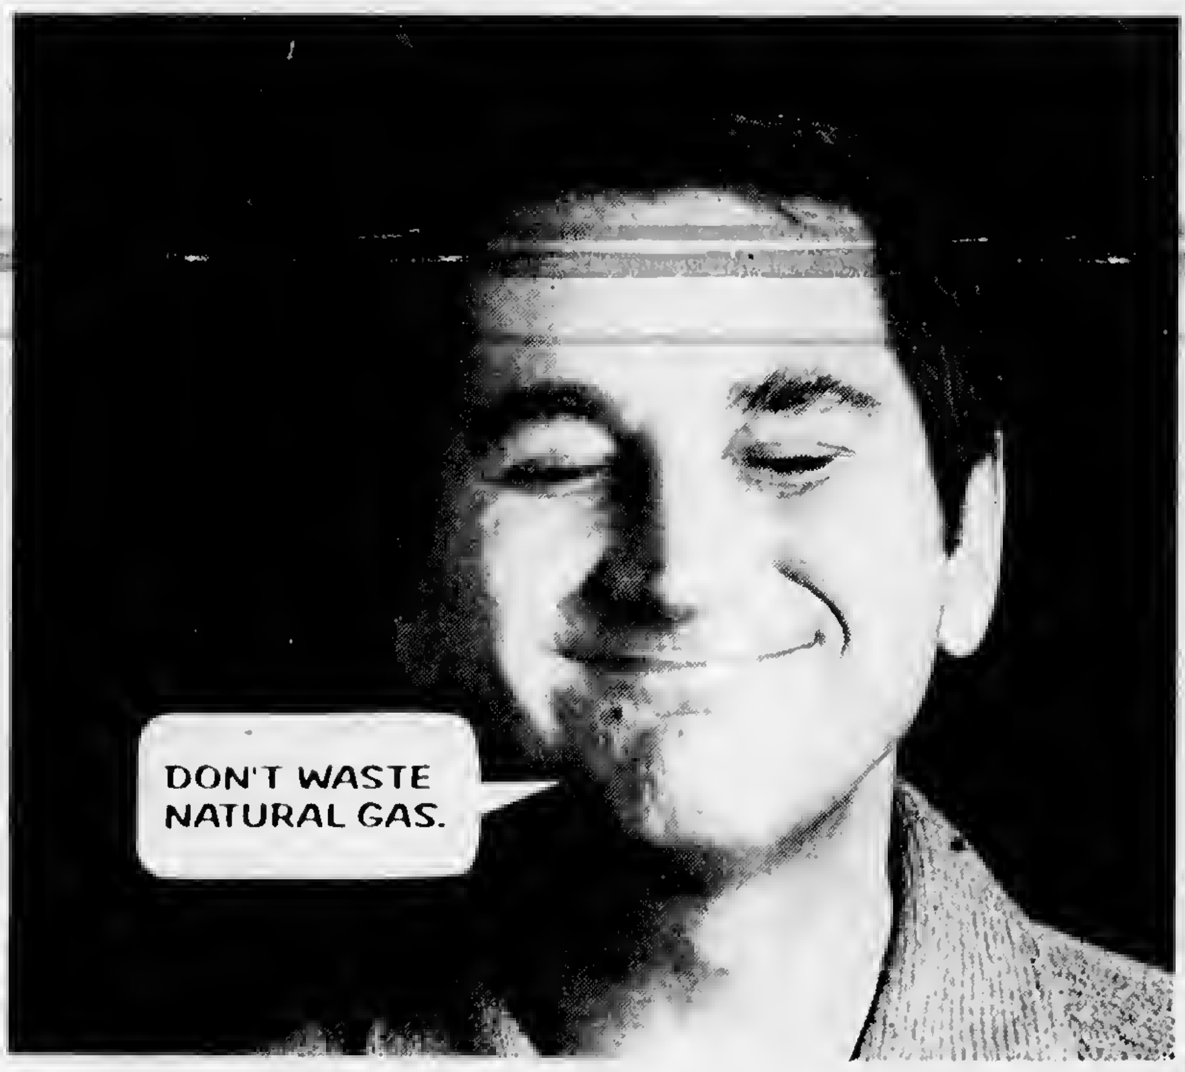
Mrs. Dean Davenport, school nurse, will use the information to start the child's school health record.

Room, time and teacher assignments will be made at the same time.

Any other kindergarten children who will be five years old by Dec. 1 should be registered the same day, if they have not registered previously. Birth certificates must be present.

Snider said that any child who will be attending the Elementary School this fall who was not enrolled last semester should be registered the same day.

The school building on Division-st. will be open from 9 a.m. until noon and from 1 until 3 p.m.



DON'T WASTE NATURAL GAS.

Guess who just lowered his heating bill.

Larry Hardin, that's who, by making sure his Gas furnace will be in tip top operating condition this winter. Larry just had a licensed heating contractor make a thorough prewinter inspection of his Gas furnace. Things like belts, motor, blower, burners, pilot, thermostat and filter. The man made adjustments where necessary, started and tested Larry's furnace for proper performance, and recommended repairs if needed. Larry's really tickled to know his furnace will be operating at peak efficiency this heating season. Equally important, he'll be saving Gas and money, too.

You can do the same if you're one of our home-heating customers. We're sending you a card with the name of a licensed heating contractor who serves your area, and a complete checklist he'll follow when inspecting your furnace. We strongly recommend that you contact him—or any licensed heating contractor—and have your furnace checked now.

THE CHARLEVOIX water tower rises above the former Tower Hotel, which is being entirely rebuilt into a condominium structure called the Sand Castle. James Taylor, owner of property immediately to the east, relayed word to the Charlevoix City Council via Lee Moerland recently that he would like his property zoned commercial if alleged sideyard restriction violations on the Sand Castle are allowed to stand. Moerland said balconies extend beyond the foundation, in violation of the setback.

Perfect Weather Greets Waterfront Artists

LEONARD MEYER, a native of Amsterdam, Holland, had vistas of his native land along with Michigan scenes in his display at the Waterfront Fair. Meyer now lives in Saginaw.

DEWEY KALEMBER of Suttons Bay poses next to one of his pictures of the Lake Charlevoix South Arm at Ironton.

MICHAEL HUEBNER of Detroit casts a critical eye on collage entitled "The Waiting Room" by Benny Andrews. The collage was donated for exhibition at the Waterfront Fair by Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Cummings of The Anchorage. The work makes use of actual denim, cotton and corduroy fabrics in the dress of the "Waiting Room" patients.

SCOTT MORGAN won the broad jump with a leap of 12'2". Placing second and third behind Scott were Pat Schmidt and Doug Buday in the senior boys' division.

THE 440 RELAY team of Ross Carey, Scott Kelly, Gary Drury and Jeff Drury placed first in the junior division track meet on Wednesday. Breaking the tape two seconds ahead of the competition, the final leg man was five seconds off the existing city record.

Mike Klama Sets 25-yd. Mark; Other Track Records Stand

[illegible] of Charlevoix area [illegible] turned out last week for the city track and field meet sponsored by the recreation department.

Boys and girls in the junior division aged 8-10, competed on Wednesday at the high school track field. Youngsters in the senior division aged 11-13 took to the field on Thursday.

Mike Klama, running in the junior boys' division 25 yard dash, was the only person to set a new record. His time of 4.1 seconds bettered the existing record of 4.35 seconds set by Matt Dunn in 1968. In the junior girls' 75 yard dash, Sally Westenbroek tied the 1967 time of Dar DeWildt at 11.4 seconds.

Two thinclads had excellent days last week, each taking home several first place ribbons. In the senior boys' division Steve Schuch won four firsts and a second. He placed first in the softball throw, 75 yard dash, 60 yard hurdles and the 440 yard relay. His only second came in the 25 yard dash, which was won by Rich Borths.

In the junior girls division, Sally Westenbroek had a perfect day. She took home five first place ribbons. Sally won the 25 yard dash, 75 yard dash, 60 yard hurdles, long jump and was a member of the winning 440 relay team.

The following is a summary of the results of the track meet. In each event the winning time is in parenthesis followed by the names of the top three competitors in the order they finished.

Senior Boys–(12'2") Scott Morgan, Pat Schmidt and Doug Buday.

440 RELAY

Junior Boys–(1:12.1) Ross Carey, Scott Kelly, Gary Drury, Jeff Drury; Doug Drenth, Jeff Olney, Tim Shupert, Mike Klama; Jeff Green, Dave Buday, Kevin Potter, Larry Nunemaker

THERE WERE plenty of spectators on hand for each event. Children not entered in a particular event were quick to cheer their favorites on. Here a group of pretty young ladies, distracted by the camera from watching the boys' 60 yard hurdles, pose for a picture. The camera, of course, was likewise distracted by the young ladies from getting a picture of the hurdlers.

BREAKING the tape at 11.0 seconds, Cindy Klama just nudged Tina Klama to win the girls' senior division 75 yard dash. Finishing third behind the Klama duo was Debbie Thomure.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1973

has Marked another Milestone for a

NORTHERN MICHIGAN BUSINESS

Maxbauer's Dairy in Charlevoix, is one of two remaining milk processing plants left in the northern part of the lower peninsula. The big giants have taken over and thus, everything north of a line beginning at Muskegon, and stretching to Evart in the middle of the state, and on to Bay City on the east side, is now closed to processing, and they receive their products from southern Michigan. The only other active dairy in this vast area is the Inverness Dairy, located in Cheboygan, and operated by our friends, the Woiderski family. Rather than say that everything is going to the big giants, things have proven otherwise. Northern Michigan people have said, by their continued acceptance of our high quality products, that quality is foremost in their minds. If we would not have had quality down through the years, we would not be continuing today.

This business in Charlevoix was started around the turn of the century, by a man named Bill Johnson. He sold out to Charles Lamphere. This business was located behind the old Min-Eva restaurant, on the shore of Round Lake. Around 1912, Charlie Lamphere sold the business to the Northern Creamery Company, and it was located on Clinton Street, where the parking lot of the library now stands. In 1929, John E. Boss, my dad, a young man of 23, started working with the business. He worked for 10 years until 1939, with Charlie as his boss. I can remember as a boy, taking down Dad's lunch bucket, and Charlie would give me an ice cream cone, as he liked kids.

In 1939, the business was sold to an enterprising German from Traverse City, who had gone into business in 1919 and had made a success of it. His name was John Maxbauer, and at this time, he made Dad manager of the local operation.

All down through the 44 years that Dad has been associated with the business, quality and service were the points stressed. This has paid off, for we are still doing business, and quality and service are still our motto.

Mr. Maxbauer's health has been failing him in recent months, and Dad, at 67, feels he wants to take it a little easier, and so will be retiring, but will still be available for consultation.

I started in the business at the age of 12, in 1943, with the late Joe Williams, as his helper delivering milk around town. In 1947, in my sophomore year in high school, I began to deliver house to house on a retail route before school. In 1953, I went into the Insurance business, and worked mornings, 4 to 5 hours a day at the dairy, because it was in my blood. We are now celebrating our 20th year in the insurance business.

When I found that the Dairy was available for purchase, I had a decision to make, and I called on the Lord for guidance. He opened every door, and with His help, this business will continue to prosper.

I have bought the business lock, stock, and barrel, and am planning to completely remodel the building in the near future, as portrayed in the sketch. We are keeping the same crew as before, namely, Louie Lakies, Sonny Belfy, Delora Richardson, Al Noirot, Ron Geer, Dale Boss Jr., Bud Boss, and Dad, as consultant. We are running the business on a profit sharing in the form of a bonus at the end of the year, for the entire crew.

Sincerely,

Dale E. Boss

Little League Celebrates 1st Season With Banquet

Little League players, their managers, coaches, sponsors and parents, numbering more than 300, turned out Thursday evening for the first Little League banquet held at the Charlevoix Elementary school.

Highlight of the program for the players was the presentation of the 1973 trophy to the Tigers who repeated as league champions. Each team member received a miniature trophy. Their coach, Bruce Morgan, accepted thr sponsor's trophy for Howard Parsel of Parsel Olds and also received a manager's trophy.

Douglas Wilks, president of the Little League organization here, served as master of crremonies for the informal program. He emphasized that the game is for the boys." It is designed to teach them sportsmanship. Parents and followers sometime forget this in the heat of the game but it is important that they always keep it in mind," he added.

Other officers of the group were introduced. They are Guy Smith, vice president; Mrs. Dale Fassett, secretary and Harrison Ettinger, treasurer. Members of the board of directors are Don Wells, player agent, Duane Herriman, equipment manager, Michael Borths, umpire-in-chief; Bruce Morgan, Robert Russell, Larry Streeter, Rusty Smith, Lawrence Bergmann and David Thurston.

Special mention was also made of the sponsored, Parsel Olds; Charlevoix Form, John Pearl; Smith's Roofers, Guy Smith, and Round Lake Lodge No. 293, I.O.O.F., represented by Sims Baker; Don Kelly and David Juilleret who head up the minor league program and Kipper Green who worked so diligently preparing the new field though he is too old the play Little League ball.

The league's new field was mentioned and all those who had worked on the field and contributed in any manner were acknowledged as a group. As Wilks said "This was a cooperative effort so one cannot single out a few."

Members of all teams and their coaches and managers were introduced during the event. The Tigers won the title with a 17-1 record followed by the Cubs and Cards with records of 8-10 and the Bruves, 3-15. In thr minor league which was organized this year for the first time, the Yanks with a 7-2 record finished first followed by the Giants, 7-2; Orioles, 4-5, and the Mets, 3-6.

Though he was not present, sperial recognition was given to Larry Ford for returning baseball to Charlevoix.

LITTLE LEAGUERS, coaches, managers, sponsors and members of their families attended Charlevoix's first Little League banquet at the Elementary School Thursday night.

Dennis Kusina Among Dealer School Grads

One of the most unusual edurational programs in the nation, designed by an industry and a business-oriented rollege to develop careers for its people, has completed its first summer seminar at the new million-dollar NADA Automotive Marketing Education Center in Midland.

Among the students was Dennis W. Kusina, vice president of Kusina Motors Inr., Cadillar dealership in Charlevoix. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William P. Kusina, Route 2, Charlevoix. The senior Kusina, who has been in the auto business all of his life, is president of Kusina Motors, Inr.

Dennis is a 1971 graduate of Northern Michigan University, rereiving a B.S. degree in marketing. He was employed by Ameriran Motor Company in Minneapolis and has served in the Armed Services near Frankfurt, West Germany, for 21 months.

When interviewed upon passing his CAM Certification before a board of review of prarticing auto dealers, Kusina expressed his interest in automotive marketing as a eareer:

"The automobile business is a very dynamir business and in the future the people who will be successful will treat their eustomers the way they would like to be treated," he explained.

The National Automobile Dealers Association program was developed by the franrhised dealer organization, working with Northwood Institute over the past eight years. The first CAM Summer Seminar to study at the new NADA Center inrluded 29 students, who were graduated in mid-July (20).

These students, from many parts of the United States and from several foreign countries, earned these CAM (Certified Automotive Merchandiser) Certificates which are awarded by the NADA upon completion of the conrentrated five-weeks course.

An unusual feature of the program is its arrelerated automotive marketing training, presented by men experienced in the field who are also skilled in educational techniques.

"The arrelerated training meets the needs of employed men and women who ran arrange but a limited time away from their jobs," Professor Philip O. Johnson, director of Automotive Eduration Programs for Northwood Institute and a former training director for Ford Motor Company, reports.

"This is also an opportunity during the summer for young people on summer varations from other colleges, or students from any part of the world for that matter, to get an intensely conrentrated program of study over a five-week period during which they live on the Northwood campus.

"Subjects are srheduled on the modular plan, with each week devoted to one subjeet that ran be rompleted in that week," Professor Johnson explains. "Students rould enroll for the entrie program or any part of it. Those who romplete all five weeks appear beforc a board of National Automobile Dealers Association members for an oral examination and their CAM rertifiration approval."

Subjects included "Dealership Organization and Management," "Dealership Business Management," "Service Management," Merrhandising," "Wholesaling and Retailing Parts," "Merrhandising Cars and Trurks" and "Corporate Policy and Ethirs."

Library notes

The versatile author of "Slaughterhouse Five," Kurt Vonnegut Jr., has come out with his special 50th birthday novel "Breakfast of Champions." Vonnegut is considered one of the living masters of literature, and his new novel is just as free wheeling and free thinking as all of his other novels. The book deals with the meeting of two men – a meeting which finally makes them realize and understand what meaning their lives really have. The illustrations, scattered throughout, were done by the author and, while they will never rommand prices in any museum of art, they are graphir and delightful. The book is new and very much in demand. We ask our patrons to request that it be held in reserve.

"An Untold Story" is the murh-talked-about story by Elliott Roosevelt and James Brough. In a sperial a special statement, the Roosevelt son says: "Since the passing of my parents, I have read a steady flow of appraisals of their lives. From all this writing I have experienced a feeling that a kind of rard-board, one-dimension image was emerging that did not tell the full story of the development of these two human beings...As their son, I am proud and grateful to be their offspring. I have written this ronstribution to the saga of their lives, knowing that they would agree that history should know the true trials and tribulations to which they were submitted." The book has been under fire and criticism. Does a son print private and personal matters concerning his parents who are no longer alive? Opinions differ, but it is, in any case, a very intimate and accurate account of one of our most dynamic and controversial presidents and his first lady.

The new biography of "Kerouac" by Ann Charters unlocks the literary mysterirs of his books, revealing who really was who and what really happened. This book establishes Jack Kerouac onre and forever as a deeply flawed human being who nevertheless produred an important and enormously influential body of work which places him among the ranks of great Ameriran writers. The book was rarefully and arcuratcly researched by Ann Charters who loved Kerouac's art. She researched with dignity the interior of his novels, spoke with his friends for many years and applied her vast scholarship to portraying the "king of the beats" as truthfully as possible. Those who are ronfused about Kerouac will have a murh better understanding of this strange, unhappy and mixed-up young genius, who died much before his time.

Grain Shortage Coming Unless Exports Curbed

The luckiest guy in town today is the fellow with a steer in his freezer, a year's supply of canned goods in his fruit cellar and a barrel of flour in his pantry.

The latest cloud on the domestic economy is a report from Washington, D.C., that more than half of the United State's 1973-'74 wheat crop already has been sold to foreign nations.

And the price of grain in Chicago, Minneapolis and Kansas has passed $4 a bushel and is well on its way to $5 a bushel.

Experts are afraid that mounting foreign purchases of wheat and other grain crops could result in shortages at home by next spring and drive grocery prices even higher than they are today.

The news comes as a blow to consumers who have been forced by sheer economics to limit their meat purchases drastically during the past several weeks. It means that such "kid stuffers" as bread, noodles, spaghetti and macaroni are due to take a big jump in the weeks immediately ahead.

It also means that prices of poultry, eggs and meat products will go out of sight as grain supplies dwindle.

Government economists are elated by the run of U.S. grain, because it promises to improve out balance of trade position in foreign trade and lend a degree of stability to the dollar in world markets.

But the balance of trade and world markets mean little to the average housewife who is faced with the problem of feeding her family on ice cubes and tap water.

Former Secretary of Agriculture Clifford Hardin says the United States is faced with two alternatives. It can cut export or it can cut back at home, both equally unpleasant.

"We can curb our exports and satisfy our domestic demands without engendering inflation," Hardin says. "Or we can fill our orders abroad, cut back at home and watch prices go up."

From here, the choice is clear: Exports must be curbed because the United States, which is already faced with economic problems of preposterous proportions, simply must not be faced with a wheat shortage this winter.

We have had all the inflation we can stand.

Should Federal Funds Be Spent on Mansions?

If you were President of the United States, would you expect your fellow Americans to spend $10 million of their hard-earned tax dollars equipping and landscaping two additional mansions for your personal use—in addition to the White House already provided for you in Washington, D.C.?

If you're a simple, dumb, Midwestern clod like the rest of us you wouldn't dream of such shenanigans, mainly because it's downright immoral for any elected official to profit from the trust placed in him by his constituents.

Yet this apparently is precisely what President Richard Nixon has done with his properties at San Clemente, Calif., and Key Biscayne, Fla. according to a recent report released by government officials.

The report, incidentally, was issued to "dispel the impression that President Nixon has personally profited by government expenditures on his homes.

The officials said the expenditure of almost $10 million all was disbursed for the protection and legitimate support of the President.

The American people give their chief executive a perfectly liveable residence for his use at 1600 Pennsylvania-ave. in Washington, D.C., for as long as he remains president. It is fully fenced, fully protected and as pretty as a picture.

If he chooses to maintain other homes, we believe he should do so out of his own pocket, not ours.

To be sure, we can't lock up the President in the White House and expect him to stay there for four years.

But other presidents have found that this big country of ours has ample public accommodations from coast to coast—even "presidential suites" in some of the larger clubs and hotels, with plenty of room for guards and other security personnel.

It is absolutely necessary for the American people to maintain and equip fancy dwellings for our presidents wherever they choose to hang their hats? We doubt it.

Some of the money, undoubtedly, was spent legitimately for security measures.

But how in the world can the President justify the use of federal funds for a new heating system at San Clemente just because the Secret Service decided the gas heaters in the 43-year-old villa were unsafe? If they were unsafe, the President should have replaced them out of his own pocket.

When was the last time you had someone come in and install a new furnace for you at the taxpayers' expense?

New Kind Of Pollution Visits City

The Charlevoix Courier
Dear Editor:

Tonight one of the greatest acts of pollution will occur in Charlevoix. We have had your editorials about many kinds of pollution over the past several years and have applauded your efforts to keep our communities free from contamination. Now we are faced with another type of pollution – the pollution of minds with indecent films.

No, Mr. Editor, I have not seen the film - the reviews are explicit enough in their description to make me ask if this type of show can be classed as entertainment. Still everyone in the community will be affected in one way or another by the very showing of the film, for, just as all good has its effects, so does all evil in our midst.

I must decide that perverted sex films are not what should be shown to the public.

Anna Warner

'X' Bars Teens From Theater

My dear Sir:

I was delighted to notice in last week's Courier your congratulations to our new Cinema III as a "family theatre." Not only did I heartily concur but I have seen more movies this summer than in the lust year and I have often been accompanied by a group of teenagers.

So you can understand my horror when I read that "Last Tango in Paris" is coming to our "family theatre" – and not for the usual three or four days, but for a full two weeks!

This means that no teenager, nor any right-minded person, will have the pleasure of attending a movie in Charlevoix until almost the end of the summer.

Cinema III has, therefore, forfeited its right to your kind congratulations, unless it should change its plans and continue to show movies that can be enjoyed by everyone.

Sincerely yours,
Diddy Schade
(Mrs. W. C. Schade)

Will Cinema Supply Cups?

Dear Sir:

I've heard many people in Charlevoix express pleasure in the fact that the new owners of the Charlevoix theater were showing good, decent movies

Then when they started extensive and beautiful remodeling to the building, there were more comments like, "wonderful."

So what happened – they first show "The Godfather" which, to most people who saw it, was nauseating – extremely so: and now, they're advertising the coming "attraction" of "Last Tango in Paris." After having read reviews of this motion picture in Time and Good Housekeeping magazine, I find it hard to understand why they want to dirty their new theater with such a foul, filthy, disgusting and immoral movie such as this.

I wonder if they'll furnish little bags or cups for the people, like the airlines do, for those who need to throw up.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Because some writers mix fantasy with facts for financial gain, the early lumberjacks are pictured as a lawless breed merely because they loved to fight. Simply stated, fighting was their favorite recreation, as golf is in our day.

Each camp had its champion who would jog 15 miles on a Sunday to test the capabilities of the titleholder in another camp. His accompanying rooting section invariably sparked unscheduled matches in which the spectators became participants. This added a gala touch to the festivities.

Seney, known as Hells Crossing, was two solid blocks of wall to wall saloons. To one of these was added a depot for the convenience of the iron horse trade. It was here that the term 'shakedown' originated when an unwary dude ventured to slake his thirst at the bar. Swallowing presented a bit of a problem when he found himself suspended by gaitered ankles in the grasp of two loggers engaged in shaking loose his pocket change to impress upon the traveler the local rules of hospitality.

The launching of the new express depot required two bottles, one for each of the Murphy brothers who officiated at the opening ceremonies. It so happened that several gambling men of ill repute jumped the claim and installed their own business fixtures including several 'seamstresses' and 'laundresses'.

The bespectacled sparrow chested express agent offered the Brothers Murphy a bottle each and $20 in gold to protect the legal rights of the owners. The obliging brothers stacked six burly individuals, cooperative in their state of coma, onto the express wagon and returned much exhilarated to the saloon where they set them up for everyone. When pressed for details, their only comment was,

"He paid us to enjoy ourselves. The man must be daft!"

Due to the unsurpassed elegance of his saloon in Cheboygan, the owner put it off limits to lumberjacks, who, like any group of reasonable citizens, conducted an inquiry to establish whether or not discrimination were involved.

During the ensuing investigation they tossed out five bouncers and four bartenders through both customary and improvised exits. One diamond stick pin, with proprieter attached, went through the picture window facing the street.

The squealing, screaming flight of the hostesses left the entertainment to the imagination of the patrons. Several pair of calked boots were soon performing enthusiastic jigs on the mirror surface of the bar. Into this melee of flying feet, fists and furniture strode the village marshal, only to be promptly escorted outside to safety.

To insure his remaining out of harm's way, the bodyguards handcuffed him to a convenient utility pole. Every half hour, two fingers of the-best-in-the-house was administered to the constable to ward off the evening chill, conclusive proof, of the high regard these men had for the law.

Tree Houses

By BOB CLOCK

We committed an error in the Courier Aug. 1.

We reported, without checking, a complaint lodged with the Charlevoix City Council that there were six inhabited tree houses in the vicinity of the Boy Scout cabin on city-owned property at North Point.

Two weeks earlier the council heard a report that hippies were skinny-dipping in Lake Michigan in the same general area.

Unfortunately, council meetings don't end until the wee hours and there is little time for investigative reporting before the Courier must be on the press Tuesday morning. So we ran the tree house complaint without checking.

Tuesday afternoon and Wednesday of that week were rainy, so we postponed our visit to the wild dunes and tangled forests of North Point until Thursday afternoon when the sun broke behind scattered clouds.

Frankly we were intrigued by the possibility that in the Year of Our Lord 1973 some young folks might actually have the audacity to thumb their noses at indoor plumbing and electric dishwashers and wile away a pleasant summer on wooden platforms under leafy canopies, high above the chipmonks and ferns that inhabit North Point.

And the more I thought about the possibility, the better I liked it. Why, after all, I asked myself, should man, with all of his wisdom and knowledge, let himself be laced into the straight-jacket of civilization and spend his days worrying about the soaring cost of maintaining a house and feeding a family in these inflationary times?

"Who is smarter?" I asked myself. "The hippie who lives in a treetop without a worry in the world, or old Clockwise, who is virtually chained to his desk seven days a week and still can't make ends meet?"

The answer was so obvious it unnerved me.

So armed with a camera and a pad of paper, I jumped in the bus, picked up George Duke, who more or less shares my enthusiasm for the simple life, and headed for the dunes at North Point. I wanted to interview these tree dwellers, if they would let me get close enough, and take pictures of them in their natural habitat.

I wanted to know what drove them to take up residence in their unique treetop shelters on public land.

I wanted to know how they spent their days.

I wanted to know if the high cost of living among the earthbound had affected them.

I wanted to know if it were possible in these tumultuous times to remove oneself totally from Watergate, dirty politics, traffic jams, beef shortages, and all of the ills that afflict the civilized world.

I just hoped they wouldn't start throwing coconuts at George and me before we had our answers.

We parked in the woods just beyond Mt. McSauba and continued on foot to the vicinity of the Boy Scout cabin where the tree dwellers were supposed to live. We spoke softly so as not to alarm them.

Gigantic maples and hemlocks, washed and still glistening from the recent rains, formed a cathedral arch over the narrow path that leads from the end of the road to the cabin site. It was hard to imagine that such a sublime wilderness exists only a hoot and a holler from the corner of Bridge and Clinton-sts.

We searched the trees along the path for signs of human habitation but didn't see any. The Boy Scout cabin, which was supposed to be the center of the colony, was equally uninhabitated, although a three-foot dune of beer cans in one corner was mute evidence of many a raucous beer party over the years.

From the cabin we walked to the beach. No tree houses.

Then back through the woods to a spot further down the shore where wind and water have carved a huge bowl in the dunes. No tree houses.

Then back to the rear slope of Mt. McSauba where snow fences marked the bottom of the ski lift. No tree houses.

Then up a huge dune on Earl Young's North Point property. It offered a magnificent prospect on all sides, but there wasn't a tree house in sight.

Both George and I were disappointed. I guess we wanted to believe that there are Thoreau-like people in this day and age sufficiently unfettered to live like animals in the tree tops. But there aren't.

When we entered the woods, it struck me what a beautiful city park it would make, if only it were more accessible to the public.

But now I'm not so sure.

Maybe the North Point woods should remain just like it is for all time to come, just in case someone, in some distant age, wants to build a tree house and live in it.

Watergate

By JIM FITZGERALD

Worrying and wondering about Watergate......

H.R. HALDEMAN reminds me of every lieutenant I had during World War 2. John Ehrlichman reminds me of every captain. And John Dean reminds me of the sniveling corporals who always told the sergeants when the privates goofed off.

Of course, I was in the German army. Sauerkraut on a shingle.

PRESIDENT NIXON may not be a burglar but he certainly has been running around with a lot of weird types. I think he hires his help the same way they do on the loading dock. Whoever is first in line at 5 a.m. gets a day's work.

A lot of people wonder why Nixon has handled Watergate so stupidly from a public relations standpoint. If he is so innocent, why won't he release those tapes to Top 40 disc jockeys? People are bound to be suspicious.

I think I have the answer. Nixon wants you to get so steamed about Watergate you won't notice what else is going on. Right now he's probably sorry he wasn't caught driving the get-away car at Watergate. That would have caused such an overwhelming stink you wouldn't have noticed a secondary odor when it was revealed that we bombed Cambodia for 14 months and almost no one knew it except the people getting killed and they never told.

If you weren't so hypnotized by Sen. Ervin's eyebrows, you might be wondering what else we've been bombing. Has anyone heard from Castro lately? Or Massachusetts?

REMEMBER THAT marvelous movie about Dr. Strangelove? There was that delicious scene when the Pentagon brass got into a squabble while discussing policy in the war room. And the President brought them quickly to heel with the stern reminder that: "There is no fighting allowed in the war room."

Which naturally brings us to Robert Seamans, Secretary of the Air Force during all those months when Cambodia was being bombed. He admits he didn't know about the bombing. That's what makes this country great. President Nixon lies to everybody, no matter what their race, creed or station in life.

Has anyone seen Peter Sellers lately? I think he is Robert Seamans.

IF J. EDGAR HOOVER had only died a few years earlier, the Nixon administration could have blamed him for inflation, continuation of the Vietnam war, and Dutch elm disease.

When John Ehrlichman hinted that Hoover might have been soft on Communism, Efrem Zimbalist Jr grabbed a plunger and stormed the White House, insisting he wanted to be a plumber.

MOTHER ASKED me please not to write anything about Watergate because she is sick of reading about it. What she doesn't understand is that, these days, if a columnist doesn't write wise things about Watergate, he might lose his job.

Which would put me back in line at the fruit pickers' hiring hall, hunting for a day's work. Do you want your son to end up as a Presidential assistant, Mother?

Hare-Raising Tale

By JIM REUS

Even Charles Mott, heir to a fortune of stock in General Motors Corp., is fighting the rising cost of food. The multi-millionaire set up a chicken coop atop his New York City penthouse.

The layers provide him with eggs every morning, and a nice chicken dinner whenever he wishes.

Following Mott's lead, I've heard of several families who are considering growing in their own critters. Now this may sound very appealing in light of the high food costs, but people should be aware that there can be problems.

In our decentralized society the average home is often removed from many of life's unpleasant activities. People sometimes forget that even today life remains a struggle to survive, however subtle. Let me illustrate this point for you with a case history from years ago.

Grandpa Reus always used to raise rabbits. He was quite fond of them, and always had between 20 and 30 in his hutch. This was fine, since every summer when the family held its two-week reunion, all the grand kids would play with the rabbits.

We loved them. And since there were 20-odd grandchildren, we would each have our own rabbit for two weeks. We'd give them names and have them out of the hutch to play with us all the time.

We always hated leaving, because that meant giving up the rabbits. There was only one nice thing about going home. The Sunday before we left we'd have the biggest chicken dinner you've ever seen.

Sister Eileen, the eldest grandchild, was nine years old the summer she noticed something strange about the chicken on the dinner table.

The grandchildren and adults were feasting on chicken, and didn't notice when she left the table.

She was back in a few minutes and got the oldest six grandchildren to sneak away with her to her room. We sat down on the beds and she started lecturing.

Eileen had just won a blue ribbon in Sunday School that day for being the best student in the summer Bible school. And that morning she had recited the Ten Commandments before the entire congregation at church.

So that afternoon she became our authority-in-residence on the dictates of the Christian religion regarding the slaying of rabbits.

We all sat in the room spell-bound listening to her preach. At first we protested, but finally accepted the truth: Some of our furry friends were no longer very furry and they were resting peacefully in our own stomachs! We all started feeling sick.

Grandpa, that seemingly kind person full of funny stories and a big lap to sit on, was really not so kind afterall. He was a murderer!

And as if that wasn't bad enough, our fathers she claimed had been accomplices. She filled our heads with visions of the dads marching the rabbits up a scaffold to their doom, where Grandpa pulled the lever.

At this point cousin Bill protested. Hadn't Grandpa that same morning in that hot sticky church given each grandchild a peppermint. And hadn't he endured the stares of the minister when 20 crinkly cellophane wrappers opened right in the climax of the sermon.

Besides, Bill said, the "chicken" was good and he was still very hungry. And what would Grandpa do with all the rabbits that would be born if we didn't eat some of them? He would be eaten out of house and home. Leaving us with that problem to ponder. Bill left for more food.

But Eileen was quick to dismiss Bill as a self-serving heathen and continued. As soon as she could think of the appropriate hymn, we were to march down to the dinner table singing along the way. At that time she would face the guilty parties with their crime.

We lined up and were about to march down when the door opened and Uncle Bill came in. Martyrs all, we were summarily marched down stairs.

After a brief confrontation, we were paddled for leaving the dinner table and sent to our rooms without supper.

We were all upstairs when Eileen started talking through the walls about how we shouldn't feel bad. She went on about St. Peter and suffering for a cause and self-scrificed and how we should feel good about spiritual rewards.

But I was only six and she was nine and knew a lot more than me. I listened to everything she said, but my stomach kept growling and my bottom kept aching. And I couldn't help but think that a piece of that "chicken" would taste awfully good.

And so people who grow your own critters be forewarned. Though it may seem economically appealing, watch out for emotional attachments that can keep your meat on the hoof for a long time....even longer than Nixon's economic policies.

MEN'S SLOW-PITCH

The big game of the week was played on Saturday, Aug. 11. In the playoff for the First Round Championship Topside defeated Shed 11-9. Topside had all the wood that evening, as the bats of Terry Blissett, Stew Coleman and Tim Carey connected for homeruns. Bob Crain pitched the win and Gary Balch the loss.

In regular season play of the second round on Monday, Aug. 6., Townhouse defeated Freedman's 10-7. Ron Wieslik pitched the win. Glen Cunningham took the loss.

Shed defeated Medusa 10-2. Gary Balch pitched the win. Stan Johnston piched the loss.

Airport defeated American Mold 5-4. Jack Niswander pitched the win. Don Wells took the loss.

In the nightcap Jim's Standard lost to Coast Guard 14-5. Dick Rainville hit a home run for Coast Guard, helping Tony Warchol along as winning pitcher. Tom Pence took the loss.

On Wednesday, Aug. 8, Townhouse was blasted by Portside 4-1. Fritz Allard was winning pitcher on a three hitter. Ron Russell was the loser, giving up eight hits. The remaining games that evening were rained out.

On Friday, Aug. 10, Jim's Standard lost to Townhouse 6-2. Ron Wieslik was winnig pitcher on an 11 hitter. Tom Pence was tagged with the loss.

Topside then turned bottoms up on Jim's defeating tthe Standard bearer 14-3. Al Curry, Stew Coleman, Terry Blissett and Kraag Laeberman all had homers for Topside, helping Bob Crain to another easy win. Tom Pence took the loss.

In the third game, Portside blew Airport out of the skies 11-10. Fritz Allard pitched for Portside, getting credit for the win in a real close game. Jack Niswander was tagged with the loss, giving up 16 hits.

The last game of the night was another tight match, going into extra innings. Andy's finally air hammered Medusa in the ninth inning, 13-11. The tire people's Dean Mikulsi blasted a homer to crumble Medusa's hopes for victory. Bob Holtzman was the winning pitcher. Dan Smith was the losing pitcher.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH

On Tuesday, Aug. 7, First State Bank defeated Ski & Shore Properties 13-10 in the first game. The game was a close one and set the bank girls into quite a tizzy. But Judy Elzingu smacked a homer for the bank and they foreclosed on the real estate people. Pam Parsel was the winning pitcher. Pat Lass took the loss.

County State Bank then destroyed Hufford's 17-1. Arlene Blissett took the huff out of the local industry, pitching in a 5 hitter. Cindy Kitely took the loss, giving up 17 hits.

It was another basket case for the Hospital in the third game, as Edward's did the trick 16-5. Jeanne Ramsdell took the loss for the unhealed healers, who were wiped out by Cheryl Pence's two homers and the pitching of Marge Carey.

The church team got back into form again after their disasterous win over Ski & Shore last week. Christie Potter pitched an 18 hitter against the colonel's team to lose 21-3. Jodi Alger pitched the win on an eight hitter.

On Thursday, Aug. 11, Edward's continued their winning ways by defeating the church 12-8. Marge Carey won another one. Christie Potter lost another one. So it goes.

County State Bank then defeated A & W 11-5. Arlene Blissett was the winning pitcher. Val Peters took the loss.

First State Bank then whipped K.F.Chicken 11-7. Pam Parsel was the winning pitcher on an 11 hitter. Jodi Alger was the losing pitcher, giving up 12 hits.

Playing without the intelligent leadership of their young manager for the first time in the second round, Ski & Shore Properties, Inc. also won a game for the first time in the second round to close out the evening. The realtors cleaned out the Hospital 16-15. When even the ravaged relators can defeat them, the hospital is in bad shape. Pat Lass was the winner on a 20 hitter. Jeanne Ramsdell pitched as the hospital lost another one. So it goes.

Because of the high number of cancelled games, the baseball season will be extended another week. Players check with your coaches for the times you play.

Adult Ed Program Approved by Board

The major action at Monday's school board meeting was re-establishment of an adult education program designed to offer courses relating to a high school completion and / or interest program and a second series to be known as adult enrichment classes.

It was proposed that Roy Fortin, assistant high school principal, be designed to develop a program, starting two weeks earlier than his contract calls for and devoting additional time when the program is initiated. After a lengthy discussion, the board approved assigning this project to Fortin and approved an additional $500 for the work.

A tentative Group A or high school completion program was suggested that would include American Government, American History, English, French, Spanish, business related subjects, General Science (Consumer Ecology), Biology and Conservation among others that may be requested. Fortin advised that the school could receive State Aid if enrollments were completed by the fourth Friday in September so Sept. 17 was set as the deadline for enrolling and starting the classes.

A large variety of subjects have been suggested as enrichment classes. Among them are auto mechanics, welding, upholstering, electronics, freezing and canning, woodworking, furniture refinishing, Family budget planning, gardening, drafting and blue print reading, investment and family security, marriage enrichment and senior citizen.

Courses will be open to all adults. Classes taken for high school graduation will be given without cost. Those in the enrichment will cost an estimated $10.00 per course. Classes in Group A must have a minimum of six students while those in Group B should have a minimum of eight students.

Classes should meet 2½ hours two nights per week for 30 weeks if taken for high school completion. The adult enrichment classes should begin Sept. 17 and continue as desired by the enrollees.

Proposed attendance procedures and regulations for students were reviewed by Vane H. Smith, high school principal, that would allow student only a given number of absences in a semester before certain procedures would be initiated. After discussing the various phases of the proposals, Max Novak suggested that the high school teachers, who will be expected to keep the records, be advised of the plans before they are adopted. Smith said this would be done at once and teachers would be asked for comments and suggestions before the proposals were returned for adoption by the board. The board did, however, give its support to the proposals.

Another issue that was discussed and returned to the policy committee for revisions was the use of school facilities by the community. It is felt that local groups should be permitted use of the school for their programs but that it would be necessary to pay for custodial services and, in some instances, other expenses, depending on what facilities are required. These regulations are to be rewritten before they are approved.

In discussing the athletic program for the coming school year, Dale Burge said there would be a total of 14 different programs with a 15th, tennis, likely to be added.

Partridge, now Fr. Partridge, a Catholic priest at Cheboygan.

In 1946, Arthur E. Emmons joined the firm and two years later Lawrence Feindt, Mrs. Feindt's husband, began working for the company full time.

Services offered by the company include land surveying, platting, land title abstracts, title insurance and civil and mechanical engineering services. The company is a member of the American Land Title Association and the Michigan Land Title Association, of which Mrs. Feindt is currently president.

To be a full member of these organizations, a company must have copies in the office of at least 40 years of complete records of the transfers of title in the office of the Register of Deeds.

The firm actually possesses more than 110 years of court house records for Charlevoix County and has survey maps of much of the surrounding area, making it well quatified to trace the history of land titles.

The firm is an agent for three major title insurance companies, Burton Abstract and Title Co., Transamerica Title Insurance Co. and Chicago Title Insurance Co.

Charlevoix Abstract has a field office for land surveying and engineering services at St. Ignace, which covers the eastern half of the Upper Peninsula. Forty years of survey notes and maps for the area were recently purchased from the estate of the late Truman L. Jackson, former surveyor of Mackinac County.

Callender

Funeral for Mrs. Russell E. (Adeline C.) Callender, 62, of Eastport, was held Saturday at the Diton-Ebert Funeral Home in Central Lake, the Rev. Fr. Barnett officiating. Burial was in Lakeview Cemetery on East Torch Lake Drive.

Mrs. Callender, the mother of the Courier's Hearth and Home correspondent Jean Seymour, died Aug. 8 at Charlevoix Area Hospital after a lengthy illness.

The former Adeline Budnik was born in Bay City Sept. 25, 1911, and was married to Russell Callender in 1934. They moved to Eastport in 1951 where they operated the Was-Wa-Gun supper club until 1965.

In addition to her husband and Mrs. Seymour, Mrs. Callender is survived by a son, Gerald W. of Livonia; her mother, Mrs. Carl Budnik of Bay City; and a brother, Arthur, of New York.

the council during the meeting. The letter expressed the signers' disapproval of commercial strip zoning Petoskey ave.

Ance stated the letter was circulating long before his petition was filed. He wanted it made public that the letter was not the result of his petition for a zoning change.

Oscar Stroud demanded an apology from council concerning a new home on Division-st. The homeowners had purportedly made an "illegal" tap into the city sewer system.

Stroud claimed the homeowners and Charlevoix Township had followed all proper channels in getting the sewer tap. The oversight, if there was one was in the city government, Stroud claimed.

Mayor Hansen agreed with Stroud and made the apology.

UFO's Prowl Charlevoix Skies

What is the mysterious "unidentified flying object" (UFO) which has appeared almost nightly in the skies over Charlevoix for the past several weeks?

At this point, no one seems to know although literally dozens of persons have reported seeing a strange object glowing and maneuvering in the evening sky for the past month.

Courier adman Robert Young first reported seeing the object from his home south of Vanderbilt almost three weeks ago.

Since then, 27 persons have viewed the UFO from his big picture window which faces to the west. Young says the object appears to be in the Charlevoix area, possibly over Lake Michigan.

Since Young's initial report, an observer on the shore of Little Traverse Bay says he saw a mysterious object in the sky at 2:20 a.m. July 17. He described it as four bright slits of light in the sides of a large, faintly glowing oval shaped object.

The observer, who declines not to be named because of his position, said the object was not far above the water and moved at an incredible speed out Little Traverse Bay, finally disappearing behind trees on shore.

He said it dipped shortly before disappeared "like it was going to land at or around the Rod and Gun Club" on U.S. 31 North.

The same evening, his wife reported hearing a "humming sound" in the sky.

The object is invariably reported as moving in a southwesterly direction, although some observers say they have seen it make sharp, right-angle turns.

Ted Schantz and Randy Winchester of Charlevoix reported seeing an object performing such gyrations over Lake Michigan about a month ago.

Young describes the UFO as a "star of Bethlehem" with brilliant crossbars and a diamond-shaped exterior.

Ernie Brown, who lives between Charlevoix and East Jordan, said he watched a mysterious object in the sky shortly before 10 p.m. last Saturday night. He said it appeared to be moving toward East Jordan. He watched it for about 15 minutes before reporting the incident to Miss Fran Martin of Charlevoix.

The most recent sightings were made Monday evening by members of Miss Martin's family, who reported seeing the UFO over Lake Michigan, traveling in a southwesterly direction.

Young, who contacted the Air Force's Radar Bomb Scoring Unit at Bay Shore after his original sightings, says he was told that the bomb scoring radar equipment at the base is not geared to scan the skies for UFO's.

Ever since the days of the Three Wise Men, unidentified objects in the sky have been the subject of exhaustive and sometimes fearful speculation.

However it wasn't until 1947 that the first full-blown "flying saucer" scare swept the country, with reports of sightings coming from all quarters.

The Air Force conducted a thorough investigation and was able to explain most of the sightings as natural phenomena.

Several years ago, glowing objects in the sky over Ann Arbor were attributed to "swamp gas".

Since the advent of the space age in the 1950's, many sightings probably have been orbiting rocket debris, some of which stays aloft several years before burning up in the earth's atmosphere.

Other sightings undoubtedly have been such natural phenomena as shooting stars, comets and planets in unusual positions.

Still others are no more than aircraft.

However Sunday night, an observer in the Bay Shore area reported a bright light in the sky over Charlevoix. There was a heavy cloud cover at the time and the object appeared to be well below the clouds. It was the only light in the sky.

At least one observer finds nothing strange in the sightings of UFO's in the Charlevoix area. "Everyone else comes to Northern Michigan in the summer," he said, "so why not little green men?"

First State, Then Nation, Democrat Leaders Say

A team of top Democratic leaders converged on Charlevoix Sunday for the annual Democratic Party Picnic at the farm of Robert Wasoski on the Marion Center-rd.

Joining in the bratwurst and roast corn celebration with Democrats from Charlevoix, Antrim and Emmet counties were Jer[illegible] Cavanagh, former mayor of Detroit, and Sander Levin, who took on GOP Gov. William Milliken in 1972.

Both names are frequently mentioned as candidates for gubernatorial nomination next year.

Cavanagh told the group that present conditions have given Democrats a unique opportunity to send a message to the rest of the country, "to tell them that we have a party that responds to people's needs."

"But we can't wait until 1976," he said. "We have to start here in Michigan in 1974. We've lacked leadership in Lansing for several years. You'll remember that Bill Milliken campaigned for Nixon in 1972, not only in Michigan but throughout the Middle West. He should be held accountable."

Levin, a frequent visitor to the Charlevoix area since boyhood, called attention to the fact that 40 percent of northern Michigan voted Democratic in the last election, an area once considered solidly Republican.

"Nationally we know there has to be a change," he said. "But we can't count on Republicans to put us in office. We must do this ourselves. We must start now."

Also attending the picnic were Bill Jennings of Negaunee, a possible candidate for the 11th District Congressional nomination; Sam Fishman, UAW Community Action director; and Frank Garrison, regional director for the UAW CAP Council; Barbara Sawyer, field representative from the Michigan Democratic Party staff; and Tony Duerr, a candidate for the state legislature in 1972.

GOP Picnic This Sunday

Republican leaders, elected representatives and other party boosters are expected to turn out in force Sunday, Aug. 26, for the annual Charlevoix County GOP Picnic at the Golf View Motel at the corner of Mercer-blvd. and U.S. 31.

The chicken barbecue picnic will start at 1 p.m. and continue until 5 p.m.

Tickets may be purchased at Kings Restaurant in the Oleson Shopping Plaza, the Wayside Motel and the Golf View Motel.

Aid Bill to Hurt District

Schools to Get Less From State

The following discussion of the new Michigan state aid law for schools was prepared by Charlevoix School Superintendent James McKimmy. A hearing on the Charlevoix School District levy will be held Tuesday, Aug. 28, at 7:30 p.m. in the Home Economics room of Charlevoix High School.

By JAMES MCKIMMY

The newly enacted state aid law signed by the governor on Aug. 14 means a loss of revenues to the Charlevoix Schools.

The legislatures design for support to local schools benefited low valuation districts throughout the state, while districts with higher property values gained little or suffered actual losses of revenue.

The Charlevoix School District is one of those districts which will receive fewer dollars per pupil from state aid sources in 1973-74 than was received in 1972-73.

The new law is an attempt to equalize the amount of money available to each school district in the state for equal local tax efforts. The new law provides combined state and local dollars to each school district equal to $38 per child per mill levied up to a maximum of 22 mills. School districts which levy less than 20 mills will have their support reduced by the formula.

The state legislature has been involved in debate on how to reduce the dependency on property tax revenues for support of local schools. This new bill equalizes the dollar support behind each student throughout the state. The supreme court had ruled that educational opportunities were unequal throughout the state and must be equalized by the legislature.

This law is an effort to meet this requirement imposed by the supreme court of the State of Michigan. However, the bill in its new form continues to use the property tax as the basic form of support. It requires each local school district to levy 22 mills to gain maximum benefit from the state support available.

The net result to the Charlevoix Public Schools is a loss of approximately $27,000 of state aid. The Board of Education will be faced with a need to replace these revenues and to gain additional revenues to meet the increases in costs of operation for the 1973-74 school year.

The Charlevoix Public Schools levied 20 mills for operation of schools for 1972-

Tennis Tournament Resumes Wednesday

By JIM REUS

Charlevoix held the first half of its first annual tennis tournament over the weekend. The tournament so far has been a big success, according to city recreation director Curt Kipke. (See pictures on pages 10 and 11)

Men's and women's singles and doubles matches were played on Saturday and Sunday, with many excellent matches taking place.

Competition for children aged under 16 is slated for this Wednesday and Thursday, Aug. 22-23.

Two standouts in the men's matches last weekend were Bill Streng of Charlevoix and Lyle Jensen of Petoskey.

Streng, aged 62, was the "most distinguished" player on the courts. He demonstrated experience is a valuable asset, as he teamed with Rob McDermott of Charlevoix to win the men's doubles division. Streng and McDermott defeated Lyle Jensen and Merrill Champion of Petoskey in the championship match, 6-1 and 6-0.

Though he didn't win any division, Lyle Jensen was runner-up in both the doubles and singles division. Jensen played seven matches over the weekend, three on Saturday and four on Sunday. He lost in the finals of the singles division to Dr. Roger Postmus of North Point 6-2 and 11-10.

Winners in the different divisions include:

WOMEN'S DOUBLES

Edith Gilbert and Gretchen Olsen of Charlevoix defeated Betty Georgi and Patty Janiro also of Charlevoix 6-0 and 6-0 in the finals match.

WOMEN'S SINGLES

Connie Meech of Bay View

CHARLEVOIX'S first "fall storm" can come anytime from mid-June to mid-September. But it usually arrives in mid-August, as it did Monday. Thirty mile-per-hour winds with stronger gusts piled up towering waves on the Lake Michigan beach, to the delight of bathers and surfers.

DONALD BLALOCK, of the Charlevoix Jaycees, receives plaque from Robert Bergmann, president of the Charlevoix-Emmet Association for Retarded Children, in recognition of a gift of $504 the association received recently from the Jaycees. The money was raised through the Jaycees' jelly sale this spring. Some $300 went toward the Special Olympics. The rest was donated to the state Association for Retarded Children.

Milk Price To Skyrocket In September

John Boss, consultant for Maxbauer's Dairy, reports that the price dairy farmers receive for milk will increase 60 cents a hundredweight, effective Sept. 3.

Combined with a price increase of 45 cents a hundredweight effective Aug. 1, consumers next month will pay two and one-third cents more for a quart of milk than they did in July, Boss said.

Boss said the increase will mean from $80 to $125 more every other day for some of the Charlevoix area's larger dairy farmers.

He added that the 60 cents per hundredweight jump is the largest he has seen in his 44 years in the dairy business.

Mrs. Dixon Marks 30 Years With Bank

Mrs. Maurice (Dorothy) Dixon, assistant vice president and cashier of the First State Bank of Charlevoix, celebrates her 30th anniversary with the bank Thursday, Aug. 23.

The bank is planning open house to honor Mrs. Dixon. Punch will be served throughout the day to her friends and well-wishers.

Rising through the ranks as a bookkeeper and teller, Mrs. Dixon was appointed an officer of the bank in 1950 and in 1970 was appointed cashier.

Last year, Thomas Duke, chairman of the board of directors, announced her promotion to assistant vice president.

Mrs. Dixon recalls it was a hot summer day when she, a frightened young girl, came to work at the bank for the first time. Her fears soon disappeared, and to this day she takes a personal interest in making a new employee's first day of work as warm and friendly as she can.

Mrs. Dixon remembers that the bank's total assets were just $368,000 in those days and she remembers every milestone in the bank's continuing growth. Today the bank has assets of more than $8 million.

Although some days are hectic, Mrs. Dixon still takes time to counsel her many friends on their banking problems. She also is active as treasurer of the Charlevoix County Chapter of the American Cancer Society.

To Dedicate Historic Site At Elk Rapids

The ruins of the Elk Rapids Furnace at Elk Rapids, one of Michigan's greatest producers of charcoal iron, will be dedicated as a Michigan Historical Site Tuesday, Aug. 28.

Jerry Roe of Lansing, a member of the state Historical Commission, will officially dedicate an Historic Site Marker in ceremonies at 10 a.m.

Roe also is executive director of the Michigan Republican Party.

The brick ruins at Elk Rapids are all that is left of the hearth of the Elk Rapids Furnace, which was operated as early as the 1870's.

Abstract Co. Open House Is Thursday

Charlevoix Abstract and Engineering will hold open house at its newly remodeled and redecorated offices on Bridge-st. Thursday, Aug. 23, from 2 until 7 p.m., according to Mrs. Mary Feindt, engineer.

Dr. A. Alvin Ranger, a native of Charlevoix who has recently joined the company, will be on hand to welcome visitors.

Indian River Shrine Is Scene of Nuptials

The bride is the daughter of Mr and Mrs. Harold Hewitt of Ellsworth. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Paddy Patrick of Charlevoix.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of sheer nylon organza. The bodice was accented by re-embroidered lace of rayon nylon acetate. The Empire-styled gown had a high collar and long sleeves of nylon organza and lace. Her net veil was secured by a crown beaded with crystal and pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink rosebuds, white carnations and stephanotis.

Mary Charbonneau was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a full-length, long sleeved gown of pink and white rayon chiffon. Ruffles, lace and rosettes accented the bodice.

In identical gowns were bridesmaids Della Patrick, a sister of the bridegroom; Elaine Putnam, a cousin of the bridegroom; and Mrs. Ronald Sitzema. They all carried bouquets of pink and blue rosebuds and delphiniums.

Dan Patrick, brother of the bridegroom, was best man and groomsmen were Ronald Sitzema, and Tim and Michael Charbonneau, brothers of the bride. Kenneth Charbonneau, another brother of the bride, and Lindy Wieland were ushers.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a reception at the Charlevoix Rod and Gun Club, with music by the Richard Springstead trio from Traverse City. The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the bride's parents.

The newly-weds are on a honeymoon trip to Mayport, Fla., where he is stationed with the U.S. Navy.

The wedding cake was made by relatives of the bridegroom and flowers were supplied by the bridegroom's aunt, Mrs. Ralph Leist of Horton Bay.

Book Sale Nets $640 For Indian Children

The third annual Project Ch-I-C-O book sale held Aug. 9 through 11 at the library netted $640, according to Mrs. Ethel Weisinger, chairman.

Ch-I-C-O stands for Charlevoix Indian Children's Opportunities.

Sponsored by the Charlevoix Women's Club, Project Ch-I-C-O is aimed at raising funds to provide whatever financial assistance is needed to help keep Indian children in school, broaden their learning opportunities and continue their education beyond high school.

The annual book sale, held the same week at the Waterfront Art Fair, is the project's only source of revenue.

Mrs. Weisinger extends her thanks, to all who donated books for the sale and who helped in other ways to make the sale a success.

She extends special thanks to Frank Kublchek who assisted throughout the sale and to Dr. Robert Martin who donated some of his time to the project.

Low on Tax Notes

The bid submitted by the Charlevoix County State Bank on $200,000 in tax anticipation notes, being the lowest of the two received, was accepted at a special meeting of the Charlevoix Board of Education held Friday.

The interest rate asked by the low bidder was 5 per cent.

The second bid, submitted by the First State Bank, was for 5.750 per cent.

The notes, dated Aug. 10, 1973, will come due March 1, 1974, and will be paid by revenue from 1973 taxes.

'Watermelon Seed'

"The Watermelon Seed," Traverse City's newest maternity clothing shop, will open for business Aug. 24.

The new shop will be located at 117 E. Front-st., in the former Christian Science Reading Room.

Independently owned by residents of the Traverse City area, the shop will carry new maternity clothing lines from Chicago, New York and California for expectant mothers of all ages.

L.I. Replogle Sponsors State Department Award

Luther I. Replogle, former U.S. ambassador to Iceland and a summer resident of the Belvedere Club in Charlevoix, has established a $1,500 annual cash award recognizing improved management techniques.

The first award went to Theodore L. Eliot jr., special assistant to the secretary and executive secretary of the Department of State, who was cited for initiating reforms in the Executive Secretariat which have enabled the department to be more responsive in replying to more than 20,000 documents addressed to its principal officers each year.

Replogle proposed making the annual award last April and the offer was accepted by Secretary of State William Rogers.

The system proposed by Lewis is supported by computers and indexes and controls all correspondence much more rapidly than the manual system which it replaced. Twenty-four geographic and functional bureaus are kept informed more speedily of current needs. Space required for storage of documents is greatly reduced by the use of photo-processing equipment which permits storage of 60 pages of text on 4 by 6 inch microfilm cards.

Until 1969, Ambassador Repogle was president and chief executive officer of Replogle Globes, Inc., of Chicago which he found in 1930 and which is now subsidiary of the Meredith Corp. He presently is a vice president of the Meredith Corp.

From Sept., 1969, to June, 1972, Replogle served as U.S. Ambassador to Iceland. Although his home is in Chicago, he spends part of every summer at the Belvedere Club.

LUTHER I. REPLOGLE, right, former Ambassador to Iceland and a summer resident of the Belvedere Club, presents the first Luther I. Replogle Award for Management Improvement to Theodore L. Eliot jr., special assistant to the Secretary of State. The presentation took place recently in the diplomatic reception area of the Department of State.

About once a year we like to remind our patrons of our current list of periodicals. We are presently receiving 75 magazines which come to us either on a weekly or monthly basis. With all of us news-conscious and eager to keep informed of both domestic and international happenings, it's nice to know that magazines covering all areas and with interest for all age groups are available at the Library. All magazines may be checked out except the most current issues.

New subscriptions available this year include several magazines for children. "Child Life," with stories, puzzles, games and recipes; "Ranger Rick," published by the National Wildlife Federation, a beautiful magazine filled with color photography of animals, and "Children's Digest." For the teenagers there is "Street Chopper" which tells all there is to know about bikes each month, "Song Hits," with works to the top hit song of the month, "Hot Rod," an old standby, "Sport," "Motor Trend" and "Motorcyclist" – all new to our shelves.

The adult periodicals rang alphabetically from "American," "American Baby," "American Heritage," "American Historical Review," "American Rifleman," "Atlantic" and "Atlas," to "Vital Speeches," "Vogue," "World Magazine" and "Yachting." Tucked in between but just as important, oar patrons will find "Better Homes & Gardens," "Ebony," "Congressional Digest," "Consumer's Report," "Farm Journal," "Field & Stream," "Holiday," "McCalls," "Mother Earth News," "Newsweek," "Popular Mechanics," "Science," "Time," "U.S. News and World Report" and "U. N. Monthly Chronicle."

Daily and weekly newspapers include the "Courier," "Petoskey News-Review," "Christian Science Monitor," "Detroit Free Press," "N.Y. Times," "Northland Press" and "Wall Street Journal."

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Judge Arthur Rebel.

Clarence Frederick, 46, Boyne City, and Betty Freed (Frederick), 35, Boyne City, were bound over to the September term of Circuit Court on a charge of malicious destruction of property after examination. They were released on $200 bond each.

Peter Morales, Charlevoix, plead guilty to a reduced charge of simple assault and battery. He will be sentenced later. He originally had been charged with felonious assault, but the charge was reduced on recommendation of the prosecutor.

Martin Rebec, East Jordan, plead innocent to a charge that he harbored a barking dog, an offense under an East Jordan ordinance. Trial will be held later.

John E. Herman, 46, Saginaw, was found guilty at trial of speeding. He was assessed $15.

Douglas Richard Goodwin, 21, Ferndale, plead innocent to a charge of petty larceny and asked for the services of a court appointed attorney. Trial will be held later. He was released on $60 bond.

Karen Marie Murphy, 17, East Jordan, appeared on a charge of breaking and entering (felony). Case was continued.

John Robert Daniels, 23, Davison, was found guilty at trial disregarding a stop sign. He was assessed $25.

Benjamin Blossom, 17, Boyne City, waived examination on a charge of concealing stolen property and was bound over to the September term of Circuit Court. Bond of $1,500 was furnished.

Bruce W. Reid, 18, East Jordan, plead guilty to a charge of being drunk and disorderly. He was assessed $40.

Magistrate's Court

Catherine Holland, 34, Petoskey, was assessed $23 for speeding.

James H. Allen, Grosse Pointe, was assessed $15 for fishing without a license.

Sharon Breyer, 34, Traverse City, was assessed $28 for speeding.

Harold Couturier, 34, Rosebush, was assessed $19 for speeding.

John Monsell II, 41, Birmingham, was assessed $20 for speeding.

David Hayes, 28, Benzonia, was assessed $25 for speeding.

Robert Lee Greenwell, 21, Petoskey, was assessed $20 for speeding.

Robert D. Eckert, 26, Coloma, was assessed $20 for speeding.

Rand Alquist, 22, Iron Mountain, was assessed $20 for speeding.

A charge that Wayne M. Hofrichter of Greenfield, Wisc., operated a motorboat without plates was dismissed upon proof.

Diane Grad, 22, Detroit, was assessed $10 for speeding.

Charges that Terry Moore, 23, Charlevoix drove with an operator's license and without proof of insurance were dismissed upon proof.

Theodore J. Allsburg, 17, Grand Rapids, was assessed $10 for operating a motorcycle without a helmet.

Ronald L. Wojan, 22, was assessed $10 for operating a motorcycle with improper plates. He was assessed another $10 for driving his motorcycle without a helmet.

Robert P. Franzen, 22, Kalamazoo, was assessed $10 for driving his motorcycle without a helmet.

Robert A. Kenwabikise, 22, Oden, was assessed $10 for driving a vehicle with studded tires.

Highway Tax Collections Up 23.5 Pct. Over '72

Charlevoix County will receive $191,164 in Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections for the second quarter of the year, according to the state Highway Commission.

The figure compares to $158,168 for the second quarter of 1972.

State Highway Director John P. Woodford said net receipts of the highway fund during April, May and June amounted to $123,144,451, an increase of $23,444,938, or 23.5 percent over the same period of 1972.

Most of the increase was attributed to a two-cent-a-gallon increase in the gasoline tax, effective last Feb. 1. The diesel fuel tax did not go up.

For the second quarter, the city of Charlevoix will receive $17,996, compared to $14,343 last year. Boyne City will get $18,938 ($15,601), Boyne Falls, $2,312 ($1,872), and East Jordan, $10,666 ($8,785).

Emmet County's share of the second quarter receipts will be $221,549, compared to $186,753 last year. Antrim's share was $198,407, compared to $163,240 in 1972.

All state gasoline and diesel fuel taxes and license plate fees go to the Motor Vehicle Highway Fund.

Before distribution is made, collection costs are deducted along with 1.5 percent of the total for the Waterways Commission, and one-half cent of the gas tax for the new General Transportation Fund.

During the second quarter only, $1 million is set aside for a newly established "critical bridge" fund.

The Department of State Highways received 44.5 percent of the remainder, the 83 counties receive 35.7 percent and the 531 incorporated cities and village 19.8 percent.

Under this formula, the Highway Department will receive $54,799,281 as its share of second quarter collections. The counties will receive $43,962,569 and the cities and village $24,382,601.

Board of Review

Meeting as the Board of Review Monday, the City Council.

–Approved a waiver to three feet from the property line for Leonard Dubey at 504 May-st. Dubey will build a car port.

–Approved a waiver from 25 ft. to 7½ ft. to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Williams. The Williams will build a house on the Morales property on Norwood-rd., site of the former 'Bachelor Quarters".

–Denied a request by the owners of the Sand Castle for a waiver from 10 feet to five feet for the balconies on Park-ave. side of the development. The balconies have already been constructed only five feet from the property line.

–Denied a sign waiver to the Holiday gas station. The nationally owned outlet had requested a waiver from the present 36 sq. ft. maximum sign size to allow for their erected 42 sq. ft. sign.

--Approved Ken Boss' waiver request to 3 ft. from the property line at 203 Alice-st. for garage construction.

--Approved the waiver request by Michael Raecke for 113 Eaton-ave. Raecke was granted a rear yard waiver to five feet to construct a utility building.

Barbara Smith Wed In Methodist Ceremony

The United Methodist Church was the scene Saturday afternoon of the wedding of Barbara June Smith and Ronald James Winter of Kalamazoo.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Smith of Charlevoix and Mr. and Mrs. Russell J. Winter of Kalkaska.

The Rev. Elmer J. Faust officiated at the double-ring service before an altar graced with arrangements of white gladioli and pink daisies. He was assisted by the Very Rev. Walter J. Ziemba, President Rector, St. Mary's College and Seminary, Orchard Lake. Joseph Hanna of Petoskey, at the organ, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches.

Escorted by her father past pews marked with white satin bows and sprigs of stephanotis, the bride chose a gown of imported embroidered organza for her wedding. Bands of dainty Venise Lace trimmed the empire bodice, high neckline and short puffed sleeves. The skirt with back fullness terminated in a chapel length train. A matching cap held her lace-trimmed mantilla. She carried cascade bouquet of white daisies, pink roses, stephanotis, blue straw flowers and baby's breath.

Mrs. D. Lee Cross of Ossion, Ind., was matron of honor and Elaine Hautman of Decatur, Mrs. David J. Smith of Saginaw and Mrs. Steven G. Smith of Charlevoix, the latter sisters-in-law of the bride, and Elaine Hautman of Secatur, Mich., were bridesmaids.

They wore identical gowns of pink flocked voile styled with scooped necklines framed with self ruffles, short puffed sleeves, raised waistlines circled with grosgrain ribbons and bows and streamers, and gathered skirts with fluted hemlines circled with self ruffles. Their white picture hats had pink trim and they carried natural wicker baskets of white and pink daisies and baby's breath accented with blue straw flowers.

Michael Winter of Kalkaska assisted his brother as best man. Jeffrey Gardner of Gary, Ind., Fred Decker of Kalamazoo and Richard Hamnon of Phoenix, Ariz., were groomsmen. David J. Smith of Saginaw and Steven G. Smith of Charlevoix, brothers of the bride, seated the guests.

Mrs. Smith chose a pale pink polyester crepe full length gown and pink accessories for her daughter's wedding. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Winter, mother of the bridegroom, wore an aqua floor length gown of lace and chiffon. Her corsage was of white roses.

The couple will be at home in Kalamazoo after Aug. 27 following a Canadian wedding trip.

Wedding guests were present from New Mexico, Ohio, and numerous Michigan cities.

Mr. and Mrs. Winter, parents of the bridegroom, hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Holiday House in Petoskey Friday evening.

25,000 Expected to Walk 'Big Mac' on Labor Day

More than 25,000 persons are expected to participate in the 16th Annual Mackinac Bridge Walk on Labor Day morning, Monday, Sept. 3, 1973.

The four and one-half mile trek from St. Ignace in the Upper Peninsula over the Straits of Mackinac to Mackinaw City in the Lower Penninsula has been described as the world's greatest walking event— an exaggeration that is probably true.

There are two new developments in connection with this year's walk. First, because of Daylight Savings Time and the sun rising an hour later than in previous year, persons planning to get an early start will have to do so in the dark.

Second, the bridge walk will be preceded by the Lansing to Mackinac Bridge bicyclists; some 250-300 strong are scheduled to pedal across the bridge at 6:15 a.m. and return southbound at 7:00 a.m.

It is expected that Governor Milliken will lead the general bridge walk which commences at 7:30 a.m. The starting point is the Fare Plaza on the St. Ignace side. Walkers are urged to provide their own transportation to the starting point. However, some 60 buses will be transporting bridge walkers commencing at 5:45 a.m. in Mackinaw City. The deadline for starting the bridge walk is 10:00 a.m. The bus fare is 50 cents.

The International Walkers Association which sponsored the first bridge walk in 1958, will conduct its annual novice walking races. They will commence at 7:15 a.m. Cups and medals will be awarded to men and women, boys and girls by the I. W. A. Registration is necessary to participate in this event. Persons interested may sign up at the Bridge Plaza (north side) prior to the commencement of these races; or they may write to the International Bridge Walkers Association, 569 Cornell Avenue, East Lansing, Michigan 48823. Registration fee is 50 cents.

All walkers completing the trips are given certificates attesting to same. These certificates are numbered and keyed to prizes valued at more than $1,500.00 awarded by the merchants and the Chamber of Commerce of Mackinaw City.

Marching bands, boy scout troops, and community promotion groups are encouraged to participate in the bridge walk. However, running, jogging, roller skating, bicycling, anything but pure and simple strolling is prohibited during the General Bridge Walk.

Black Gown Tree Pageant Starts Aug. 31 at Straits

The eighth annual presentation of "The Black Gown Tree," a pageant dramatizing the life of the great missionary-explorer, Father Jacques Marquette, is scheduled for Labor Day weekend, Aug. 31, Sept. 1 and 2 in St. Ignace.

Father Marquette established his mission and the beginning of present-day St. Ignace in 1671. More than 100 townspeople, under the directorship of Professor John C. McCabe, Director of Communication Arts at Lake Superior State College, Sault Sainte Marie, Michigan, enact the stirring story of Marquette's great adventures both in St. Ignace and throughout the Mississippi Valley which he and Jolliet were the first white men to explore.

This year marks the 300th Anniversary of the Marquette - Jolliet "Voyage of Exploration." Last May 17, exactly three centuries to the day later, seven persons playing the roles of Marquette, Jolliet and five voyageurs departed from the shores of St. Ignace in two canoes to begin a trip duplicating the original.

IT TOOK three fishermen five hours to land a dozen trout Friday. From left are Milton and Annabelle Hoeglund of Farmington and Sally Cyr of Boyne City, who chartered a boat from Wards at the foot of Antrim-st. The catch includes 11 lake trout and one brown trout, ranging in weight from five to 14 pounds. The fish were taken at 150 feet, using herring dodgers and flash fly lures.

Rec. Dept. Sponsors Flag Football

The Charlevoix Recreation Department will sponsor a Flag Football Program for boys ages 9 through 13 years of age. Interested boys will participate in an 8-week program (2 weeks of practice and 6 weeks of games) designed to give youngsters a basic knowledge of the fundamentals and techniques of football.

Team practice will begin September 3, 1973 and continue through September 14, 1973. A 6-week schedule of games will begin September 17, 1973. Games will be played in the early evening at the softball field.

All interested players and volunteer coaches and officials are requested to sign up at 7:00 p.m., Tuesday, August 28, 1973 at the softball field. Participants are required to furnish their own helmets, tennis shoes, and colored sweatshirts.

1973 May Prove Best Yet for Coho, Chinook

Despite the smallest number of coho and chinook in the Great Lakes in three years and stricter snagging regulations than a year ago, Michigan's 1973 salmon fishing season should be the best on record, according to Automobile Club of Michigan.

"The reason for this optimism is that Michiganians now rank among the best-equipped and most-skilled sport fishermen in the world," explains Auto Club Touring Manager Joseph Ratke.

"The average Great Lakes angler has between $3,000 and $5,000 invested in equipment, including the most sophisticated gear on the market, and he has learned how and where to catch coho and chinook," states Ratke.

"When salmon were first introduced into the Great Lakes seven years ago, coho and chinook were a mystery and few anglers knew what was needed or how to go about catching them," he adds.

Auto Club points out that the early salmon fisherman attempted to navigate the Great Lakes in a 12- to 14-foot boat with wire line and lead sinks as his main fishing tools.

"Today, 18- to 22-foot crafts, depth sounding devices to locate fish, thermometers to find the proper salmon feeding temperature and downriggers that allow fishing to exact water depths are the rule rather than the exception," Ratke points out.

"Proof of the salmon fisherman's prowess in Michigan is evidenced by the fact that nearly two million coho and chinook have been caught in state waters during the past two years."

But in spite of this success, the salmon angler will be severely tested to prove his ability this season since fewer salmon will be available for catching than during the past two years. There are three reasons for this reduction.

The loss of nearly 3.5 million coho in two separate disasters at the Platte River Fish Hatchery forced large cutbacks in plantings the last two springs.

Selective plantings--initiated last year to eliminate unsuccessful salmon fishing and spawning areas--have reduced the number of salmon stockings in the Great Lakes and tributaries from a record 34 locations in 1971 to 28 in 1972 and 22 this year.

Egg collections for future plantings at several Lake Michigan harvest weirs dropped by more than 60 percent in 1972 as compared with the previous year because of too liberal snagging regulations in Michigan streams.

In all, approximately 1.4 million mature coho and chinook (salmon that are at least three years old) will be available for catching in Lakes Michigan, Huron, Superior and tributaries, a drop of about 300,000 salmon from 1972 and 150,000 from 1971.

Lakes Huron and Superior have been hit hardest by reduced salmon plantings. Lake Huron, which received 1.2 million coho and 900,000 chinook in 1971, had only 250,000 coho and 514,000 chinook planted this year. Lake Superior went from 500,000 coho and 250,000 chinook in 1971 to 150,000 coho and 470,000 chinook in 1972, a total drop of 130,000 salmon.

Even Lake Michigan and tributaries, which yielded 77 percent of the 932,000 salmon caught in Michigan last year, were cut from 2.8 million coho and 1.9 million chinook plantings in 1971 to 2.3 million coho and 1.4 million chinook last year.

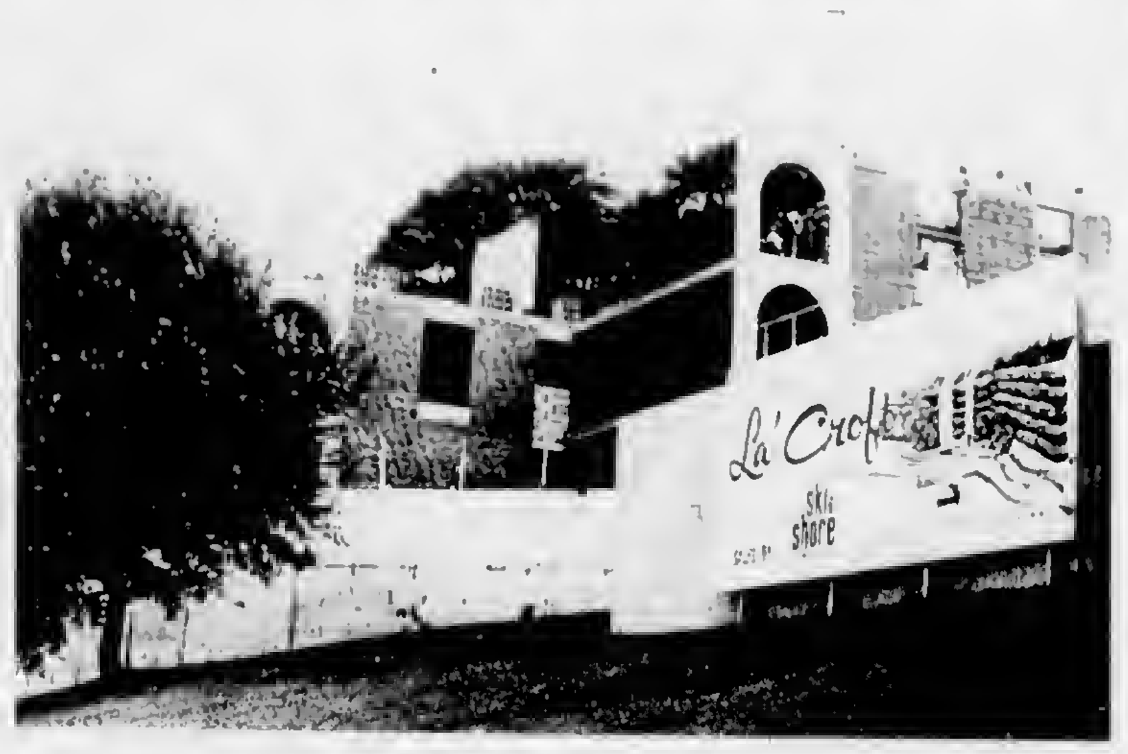
Condominiums Changing Skyline of Charlevoix



THE LARGEST of the condominium complexes in Charlevoix is LaCroft, located at the foot of W. Dixon on the site of the old Beach Hotel. The location is not a new one for living quarters, as the wooden huts of northern Michigan Indians rested on the bluff over Lake Michigan thousands of years ago.

LOCATED at the foot of Petoskey-ave., The Dunes condominiums are being developed by Ron Steffes of Southfield.

200 Units Are Under Construction

By JIM REUS

"What are they building here?" a young girl asked as she stood at the foot of West Dixon.

"Looks like condominiums," her mother replied.

"That's right, 64 of them," a local resident, standing within earshot, said.

"Last time I was here there was just a trail through trees to the beach.."

The remarks are typical of resorters who haven't seen the area for a while. The much-talked-about condominium development is moving into full swing in Charlevoix. Units are going up fast.

Some 200-odd condominium units are now under construction or slated for construction within the next year. At present there are some 130 units being built. Six different development companies are involved with the units.

LaCroft Development Co. of 113 Bridge-st. in Charlevoix and Gust Construction of Cedar Springs are working on the LaCroft condominiums. Located on the site of the old Beach Hotel at the foot of West Dixon, LaCroft is the largest complex under construction with 64 units. A model unit is scheduled for completion in September, while the entire project should be done by late fall.

The developers already have 37 reservations or options to buy on the proposed units.

Next in size is the 42-unit complex Chez Charlevoix on Petoskey-ave., developed by Dean Eby. The units are located across the road from the city golf course.

Eleven units are under construction, slated for completion by late winter or early spring. The remaining 31 condominiums will be built after the first 11 are completed. Maturation of the project will depend on sales, Eby said.

The third complex on the north side of Charlevoix is the Dunes, located at the junction of Petoskey and Michigan avenues. Ron Steffes of Southfield is developing the 25-unit complex.

On the south side of town are LaHarve, The Wharf and the Sand Castle.

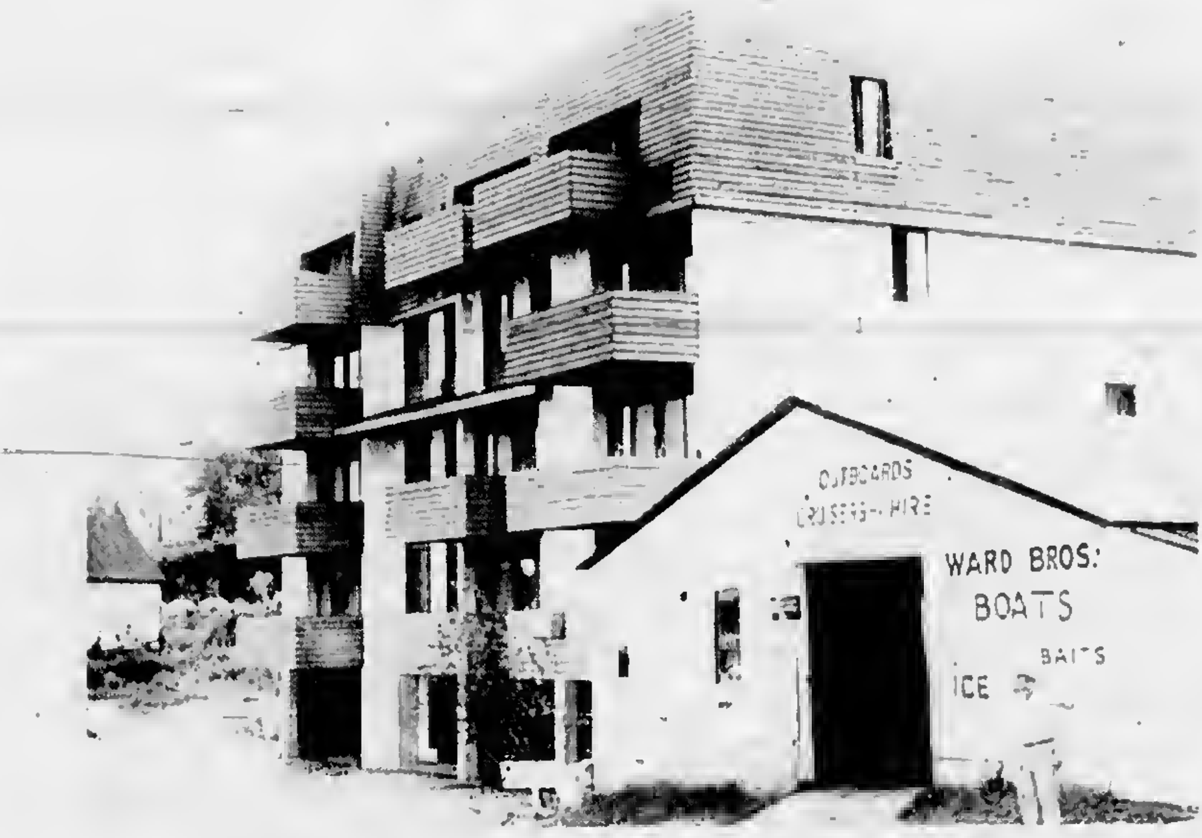
LaHarve of Charlevoix, Inc., an Ann Arbor-based firm, is developing a 36 unit complex in two phases. Phase A, now under construction, consists of 12 units. There are nine reservations on the 12 units and two on the proposed 24 units in phase B.

The first 12 should be finished in February, with Phase B completed approximately one year from next October.

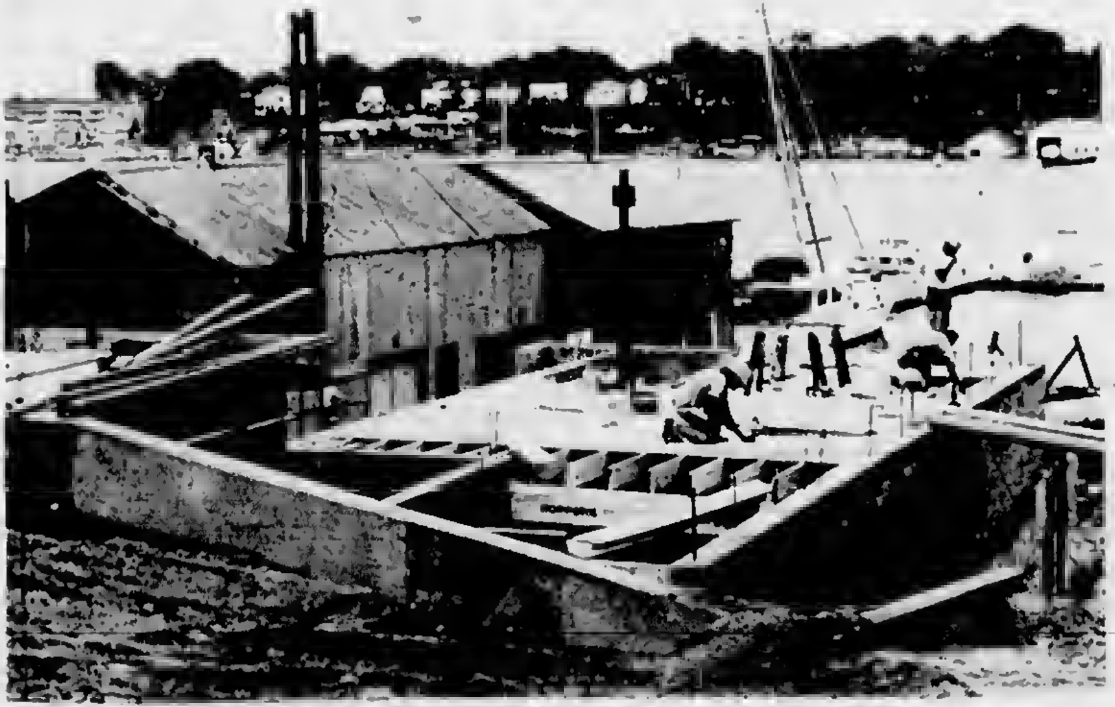
Like LaHarve, The Wharf condominiums are being built in two stages. Developed by Timberlee, Inc., of Traverse City, the complex features 11 in the first phase of construction and 16 in the second phase.

Located on Pine River Channel, the Sand Castle is the smallest of the six condominium developments. Eight units are under construction on the foundations of the old Tower Hotel. Larry Michaels of Kewadin is the developer.

Units range in price from about $35,000 to $70,000 among the different developments for one, two and three bedroom condominiums.



JUXTA POSITIONED with the old is the new. Built on Belvedere next to Ward's Charter Service, The Wharf Condominiums first phase of 12 units is the only completed complex in Charlevoix. Sixteen more are slated for construction in this group.



THE MARINA. Hamilton Yard will soon become LaHarve Condominiums. Foundations have been put down for the first 12 units of the complex, which will be built in two phases.

Hannas Win N'side Award

Northside winners of the Garden Club plaque for the two-week period ending Aug. 25 are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas G. Hanna, 703 E. Dixon-ave.

The red and white borders and window boxes compliment the white house which is surrounded by stately shade trees.

A vegetable garden in the back yard furnishes the family with fresh produce during the summer months.

Circlin' the Bases

By Jim Reus

Two comments must preface this week's edition of good ole Circlin'

Firstly, Curt Kipke, our athletic director, informs me that it's tournament time! Kipke says the trophies he purchased for this year are something else, so he wants everyone to turn out for the tournament games.

Secondly, Carl Novak deserves much thanks for his long, efforts out at the diamond, and especially for compiling the statistics each week that make up the basis of this column. So everyone be sure and tell him how much you enjoyed (?) reading Circlin' this summer. Now, on with business.

MEN'S SLOW-PITCH

Don Wells and the American Mold team started the week on Monday, Aug. 13, by warping Freedman's Artcraft 3-0. Wells turned in a six hit performance to do the trick, helped along by a homer from Bill Carey. Glenn Cunningham was the losing pitcher on a 10 hitter.

Airport crashed in the second game as Jim's Standard wiped them out 8-4. Frank Wilson pitched a seven hitter for the standard bearers, while Jack Niswander took the loss, giving up 12 hits.

Coast Guard cut through Medusa 16-10. Tony Worchol's pitching and Wayne Reiher's homer crumbled the cement people. Hank Archey took the defeat.

Topside made quick work of Townhouse 16-6. Tim Doan pitched the win, helped along with a homerun by Ralph Doan. Ron Weislik was the losing pitcher.

On Wednesday the Shed started things by blowing out the tire people 11-8. The game was loaded with homeruns, as Dean Mikulski hit one and Don Blalock hit two for the losers. O.J. Faust, Bernie Devries and Joe Beaudoin bagged round trippers for the winner. Randy Faust was the winning pitcher. Don Smith took the loss.

Topside grounded Airport 20-12 in another game loaded with homers. They were all for the winners, though, as Al Curry and Stewart Coleman, had three and Tim Carey had 2. Bob Crain pitched the win and Jack Niswander the loss.

Townhouse then slipped past Medusa 10-8. Ron Weislik was the winning pitcher. Stan Johnston was the losing pitcher. Pat Kerr and Tony Resch each hit a homer for the losers.

American Mold defeated Portside 8-3. Don Wells pitched the win, helped out by another Bill Carey homerun. Fritz Allard took the loss.

On Friday, the Mold team did the trick again on Jim's Standard 9-3. Pete Culver was the winning pitcher, helped along of course by a Bill Carey homerun. Frank Wilson took the loss.

Glen Cunningham and Freedman's then did in Portside Sports 16-3. Dale Terryberry, Glen Cunningham and Scott Blanchard all had homers for the winners. Fritz Allard was tagged with the loss.

Medusa cemented down the Airport 13-11 in the evening's third game. Jeff Collins, Beano Archey and Terry Miller hit homers for the Airport, all to no avail. Pat Kerr tagged one for Medusa, which was just enough mortar to cement the victory. Hank Archey was the winning pitcher, Beano Archey took the loss.

Shed wiped out Coast Guard 16-3 in the nightcap. O.J. Faust and Mike Bade caught the service men off guard, as each bagged homers for the winners. Gary Balch pitched the win. Tony Worchol pitched the loss.

In Saturday make-up games, Townhouse shot down the Airport people 14-9 to start things out. Ron Weislik pitched the win and Jack Niswander the loss.

Freedman's blasted apart the Airport people again 13-11. Glenn Cunningham was the winning pitcher and Dick Metegee took the loss.

Coast Guard then in turn defeated Freedman's 13-9. Jim Bowman was the winner and Glenn Cunningham took the loss. Terry Lybarger had a homer for the winners, while Dale Terryberry had one for the losers.

In the week's last game, Coast Guard won their second of the evening 8-7 over Portside. Tony Warchol was the winning pitcher. Fritz Allard took the loss. Dave Ebert bagged a homer for the guard.

WOMEN'S SLOW-PITCH

On Tuesday, Aug. 14, First State Bank started things by trouncing Charlevoix Hospital 26-7. Another basket case for the Hospital, as Pam Parsel pitched and Kit Lieberman bagged a homer for the winners. Long suffering Jeanne Ramsdell took the loss.

Ski and Shore Properties, Inc. and Hufford's played to an 11-11 tie in the second game.

County State Bank, behind the pitching of Arlene Blissett, defeated Kentucky Fried Chicken 20-13. Georgia Lusk had a homer for the winners, helping Jodi Alger and the colonel's team on to defeat.

A and W then nudged past Edward's 10-9. Cathy Sladek pitched the win and Marge Carey the loss. Connie Crain of A and W and Chris Davenport for Edwards each hit homeruns.

On Thursday County State Bank mutilated Hospital 23-2. Jerry Moore, Julie Supernaw and Georgia Lusk connected for homeruns for the winners. Arlene Blissett pitched the win while long suffering Jeanne Ramsdell took the loss.

Edwards defeated the colonel 6-3. Marge Carey pitched the win. Ann Carey pitched the loss.

A and W defeated the church 17-12. Connie Crain helped Marylin Cummings pitch a victory by bagging a homer. Christie Potter took the loss. Judy Potter hit a homerun in defeat for the church. In the evening's finale, First State Bank wiped out Huffords 18-10. Pam Parsel got credit for the victory. Cindy Kitely took the loss. Heidi Dove bagged a homer for the winners.

In Friday make-up games, Kentucky Fried Chicken cut up the Hospital 7-4. Jodi Alger helped herself pitch a victory with a homerun. Jeanne Ramsdell, of course, took the loss for a team badly in need of first aid.

In the last game of the week, Community Reformed actually won another game, beating Hufford's 7-6. It was a real shock for Christie Potter, who pitched the win, and for Cindy Kitely, who was tagged with the loss. So it goes.

CLARENCE F. RABACH, CLERK — IRA L. DAVIS, CHAIRMAN

Geneologist Fills Gaps in Saga of Island Pair

Dear Bob

Your August 8 "Clockwise" on Thomas and Mary Jane Hawkins was thoroughly enjoyed by this King of Prussia, Pa. subscriber, particularly the imaginative recreation of what could have been their story. Do you recall "Clockwise" of July 15, 1970, about Captain Smith, colorful sea captain of northern Lake Michigan, who died in 1915, age 82 - prompted by my request for his obituary? Mary Jane (Smith) Hawkins was his sister and some information about the Hawkinses is in my possession.

Mary Jane was born Dec. 3, 1829, Town of Chili, New York, doughter of William and Clarissa (Munn) Smith, her grandparents John and Nancy (Johnston) Smith, having come from Annan, Scotland, in 1796, to New York City where John was landscape gardner for Aaron Burr 1-2 years before settling in western New York state. William Smith and family moved from Chili to Michigan in 1834, farming first in Kensington, then Farmington, and finally Redford, Wayne County, where they lived on July 29, 1850, when Mary Jane married Thomas Jefferson Hawkins of Livonia in Livonia. He was born about 1827 in Steuben County New York, son of a David Hawkins.

I don't know when the Hawkinses came to Beaver Island. Her older brother, Tom Smith who eventually settled in Marion Township in 1864, brought his family to Beaver Island from Detroit in April 1852 on the side wheel streamer "Michigan". Brother Tim was fishing in the Grand Traverse area as early as spring 1853 and is thought to have participated in the "Battle of Pine River" that July. Brother Flavius Josephus Smith, called "Flave" and Tim married sisters in mid-1856 at Middle Village, Emmet County; then moved to Beaver Island later that year after Strang had been shot and the Mormons driven out.

I'd guess Jefferson Hawkins (as he was usually called) came up to work for his brother-in-law Tim Smith who then had a fish catching, packing and shipping establishment based on Beaver. Probably he left after Mary Jane died as he didn't reside on Beaver when the U. S. 1860 census was taken. At that time, their children, Timothy, 8, David, 7, and Oscar, 5, were with their Smith grandparents in Redford.

Jeff Hawkins married again, on August 13, 1862, at Aurelius, Ingham County, Michigan to Maryette Potter and had one son by her, born 1863. He enlisted in early 1864 in Company B, 2nd U.S. Sharp Shooters. On May 6, 1864, at the Battle of the Wilderness, in Virginia, he took a bullet in the right shoulder, and died of the wound on June 1, 1864, in Campbell Hospital, Washington, D. C. He was buried in Arlington National Cemetery, Grave 30, Range 4, Block 2, Section A. Perhaps, as you surmise, he was later re-interred on the Island, but I doubt it. Some day I'll check at Arlington.

The widow, Maryette, married again, at Eaton Falls, Eaton County, Michigan, about 1866, one John George, a Civil War veteran, and had six more children. She survived him and died in late 1917 or early 1918, possibly in Ludington.

No description of Mary Jane has been located by me, but Civil War Pension Application papers indicate that, at enlistment, Jefferson was 5' 6" tall, blue eyes, dark hair, dark complexion and a farmer.

To date I've not located any Hawkins descendants although it was found that Timothy lived at Vevay, Ingham County, in 1891, and Oscar (named for another of Mary Jane's brothers-who was in Custer's 1st Michigan Cavalry at Gettysburg, incidentally), died December 11, 1905, then of Redford and is buried in Mount Hazel Cemetery, Detroit.

The other son, David Edwin Hawkins married, 1878, in Charlevoix, Mary D. Thompson, kin to Charlevoix's first permanent settler, James Medad Thompson, and lived in Charlevoix or thereabouts at least until 1894 when his daughter Ethel Willetta (Hawkins) Christen was born there. David died April 22, 1938, ot Bellville, Wayne County, but trace of his daughter Ethel or other children has not come to light.

This summer while we were visiting Beaver Island for a day, my wife found the Hawkins head-stone to my great delight and surprise after seeing so very few permanent markers in the little cemetery. Previously, I'd written to St. James Township asking if there was record of Mary Jane's burial on the Island but never received response.

I still feel much indebted to your allowing me to review the old Courier microfilm films for Smith fomily materials a couple years ago; and the tip from your former associate, Jim Sisson, which led me, last year, to spend one solid week, 12 hours a day, reviewing a complete file, 1869-1934, of the Charlevoix Sentinel, in search of Smith items (finding much, particularly on Tim) and and general local history.

Each time I dropped in to say hello the past two summers, unfortunately, you were out of the office. Better luck next time!

Probably I've included far more about Thomas Jefferson and Mary Jane Hawkins than you want to know. My enthusiasm for the coincidence involved just carried me oway!

Since you sent me Tim Smith's obituary, bit by bit, parts of his story have surfaced. A few months ago, I tried to put it together. A copy of the result is enclosed. If it suits a purpose, please feel free to use it verbatim or otherwise, in whole or in part, the only condition being that your use does not restrict my own use of it some future time. And, should you have no use for it at all - no offense whatsoever.

Cordially,

Frank V. Phelps
253 Bernard Drive
King of Prussia, Pa. 19406

P.S. My guess about the Hawkins grave-stone is that it was erected sometime in the 1880s by Tim Smith, bought by proceeds earned by the Fleetwing and the Sea Gem and carried to Beaver Island in one of Tim's ships. It must have been a very expensive matter to install a tombstone on the island.

Racine Resident Lauds Stand on A-Moratorium

4700 James Avenue
Racine, Wisconsin 53402
August 14, 1973

The Editor
The Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan

Dear Sir:

For the past few years, I have really been concerned about problems dealing with nuclear industries, and since spring I have taken a firm stand in support of a nuclear moratorium. I see by reading Senator Gravel's newsletter that your paper has endorsed a moratorium for construction of atomic power plants, and that you favor a phaseout of existing plants. You are to be commended. I would be happy if our local paper would simply acknowledge that problems and dangers exist.

Last week I chanced upon the enclosed article in a publication of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom. The figures revealed by Martha Drake are shocking and frightening. I know of the studies done by Doctors Tamplin and Gofman, but the figures listed for Charlevoix County are more startling than I would have expected.

I wonder if you are aware of this study, and whether it is accurate and valid? I would appreciate any information that you could give me concerning the study; it would be great to use here in our area where there is considerable controversy over a proposed plant for Southeastern Wisconsin. I thank you for any help you may be able to give me.

Sincerely,
Morcia Olexander
(Mrs. Wendell Alexander)

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Alexander enclosed a copy on an article which appeared in Peace & Freedom magazine by Martha Drake of Petoskey entitled "Atomic Power Plants Endanger Life.)

The article asserts that in the first five years after Consumers Power Company's nuclear plant opened at Big Rock Point, infant deaths up to one year in Charlevoix County increased 2 percent, compared to a statewide decrease of 10 percent.

Immature births for the same period were up 21 percent, compared to a statewide decrease of 1 percent. Cancer deaths increased 35 percent, compared to a decrease throughout Michigan of 4 percent. Leukemia deaths in Charlevoix County rose 139 percent for the same period, while remaining constant through the rest of the state.

Mrs. Drake said population studies in the vicinity of the Shippingsport, Pa., nuclear plant show similar increases.

Mrs. Drake suggests that other sources of energy – solar, wind, geothermal, gassification of coal – be explored rather than continued reliance upon atomic energy to meet the nation's power requirements.

She cites as the three main areas of concern are (1) Emergency core cooling systems in nuclear reactors which have never been tested successfully; (2) Problems arising from the disposal of radioactive wastes; and (3) And the incorporation of deadly plutonium into nuclear plant fuel bundles. "It is the most toxic substance known to man. One pound can give every human alive lung cancer. There is no known way to dispose of or store it safely."

Raps City's Bid Policy

Attn: The Editor

Dear Sir:

It is a consolation to know that all of the people in Charlevoix do not agree with the city council's new "Charlevoix Only" policy!

I too, am wondering just what would happen should all of the surrounding communities adopt Charlevoix's insular buying policy.

Thank you for your kindness in our behalf.

Nixon Failed to Dispel Watergate Clouds

President Nixon's address to the nation last Thursday night on the Watergate scandal was a grave disappointment to millions of Americans who were hoping against hope that the President would say something – anything – to dispel the clouds that have been gathering about the top echelons of government for many months.

We had hoped he would offer to submit to the Ervin Committee the tapes of his recorded conversations with his former counsel John Dean which, if anything, could clear his name of any wrong-doing in the Watergate affair.

But he didn't.

We had hopes he would offer a plausible explanation of how his lieutenants had been able to engineer the Watergate breakin and subsequent cover-up without his knowledge.

But he didn't.

We had hoped he would have at least a modicum of praise for the painstaking efforts by the Ervin Committee to gain the truth.

But he didn't.

Instead, we were treated to a harangue on how much time and space the news media have wasted on the Watergate hearings.

We were told it is time for the hearings to end and for the courts to take over.

We were told that the Dean tapes cannot be made public because of the "confidentiality" which a president must share with his advisors and government leaders. Yet he did not explain why such conversations are taped in the first place, if confidentiality is all that important.

As we anticipated, the President told us to forget Watergate and look to more pressing problems. He suggested that the Watergate hearings have been responsible for a general slow-down in governmental activity which is detrimental to the health and well-being of the nation.

Although he accepted partial responsibility for what his henchmen did at Watergate, he insisted repeatedly that he himself was an innocent bystander.

We had hoped for something more from the President, but we didn't get it.

Meanwhile, the storm clouds gathering over the White House are more ominous than ever.

Let's Play 'Under My Government'

427 Michigan Ave.
Charlevoix, Mich. 49720
July 17, 1973

TO:
Mr. Bob Clock
Editor, Charlevoix Courier
Charlevoix, Michigan

Dear Bob:

May I do a Judd Arnett and play "Under My Government" via your newspaper?

Here goes. Under my government I'd make as my first order of business keeping "the beautiful" in Charlevoix the Beautiful.

To this end, under my government, I'd copycat Atlanta's tree ordinance – replace trees, plant additional trees, etc. We would make Bridge-st. the same leafy bower as Dixon-st., to name one pleasant residential street.

Under my government I'd speak gently to each businessman to ask him if he has or is doing all he can to beautify Charlevoix. Wouldn't he rather have the French theme advocated by the Chamber of Commerce than a neon sign with 68 colors?

Under my government I'd lose no time ordering a dozen metal mesh litter baskets to attach to poles along Bridge. There's no place for strollers to stash their trash– and its shows.

Under my government I'd hurry also to make a greensward again in front of the Beaver Island dock–add a few blossoms too.

Under my government, I'd declare Route 31 between here and Petoskey a scenic drive not to be despoiled by billboards and poor development.

Under my government I'd say to everyone I met – visit a city council meeting just once in your lifetime. If they come I'll sit facing them and talk into a microphone so they'll all know what I propose to do Under my government.

Thanks for letting me play the game!

MEA Strategy

By BOB CLOCK

As a former teacher, president of a teachers' association and chief contract bargainer for a teachers' union, I was astounded the other day to receive a copy of a document entitled "Final Recommendations of the MEA (Michigan Education Association) Task Force on a Statewide Bargaining Strategy."

Dated June 8, 1973, the 8½-page report calls the shots for the current round of teacher contract negotiations, up to and including the denunciation of local boards for "banding together in secret and unholy coalitions under the banner of the MASB (Michigan Association of School Boards.)

A timetable accompanying the report calls for a "Big Press conference with Mary Kay Kosa and the Executive Secretary" on June 21 "to announce our concerns, our anger and our predictions of a fall bargaining holocaust of some kind precipitated by the boards." They didn't even know what kind of a holocaust it would be.

The press conference was to have been preceded by a "dress rehearsal" on June 20.

On Aug. 17, the timetable called for a conference of units still unsettled. "This will be played up big in the media as a 'war council'," the report states.

Holy Moses! The gentle school mar'm and her bespectacled colleague of the opposite sex have come a long way since my days in the classroom, and that was only a decade ago.

Even in those days, teachers bargained for—and received—increases in pay and fringe benefits, but the teachers in every school district "went it alone," so to speak.

We certainly didn't have any "grand strategy" supplied by the MEA. In fact, in those days the MEA couldn't have cared less about our bargaining. The organization administered our insurance plans and attempted through in-service training, research and curriculum studies to make us better teachers. But that was about it.

Today, the MEA is a full-blown labor union, the principal thrust of which is improvement of the financial lot of teachers. Period.

I don't know how the bargaining strategy report ever saw the light of day outside of the executive offices of the MEA. Somebody slipped up, but good.

Fortunately, Charlevoix teachers still have a year to go on their present contracts and will not be pawns of the MEA in the current round of bargaining talks. Most school teachers in Michigan are not so fortunate.

What bothers me most is that the drafters of the bargaining strategy were able to look ahead on June 8 and uncover all sorts of shenanigans by "conniving" school boards to keep teachers from getting their fair share at the public trough.

Step No. three of the strategy suggests that the MEA "charge that because of the reactionary guidelines being promulgated by these board coalitions, bargaining in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties is dragging badly. In fact, because of these shocking attacks by conniving boards, the MEA states flatly that local boards are precipitating an educational crisis next fall. We make them the culprits responsible for the crisis."

How did the MEA possibly know last June that talks in Wayne, Oakland and Macomb counties would be dragging badly this summer?

The MEA also notes that although school boards must be denounced for "unholy coalitions", teacher negotiators "must be ready to handle the obvious fact that the MEA locals have done it since 1965."

The strategy report also points out that the MEA is introducing into the Michigan Legislature a bill designed to amend the public bargaining set in order to safeguard the rights of teachers and "protect them from a bargaining conglomerate of crazed school boards."

Can you imagine?

If the strategy report weren't so damaging to the professional reputation Michigan's teachers, it would be downright laughable.

Washington Funnies

By JIM FITZGERALD

Probably the most important step is to get an important job in Washington. The rest follows naturally.

That's my answer to the Woman's Press Club of Indiana. The club invited me to speak at a luncheon meeting in Indianapolis in September. The suggested topic was "The art of being funny." I won't make the speach, of course. I am still bound by my vow to give no more than I receive. I have been physically unable to sit through an after-dinner speech since 1968 when, at $100 a plate, Ronald Reagan gave me indigestion that hurt worse than having your legs cut off which is justifiably happened to Reagan in "Kings Row" (hello there, old movie lovers). So it is only fair that I refuse to verbalize anyone else into the Alka Seltzer bottle. But that doesn't stop me from telling the Indiana press women how to be funny. All they have to do is follow the advice given in the opening paragraph. It is feared that the Washington Monument may someday crumble because earth tremors set off by the tremendous knee-slappers committed daily in the neighborhood.

For instance, what's funnier than a Secretary of the Air Force who doesn't know what nations his planes are bombing?

Or how about the FBI chief keeping top secret papers in his bedroom, in the middle drawer under his shirts?

But the guy who really aches my side is Senator Lowell Weicker, the wholesomely innocent Republican who keeps saying "DO YOU MEAN TO TELL ME..."

Weicker thinks it is a dastardly thing that John Ehrlichman and the White House gumshoes should be concerned with the drinking habits of congressmen.

"Constituents at home have no way of knowing that you can go over here in the gallery of Congress and watch a member totter onto the floor in a condition of at least partial inebriation which would preclude him making any sort of a sober judgment on the issues that confront this country," Ehrlichman said on TV.

(Translation: Some congressmen come to work drunk.)

Sen. Weiker insisted this was no reason for the White House to bug the olive in a congressman's martini. "I am quite satisfied that our system, our institutions, are perfectly capable of passing decent judgment, fair judgment, hard judgment on political figures, public officials, without the covert operations of men like Mr. Ulosewicz," Weicker said. Ulasewicz is an ex-cop paid by the Nixon team to peek through transoms.

(Translation: If congressmen appear drunk in public, especially in the capitol building of the United States, the cop on the beat will deal with them, the same as with any Skid Row bum who might stagger into the joint.)

The rumble you just heard came from the Lincoln Memorial where Abe slapped his knee and started a rockslide.

Everyone knows that congressmen police themselves, whatever the crime. And Sen. Jones wouldn't publicly accuse Sen. Smith of being a boozer if Smith passed out in Jones' lap. That's a club rule. Congressmen can accuse each other of all sort of political stupidity and cupidity. But never anything personal. Jones would never suggest that Smith can't legislate effectively because he can't keep from falling off his chair. Because, the next day, Smith might point out that Jones missed two committee meetings because he was shacked up with half the stenographic pool.

Does Sen. Weicker mean to tell me he didn't know that?

Washington is full of funny men who are always good for laughs. But the people who pay their salaries still can't keep from crying.

It Never Rains On Charlevoix Artists

Almanakers take note:

You'll never go wrong if you predict fair weather and sunny skies for Charlevoix, Micxh., on the second Saturday in August.

That, of course, is the day of Charlevoix's annual Waterfront Fair for Artists and Craftsmen and has been for the past 15 years.

And never once has the weatherman failed to come up with a pleasant, sunny day for the artists and their customers.

Although arrangements are made every year to hold the exhibition indoors in case of foul weather, the fair committee has never failed to draw a perfect day.

And this year's fair certainly topped them all in the quality of the art works on display.

Thanks to the painstaking efforts of the judging committee, only bonafide artists were permitted to set up shop. It wasn't an easy task to tell long-time exhibitors that their artsy-craftsy displays weren't welcome, and undoubtedly the committee's judgment resulted in a few hard feelings.

But the end result was well worth any discomfort occassioned by the committee's hard-line on "what is art."

We were also encouraged to note that the gross abstractions that any nitwit with only a modicum of talent could execute with a tube of paint and a wallpaper brush were missing from this year's fair. Every painting, collage, tapestry and piece of sculpture on display glowed with that certain quality that lifts creative art above the commonplace.

Organizing the art fair is no small task. We are lucky to have capable persons among us who are qualified and willing to take it on and do such a superb job of it year after year.

Only Biggest Can Survive

If the Nixon Administration had deliberately set out to raise havoc in the marketplace, it couldn't have done a better job than it has done during the past two years with its myriad freezes and thaws levied unevenly among various segments of the economy.

The beef fiasco is only the latest example.

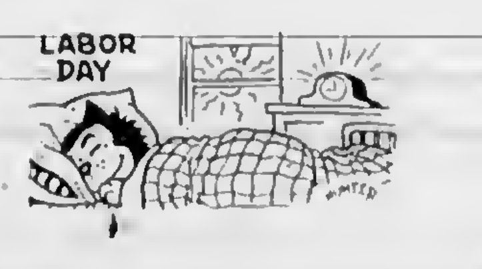
It is sheer nonsense to lift controls in one area and leave them in effect in another. Although the freeze on pork and poultry prices was lifted in July, beef will remain under the federal umbrella until Sept. 12.

No cattleman with an ounce of common sense is going to ship his steers to market during August when he knows he will make up to 25 percent more per pound for his hamburger-on-the-hoof if he waits another six weeks.

As a result, meat packers are closing down in droves and experts predict that only the larger ones will be in a position to reopen in September.

We hate to think that the disparity in the Nixon Administration's freezes and thaws is designed to shut out the little guy, but that seems to be the effect to date.

British naturalist Charles Darwin had a theory about "survival of the fittest." If he were alive today he would have to change it to "survival of the biggest."



Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Our younger generation travels both at home and abroad on bicycles or in hiking boots. This is good. At minimum expense they come to know the average people, but this form of tourism is no new fad as any old timer can testify.

In the early thirties existing conditions prompted economy tours and a sizable portion of the American public saw the USA from box cars, open gondolas and from the rods beneath the freight cars. These accommodations were standard for professional people and commoner alike in Depression days when money was wishful thinking and poverty a grim everyday reality.

These tourists met with varying receptions in the communities along their will-of-the-wisp wanderings. In many instances armed police forcibly invited the travelers to continue their journey to nowhere, but in most areas these misplaced persons were tolerated without being accepted or rejected.

These times were interesting in spite of the hardships endured. At the outskirts of town was the hobo jungle, wryly referred to as Hoover's Park. Here a cross section of humanity paused in their fruitless search for employment to cook a stew in a lard pail over a fire and shave with a shard of broken glass.

These haversack citizens had an unwritten code of ethics we envy today. A hundred boys jogged daily past their park to the swimming hole and never was one accosted or molested. They asked for food without begging, never demanding or stealing to still the pangs of hunger. They worked in exchange for food and even a handout was tinged with pride. Our local baker had a bun or some bread for any who asked, and each swept the pavement in return.

It seems inconceivable that people could live year round with never more than a nickle or a dime to their name. Yet, given a few potatoes, carrots and a piece of stew meat they could whomp up a meal of such flavor that a hopeless imitation has been recorded in modern cook books under the heading of Hobo Stew.

Violence was non-existent in their open air community since the governing rules were formulated for more than mere self preservation. The preservation of the country, which had temporarily derailed its economy, ran like a binding thread through the debates regarding the causes of their misfortune.

They imparted many valuable lessons which, hopefully, we may never need. Yet if that day should come, could we retain the one trait required to maintain sanity–a sense of humor?

One family garnered the ingredients for a few flapjacks and the mother sent her little girl to the neighbors to borrow the 'greaser' for the skillet. The girl promptly returned in tears and wailed, "Their cat ate the greaser!"

If this fetched a chuckle in those distressing days, is today's temporary scarcity of sirloin really such a catastrophe?

WISH I'D SAID THAT

"Remember when the doctor was giving you a good bill of health when he told you that you were sound as a dollar?"

Jim's Journal

Little Tin Box

By JIM REUS

Well folks, this is the last column I shall write in my life. Now, if you can hold in your great joy at this news, and keep the champagne corked for just one more minute, I have one last parting anecdote for you. It concerns my duties at the newspaper.

Every week, it's my job to empty the coin container on the news rack on Bridge-st. just outside the Courier door. There are two interesting aspects about the job.

The first is that the coin container is like a long cylinder and it opens at the bottom. The opening always sticks when I undo it, so I have to jam it. The thing gives way then and $9 in change spills out onto Bridge st. This is especially interesting on hot busy summer days when all the tourists are walking down the street. They like to stop and watch the dumb kid spill coins all over and then have to get down on his hands and knees and pick it all up. Boy, does that make me feel intelligent.

The other fact about this job is that the papers in the rack are not locked in. It's up to the people who pick up a paper to pay. No one is there to catch them if they don't. And we don't keep track of each paper to know if some are missing.

The rack is old and rusty. There's not another like it in the area. Even Petoskey has the lock-in type, where you have to put in the exact change to get a paper.

But this old, rusty rack makes for interesting counting of the money – another of my jobs. I like to speculate about the people who pick up the papers as I count. There's typically $1.50 in quarters, $4.50 in dimes, $2.25 in nickels and the rest in pennies.

The people who paid a quarter put in 10 cents too much for the paper (I've had a few irate people tell me they wouldn't give a nickel - let alone a quarter – for a Courier. No doubt they're the one's who steal a paper from the stand.) Most people pay the standard fare, a few underpay and a few, like I said earlier, take one for free.

I'm not sure whether the paper comes out ahead financially with the old rack. No doubt some of the people who put a quarter in were paying for another time when they had no pocket change on them, but still wanted and took a paper. This is fine.

That old rusty newspaper rack represents in a small way a life style not often found these days. It's a reflection of an easier going, slower paced, "small townish" way of life. It reflects a willingness to trust people rather than be immediately suspicious; give your neighbor the benefit of the doubt before you give him the doubt.

Some call this attitude "parochial" or "naive" but I hope not. It stands in direct contrast to the attitude commonplace in the larger cities and suburbs.

Perhaps the attitude, like the rack, belongs to another era. The Courier may soon have a new, shiny lock-in type rack when the old rack is finally squashed under the weight of high-rise condominiums and over commercialization.

To the passer-by on Bridge-st. that old rack must seem an eyesore, with rust and bent and latched to the light pole. But still there are times when I think it is a very nice sight indeed.

Bedford

Funeral for Mrs. Harold L. Bedford, who died Aug. 16 at Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where she had been a patient for five weeks, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Aug. 28. The Rev. Gordon Mitchinson officiated. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Born at Grant Dec. 16, 1888, the former Areline Olmstead came to Norwood as a child. In 1914 she was married to Mr. Bedford. They always made their home here except for 15 years spent in Grand Rapids in the 1920's and 30's. Mr. Bedford preceded her in death in 1950. She was a member of the First Congregational Church and its Margaret Parker Circle, was a member and past matron of Charlevoix Lodge No. 72, Order of the Eastern Star, and the Charlevoix Women's Club.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Robert (Roberta) Porter of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Franklin (Ruth Ann) Curtis of Charlevoix; five grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

The family suggests that anyone wishing to honor her memory may do so by contributing to the Michigan Cancer Fund in Mrs. Bedford's name.

Willis

Funeral for John Willis, 85, a descendent of the founder of the Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church, was held Aug. 21 at the church, the Rev. Elmer Faust of Charlevoix officiating. Burial was in Greensky Hill Cemetery.

Mr. Willis died Aug. 19 at the Emmet County Medical Care Facility in Harbor Springs.

Born in Emmet County May 23, 1888, Mr. Willis learned the masonry trade at the Tomah (Wise.) Indian School and worked as a stone mason in Charlevoix County. He helped construct many of the stone homes in Boulder Park.

In later years he worked for the Penn-Dixie Cement Co.

Mr. Willis also cut and stripped the bark from the ash trees that his wife, the former Mary Webster, used in basket-making. The Willises were married Nov. 10, 1910. She died in 1968.

Survivors include a daughter, Mrs. Nathaniel (Ann) Smith of Bay Shore; three sons, Ray of Gaylord; Homer of Boyne City; and Gordon of Bay Shore; 20 grandchildren; 21 great-grandchildren and one brother, Enos Willis, of Petoskey.

The family suggests that anyone wishing to honor Mr. Willis' memory may contribute in his name to the Greensky Hill Indian Methodist Church "Memorial Fund."

Piet

Funeral for Mrs. John F. (Marie) Piet, 81, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Aug. 8 with burial in Brookside Cemetery.

Mrs. Piet, a former resident of Charlevoix, died Aug. 6 at William Beaumont Hospital in Royal Oak.

The former Marie Grannis was born at Winburn, Pa., April 10, 1892, and was married in Winburn. The couple lived in Detroit before moving to Charlevoix in 1945. Mr. Piet died Aug. 2, 1959.

Survivors include a son, Paul, of Detroit; two daughters, Mrs. Raymond C. (Elizabeth) Lau of Detroit and Mrs. Chester (Marie) Wyatt of Royal Oak; 12 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

73, .4 of 1 mill for operation of the public library and 1.85 mills to meet the requirement of the bonded indebtedness. The voters of Charlevoix School District have approved 12.5 mills above the county allocated 9.5 mills for a total of 22.5 mills for operating purposes. Six .5 mills were approved for three years in 1971, 6.0 mills were approved for three years in 1973, and .5 of a mill was approved for operation of the public library in 1972.

The Charlevoix Board of Education will be faced with the decision of what portion of this millage to levy at its annual budget hearing Aug. 28. The Charlevoix Board of Education has not levied all of the approved millages during the past two years. Each year the district has benefited from increases in property tax valuation.

Townships Turn Down Zoning

Township residents in Charlevoix County turned down county-wide zoning in a referendum election Aug. 14 by a vote of 988 to 698. The defeat means that the zoning ordinance that was adopted unanimously by the Board of Commissioners last fall is no longer in effect. Townships which do not have zoning ordinances of their own lost the protection of county zoning Aug. 16 after County Clerk Clarence Rabach certified the canvassers' report.

However two township boards, Melrose and Bay, met in emergency session election night after it appeard county-wide zoning had been defeated to adopt interim zoning ordinances.

One Melrose Township developer reportedly started work on a multi-family project the same evening. The project would not have been permitted under the county zoning ordinance.

Charlevoix County officials are attempting to have the project halted on grounds the county ordinance remained in effect until the canvass was completed, at which time interim township zoning took over.

Only 1,686 votes were cast in the special election, or about one-third of the 4,449 registered voters in the unincorporated portions of the county, according to Rabach.

He said the turn-out was a little better than he expected for a special election in 15 townships, seven of which already have zoning ordinances of their own. Residents of Charlevoix, East Jordan and Boyne City were not permitted to vote.

The county's zoned townships are Charlevoix, Evangeline, Eveline, Marion, Norwood, South Arm and Wilson.

Even if the referendum had gone the other way, these townships would have continued to operate under their own zoning ordinances, according to County Planner William Mercer who also has been doubling as zoning administrator since last fall.

Only four townships approved county-wide zoning -- Charlevoix and Melrose on the mainland and St. James and Peaine on Beaver Island. It was defeated in Bay Township by only four votes, 76 to 72. Following is the official canvass township by township:

TOWNSHIP	YES	NO
Bay	72	76
Boyne Valley	39	95
Chandler	13	39
Charlevoix	81	71
Evangeline	42	57
Eveline	65	77
Hayes	69	145
Hudson	19	47
Marion	35	79
Melrose	113	82
Norwood	23	46
Peaine	12	7
St. James	34	13
South Arm (1)	31	36
South Arm (2)	25	32
Wilson	25	86
TOTAL	698	988

The referendum vote was demanded by Citizens Information Service, a government watchdog organization headed by Karl Waldner and headquartered in Boyne City.

The group solicitated signatures last winter for a referendum on county-wide zoning and presented them to the County Board of Commissioners, which called the special election.

Turn Down Road Levy

Voters in both Marion and Eveline townships turned down a proposed one-mill levy for road construction at the Aug. 14 special election.

The election was called as a referendum on county-wide zoning, which was also defeated.

Bob Wexstaff Named Stand-in for Hanna

Council Creates Temporary Job

The Charlevoix City Council Monday night approved Mayor Edward P. Hansen's appointment of City Assessor Robert Wexstaff as temporary acting city administrator to fill in for Thomas G. Hanna, who is presently on vacation and plans to leave his post Sept. 15.

The vote on the appointment was four to two, with Aldermen Richard Fochtman and Mrs. Jeannine Wallace opposing the move.

Mayor Hansen said he feels that someone should be on hand at city hall to answer questions and carry out the details of city administration in Hanna's absence. He said he thought Hanna would take most of his vacation after he left office.

The council still has not named a successor to Hanna, although 23 applications for the job currently are on file at the city hall.

Aldermen plan to review the applications on their own time this week and meet again Sept. 5 to evaluate them as a group.

The mayor's appointment of Wexstaff as temporary acting city administrator was not entirely unexpected. Wexstaff was Hansen's choice to replace Hanna on a full-time, permanent basis, but the appointment failed to win endorsement by the council.

In other business the council:

--Learned that Realtor James Corbin is willing to sell about 150-feet of Pine River Channel west of the Weather vane to the city. Corbin originally intended to erect an office building on the site but was unable to have the property rezoned. He says he has passed the point of no return in negotiating to buy the land. The council is looking into the possible trade of other city-owned land for the channel property.

--Told Charles Dhaseleer that the Hudson house moving company of Cheboygan hasn't filed for a permit to move the former Don Smith house from Petoskey-rd. to Barnard-rd. Dhaseleer has purchased the home, which is located on the premises of the new Chez Charlevoix.

--Promised to have a lease agreement for new privately financed hangars at the airport drawn up by Sept. 5.

--Took under advisement a request by McNamee, Porter and Seeley of Ann Arbor that the city appoint a resident inspector for the May-st. sewer.

--Awarded a contract for the May-st. sewer to G and T Construction in the amount of $210,179.25, providing bonds can be sold to the satisfaction of the city. A second contract for $10,783 for sewer work north of the bridge was awarded to W. A. Porter of East Jordan.

--Voted unanimously against House Bill 4377 which

Early Deadlines

Because of the Labor Day holiday, news and advertising copy deadlines for the Courier have been moved up this week.

Display advertising copy deadline will be Thursday, Aug. 30, at 5 p.m. Deadline for classified ads will be 10 a.m. Friday, Aug. 31.

News copy also should be at the Courier office before 10 a.m. Friday.

THE RICHARD MARTIN family lines up for a barbecue chicken dinner at the annual Republican picnic Aug. 26 at the Golf View Motel.

Mrs. Goss Also To Leave City Post Sept. 15

Veteran city hall employee Mrs. Bunny Goss will step down from her post as secretary to the city administrator on Sept. 15.

That's the same day her boss, City Administrator Thomas G. Hanna, will leave his desk at the city hall for another position in Charlevoix.

As of Aug. 22, replacements for neither Hanna or Mrs. Goss had been lined up.

Hanna is expected to announce his plans in the near future.

Mrs. Goss already has had her new business cards printed. She is starting a "baby-sitting" business for Charlevoix business who want to take a vacation or are unable to be at their offices for any reason.

She'll also pinch-hit for absent office help when needed.

Between jobs, Mrs. Goss is putting her services up for grabs in the areas of interior painting, wallpapering and furniture refinishing.

Hanna tendered his resignation in July after being asked repeatedly to step down by both Mayor Edward P. Hansen and his predecessor, former Mayor Andrew Essenburg.

At last count, the council had 19 applications for the job, but few interviews had been held.

The council also has not acted on Hanna's resignation, which is supposed to become effective in less than three weeks.

Hanna presently is on a two-week vacation, but plans to be back Sept. 10, to help the new man -- whoever he is -- learn the ropes.

Interim Zone Law Passed by Hayes

The Hayes Township Board passed an interim zoning ordinance at its meeting Monday night.

It is the third interim zoning ordinance to be passed since residents in the unincorporated portions of the county turned down county-wide zoning at the polls Aug. 14. Melrose and Bay townships acted on their interim zoning ordinances on election night.

Mrs. Robert Bergmann, a member of the zoning commission, said there was little opposition to the move at Monday night's meeting.

A complete copy of the interim ordinance will appear shortly in the Charlevoix Courier.

The action by the Hayes board leaves only six townships in the county without the protection of a zoning law.

Joseph M. Foster

J. Foster Rites Held Monday

Funeral for Joseph M. Foster, 86, retired local postmaster, were held at St. Mary's Church Aug. 27 the Rev. E. Francis Denay officiating. Burial was in St. Mary's Cemetery. The Rosary was recited at the Winchester Funeral Home Sunday evening.

Mr. Foster died Friday at the Charlevoix Area Hospital where he had been a patient for a week.

Born in Petoskey Nov. 12, 1886, Mr. Foster became manager of the Northern Auto Co. in Petoskey in 1919 and during the next five years opened offices for the company in Boyne City, East Jordan and Charleviox.

He headed the company here from 1924 until leaving it in 1936 to serve as postmaster, a position he held until his retirement in 1951.

For many years he served as Charlevoix County Democratic Committee chairman and after retiring from the post remained active in the party; as first ward alderman on the City Council; as a member of the Charlevoix County Selective Service Board during World War II and as a director of the Charlevoix County State Bank.

He was a member of St. Mary's Church and has served on the church board for many years. In earlier years he had been a member of the Petoskey Elks lodge and the Petoskey chapter of the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Foster, the former Margaret Blee whom he married at Fort Wayne, Ind., preceded him in death in January 1964.

Surviving are two sons, John T. (Jack) of Los Altos, Calif., and Maurice J. of Charlevoix; 19 grandchildren; 22 great-grandchildren and two brothers, Frank A. sr., and Edward J., both of Petoskey.

Kindergarteners to Meet Their Buses and Drivers

The first day of school sometimes can be a traumatic experience for kindergarten youngsters unfamiliar with school buses and other frightening aspects of the big world beyond their front doors.

In an effort to remove at least a part of the sting, Supt. James McKiminy has arranged for his drivers to visit the neighborhoods of their young passengers the morning of Aug. 30.

The drivers will meet the students, invite them to inspect the bus inside and out and give instructions on where to meet the bus and what time to be at the bus stop.

"Kindergarten students experience many new and exciting activities when they go to school for the first time," McKinurey said. "This introduction to the driver and the school bus will help the new student to be prepared to be comfortable on the bus."

He added that a child's first contact with school may influence his attitude toward school for many years.

Parents of kindergarteners are urged to remain at home the morning of Aug. 30 (Thursday), so that they will be on hand to meet the driver and inspect the bus with their youngster.

Lake Charlevoix Bike Trip Sept. 8

Thomas Merta, executive secretary of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, reports that he has already received 52 applications for the Lake Charlevoix Bicycle Ride, scheduled Saturday, Sept. 8.

Most riders will leave Charlevoix in the morning, travel M-66 to Ironton, cross the South Arm of Lake Charlevoix on the Ironton Ferry and proceed down the peninsula to Boyne City.

Merta says arrangements are being worked out with the Charlevoix Women's Club to provide a lunch for riders at the lake front park in Boyne City.

Plenty of Gas Promised Labor Day Travelers

Michigan motorists should experience no shortage of gasoline over the Labor Day weekend, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

Fred Rehm, Auto Club general manager, said state drivers are expected to log 651 million miles over the 78-hour holiday, starting Friday evening.

"Despite a current refusal of some gasoline distributors to supply fuel to service stations and a possible curtailment of gas sales by a retailers' group, holiday travelers should have little trouble purchasing gas if minimal precautions are taken," Rehm said.

Although the Service Station Dealers Association of Michigan is considering a gas sales boycott over Labor Day -- with resulting closing of 20 percent of the state's service stations -- Rehm says the boycott will be confined largely to urban centers in southern Michigan. He added that gasoline supplies in northern Michigan resort centers will continue to be ample.

The station operators are objecting to a price-rollback to Jan. 10 when many of them were experiencing sharply reduced profits as the result of a price war.

Rehm said that based on previous Labor Day weekends, he figures an estimated 3.3 million vehicles will travel Michigan highways over the weekend, from 6 p.m. Friday to midnight Monday, Sept. 3.

Peak congestion is expected to occur between 2 and 10 p.m. Monday, as tourists and cottage owners trundle their kids back to the urban areas to begin school.

Complicating the traffic flow will be a great number of recreation vehicles (trailers) and cars towing boats.

One of the worst pileups is expected to take place along Lake Michigan's "Coho Coast", particularly between Manistee and Traverse City.

Rehm offers this advice to travelers.

--Travel on the top-half of your gas tank. Fill up during daylight hours whenever possible.

--Make motel and hotel reservations in popular resort areas well in advance. (There should be ample roadside facilities, however, he notes.)

--Get an early start if you plan to stay overnight at a State Park. If you're staying at a private campground, you might telephone your reservation ahead.

Meanwhile, the Michigan State Highway Commission has announced that it is suspending all road and bridge construction work over the Labor Day weekend to help speed up the flow of traffic.

John P. Woodford, state highway director, said the stop-work order affects all but emergency or specially-authorized work that does not affect traffic.

Furthermore, all construction sites will be put in condition to handle anticipated heavy volumes of weekend traffic. Detours (there are seven of them on state highways, none in the Charlevoix area) will be well marked.

Colleges Unite to Assist Local Government Units

Establishment of a Local Government Service Program to serve the northern part of Michigan's Lower Peninsula has been announced by Alfred D. Shankland, President of North Central Michigan College, one of the seven colleges joining in the venture.

Designed to assist county, township, and municipal governments in solving the increasingly complex problems confronting them, the cooperative effort will pool the faculty and staff resources of Alpena Community College, Kirtland Community College, Mid Michigan Community College, Northwestern Michigan College, West Shore Community College, and Ferris State College in addition to North Central Michigan.

To be funded in part from an initial grant of $39,100 in federal funds awarded through the Michigan Departemnt, the program will be headquartered at Ferris State College, actual recipient of the grant and designated site of a Program office to be known as the Local Government Services Center. Personnel from all of the participating institutions will take part in establishing policies and conducting projects.

Purpose of the Local Government Service Program will be to recruit and mobilize the resources of the cooperating colleges in serving local units of government in the service areas of the colleges. It is intended that the project will become self-supporting, with the federal grant used to help organize the developmental stage.

With emphasis on problems facing governmental units in northern Michigan, the program will draw on the faculties of the colleges and on other specialists and experts wherever they may be located.

The role of the community colleges in the venture is to determine the nature of the programs to be offered and where they will be held, to serve as an avenue of communication between the Center and local government officials, to acquaint local government officials with the services of the Program, to function as branches of the Center and cooperatively hold workshops, seminars, and courses in their service areas, and to evaluate results of Center functions.

An advisory committee has been formed to conduct an on-going review of Program activities.

The Center at Ferris will assume responsibility for already-established programs such as the highly-successful clinics on investment of public funds and solid-waste disposal. The scope of the projects coordinated by the Center will cover the full range of problems faced by governmental units of all kinds in northern Michigan.

College students in political-processes and public-opinion courses may help with community surveys to collect and assemble data needed in the analyses of community problems.

Commenting of the potential impact of the Program, President Shankland said:

"Hopefully the government units will quickly recognize and accept the important contribution we can make and will turn to us to assist in solving problems requiring resources beyond those available in the community.

"The basic objective of this venture is to assist county, township, and municipal governments in their efforts to improve the standard and quality of life in the communities they serve."

Program planners noted that there are approximately 400 local units of government functioning in the Program's service area.

City Couple With Peace Corps in Malaysia

Former Diann Phelps, Husband in Far East

Like most teachers, sociologist Mark S. Gaylord of Farmington, Mich. wants his students to learn as much as they can from him – but not without giving him a more difficult time in class.

Gaylord, 27, is a Peace Corps volunteer teaching at Malaysia's MARA Institute of Technology (MIT), one of the most rapidly-growing institutions of higher education in this developing southeast Asian nation.

He and his wife Diann, 26, of Charlevoix, a former teacher in the Detroit, Petoskey and St. Clair Shores public schools, have been serving on the MIT faculty since January. Both will teach as Peace Corps volunteers for two years to help the institution meet its need for qualified academic manpower during a period of rising student enrollment.

Gaylord, who interrupted his doctoral studies in sociology at the University of California at Santa Barbara to join the Peace Corps, teaches sociology to students from MIT's schools of mass communication, library science, and business and management.

He finds his students open, friendly and responsive – but reluctant to ask questions in class or cross-examine their teacher.

"They're not as sophisticated as American students," said Gaylord. "They don't have a strong educational background, and they're not used to asking questions.

"You have to pull questions from them," he said. "They're not used to challenging a teacher."

The students' reluctance to engage in classroom give-and-take with Gaylord and other teachers is largely a product of Malaysia's British-influenced formal educational system. In the traditional primary or secondary school classroom the teacher is master; students learn by rote memorization and rarely challenge or question their instructors for more information.

Gaylors conducts his classes differently, encouraging lively discussions and drawing questions and observations from his students. Because his students show great interest in the United States, he frequently compares and contrasts the American and Malaysian social systems and ways of life in his introductory sociology courses.

Mrs. Gaylord, an English teacher at MIT, follows through by conducting tutorial sessions in sociology for small groups of her husband's students.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord are both graduates of Central Michigan University in Mt. Pleasant, where he majored in psychology and she majored in secondary education.

Gaylord received his master's degree in sociology from Wayne State University in Detroit in 1971, and studied for a year toward his Ph.D. degree at the University of California at Santa Barbara, before taking a leave of absence to join the Peace Corps.

Mrs. Gaylord taught art at Burroughs Junior High School in Detroit for a year after her graduation, and then returned to school at Wayne State University to earn an elementary teaching certificate. She taught first-grade classes for a year each in St. Clair Shores and Petoskey, before moving to California. Before joining the Peace Corps she was an assitant director of the Small World Child Care Center, in Goleta, Calif.

The Gaylords arrived in Malaysia in October, 1972 and began their teaching assignments in January, following intensive Peace Corps training in Bahasa Malaysia, the national language, and Malaysian history and cross-cultural studies.

Gaylord is attached to MIT's school of mass communication, a brand new school opened last year to train young Malaysian high school graduates for careers in journalism, public relations and advertising in a four-year diploma program. Gaylord teaches introductory sociology to 26 mass communication students, and provides a similar course to 18 students in MIT's school of library science. He also teaches a seminar in transport sociology for five advanced students in the school of business and management.

Mrs. Gaylord is affiliated with the school of library science faculty. Besides conducting tutorials for her husband's sociology students, she teaches English and literature to first-year library science students. Because of her experience in elementary education, she is also planning to serve as a volunteer elementary school teacher the two days a week she does not have classes at MIT.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaylord live in a spacious modern house provided by MIT on its main campus at Shah Alam outside of Kuala Lumpur, capital of Malaysia. The campus is the scene of a massive building program being undertaken by MARA to increase the institution's enrollment and facilities.

MARA, or Majlis Amanah Ra'ayat, is a development institution devoted to assiting and training predoninantly rural Malays and other indenous people of Malaysia. While the Malays are the largest single ethnic group in multi-racial Malaysia, the country's predominantly urban Chiense citizens are more active in trade, business and finance and dominate much of the PEACE CORPS volunteer Mark S. Gaylord, 27, of Farmington teaches introductory sociology to a class of library science students at Malaysia's MARA Institute of Technology. Gaylord and his wife, the former Diann Phelps of Charlevoix, have been teaching as Peace Corps volunteers since January.

THE FORMER Diann Phelps of Charlevoix is associated with the school of library science at Malaysia's MARA Institute of Technology. Her husband, Mark S. Gaylord of Farmington also is a member of the faculty. Both are Peace Corps volunteers.

To help the Malays achieve wider participation in the country's economic life, MARA offers numerous technical assistance, credit and training programs. MIT is the most advanced of its training facilities, with 12 schools, 49 different courses, and an enrollment of about 3,700 students expected to expand to 4,500 by the end of this year. Because of the shortage of qualified instructors, MIT has asked the Peace Corps to help provide instructors, MIT has asked the Peace Corps to help provide college-level teachers so that the institution may continue to grow without diluting its academic quality.

Born and raised in Farmington, Gaylord is the son of Mrs. Lorraine L. Gaylord of 31859 Kingswood Square, Farmington.

Mrs. Gaylord is the daughtrer of Mr. and Mrs. Hudson Phelps of 110 Park Ave., Charlevoix.

The Gaylords are among 340 Peace Corps volunteers serving in Malaysia in a wide variety of education, technical training, health, community development, agriculture and other programs.

Around the world, about 7,000 Americans are serving as Peace Corps volunteers in 59 developing nations.

The Peace Corps is part of ACTION, the citizens service corps established by President Nixon on July 1, 1971 to administer federal volunteer programs at home and overseas. Walter C. Howe is acting director of ACTION.

ACTION's domestic programs are Volunteers in Service to American (VISTA), Foster Grandparents Program, Service Corps of Retired Executives (SCORE), Active Corps of Executives (ACE), Retired Senior Volunteer Program (RSVP) and University Year for ACTION.

Kubicek, Hull Win Garden Club Praise

The Southside "Garden of the Month" plaque for Aug. 26 to Sept. 8 has been awarded to Frank Kubicek, 707 Grant-st. Runner-up is Richard Hull, 801 Grant-st.

Kubicek's yard features angular plots of dhalias, zinnias, four-o'-clocks, snapdragons, roses and numerous shrubs.

There is a prolific vegetable garden behind the house.

The Hull yard is abloom with red geraniums, but the feature that caught the judges' eye was a window box overflowing with geraniums and petunias.

Judges for the Southside were Catherine Stebe and Nancy Fowler.

Southside winners for the period Aug. 12 to 25 were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Shapton, 209 Antrim-st.

The Shaptons were cited for their beds of phlox, roses, lilies, sunflowers, sweet peas, and golden glow. They also have a wide variety of vegetables.

Honorable mention for the period went to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Graf, 504 May-st.

Judges were Mrs. Darrell Dinwiddie and Mrs. Louis Olesak.

Ellsworth Actors Plan Rollicking Political Farce

The Ellsworth Sports Booster Club will present the comedy "Rubberneck" at the Ellsworth Gymnasium. Curtain time is 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Sept. 1.

There will be a free-will offering at the door. Money will go toward the purchase of a loud speaker for the football field.

The Wilkens family is faced with its biennial crisis. Uncle Elwyn (Bob Smalley) is running for mayor, undaunted by the fact that he has lost the last seven elections to Fletcher Crawford - (George Drenth.)

Uncle Elwyn enlists the help of Bobbie (nancy Wallick), the Wilkens' younger daughter, to launch his campaign. Somewhat less enthusiastic is Mr. Wilkens (Bob Guant), who is weary of having his house turned into a campaign headquarters every two years. So he lays down the law: No more campaigning from the Wilkens' house.

Adding to the confusion, the family is awaiting the arrival of Mrs. Wilkens' (Theola Elzinga) younger sister, Aunt Roberta (Veronica Lemond) and her fiance, Arnold Gormeyer (Doug Way), a miserable, shining hypochondriac and nervous wreck.

Mayor Crawford becomes incensed when he realizes the political tides are running against him. He fears a "mystery candidate" may be elected.

Completing the cast are the Wilkens' oldest daughter, Melanie, played by Pat Drenth, and her boy-friend, Philip Forbisher, played by Chet Drenth. The mayor's daughter, Wendy Crawford, is played by Jean Alward and the cab driver is Leonard Strange.

Round Robin Bridge Play Starts Shortly

The annual Round Robin Bridge Tournament sponsored by Christ Episcopal Church will be starting shortly, according to co-chairman Mrs. Max Hosmer and Mrs. William Wilson.

"This is a fun way for newcomers to get acquainted, and is open to anyone in the community," according to the chairmen.

They added that the main purpose of the Round Robin is fun and fellowship, rather than expertise at the bridge table.

Anyone wishing to play, or desiring more information, should contact Mrs. Wilson at 547-4351 or Mrs. Hosmer at 547-9358.

Rattlers Plague Alcona

Abnormally frequent sightings of Massasauga rattlesnakes have been reported from Alcona County this summer.

Conservation Officer John Fisher of Lincoln said he has received reports of about a dozen of the rattlers having been killed in various parts of the county.

A lifetime resident of Maikado in the southeastern part of the county told Fisher that there appear to be more Massasaugas in the area now than at any time in his memory.

The largest specimen reported was a rattler that was killed by William Soper of Mikado. It measured 38 inches in length, a near record. The smallest was 24 inches long.

Fisher theorized that one reason for the unusual number of rattlesnake sightings may be the presence of a very good berry crop which has attracted many people into areas inhabited by snakes.

Sept. 4 First Day For Ellsworth

By Anne Osterbaan

The opening day of school is Sept. 4, 1973.

The morning hours will be for teacher orientation and the buses will go out so the children can begin classes at 1 o'clock. There will be no hot lunch that day.

The sign up for high school registration will be conducted on Aug. 30 and 31. All high school classes will be open on a basis of first come, first served. The 12th grade will register Thursday morning, the Juniors Thursday afternoon. The 10th on Friday morning and the 9th Friday afternoon.

The best news is that all staff members are returning to their positions. Mr. Schoense, the band director in conjunction with the Central Lake School, has accepted an offer to the Fennville, Mich., School. Mike Ringenberger has completed his duties in the U.S. service, will serve as band director. Mike has served us in this capacity before: Mrs. Rosemary Horton has agreed to remain as principal. Mrs. Horton had presented her resignation, but has been persuaded to change her mind.

Tim Elenbaas, football coach, has announced that 26 candidates have reported for football drills, which began Aug. 20. Coach Elenbaas is hoping for improvement on last year's 1-6 record. The Lancers have four weeks on workouts before their first game with Brimley, U.P. Elenbaas is being assisted by Larry Campbell.

Harry Selleck, Lakeport State Park manager, started riding a bicycle this summer on his rounds within the park. Soon after, a Lakeport park ranger astride a two-wheeler became a common site for park visitors, and rangers in several other southern Michigan state parks have followed suit. Rangers say bikes help them do their work quicker, easier, and, of course, quieter. A bicycling ranger can reach many places not accessible to a car or truck, which also frees motor vehicles for heavy jobs. Each of the three bikes in Lakeport Park averages 10 m.p.h., totalling 70 miles a week. The "bicycling rangers" spend more than 57,000 calories a month, save more than $100 worth of gasoline.

News from Ellsworth

Mrs. Anne Osterbaan
Phone 588-2433

Last Tuesday afternoon, Mattie Vander Ark invited the neighborhood ladies for a combined bon voyage party for Hattie Kuiper and birthday party for Elsie Timmer.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shooks and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Courtright and four children of Mt. Pleasant recently enjoyed a vacation to Washington, D.C., and Niagara Falls. All spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cartwright and three children at Orchard Lake. Mr. and Mrs. David Cramer of Fostoria, Ohio, were also guests, as well as Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Goeman, of Troy and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Goeman of Battle Creek.

Mr. and Mrs. David Cramer and son and Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Goeman are spending a few days this week with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Shooks.

The following people, Bob Smalley, Doug Way, Chet Drenth, George Drenth, Leonard Strange, John Best, Robert Gaunt, Pat Alward, Jeanie Alward, Nancy Wallick, Theola Elzinga, Pat Drenth, Veronica Lamont are busily engaged for the presentation of the play to be given September 1. Martha Drenth is directing the play, "Rubberneck" a situation comedy about small town politics. The play is sponsored by the Ellsworth sport boosters club whose project is to raise money for the Ellsworth Community School.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Sexton of Grand Rapids were recent visitors with her father Pete Burns.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Kooyer of Kansas City, Mo., are the parents of a son born Aug. 15, 1973. He weighed 6 lbs., 3 oz. and has been named Aaron Bradley. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. John Kooyer and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Stedum. Great grandparents are Helen Jansen and Mr. and Mrs. Herman Van Stedum.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Shooks are the parents of a girl born Aug. 15, 1973. She has been named Lynell Joyce and weighed 7 lbs., 3½ oz. at birth. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Shooks and Mr. and Mrs. Jake Kamper of Manteca, Calif. Great grandparents are Mrs. Hattie Newland of Grosse Pointe and Mr. Dirk Brinkman of Artesia, Calif.

Rev. James Bultman of Decatur, Mich. was guest minister at the Christian Reformed Church Sunday. Rev. and Mrs. Marvin Vander Vliet are enjoying a weeks vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hill and four children are moving to Thompson, Iowa. A farewell "coffee" was held for them Sunday evening after the worship service by the Ebenezer Christian School Society.

Mrs. Ida Drenth and daughter Marilyn are having a week's vacation and are visiting relatives and friends in Holland, Zeeland and vicinity.

Mrs. Hattie Kuiper rode down with Ida and Marilyn and went by bus to Detroit Thursday evening and accompanied by her sister-in-law and 2 of the latters sisters went by plane to the Netherlands for a couple weeks visit. Mrs. Kuiper called her daughter's family the Martin Rubinghs Sunday at 5 p.m. here, reporting a very good trip over. It was 10 p.m. there.

Mettie Vander Ark spent from Thursday to Monday visiting her sister, Anna Venema, her nephew John Venema and family and relatives in Zeeland and Holland.

Anne Osterbaan went to Grand Rapids to attend the wedding Saturday, Aug. 11 of her granddaughter Linda Luzenga and David Gritter. Linda is the daughter of Bernard and Tressa Lyzenga of Wyoming, Mich. Anne also visited her children in Holland, Overisel and Grand Rapids area.

Miss Annie Kruis of Grand Rapids is a guest of Anne Osterhaan for a few days. Anne and Mattie Vander Ark returned to Ellsworth with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Timmer and children of Grand Rapids and Mr. and Mrs. Phil Timmer and children of Jenison called on relatives here Friday.

This Amendment is effective August 31, 1973.

Virginia Cunningham
Clerk

Notice: The new numbering system for our ordinances establishes "The Charlevoix Township Zoning Ordinance, as Amended" published March 22, 1972 as Ordinance 1.01. The amendment passed June 12, 1972 (map changes) as Ordinance 1.02, and the amendment passed Jan. 8, 1973 as 1.03.

Guild Needs Items for Thrift Sale

The Charlevoix Area Hospital Guild already is making plans for its annual Thrift Sale to be held Oct. 19 and 20.

Any resident or visitor who has anything to donate to the sale should contact Mrs. Opal Barrett at 547-9046 or 547-9454, or any member of the guild as soon as possible.

Small pieces of furniture or any clean, reusable items are suggested.

Income tax deduction statements will be given upon request for items contributed, according to Mrs. Barrett, who is chairman of this year's sale.

Miss Wallace to Enter 4-4-1 Program at Alma

Maurine Ann Wallace of Charlevoix is one of 300 Alma College freshmen beginning their programs of study this fall under a new 4-4-1 academic program.

She and other Alma students this year will also be the first to attend classes in Alma's new Academic Center which will be ready for use during the college's fall term.

Miss Wallace, a graduate of Charlevoix High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence C. Wallace of 301 Clinton-st., Charlevoix.

The new Alma academic program, which goes into effect when classes begin on Sept. 13, features 14-week terms in the fall and winter and a 4-week term in the spring. Most students at the college will take four courses during each of the longer terms and only one course during the shorter spring term.

With this 4-4-1 program, Alma's academic year begins in mid-September and ends in mid-May. The short spring terms enables Alma students to concentrate on one subject and to participate in less conventional kinds of activities such as field work, independent study or internship in a field of special interest.

Alma students now also have appealing options for academic concentration. Some major in one of 21 fields of study. Others, rather than declaring a major, base their educational programs on special 14-to-18-course packages called Programs of Emphasis which may be more closely related to their abilities, interests and vocational goals.

The new Academic Center at the heart of the Alma campus replaces facilities lost three years ago when the college's Old Main was leveled by fire. It provides 28 classrooms and 61 faculty offices, two observation-classroom-testing facilities, a computer laboratory center and three psychology laboratories with adjacent experimentation rooms.

Elem. May House 2 Grade 5 Sections

Two sections of Fifth Graders may be located in the Charlevoix Elementary School when school opens Sept. 4, according to Supt. James McKimmey.

Because of overcrowding at the Middle School, McKimmey has asked Elementary School Principal Glenn Snider to make room for about 50 Fifth Graders in his building.

The remainder of the Fifth Grade will be housed in the Middle School.

Snider says he will make room for the youngsters in the Third and Fourth Grade wing. He anticipates that some inter-school busing will be involved so that the children can take part in certain activities with the rest of their classmates.

He added that he will have only four sections of kindergarteners this year, down one from the five sections last year. The vacant room between the two kindergarten rooms will be used for special activities.

American Central Agrees To Quit High Pressure

Attorney General Frank J. Kelley has agreed to end the State's lawsuit against American Central Corp., the largest land development company in Michigan, in return for a consent judgment signed by the company. In the judgment, American Central promised to stop a number of sales practices and agreed to institute specific measures to settle consumer complaints as well as to protect the right of future purchasers.

Kelley said that American Central has agreed to adhere to certain provisions of the Land Sales Act even though the act is not effective until Oct. 1.

For example, consumers doing business with American Central will be given a five day "cooling-off period" in which they have a right to cancel their contracts.

The consent judgment specifies, among other things, that American Central will stop using high pressure telephone calls as a sales technique. The practice of sales personnel using two-way radios to stress the urgency of making quick selections while consumers tour the development also will be stopped.

The judgment also provides for a compliance representative to interview each consumer purchasing land from American Central to assure that specific disclosures about the terms of the contract are clearly revealed and understood.

In addition, a three-member panel to hear and decide consumer claims has been created for one year consisting of representatives of the Attorney General and American Central, and a third member mutually appointed.

The panel will have the power to act on all consumer complaints against American Central concerning land purchases within the last 18 months. All decisions will be made by a majority of the panel members.

Complaints against the land developer may be sent to: Attorney General Kelley, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan.

American Central, without admitting any improper or unlawful conduct, has voluntarily undertaken to eliminate the practices set forth in the original lawsuit.

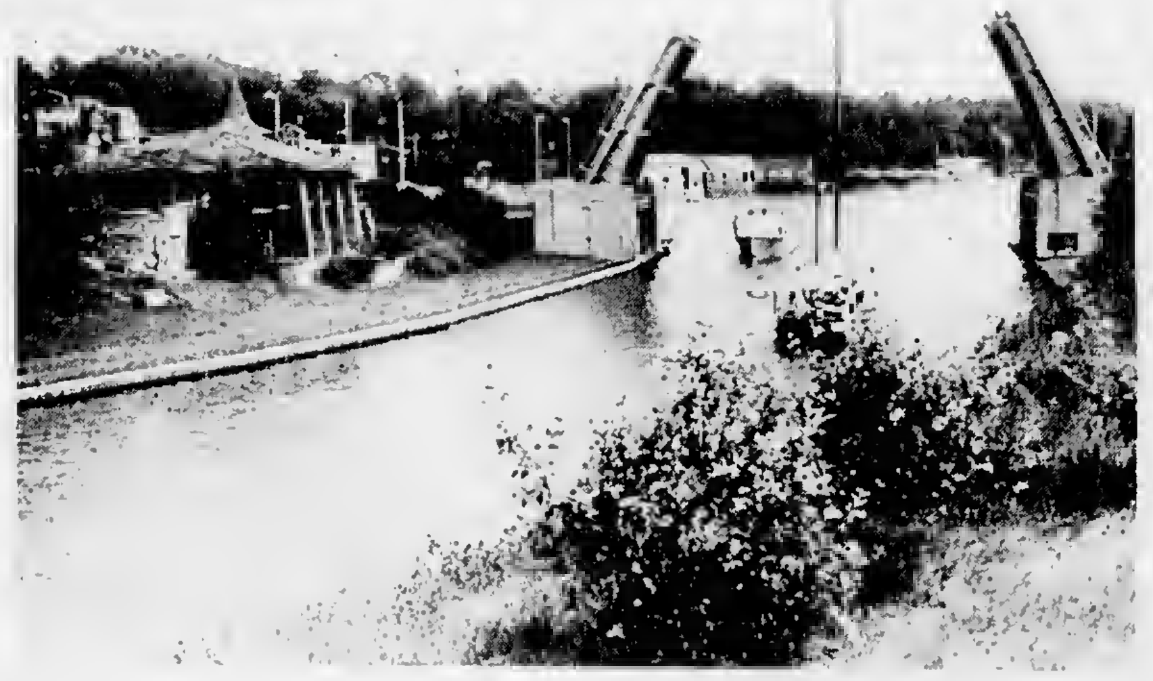
Waste Water Plant Is Nearing Full Operation

CITY ADMINISTRATOR Thomas G. Hanna inspects secondary stage aeration tanks at the city's new Waste Water Treatment Plant on Lakeshore-dr. which is being phased into operation this summer. The secondary treatment is something new for Charlevoix which has had only a primary treatment plant for more than 40 years. Air is introduced to the waste water to speed up bacteria action.

THOMAS HANNA inspects micro-strainer which will be the third and final step in the treatment of Charlevoix's waste water. Tiny solids will be trapped in the strainer and flushed back into the waste water treatment system. The micro strainer will be put into operation shortly.

SLUDGE DRYING beds are located just south of the plant proper. Seepage from the beds will be dumped back to the plant for further treatment. When dry, sludge will be scooped up with a front-end loader and transported to the rear of the property for burial.



THE BASCULE bridge over Pine River Channel keeps shutterbugs busy, particularly when stately sailboats land cruisers pass through her portals.

LLOYD KUEBLER checks sample of water ready to be released into Lake Michigan. Last week, Kuebler said water was entering the lake 99 percent pure, even though the plant is not in full operation.

Barbara A. Herzog Married in Toledo

Barbara Ann Herzog became the bride of Richard Lee Luckart in ceremonies Aug. 25 at the Glendale Presbyterian Church in Toledo, Ohio, the Rev. William Werth officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Frank Castro and the late Richard Herzog, former Charlevoix residents. Mrs. Castro now lives in Spain. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. John Luckart of Toledo.

The bride was given in marriage by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Sammon of Manitowoc, Wisc.

Mrs. Gary Baker of Petoskey, a sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Bridesmaid was Mrs. Randy Loy of Toledo, a sister of the bridegroom.

Following a wedding trip to Canada, the couple will make their home in Detroit.

The bride is a 1971 graduate of Charlevoix High School and is receptionist for Computer International in Detroit. The bridegroom is an illustrator for Brasch Advertising in Detroit.

Out-of-town guests attended from Maryland, Wisconsin and various points in Michigan.

WILLIAM and Kathryn Garten's new Shipwreck Furniture retail store is now open for business otn U.S. 31 South, about two miles from city limits.

HE CAME NORTH TO DIE

New Shipwreck Store Opens on U.S. 31 South

Ten years ago, William (Bill) Garten moved north to Charlevoix from South Bend, Ind. — to die.

Seriously ill with ileitis, Garten had been given only one year to live by his Indiana doctors.

Garten loved Charlevoix and decided to move north and buy a tourist home which his wife, Kathryn, could operate alone after he was gone.

They found the tourist home at the corner of W. Dixon-ave. and Michigan-ave. and bought it.

But contrary to his doctors' predictions, Garten's health began to improve after treatment at University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Before long, Garten found that the life of a tourist home operator was too quiet for him and began casting about for something else to do.

He found his answer in "shipwreck furniture", the heavy, irregular tables, footstools and occasional pieces that Jim Sawtell and other Charlevoix area residents were manufacturing from the oaken timbers of schooners lost in the depths of Lake Michigan.

Garten eventually sold the tourist home and opened a shipwreck furniture studio and workshop on U.S. 31 South.

Two weeks ago, he opened a brad new showroom and workshop about a mile further south on the left side of the highway.

In addition to shipwreck furniture, the Gartens carry other lines of decorative home furnishings, including brass lamps, Tiffany shades, clocks, glassware, crystal, barometers, pictures and other items — most of it with a nautical motif.

The new retail building features a spacious display room, complete with fireplace, a work room in the basement, and finishing and storage rooms at the rear.

Garten, who combs the bottom of the lake for fresh wrecks whenever time permits, says he presently has a seven-year supply of shipwreck timbers. The wood, which is discolored by long years of exposure to lake minerals, takes about two years to air-dry before it is ready for processing.

Most of the shipwreck pieces have legs of anchor chains, with the links welded together.

'73 Color Cruise Slated for Oct. 14

Although it seems as though summer is only starting, there already is a touch of color in the maples along South Bridge-st.

And color is the keynote of the annual Chamber of Commerce Color Cruise, scheduled Sunday, Oct. 14, aboard the motor ship Beaver Islander, according to Tom Merta, C of C executive director.

The Color Cruise will leave the city dock in downtown Charlevoix at 1 p.m. and will skirt the colorful banks of Lake Charlevoix (or Lake Michigan, weather permitting.)

There will be a "party atmosphere" aboard, according to Merta, with music, snacks, sandwiches and beverages, all donated by local and regional distributors.

Unfortunately, only 200 tickets are available. They already are on sale at the Chamber of Commerce Office on Bridge-st.

Merta anticipates that this year's cruise---like every other Color Cruise in years past—will be a sellout.

Tickets cost $3.50 and are sold on a non-refundable first-come, first-served basis.

For further information, contact the Chamber of Commerce at P.O. Box 217, Charlevoix, Mich., 49720, or telephone 547-2101 or 547-2102.

State Application On File at Library

A copy of the state's application for entry into the National Pollutant Discharge Elimination System is available for your perusal at the Charlevoix library, the Department of Natural Resources reports.

The application includes Michigan's proposed procedures for implementing and enforcing wastewater treatment permits, which restrict both industrial and municipal discharges into lakes and streams.

Federal officials have announced a public hearing Sept. 6 in Detroit to consider Michigan's request for entry into the national project.

Copies of the application have been sent to libraries throughout the state for the examination by interested individuals.

Bus Drivers Needed

--Heard Supt. James McKimmy announce that vacancies exist for two bus drivers; a cook at the elementary school cafeteria, teacher aides at the auto repair class and the elementary school learning center and recently created position of paraprofessional at the high school. Applications for these positions are being accepted.

--Advised that an audit review would be present at the Aug. 28 meeting of the board.

--Set Aug. 28 as the date of the 1973-74 budget hearing at the high school homemaking room at 7:30 p.m.

--Called a meeting of Building Trades personnel to make plans for construction another house.

TONY DUERR of Charlevoix and Ann Arbor was among the speakers at the recent Charlevoix - Antrim - Emmet Democratic picnic. Duerr ran for the House of Representatives from the 107th District last year.

Petoskey's Gaslight District, composed of fine resort shops, is one of those rare shopping areas where the customer is overwhelmed with kindness. Each Gaslight shop is unique, and each brings to Northern Michigan the finest quality gifts available anywhere. While the shops contain plenty of gifts to take home to Aunt Minnie, merchants have scoured the globe to find the rare and unique in exclusive cashmere fabrics, ceramics, weaving, jewelry and the kind of toys and games which make browsing as much fun as buying.

A trip to Northern Michigan is not complete until you've visited the Gaslight Shops.

Howard, Lake and Bay Streets in Petoskey.

The men who wrote the Bible also read it.

They were looking for a living faith, a foundation for regeneration, strength, and healing. And they found it.

You can find the same inspiration by studying the Bible Lessons in the Christian Science Quarterly. They include citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

Buy your own copy of the Quarterly, or study the Bible Lessons in our free public Reading Room.

5 Churches Take Part In Bible School Project

More than 100 Charlevoix youngsters took part in an ecumenical Community Bible School last week sponsored by the First Baptist, United Methodist, Evangelical Lutheran, First Congregational and Christ Episcopal churches.

Classes were held mornings from 9 a.m. until noon at the Congregational, Methodist and Episcopal churches on State-st.

Mrs. Robert (Frances) Tollas was coordinator of the program, assisted by Rev. John Cail, Rev. Elmer Faust, Rev. Duane Imig and Rev. Fr. Hewitt Johnston.

The youngsters learned hymns and folk songs, listened to Bible stories and participated in craft activities with religious motifs.

Friday evening, the youngsters presented a program for parents at the Congregational Church.

The following teachers assisted in the program:

Primary: Jerry Whitbeck, Donna Paul, Marcia Taylor, Barbara Gallagher, Cynthia Johnston and Dorthy Porter.

Junior: Leah Greene, Carol Clifford, Jan Gibbs and Dorothy Zink.

Seventh and Eighth grades: Jane Brown and Kim Carter.

4-H Achievement Day Sept. 3 at Whiting Park

The Charlevoix County Fall 4-H Achievement Day will be held next Monday, Labor Day, Sept. 3 at Whiting Park, Ed Rebman, County Extension Director announced today. The 4-H members will have all exhibits in place by 10 a.m. They will be on display until 3:30 p.m.

Horses, dairy, beef, sheep and goats will be on exhibit in the area north of the park. Rabbits, chickens and ducks will be shown outside by the new building. Clothing, foods, knitting, flowers, vegetables and other projects will be on display inside the new Community Building.

Judging of all exhibits and placing of ribbons will start at 10:00 a.m. The Horse Show will begin at 11:00 a.m. The classes are fitting, showing, horsemanship and trail classes.

Carrie Edson, Charlevoix County 4-H Program Assistant, will be the General Chairman of this 4-H Show. She will be assisted by many leaders, parents and members.

The horse show committee will be Margaret Clute, Sally Clute, Robert Clark, Carol Clark, Ester Walghe and Donna Van Dorn. Gerry Drewa will be in charge of the large livestock projects and Melva Fisher will work with the small animals. Lynn Lamoreaux, Shirlens Tripp and Mike Edson will help set-up and assist in the other projects.

The Charlevoix County 4-H Leaders Association will have lunch available at the Park. Members, Leaders and visitors may bring their own picnic lunch and visit with their friends.

Everyone is invited to attend and to view the 4-H show on Monday at Whiting Park.

Linda Beers, Jim Millar Will Exhibit in Detroit

Two Charlevoix artists have been accepted by a panel of art experts and invited to participate in the Lafayette Park Art Fair, Sept. 8 and 9, in Detroit. The Fair will be held in the Shopping Plaza on Lafayette and Orleans.

Artists participating in this outstanding display and sale from Charlevoix are: Linda Beers, 112 Belvedere; and Jim Millar, Route 3.

The work of more than 90 other artists will also be on exhibit with just about every variety of art form represented.

In addition to the high quality work in the individual booths, there will be an art auction at 3 p.m. on Saturday and 2 p.m. on Sunday.

Mr. & Mrs. Shopper,

FIGHT BACK

SUPPORT THE MERCHANT WHO ADVERTISES HIS BARGAINS LOCALLY.

He cuts his margin of profit to give you a better buy. He maintains a clean store & strives to keep his stock turning in order to provide you with the newest merchandise possible.

But even more important - when you shop at home. Approximately 1/3 of your purchase is fed back to your community for the support, upkeep & services which you enjoy.

Of course the same holds true for the local merchant. If he advertises out of town his money is supporting his competitors city.

SO HELP YOUR TOWN, HELP YOURSELF - SUPPORT THE MERCHANT WHO ADVERTISES HIS BARGAINS LOCALLY.

COMMON COUNCIL

COUNCIL MINUTES

8:00 P.M., August 13, 1973

The Common Council met at the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding.

Aldermen present: Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm and Selph.

Absent: Ald Supernaw and Timms.

The minutes of the July 30, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minute Book.

Council recessed to the Board of Appeals meeting.

After the Board of Appeals meeting adjourned, Council reconvened; roll call was taken again with all members present, except Ald. Supernaw and Timms.

Mr. James Feidter, Trustee of Charlevoix Township, was present and spoke, encouraging cooperation between the township and the City. He invited the City to meet with the Township Board to discuss utilities, water and sewer. Date set was October 8, 1973.

Mr. Norman Ance was present for the Public Hearing on rezoning of 306 Petoskey Avenue from R-2 to C-1, but was willing to wait for the Planning Commission to complete their study of the Petoskey Avenue area.

Moved by Ald. Fochtman and supported by Ald Selph that the Public Hearing be postponed until Sept. 10, 1973 and that the Hearing be again published for three weeks.

Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm and Selph. Nays: None. Absent: Ald. Supernaw and Timms.

The request of Scheid Realty to rezone 906 Bridge Street from R-2 to C-1 was postponed for disposition by the Planning Commission.

The lease for the 40,000 gallon tank at the Electric Plant to Wayne Carter was discussed, together with the items incorporated in a letter dated August 1, 1973 from the City Administrator. The question arose who would prepare the lease, since City Attorney Hoffman has resigned.

Mayor Hansen offered his appointment of Norman Ance as City Attorney.

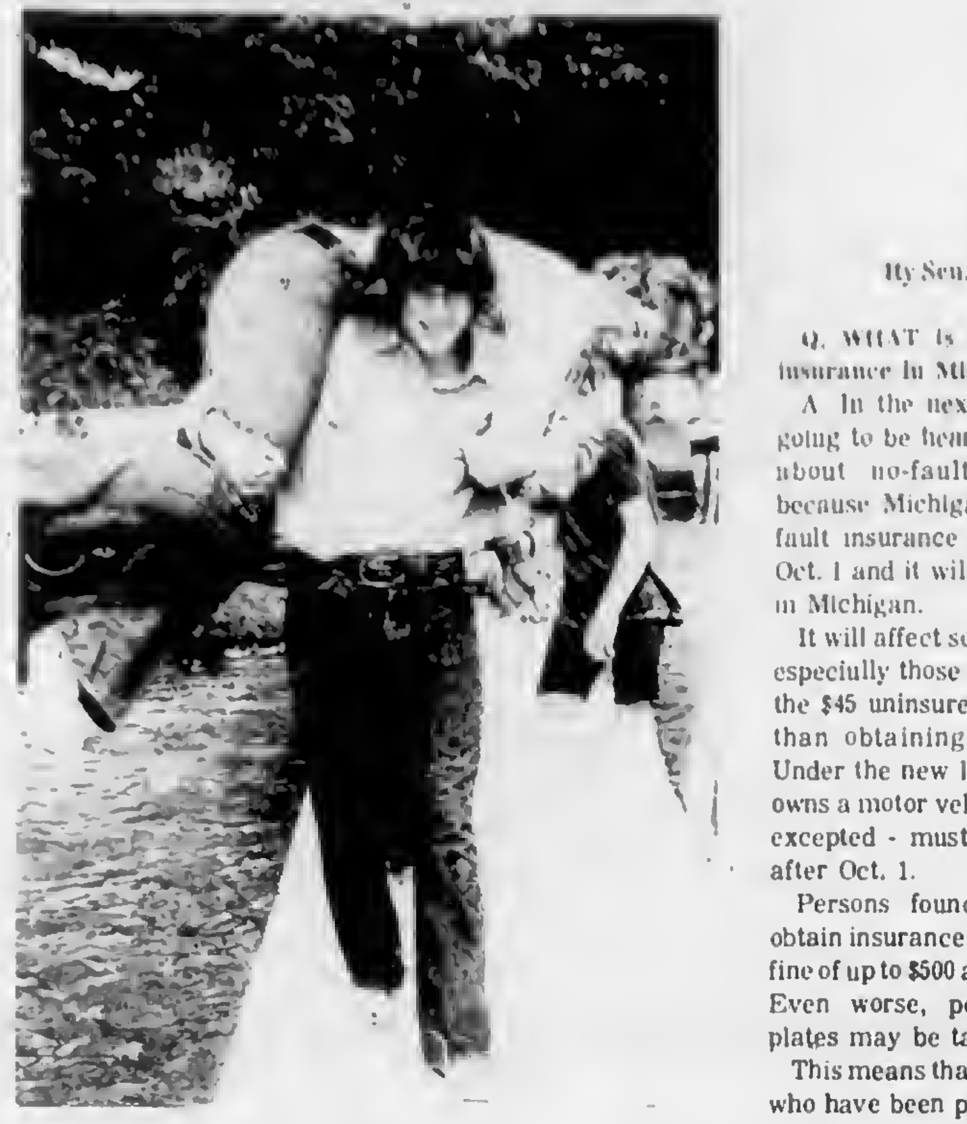
Library notes

The song books, purchased several weeks ago, and featuring both lyrics and music for popular songs from Dixieland to rock; have proved so popular with our young people that we know they'll be pleased to learn that we have a new addition to add to our collection. The Buffy Sainte-Marie Songbook with original illustrations by Buffy Sainte-Marie as well as numerous delightful photographs. Many people don't know that this beautiful young half-breed Cree Indian, besides being a poetess and accomplished musician, also happens to be one of the greatest products of contemporary art. The book contains most of her most famous songs with both lyrics and sheet music and chords for the guitar.

"Drew Pearson," an unauthorized biography by Oliver Pilat, will be of interest to everyone who has ever read a newspaper. In a career spanning nine presidencies, his millions of words reached more Americans than those of any other journalist. Willing to humiliate cabinet secretaries, enrage presidents, embarrass the military, expose corrupt Congressmen and Senators, Pearson's intelligence system infuriated almost everyone he had reason to attack. The author, a former Washington correspondent for the N.Y. Post, has written a high-voltage account about one of the most feared and respected members of the news media.

"The Tooth Trip" by Dr. Thomas McGuire is a painless way to gain some valuable information about preventive dentistry. It tells how you can completely prevent tooth decay and gum disease through home care. It will work for persons of all ages and all stages of disease. The purpose of the book is to eliminate dependence upon anyone else for your dental health. Within its pages is the knowledge and the techniques to keep all your teeth all your life. Who could ask for anything more?

"The Making of the President 1972" is the fourth of Theodore H. White's narrative histories of American politics in action. The book begins with the President's party to China and ends on election day when the President talked about his victory. In between the reader learns how the decisions were made that brought about the greatest landslide in American history; the anguish of decision in Vietnam and what Watergate happened. "History is only the story of men under the pressure of circumstances." Here, in this absorbing book are the men: Nixon and McGovern, Haldeman and Ehrlichman, Humphrey and Wallace, Lindsey and Muskie. The chapters describe the circumstances under which the candidates, as well as the rest of us, have had to make decisions-the torment of American cities, the confrontation of black and white, the collapse of the American party system as we have known it, the power of the American press and television. White combines all these to make the election of 1972 not just a passage in political memory, but the marker at the end of an epoch.



MARKING the official end to the summer swimming lesson season, Hank Berry carries instructor Chuck Novak out to the end of the dock at Depot Beach for a quick toss into the water.

Tries to Miss Cycle, Suffers Cut on Arm

Robert J. Drenth, 26, of rural Charlevoix, escaped serious injury early Aug. 21 in a one-car accident five miles south of Charlevoix on the Marion Center-rd.

Sheriff's deputies say Drenth was traveling north when a motorcycle driven by Thomas Henry Werden, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Henry Werden sr., left a driveway of the Richard Moore residence into the path of Drenth's 1972 Ford pickup.

Drenth reportedly swerved to avoid hitting the motorcycle, crossed the centerline, hit the ditch and spun around, traveling 275 feet in a southerly direction before coming to a stop.

Drenth suffered a cut on his right arm and sought his own treatment. Werden escaped without injury and the motorcycle was not damaged.

Answers to Questions On No-Fault Insurance

By Sen. Robert Davis

Q. WHAT is the status of no-fault insurance in Michigan?

A. In the next few weeks, you are going to be hearing and reading a lot about no-fault insurance. That's because Michigan's revolutionary no-fault insurance law takes effect next Oct. 1 and it will affect every motorist in Michigan.

It will affect some more than others - especially those who have been paying the $45 uninsured motorist fee rather than obtaining liability insurance. Under the new law, every person who owns a motor vehicle - motorcycles are excepted - must have auto insurance after Oct. 1.

Persons found guilty of failure to obtain insurance may be punished by a fine of up to $500 and up to a year in jail. Even worse, perhaps, their license plates may be taken away.

This means that about 350,000 persons who have been paying the $45 into the uninsured motorists' fund will have to purchase insurance or lose their right to drive. What about the big majority of people who do have insurance now? Do they have to do anything about changing it? Tha answer is: "No, not necessarily."

Before Oct. 1, every motorist covered by insurance now will receive from his insurance company a notification that, unless he wishes different coverage, he will be covered automatically under the no-fault law until his present coverage reaches its renewal date.

The insurer will include a general description of the no-fault program, a detailed statement of how a driver's policy is being converted, and possible explanations of optional deductibles, extra limits or alternative collision coverages.

How much will no-fault insurance cost? That will depend on several factors. For some, it will cost less; for others, it will cost more. For most - at least for the first year or so - there probably won't be much change unless the motorist decides to add or cut back on coverage.

As companies begin to find out how much the new law costs them, both coverage and premiums may undergo some changes in both.

In general, though, conversion to no-fault coverage, which will occur automatically on all exisiting auto liability policies on Oct. 1 will be on about the same cost level as at present.

Essentially, what is the difference between no-fault insurance and the type of insurance motorists have now? The principal feature is that, after Oct. 1, a driver's own insurance company will pay the cost of his accident, regardless of whether or not he caused the accident.

In case of an accident, a motorist's own insurance company will pay all reasonable medical and hospital expenses - for life, if necessary - for the motorists and his passengers and, if needed, the cost of both physical and occupational rehabilitation.

In addition, the personal protection part of no-fault will pay up to $36,000 for loss of income and for replacement of essential services, if necessary, for an injured person who is disabled and cannot work - or for dependents of a person who dies from accident injuries. Funeral and burial expenses will be covered up to $1,000.

Under property protection provisions, an insurer must pay for damage to a properly parked car or to fixed property, such as a building.

These benefits are included in the basic no-fault policy. To be reimbursed for damage to his own car in a collision, however, a motorist must have his policy include collision insurance. This will be available in the usual varied forms, incuding deductible and broadened coverage.

Minimum liability limits continue to be $20,000 for injry to one person, $40,000 for all injuries in one accident, and $10,000 for property damage but motorists, of course, may obtain higher benefits just as they do now.

Basically, no-fault insurance is designed to make it easier for people to get financial help if they are involved in an accident.

QUESTION: I sent my request for a personalized license plate in to the department of state on time and was glad to know that my own slogan will be saved for me as long as I keep renewing it each year. Will I need to pay that $25.00 again each year too? E. R. L., New Buffalo.

ANSWER: According to Jim La Roue in the Department of State Public Information office you pay the $25.00 vanity plate charge (plus normal amount) each year the plate is renewed. So, you can either renew the one you have now or get an entirely different personalized one next year - price will be the same.

QUESTION: You keep getting questions about campers and house trailers. What does the industry say about adding a camper body to a light truck? L.M., Niles

ANSWER: According to an article which appeared in the Michigan Trucking Association publication, "Michigan Trucking Today," here's one industry's viewpoint. "If you are planning to add a camper body to a light truck, the original tires, valves and wheels may not be adequate to carry the additional load. The Tire Industry Safety Council suggests consulting the vehicle manufacturer or your dealer on recommended sizes and possible need for a heavier suspension package."

High Cost of Food Must Affect Other Segments of Economy

Jowly Herbert Stein, chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisors, hasn't missed too many meals in recent months due to the high cost of groceries, judging from his rolly-polly press photos.

Furthermore, he is convinced that when Mrs. Housewife complains of high prices it's all in her head.

"The housewife has an exaggerated view of high prices because they are excessively dominated by increases in the cost of food," Mr. Stein told the nation last week. "There is a gap between what the statistics show and what the people think...On the whole, a majority of the people are better off than they were a year ago."

Mr. Stein went on to explain that the number of employed persons in the country rose by 2.9 million during the year ending last month, while unemployment declined from 5.6 percent to 4.7 percent.

Spendable income per person, he said, was five percent higher in July than a year ago, after taxes and allowing for inflation.

However he conceded that per capita income and the number of employed persons may have risen partly because more people are working more than one job in order to keep up with price increases.

Although Mr. Stein is correct in stating that prices of other commodities have not risen as rapidly as the cost of food, he is overlooking the fact that high grocery costs have diminished spendable income to the point where the purchase of non-essentials is out of the question for many families.

Mrs. Housewife must walk past what might be real bargains in clothing, appliances, furniture and housewares simply because the high cost of groceries leaves little for anything else.

With the price of hamburger double what it was six months ago, Mrs. Housewife is finding that she must postpone many of the non-food purchases she would like to make.

So far as the housewife is concerned, it's a case of first-things-first.

Unfortunately, hamburger is higher on her list of priorities right now than just about anything you can name.

We don't believe the problem is all in her head. It's in her pocketbook.

Learn Something New Via Adult Education

If you would like to sharpen your mind, acquire new skills and make new friends during the long northern Michigan winter that lies just ahead, we suggest that you look into the Adult Education Program sponsored by the Charlevoix School District.

Classes are divided into two categories: High School Completion and Adult Entertainment.

The academic classes will allow former students to complete -- often through examinations only---their requirements for a Charlevoix High School diploma.

The Adult Enrichment program offers a wide variety of classes to suit just about everyone in the community. They include Auto Mechanics, Welding, Upholstery, Electronics - Electricity, Freezing and Canning, Woodworking, Gardening, Family Budget Planning, Investment and Family Security, Drafting and Blueprint Reading, Marriage Enrichment, Furniture Refinishing and Home Repairs.

There will be a nominal charge of $10 per course, payable at registration, scheduled for 7 p.m. Sept. 10 at the High School. Classes will begin the week of Sept. 17.

Roy Fortin, assistant High School principal who is coordinating the program, says a minimum of eight students must sign up before a course will be offered.

The High School Completion classes will continue for 15 weeks. The Adult Enrichment classes have been scheduled for 10 weeks.

However, second semester classes are planned if the initial program is a success.

If you have any questions about the program, contact Mr. Fortin at 547-6491.

The Adult Education Program certainly promises to add new zest to a northern Michigan winter.

Norm Ance: An Asset To Charlevoix

One of the most refreshing moves in Charlevoix City government in many a moon is the return of Norm Ance to the city attorney's desk at the city hall.

Although Ance has been out of the city government for most of the past decade, few attorneys in the state have his working knowledge of the Fourth Class Cities Act under which the City of Charlevoix operates.

Although Mr. Ance is emerging from a long period of personal difficulties, we anticipate that he will give the council the same prompt, practical, no-nonsense legal advice that made him a valuable adjunct to the city in the 1950's.

We wish him well on his return to city government.

We are all fortunate that he was ready and willing to accept the appointment.

Q. Are migrant workers slowly leaving Michigan farms?

A. Within the next 10 or 12 years, migrant workers -- principally Mexican-Americans – may be as scarce in Michigan as the American Indian.

That's the opinion of farm labor specialists at Michigan State University's center for rural manpower. Last year, approximately 300,000 migrants worked in Michigan fields and the total is expected to be less this year. The principal reason for the disappearing migrant worker is that farmers are turning more and more to machines to harvest their crops.

Although many of these harvesting machines are expensive, they are competing successfully with human labor - costs.

He Chides 'Puritans' In Charlevoix

Los Angeles, Calif.

Charlevoix Courier
Dear Editor

Here is a letter you can print if you wish.

I have just received your paper here in California, also read your printed comments by a couple of your narrow-minded townspeople in regards to the type of shows that have been there. The show "The Godfather" grossed several million dollars so it cannot be all that bad. I saw it. It is a true-to-life picture, so what is wrong with it?

And as far as X-rated pictures are concerned, does anyone compel you to go to see them? Unless you have already seen one of them, then you have not the right to condemn them as you had to leave town to see it.

An another thing for thought. This is the year 1973—not 1873. Wise up, wake up out of your puritan dream. Get with it, Charlevoix. Your Cinema III is a modern, up-to-date place of entertainment—not a yesterday-place but a today-place.

So don't show your ignorance by writing the editor and let the whole country know how backward you are in Charlevoix

'Tango' Rift Carried by Fresno Bee

(The Courier has received a clipping from the Fresno Bee, dated Tuesday, Aug. 14, pertaining to the showing of "The Last Tango in Paris" at the Cinema III. The headline read "Tango Is Theater's Last X" Following is the text of the article.)

"CHARLEVOIX, Mich. (UPI)-- Marlon Brando's "The Last Tango in Paris" will be the last X-rated movie shown in Charlevoix if some irked housewives have their way.

"Mrs. Micki Hess, organizer of the group, said she has secured a guarantee from Thomas Merta, owner of the Cinema III Theater, that he will go out of the X-rated business when "Tango" finishes its run.

"Cinema III is the only movie theater in this resort city of 5,000 and until "Tango" came along, it catered to the family movie clientele.

"Mrs. Hess said she threatened to muster 300 demonstrators at the theater when the movie opened Wednesday. Now she says the demonstration will be "a victory rally" in light of Merta's agreement."

Many Cooks Don't Spoil This Soup

3864 Chesterbrook Rd.
Arlington, Va. 22207
12 August 1973

Mssr. Bob Clock
Editor
Charlevoix Courier
Dear Bob:

Our home research group has come up with a solution to the rising costs of the grocery basket. It all began when the chief cook decided to make up a batch of lentil soup. The basic ingredients of lentils at just a few cents a pound provided an encouraging start, when added to water and some salt and pepper. To this, the cook added some onions and just a hint of garlic, at the recommendation of a neighbor who had dropped in for a short visit.

Later on, the gas meter man stopped by to take a reading which ended up with a sampling, and on his advice, some celery was added. No sooner had he departed, when in burst a family member just home from school. The fridge was bare except for the last reminent of ham on a bone, two or three hotdogs, and a lonely porkchop which were duly added to the pourri.

The soup simmered on, and through the aroma was appetizing enough, it appeared to lack something. Lentil soup has a fine rich brown color, but to give eye as well as palate appeal, some shreadings of raw carrots were added at the request of a relative who just happened to be passing by.

The final garnishment of some toast and a thinning of the soup with some vinegar took place at the dinner table, where it was received with much gusto. Providently, the cook had made up more than could be served at one meal, not all just because of the aforementioned advise on additions, but fear not, for second day after of the same lentil soup was savored even more by some.

Best wishes and bon appetite,
Toliferro

Republicans by and large and a pretty buoyant lot these days, despite the vicissitudes of Watergate, examples of corruption in high places and Spiro Agnew's current round of difficulties.

Local Republicans, at least, are convinced that 1974 shouldn't be such a bad year for GOP candidates, regardless of the outcome of the Senate Watergate investigation and other party problems which are grabbing news space today.

In fact, there wasn't a sour expression among the dozens of party faithful who congregated on the lawn of the Golf View Motel Sunday afternoon for the annual Charlevoix County GOP picnic. Beer and fried chicken are a wonderful remedy for melancholia.

Sen. Robert Davis reported that not too many Republican office holders of his acquaintance are particularly worried about 1974.

"The American people are quick to anger, but quick to forgive," he pointed out.

He believes that by the time the general election rolls around a year from November the grim days of the Watergate investigation will be pretty much forgotten. And he's probably right.

Like most good Republicans, Sen. Davis is convinced that some good will come of the hearings, regardless of how the President fares.

One thing is for sure. The nation must come up with a set of hard and fast rules governing the financing of election campaigns in order to restore a modicum of honesty to the election process.

Sen. Davis himself has introduced legislation which would limit a candidate's expenses to 10 cent per constituent in the race for any state office, for both primary and general election campaigns.

For example, a state representative with 100,000 constituents would be allowed to spend $10,000. A senator with a population of 250,000 in his larger district would be permitted to spend $25,000. And a candidate for governor of Michigan could spend $800,000, based on a population of eight million.

Such a scheme surely makes sense, but it would be hard to administer because no single candidate has control over all of the funds donated to get him elected or re-elected. A group of well-meaning citizens may erect a billboard or run newspaper advertising on his behalf without the candidates knowledge or consent.

Sen. Davis says he personally has made it a policy never to accept donations of more than $100 from any one individual. This way he feels sure that the money is donated with no strings attached.

I hope that as a result of the Watergate hearings, something will be done to straighten out the financing of political campaigns so that big business, big labor or big anything will ever again have an inordinately loud voice in the conduct of governmental affairs.

Equally important is the Senate committee's upcoming investigation of political "dirty tricks", as practiced by Nixon and his backers through the years. These range from the sending of phony letters to constituents under the name of the opposition party all the way up to and including the second-story antics of the Watergate burglars.

A nation dedicated to democratic processes and fair play simply cannot allow such low shenanigans to undermine the confidence of the people in their government, as has happed in recent years.

The President would have us believe that other politics have been as unscrupulous as he himself in the use of wiretaps and other unethical measures. Perhaps they have been, but that is not the point. Unless our politics is on the up-and-up, our government can never be on the up-and-up and that's what Watergate is all about.

Sen. Davis says most of his Republican colleagues are happy that 1973 is not an election year. He believes another 12 moinths will give the electorate a better perspective of what has happened. And he is confident that local Republicans will continue to enjoy the wide support that has been theirs over the years.

Don't Rock the Boat

By JIM FITZGERALD

A recent memorandum prompts me to believe there may be some truth to the rumor that General George Washington is no longer commanding the U.S. Armed Forces.

In a startling quick reaction to a Presidential order, the U.S. Navy last month agreed to end slavery within its ranks. The order was given by President Truman in 1945.

In a private memorandum to fleet commanders, Navy personnel director David Bagley declared: "We are at a period of time during which we can no longer afford lip service or half-hearted support. Racism in our ranks cannot exist."

Navy racists, wrote Bagley, must be weeded out even if they are "superior performers in technical or other professional aspects of their work." The traditional transfer of a white racist to an all-white unit must also end. If counseling and discipline fail, Bagley said, there must be "processing for discharge..regardless of race."

Whoopee and golly gee.

It was 28 years ago that Truman, in a blinding burst of democracy at the end of World War 2, decided it would no longer be necessary to hide the Negro troops along the back edge of military camps. He even hinted it might be conceivable that every black soldier didn't have to be a truck driver, and every black sailor didn't have to work in the galley.

The Navy would have got the message sooner, only its semaphore flags have been in drydock, getting a reweave job from Betsy Ross.

Only the sourest cynic would suggest it is more than a coincidence that the Pentagon should get concerned about racism now, at the same time military enlistments are falling far short of quotas necessary to replace the draft.

It is a statistical fact that black boys bled in Vietnam at a rate far exceeding their percentage of U.S. population. But everyone knows the draft had nothing to do with this out-of-proportion influx of Negroes into the infantry. They enlisted, rather than attend Harvard, simply because they'd heard the Army served watermelon 3 times a day and allowed unlimited tap dancing in the barracks.

Besides, the black boys were thrilled that they wouldn't suffer the same restrictions as their fathers in World War 2. No longer were they limited to mop and truck duty. They could get shot at, close, up, just like the white boys, thus proving there is freedom for all in this nation. Of course, if they got killed and shipped home, there are some cemeteries that don't accept black bodies. But, what the heck, you can't expect the world to change overnight.

It is certainly churlish to suggest the Pentagon brass had less than noble reasons in ordering fleet commanders to let the black men ease up on the oars. The brass didn't do it because they need more black enlistees.

The Pentagon is simply concerned that no one rock the boat, at least not until George Washington learns enough to sit down in it.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

The basement barbershop, and village news center, operated under the O'Leary brothers who prospered by wagering the cost of their services in a double or nothing cribbage game with their customers.

The hammering steam radiators resounded from the floor above where the frosty eyed banker also played a game, all or nothing, with his less fortunate townsmen. In 40 years of banking he smiled but once, on May 17, 1931, when he set a record by repossessing and reselling same logging truck five times in one season.

The floor above the bank was inhabited periodically by the prosecuting attorney who was viewed as an oddball by the barbers since he chose to keep his private practice private.

The adjoining establishment offered creature comforts from the cradle to the grave with furniture on the main floor and a funeral parlor above. Business hours were interrupted during the last rites under the supervision of the undertaker, with the expression of a Basset hound, and his cadaverous assistant who wore no expression whatever.

The store was open for business on the evening that mourners came to pay their last respects since their return to the exit led them past merchandise displayed under soft lights. Quite often such earthly remarks as $49.75 were heard and duly noted by the business oriented usher.

More by design then whim, room displays and floor coverings shared space with the funeral parlor. Surrounded by open caskets, purchasers were not inclined to dawdle over their choice or haggle about the price which gave the undertaker additional time to pursue his favorite hobby, which was to annoy the tenant in the dilapidated wooden building propped against the north wall.

At every opportunity he would hammer vigorously in the basement to the accompaniment of a stream of profanity by the owner-editor of the weekly gazette warming his inkstained fingers near the pot bellied stove to which he bore a striking physical resemblance.

The editor's views on community service were stated quite plainly to the fledgling garden club of which his wife was president. When asked to laud their efforts in print, he obliged by editorially suggesting that the population would be better served if the spaders devoted as much time to the kitchen as the compost pile.

The barbers also served as a neutral party, conveying messages between various tenants not on speaking terms. Ye olde editor had occasion to avail himself of this service after returning from Grand Rapids where he bought a houseful of furniture. To add insult to injury he wrote heartrending exhortation, prior to departure, urging subscribers to patronize their local merchants.

When questioned about the matter he snorted maliciously,

"I saved $300.00!"

When informed of this disloyalty the merchant undertaker silenced his hammer long enough to intone softly:

"When his time comes I'll give him a Grand Rapids priced funeral."

The barbers, obviously the keystone in the operation, also benefitted the banker in the days when shaves cost a quarter. A downstater, with little prompting, began boasting from under a steaming towel that the night spot he purchased in a nearby resort area would prosper nicely without benefit of local trade.

In the spring, this outsider found need of one local citizen; the banker, whom he approached for a loan to expand his business and his profits. In lieu of cash he received the following friendly advice,

"Anyone saying they don't need local customers will soon go broke."

Six months later the budding tycoon sought out yet another local resident, the lawyer, who was well versed in the laws of bankruptcy and thrived in this field due to his strategic location.

The portly banker, stroking his mutton chop whiskers reflectively, pondered long on the ownership turnover and resale possiblities in this blossoming field of entertainment but decided to adhere to the creed of every scrupulous banker–getting people back on their feet.

This, quite naturally, can best be accomplished by depriving them of their transportation.

Puhek

Funeral for Albert G. Puhek, 67, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Aug. 23, the Rev. Fr. Remy OFM. officiating. Burial was in St. Marys Cemetery.

Mr. Puhek died unexpectedly Aug. 21 after suffering a heart attack at his tourist home, Sunset Lodge, at the foot of W. Dixon-ave overlooking Lake Michigan.

The city ambulance transporting Mr. Puhek to Charlevoix Hospital was delayed for several minutes on the north side of the bridge while the freighter Harris Snyder negotiated Pine River Channel. He was pronounced dead upon arrival at Charlevoix Hospital.

Born in Calumet, Mich., Nov. 4, 1905, Mr. Puhek worked as a supervisor in a Detroit automotive plant until his retirement.

He was married in 1931 to the former Clara Mistea. Together they spent 24 summers in Charlevoix as proprietors of the Sunset Lodge. They wintered in Delray Beach, Fla.

Mr. Puhek was a member of St. Marys Church, Charlevoix.

In addition to his widow, he survived by three daughters, Mary Ann, who is with the U.S. State Department in Algeria; Mrs. Marvin (Alberta) Beyers of Peoria, Ill.; and Mrs. Phillip (Diana) Seaman of Delray Beach; six grandchildren; and a sister, Mrs. Anna Larko, also of Delray Beach.

DESPITE muggy weather, barbecue chefs turned out literally bushels of grilled chickens at the annual Republican picnic Sunday at the Golf View Motel

Cottage Cheese Route Is Latest Boss Acquisition

Insurance agent Dale Boss, who recently purchased Maxbauer's Dairy from the Maxbauer family of Traverse City, announced last week that he has also purchased a nine-county franchise for Michigan Cottage Cheese and allied products.

Boss purchased the franchise from Homer Schaffer of Otsego, Mich., who owns five other routes in southern Michigan, giving Michigan Cottage Cheese a state-wide reputation.

In addition to cottage cheese, Boss says he will handle salads, cole slaw, pizzas, sour cream, yogurt, Colby cheese and all types of hard cheese–for a total of 121 different products.

Boss' francise route will cover Manistee, Wexford, Benzie, Leelanau, Grand Traverse, Kalkaska, Antrim, Charlevoix and Emmet counties.

He says the Michigan Cottage Cheese distributorship will be operated as a separate business from the dairy, although offices will be located in the Maxbauer building on Lincoln-st.

Included in the purchase is an 18-foot, seven-ton 1973 International refrigerator truck. He also had ordered an air-conditioned pick-up truck from Erber Auto for short runs.

Boss says Michigan Cottage Cheese presently serves 150 accounts in northern Michigan and he intends to solicit new accounts in the near future.

Pick-ups will be made Mondays and Thursdays from the company's plant in Reed City. The parent company is headquartered in Otsego.

would require every marina operator, including the operators of small boat launch facilities, to provide pump-out facilities. Mayor Hansen said the pending state legislation is "too encompassing."

–Agreed to ask bids on surplus equipment from the former Bellaire power generating plant, including the water wheel and generator. Alderman Richard Fochtman said the plant is "pretty well cleaned up." The facility was sold to Antrim County after the cost of repairs to the dam appeared prohibitive. Bids will be opened Sept. 10.

–Agreed to inform Ron Pair Enterprises, which wants to buy two parcels in the Industrial Park, that water supply may he a problem. The state Health Department has warned against excessive north side development until a more ample supply of water is assured. The firm makes dust control equipment. Mayor Hansen suggested the city investigate the sinking of a well on the north side, rather than put more money into the existing flume system on the Lake Michigan shore. McNamee, Porter and Seeley will be asked for advice.

--Established rates for septic tank pumpers using the Charlevoix Waste Water Treatment Plant. They range from $5 for up to 800 gallons of effluent pumped into the system up to $20 for 25,000 gallons.

Mayor Hansen will inform Wayne Carter that the state fire marshal will require diking around a 40,000-gallon fuel oil tank he has leased from the city. Hansen said the diking probably will cost thousands of dollars

Participants will then follow the Boyne City-rd. back to Charlevoix.

Fee for the ride, including lunch and refreshments, will be $3.50, Merta said.

A 100-mile Century Ride is also being planned in connection with the event.

The Bike Ride committee is still working out details of the 1973 ride. Times and starting places will be announced in next week's Courier.

Obituary

Palmer

News of the death of Alfred Charles Palmer, [illegible], former local resident who had lived in Benton Harbor in recent years, has been received here.

Mr. Palmer died Aug. 12 at St. Joseph Memorial Hospital.

A native of Ireland, he served the British Royal Navy during World War I and II. In 1945 he married the former Margaret Jankovich at Weybridge, England. They lived in Chicago, coming here in the late 1940's to operate the Palmer House, a summer rooming and boarding house at 304 Michigan ave. Later they lived in Benton Harbor where he was employed as a bookkeeper at Whirlpool Corporation until his retirement.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Robert (Retta) Casbard of Lightwater, Eng., and a brother, Robert, of Newton Abbot, Eng.

Funeral services and burial were in Benton Harbor.

Memorials may be made to the Berrien County Cancer Society.

Finicle

Funeral for Mrs. Daisy Finicle, 83, who died Sunday at the home of her son, Richard Wilkerson, of Mancelona where she had lived in recent months, will be held at the Hastings Funeral Home at 2 p.m. Wednesday. The Rev. David Willett of the Ellsworth Wesleyan Church will officiate. Burial will be in Southern Cemetery, Central Lake Township.

Born in McGaffie, Ohio, Nov. 28, 1889, the former Daisy Wilcox was married to Kenneth Finicle in Ohio in 1911. They farmed in Alcona County until coming to Banks Township in 1947. Mr. Finicle preceded her in death in 1958.

Surviving are one son, Richard Wilkerson of Mancelona; 11 grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

CHRISTMAS IN September? Not really. Dave Philips, proprietor of Grey Gables, is just decorating a Christmas tree on the front lawn in preparation for the restaurant's "All-Season's Party," scheduled Sunday night.

CHARLEVOIX COURIER

CHARLEVOIX COUNTY'S LARGEST NEWSPAPER

Vol 78 No. 42 10 Pages

Charlevoix Courier, Wednesday, September 5, 1973

Soup To Nuts

DURING the hottest week of the summer, the Courier received word from the North Pole that Charlevoix kids are already starting to "think Christmas." Santa Claus reports he already has received the following letter from Angie and Tony: "Dear Santa: Will you bring me Baby Alive? And will you bring Tony a train and a truck? Also, I would like a doll house. I will leave you cookies and milk. Love, Angie and Tony." As the fellow said, nothing beats planning ahead.

AS EVERYONE in town knows, Charlevoix's indominable Fran Martin makes it out in all kinds of weather in her motorized wheelchair. She seldom misses a football game, or a basketball game or a school board meeting, even with the temperature standing at zero and snowdrifts up to her eyebrows. Yet last Tuesday evening, with nary a snowflake in sight, Fran had trouble with her chair after attending a meeting of the school board. She wrangled a tow through town, but she didn't bank on uneven pavement on the South Hill. The chair hit a chuck-hole and tipped over, throwing Fran galley-west. She suffered a broken collarbone, a bump on the noggin and a sprained thumb which raises hob with her typing. After a night in Charlevoix Hospital, Fran is home again. "I'm just lucky I landed on my braids," she said. "It could have been worse."

THERE IS NO change as dramatic as the exodus of "summer people" from Charlevoix on Labor Day. By 6:15 p.m. Monday night, you could have fired a cannonball down Bridge-st. without hitting a Honda. Of course, there's still plenty of summer left and every year more and more resorters, particularly those with grown families, are staying around to enjoy Charlevoix in September and October, when the hectic summer pace slows to a walk and there is more time to savor Charlevoix as an enticing slice of "small town America."

NO ONE – and this includes octogenarians who have spent their entire lives in Charlevoix – can recall a longer skein of perfect summer days than we have enjoyed for the past week and a half. According to the County Bank thermometer the mercury has hit 90 degrees or higher every day.

The Big Ones Are Biting

BILL KLIMAS, 1029 Beech, Wyoming, Mich., caught this 35-lb., 12-oz. Chinook salmon just off the Charlevoix pierheads last week. The big lunker took 20 minutes to net. Klimas using a yellow dodger with squid. Klimas has a summer home at 211 E. Upright-st.

5 Hurt In Crash

A two-car accident on the Boyne City-rd. at 4:15 p.m. Saturday sent five people to area hospitals for emergency treatment.

According to the sheriff's office, the accident happened when Steve Gennett, 36, Charlevoix, driving toward Charlevoix, came upon a car parked on the roadway. Gennett was just coming around a curve and struck the vehicle from the rear.

He sought treatment at Lockwood-McDonald Hospital where he was x-rayed, treated for rib injuries and abrasions and released.

In the second car, a 1973 Chevrolet, were Frank Fowle, 65, of Northfield, Ill., and a summer resident of Lake Charlevoix, the driver; his wife, Elizabeth, 58; their son, Frank Fowle jr., 28, U.S. Navy; and their daughter, Margaret Duryee, 29, of Evanston, Ill.

Mrs. Fowle was taken to Little Traverse Hospital in Petoskey where she was x-rayed, treated for cuts and bruises and discharged. The others were examined and discharged.

School Board Holds the Line On Lunches

All news on the food front isn's bad.

The Charlevoix Board of Education last Tuesday night agreed to hold the line on hot lunch prices.

Elementary School lunches will cost 35 cents a day, or $1.50 a week, the same as last year.

Middle School kids will be charged 45 cents a day, or $2 a week, the same as last year.

The board also approved the hiring of Mrs. Josephine Bergmann as head cook.

School Bells Ring Again Wednesday

Charlevoix Schools reopen Wednesday, Sept. 5.

Schools will be scheduled for a full day during the opening day. Elementary students should report to the elementary building at 8:45 a.m. and Middle School students to the Middle School at 8:30 a.m.

High school classes begin at 8:30 a.m.

Each child at the Elementary School has been sent a card indicating his room assignment for the coming year. Children new to the system or who did not receive notification should report to the principal's office for assignment.

Students reporting to the middle school will find their name posted on a door which will become their home room base. High school students are to report to the gymnasium for an assembly and directions at 8:30.

School busses will pick up students on their usual routes and transport students from the designated pick up point in town.

Type A lunches will be served in the Elementary School and in the Middle School. Elementary students will be charged 35 cents per day or $1.50 per week for lunches. Middle school students will be charged 45 cents per day or $2 per week.

Ala carte lunches will be served in the high school cafeteria.

Board OK's $1.7 Million Budget for School Year

The Charlevoix Board of Education approved a general fund operating budget of $1.7 million Aug. 28.

The figure is about 12 percent higher than last year's budget of $1,517,899, according to Superintendent James McKimmey, and will require a levy of 22 mills.

He said major increases in the $1,704,581 budget for 1973-'74 resulted in larger outlays for instructional salaries and steeply rising utility and maintenance costs.

McKimmey said teacher salaries alone accounted for $37,600 percent of the increase—based on a two-year contract negotiated last year.

As an example of other cost increases, McKimmey cited the price of gasoline, which has risen from 14.95 cents a gallon to 22.5 cents a gallon—a jump of almost 50 percent.

The school district also is kicking in $5,000 toward the salary of the new city recreation director and has earmarked $3,500 for the community's first full-blown adult education program this fall and winter. It is hoped that the adult education program will be self-liquidating.

Furthermore, McKimmey said that the district stands to lose about $27,500 in state aid this year under a new formula which penalizes high-valuation districts. Last year the district received $123,331 from the state. This year only $95,780 is anticipated.

The debt retirement levy also will climb sharply this year because of fluxuations in the repayment schedule. Last year, Charlevoix School District paid 1.85 mills for debt retirement. This year the figure will be 4.5 mills.

In other action the board:

–Accepted bread bids from Mueller Grocers of Grand Rapids, milk bids from Maxbauers Dairy of Charlevoix and gasoline and fuel oil bids from Thompson Standard Oil of Charlevoix.

–Agreed to borrow $325,000 against anticipated taxes.

--Earmarked $20,796 for materials centers. The figure is based on a one-mill levy passed four years ago. The millage expires at the end of the 1973-'74 school year.

--OK's the purchase of another lot in Hampton Village for the building trades house.

--Approved a letter of agreement with the Charlevoix Education Association which permits variable time for maternity leave, up to one year.

Await Results of Tax Commission Hearing

The State Tax Commission heard appeals on property assessments from Charlevoix County residents and one industry—Crescent Stone Co. (Medusa)—when it met in Charlevoix last Thursday.

The group was headed by State Tax Commissioner Ward Dexel, assisted by William Renis, district supervisor out of Traverse City and his staff, Ernest Zetzman and Patrick Suboski.

The group heard complaints by persons who figure their assessments are too high for one reason or another.

The commission is in the process of reviewing its findings and ex expected to come up with final determinations in another week.

According to Charlevoix Township Supervisor Oscar Stroud, Medusa had no quarrel with the township's assessment of its South Point property ($7,371,800-real; $15,935,900-personal), but objected to a 1.32 percent factor applied to the entire township by the County Board of Commissioners on recommendation of the Equalization Department to bring the township up to county equalization levels.

If the Tax Commission finds that Medusa was over-assessed last year, local units of government—including the Charlevoix School District—may find themselves in the predicament of having to pay back tax dollars already collected and spent.

A decision for Medusa could mean as much as $42,000 to the School District and about $8,000 to the county.

Cyclists to Converge On City Saturday

Charlevoix's third annual Lakeside Bicycle Tour will be held this Saturday, with more than 100 out-of-town cyclists already signed up to take part, according to Tom Merta, executive secretary of the Chamber of Commerce.

He expects as many townspeople to take part in the event, which is becoming one of the most popular bicycle tours in the state.

Century riders (those planning to cover 100 miles or more) will depart from the Chamber office on Bridge-st. at 8 a.m.

Cyclists taking part in the Lake Charlevoix ride only will leave at 10 a.m. from the chamber office.

Both groups will converge on Boyne City for a noon luncheon prepared by the

Hayes Township Zoning Law Now in Effect

The Township Board Aug. 27 passed an interim ordinance which picks up where county-wide zoning left off after its defeat at the polls Aug. 14.

At present, ten of the counties 15 townships have permanent or interim zoning ordinances. They are Bay, Charlevoix, Evangeline, Eveline, Marion, Melrose, Norwood, South Arm, Hayes and Wilson.

Melrose and Bay township boards, passed interim zoning ordinances late Aug. 14 when it became apparent that county-wide zoning was going down to defeat.

The Hayes Township ordinance leaves only Boyne Valley, Chandler, Hudson, Peaine and St. James without zoning laws.

The Hayes ordinance, which will be published in its entirety in the Courier next week, provides for one agricultural zone, five residential zones, one commercial zone and two industrial zones.

Following is a breakdown of the various zones and what is permitted in each;

Agriculture-1: All land not otherwise zoned is zoned Agricultural-1. Uses include the usual agricultural uses, in addition to logging, woodcutting and the erection of roadside stands for the sale of agricultural products. Residential and commercial uses not otherwise prohibited by law may be authorized after petition to and favorable action by the Board of Appeals. Residential and commercial structures located in A-1 must be built on plots of at least two and one-half acres and have a minimum floor area of 600 square feet.

Residential-1: Exclusively residential, with home vegetable and flower gardens permitted. Minimum lot size is two acres with 1,200 square feet of floor space. One dwelling per unit is permitted, plus detached guest house or living quarters over garage, with a maximum floor area 720 square feet.

R-2: Exclusively residential: Three-quarter acre lots, 1,000 square feet floor space, one family unit and one detached guest house or servants' quarters over garage, as in R-1.

Andrea Mieras Married In Garden Ceremony

Andrea Lizabeth Mieras of Douglas became the bride of Thomas Michael Poest of West Olive in ceremonies Aug. 30 in the gardens of the Marigold Lodge in Douglas, the Rev. Thomas Mason of the United Church of Christ officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell E. Mieras of 20 E. Center-st., Douglas. The Mieras' are former Charlevoix residents who moved south with Consumers Power Co.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Poest, 6041 Lakeshore-dr., West Olive.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length white gown of Miramist and Chantilly lace. Features of the gown were a high neckline, bishop sleeves and a natural waistline. Her chapel length, lace-edged mantilla fell from a pillbox headpiece and she carried a nosegay of white and yellow roses encircled with lace and centered with phalamopsis orchids.

The bride's personal attendant was Mrs. Fredrick King of Sarasota, Fla., a sister of the bridegroom.

Miss Susan Kay Sweers of Grand Rapids was the maid of honor, Marta Marie Mieras, the bride's sister, was junior bridesmaid and Andrea Lampen of Portland, the bride's cousin was the flower girl.

The attendants wore sheet gowns with a white and yellow daisy print pattern, scoop necklines, ruffled wrists and wide flounced hems. They wore yellow horsehair hats trimmed with daisies and they carried yellow baskets of daisies, ivy and roses.

Frederick Lacy King III of Sarasota, Fla., was best man. He is the bridegroom's brother-in-law. Ushers were John Yff of Holland and Robert Kasten of Detroit.

Organist was Norman Dean of New York City, former musical director at the Red Barn Theater in Saugatuck.

After the wedding, Mr. and Mrs. Jerome M. Simpson of Battle Creek and Bayview were master and mistress of ceremonies for a garden reception at Marigold Lodge.

After a wedding trip to Nassau, the Poests will live at 440 Main-st., Zeeland.

Both the bride and bridegroom attended Hope College. The bride presently is a student at Grand Valley State College and the bridegroom is employed by Herman Miller, Inc. (Photo by Essenburg Studio, Holland)

Mrs. Pearl Attends Convention in Hawaii

Mrs. Norton H. Pearl of Eastport, past National President of the American Legion Auxiliary, has arrived in Honolulu, Hawaii, to attend the 53rd Annual Nation Convention of The American Legion Auxiliary.

The Sheraton Waikiki Hotel is the site of the convention, at which more than 2,000 active members of the Auxiliary representing almost one million members will converge.

Presiding officer of the convention is Mrs. T.G. Chilton, of Superior, Arizona, national president of the American Legion Auxiliary.

The opening session Aug. 20 included a spectacular processional of banners and flags of all states, U.S. territories and foreign countries where there are units of the Auxiliary.

Rev. Tenhopen Returns

Services at the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix will resume with morning worship at 11 a.m. Sunday, Sept. 9.

Sunday School also will resume at 9:34 a.m., the same day.

The former pastor, the Rev. Lawrence E. Tenhopen of Elk Rapids, will serve as interim pastor. He succeeds the Rev. Gordon Mitchinson who has answered to a call to Lakeview, Mich.

Indian Speaker Slated

Satish Raiborde is a 25-year-old Indian on a modern-day odyssey through 15 American States. He will be at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey Saturday, Sept. 8.

He is the director of the Teen Challenge program in the Asian subcontinent, a nonsectarian project to help young people seeking spiritual fulfillment and happiness.

He was born in a Christian home in Bangalore, India, and admits that he did some stealing and running with gangs when he was younger. Later he helped found five religious centers named after the "Teen Challenge" centers made famous by David Wilkerson, author of the book "The Cross and the Switch blade".

He will be the featured speaker at the September dinner sponsored by the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship.

The dinner will be at 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey, on Saturday, Sept. 8. The program will start at 7:30 p.m. and anyone wishing to attend the program but not the dinner, is welcome to come at 7:30 p.m. Reservations may be obtained by calling Charlevoix, 547-4291, or Petoskey, 347-2728 or 347-8797.

Reservations for the dinner should be made not later than Tuesday, Sept. 4.

THOMAS ERBER (center), Ford dealer in Charlevoix, accepts Ford Division Distinguished Achievement Award from Walter J. Oben (left), Ford Division general sales manager, and James C. Sutherland, the division's Lansing district sales manager. The national award honors Ford dealers who have consistently maintained superior facilities, service and salesmanship. The presentation was made at a recent awards luncheon in East Lansing.

News from Ellsworth

Mrs. Anne Osterbaan
Phone 588-2433

The Ebenezer Christian School Board has elected the following men as officers: President, Harry De Groot; Vice President, Jerrell Drenth; Secretary, Donald Heeres; Treasurer, Roger Rozema of Atwood. Other members are John Drenth, Robert Hill, Jake Veenstra, jr., Henry De Vries and Marion Sitzema, the latter three from Atwood.

Former Ellsworth resident John De Vries was 91 years old on Aug. 31, 1973. He is now living with his daughter, Mrs. William Kamps, R. 1 Hopkins, Mich. 49328.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Padavana and son David of Columbus, Ohio, left Friday after spending a week at the home of her mother, Mrs. Jennie Wynsma.

Thirteen members of the Young Peoples Society and two leaders and their wives frm the East Paris Christian Reformed Church, who were camping near Mancelona recently paid a visit to the Ellsworth Christian Reformed young people. They enjoyed supper, going to Church, singing and luncheon before returning to Mancelona.

About 21 young people and their leaders of the Christian Reformed Church recently went camping overnight at Charlevoix Near the Douglas Way place. Excellent weather made the swimming and water skiing very enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jake Drenth and son Stan recently made a trip to Exeter, R.I. to visit Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Drenth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bell and three children of Canastota, N.Y., spent a couple weeks with her mother, Mrs. Blanche Kuhn.

The Ebenezer Christian School will also begin classes on Sept. 4. Miss Reka Postma will teach kindergarten, 1st & 2nd grades. Mrs. Terry Vander Slik, grades 3, 4 & 5. Mr. Krause, Principal, will teach grades 6, 7 & 8.

Mrs. Willard VanderArk and daughter Mary Taylor and her son Chad were in Caledonia a few days last week visiting with Dr. and Mrs. Dale McKenzie.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heeres, Albert Fielstra and Mr. and Mrs. Myron Postmus attended the funeral of Sam Postmus of Kalamazoo Saturday. Anne Osterbaan was house mother for the Postmus children Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Ploegstra of Rudyard, parents of Mrs. John Drenth, were visitors there from Monday to Wednesday. Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Besteman and son Mike of Rudyard were also visitors of the Drenth family a few days.

Mr. and Mrs Bill Kouyer and sons of Grand Rapids spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Kooyer. Bill came by bicycle.

The Calvinist Cadets enjoyed a campout at Penny Bridge on the Jordan River. They left Friday at 6 p.m. and returned at 3 p.m. on Saturday. Seventeen cadets and eight counselors attended and all slept in a huge army tent. They made their wilderness camp and cooked over an open fire. "Living for Jesus" is the cadets motto and this was emphasized at the devotional period around the campfire as well as unity as a club.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Bradford of Acme and Miss Myrl Bradford of Williamston called on their brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bradford and Margaret Clow Thursday.

Wednesday overnight guests of Mary Balch were Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Smiljou and son Gary of Dearborn Heights.

Mrs. Florence Jackson spent Saturday with her granddaughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Spencer Root of East Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Heeres and daughter Shannon of Grand Haven were Saturday overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. David Heeres. They were all Sunday dinner guests of their folks, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heeres and grandmother, Maggie Heeres.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry De Groot and son Marv left last week for Grand Rapids and vicinity for a short vacation. Marv is on the football team and returned this week with Mr. and Mrs. Greg Strange, who spent the weekend in Grand Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. John Heeres and four children of Kalamazoo were recent visitors with his mother, Maggie Heeres and the Henry Heeres family before leaving for a week's visit with her family, The Hoolsema's in Rudyard.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fielstra were recent visitors in Muskegon and Hopkins, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Richard Dryer. Her cousin Tena Winters of Muskegon came back to Ellsworth with them for a week's visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Clark and family of Reed City called on her mother Florence Jackson on Sunday.

Society to Meet at CHS

The Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York has officially announced its plans to sponsor a two-day Christian convention for Jehovah's Witnesses in the northern lower Michigan area.

Upwards of 1200 delegates are expected to convene at the Charlevoix High School, on Sept. 22 and 23.

Ronald Morgenthaler, the presiding minister of the local congregation, explained that the program will involve talks, demonstrations, and experiences for the purpose of further training local Jehovah's Witnesses in their Christian ministry.

It was also announced that D. P. Biegler, Watchtower district overseer, will deliver the keynote address on the assembly's theme "Keep Close in Mind The Day of Jehovah" and the public lecture on Sunday entitled "Act Wisely as the End Draws Near". Delegates from 22 congregations in northern lower Michigan will be attending. The public is also invited to all sessions. No collections are taken.

New Motel Owner Joins Colwell Co.

Holger A. (Andy) Andersen, who recently purchased the Villa Moderne Motel on S. Bridge St., will join the staff of Colwell & Co. Real Estate as a sales representative shortly after Labor Day.

The appointment was announced by Don Fuller, manager of the local Colwell & Co. office in the former Joe Williams Cigar Store building.

Andersen retired in June after serving 31 years as a school teacher and administrator.

He is a graduate of Central Michigan University and a Navy veteran of World War II. He also is a member of the Charlevoix Kiwanis Club.

Andersen is the first addition to the Colwell staff since the office was moved downtown from the Silver Birch Motel. Fuller said several other sales staff appointments will be announced shortly.

Andersen and his wife, Maxine, have four sons. Patrick is a school teacher at Perry, Mich. Stephen and Dirk are students at Michigan State University and Lansing Community College and Michael is entering the Charlevoix Middle School.

HOLGER A. (Andy) Andersen, new owner of the Villa Moderne Motel, has joined the staff of Colwell & Co. Real Estate as a sales representative.

Guards Quit City Beaches

Recreation Director Curtis Kipke reports that Labor Day was the last day for life guards at Charlevoix beaches.

Kipke advises parents to accompany their children while they swim, or make certain they have competent adult companionship at the beaches.

Dividend Up

Medusa Corp. increased its quarterly dividend to 35 cents a common share from 31.2 cents, payable Sept. 20 to stock of record Sept. 7.

ELM POINTE, the former Westgate estate donated on the South Arm donated to the City of East Jordan, was the scene of art lessons this summer for area residents and visitors. Carol Wald of New York City was artist-teacher in-residence.

Non-Artists Discover Their Hidden Talents

By Doris Huckle

Hastening in recent 90-degree heat, to complete a final assignment in art classes conducted by Carol Wald, noted Michigan and New York artist, for the Portside Art Fair's summer arts program at Elm Point, were two class members Mrs. Gordon Freedman, Charlevoix, and 14-year-old Diane Boyer, East Jordan.

Enrolled in a class entitled "Art for People Who Can't Draw", students found out just the opposite as Miss Wald helped them explore various mediums used in the arts.

Quipped Mrs. Freedman, finding a shady spot and noticing the broom hanging on the kitchen door at the estate: "No, I won't try using it for a brush...but isn't it a temptation!"

Dutifully, Mrs. Freedman completed a pastal landscape of Monroe Creek, and along with 75 other students in the arts program received a Portside Award Certificate presented and signed by Miss Wald.

Murmured one student: "This is really something. I never imagined it happening to me. It's been great!"

"It's been strenous, but very wonderful to have people respond so well and appreciate the classes so much," said Miss Wald, who found little time for any painting for herself.

Heading back to her New York studio, theformer Michigan artist had two immediate wishes: That she would find a singing canary to take with her and that "this heat will have moved out of the city before I get there."

Her students wished her luck.

Ellsworth

Mrs. Jackson had as her guest a few days this week her great granddaughter, Kathie Prebble of East Jordan.

Mrs. Ben Nysse of Bauer and Mrs. Sydney Slachter and daughter Mary of Grandville came Monday to visit their aunts Fannie Koster and Dena Otte. On Tuesday they all returned to Grand Rapids and Wednesday, Mrs. Koster and Mrs. Otte met their niece Rachel Betty Petter of India at the Grand Rapids Airport. Miss Petter is the daughter of Anna Petter Grundy, Missionary in India and will enroll as student in the Reformed Bible College at Grand Rapids. Fannie and Dena came home Saturday.

After spending the summer months at their home here the Al Taylor family has returned to Saginaw.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harty and five children and Mrs. Ruth Harty, all from Traverse City were Saturday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Harty.

WESLEY CHURCH NEWS

Drawbridge Must Not Delay Ambulance Runs

A better system of communications is needed between the bridge house, the ambulance dispatcher and Charlevoix Area Hospital to prevent needless loss of life.

Two weeks ago, Albert G. Puhek who operated a guest home at the foot of W. Dixon-ave., suffered a heart attack at his home.

While the ambulance was picking up Mr. Puhek, the freighter Harris Snyder---which had been riding out a blow all day long in Charlevoix Harbor---decided the time was right to enter Pine River Channel.

The ambulance was delayed several minutes on the north side of the bridge—and those minutes were sheer agony for the victim's widow, Mrs. Clara Puhek.

Although doctors have assured Mrs. Puhek that her husband probably was dead before the ambulance arrived, there is certain to come a time when minutes lost waiting for the bridge will be important to the survival of the patient.

Last summer a seriously ill child was being transported from Charlevoix Hospital to Little Traverse Hospital when a similar incident occurred. The ambulance was delayed for several minutes on the south side of the bridge while vessels negotiated Pine River Channel.

The child died the next day and it is doubtful whether the time lost would have made much difference.

But that is not the point.

There is certain to come a time when minutes lost waiting for the bridge will be fatal to the patient.

We believe that when the ambulance is on a run to the north side, the dispatcher should notify the bridge tender to keep the bridge in place until the ambulance returns---except in dire emergencies.

We also believe that the hospital should make it a policy to notify the bridge tender to keep the bridge in place whenever patients are being transported by ambulance to Petoskey.

These simple procedures could well save lives.

They certainly will go a long way toward assuring the peace of mind of the patients' loved ones.

3rd Big School Loan

Here we go again!

The Charlevoix Board of Education last Tuesday night voted to borrow another $325,000 against anticipated taxes --- all of which means another hefty interest payment for Charlevoix School District taxpayers.

At this point no one knows how much the interest will be, but you can be sure rates haven't taken much of a drop in recent weeks.

Earlier this year, the board arranged to borrow an additional $200,000 against anticipated taxes, plus $150,000 against anticipated state aid. The interest on those two loans comes to about $10,000.

And the interest on the newest loan, if approved, will be almost that much again.

A simple solution to at least part of the problem would be to have residents pay the major portion of their taxes in the summer --- when they have the money --- rather than at Christmas when they have nothing left.

That way the money would be ready and waiting when school opens in September.

But simple solutions are never too popular. Some businessmen have complained that the changeover to summer tax collection would strap them, coming so soon after last winter's due date.

Others who are more budget minded would be willing to put up with a short-term inconvenience in exchange for long term prudence in the area of school financing.

Such a changeover is possible. Other school districts have done it. Why not Charlevoix?

Borrowing against state aid is another matter, but it would seem that our legislative corps in Lansing could come up with a time-table of state aid payments which would preclude the necessity of school district's borrowing against what they will receive eventually.

In our book, the only time public institutions should have to borrow is for capital improvements. Borrowing to meet operating expenses is near-lunacy.

Firemen Thank Donors

August 21, 1973

Dear Bob:

At the best method of contacting the neighboring public, the Charlevoix Volunteer Fire Department directs this note to you.

The Volunteers want to express our great appreciation to all citizens of the area, our generous summer residents and guests for their tremendous support to our financial drive. It was a great success!

Also we want to publicly acknowledge our appreciation to Glen Kenny of Carson Lumber Co., Eldon Potter of Potters Appliance and Gerry Burke of The Shed for their assistance.

The fruits of our effort will be evident in equipment, etc. on the Charlevoix Area Emergency Unit and Fire Equipment.

Thanks again to all our friends!

Oh yes! The color T.V. was awarded to Ira R. Oavis of Horton Bay, the Grill to Mrs. Laverne Heise of Charlevoix and the Oinners to Mr. Gene Root of Dimondale, Michigan.

Sincerely,
Clifford Riley

Defends South Side Building

408 Petoskey Ave.
Charlevoix, Michigan 49720
August 15, 1973

Dear Mr. Clock,

After careful consideration I decided to respond to the open letter concerning the zoning on Charlevoix North Side.

I strongly object to the projected strip image of the southside businesses and what authors of the letter feel would ultimately be created by a steel building of the proposed laundromat on Petoskey Ave. With respect to their wishes to keep Charlevoix beautiful, I am sure the merchants who have clean and pleasant building do not appreciate the description of their area. I think individuality in building does not necessarily mean that they are not concerned business people.

As for the steel building, I'm wondering how many of these who signed the letter actually saw the plans. I would like the public to know that we have no intentions of defacing Petoskey Ave. The steel building has a brick front and landscaped with windows both front and side. The entire corner would then be blacktopped with plans for future restyling of present building. I think it quite unfair to judge so promptly before any discussion for specific type and appearance with prospective builder.

In all fairness to the merchants on the southside of Charlevoix and in defense of our own planning I felt justified in answering the open letter.

Sincerly,
Carlos and Evelyn Almonrode
408 Petoskey Ave.
Charlevoix, Mich.

Don't Let DNR Ban Gill Nets

To the Editor:

I was born into a commercial fishing family where my grandfather, his brothers, my uncle and my father have and still are in the commercial fishing industry. It has never been a very lucrative business but they managed to keep their families alive and worked very hard doing so. Most of them know of no other way to live. Commercial fishermen have their whole lives tied up in their nets and tugs, which would have no resale value if the industry is forced out of business.

I am writing because I love fish but do not enjoy fishing. I realize that fishing is considered relaxation to some, but I don't understand how a pleasure sport can take precedence over a livelihood during this period in our history when there is so much unemployment.

Please don't let this happen. If it does, I've lost every respect I've ever had for this country and what it supposedly stands for. It's not a government of the working people but, in this case, a government of those who can afford to buy boats and fishing equipment for pleasure only. We are spending thousands of dollars to plant fish for the pleasure fishermen, but do the towns on the Lakes make enough off of the pleasure fishermen to compensate for the elimination of a whole industry.

I'm angry and hope that something will be done to stop the DNR from the mistake they're making.

Clockwise

Was It Hot Enough for You?

BOB CLOCK

From a weather standpoint, summer bowed out in Charlevoix last week with a grand finale reminiscent of the tail end of a fireworks display when the pyrotechnicians "shoot the works."

The temperature skyrocketed into the 90's and everyone with a bathing suit cannonballed to the beaches to cool off. Or into town to spend money.

Such a long skein of hot, muggy days certainly is unusual for these northern climes. Never in the Clock's eight years plus in Charlevoix have we suffered through such a siege of unbearable weather, although both Judy and I were raised in southern Michigan where "scorchers" occur periodically throughout July and August.

In fact, we are so afraid of running into such weather that we seldom travel south of Ellsworth from the day school lets out until after Labor Oay.

But this year, the weatherman traveled north to meet us.

We felt genuinely sorry for the vacationers who drove up from Detroit and Grand Rapids to escape the heat only to find more-of-same in Charlevoix. Many of them left air-conditioned homes, offices and factories to do so and were chagrined to find that air conditioning is not as common in these parts as it is back home.

Which could mean a run on air conditioning units in Charlevoix before another summer rolls around.

"You can't expect someone to leave an air-conditioned home, drive north in an air-conditioned car and then bed down in a non air-conditioned motel room," one of the city's motel operators told me last week.

He had just installed air-conditioning units in five of his rooms and had no trouble keeping them rented.

There were vacancies aplenty in the city's non air-conditioned motels, despite the weather and the proximity to Labor Day.

Ironically, Charlevoix shops seemed to do fabulously well throughout the week of blistering weather. Usually, bright sunny days find everyone at the beaches. However during the worst of it, many visitors discovered they were just as well off downtown shopping as they were at the beach. It was hard to find a cool spot anywhere, and at least in town there was the possibility of running into an air-conditioned business establishment.

As a side note, summer merchants usually look forward to an occasional cold, drizzly day, because that's when they do most of their business. I suppose it follows that any day of extreme weather — hot or cold — is good for business.

Of course, the week wasn't a total loss so far as the Clocks were concerned, because we rediscovered Lake Michigan.

Although we live less than three very short blocks from the big lake, it has never been our first choice for swimming because the water is usually too darn cold.

Not last week, however. Those blue and white breakers were as tepid as bath water and the Clocks and houseguests logged many hours at the foot of W. Dixon-ave. The only problem is that the water is so high the beach has all but disappeared. The last step of the public stairway leading to the shore ends in the surf.

The lake was crystalline and it didn't take too many duck-dives beneath the surface to wash away the heat and the cares of the day.

It will be fun remembering the last week of August next January when snow drifts creep over the roof of the Courier office.

Intimations of Mortality

(This week's guest columnist is Canadian newsman and educator Bill Smiley of Midland, Ont. If you like his work, let us know. We might be able to sign him on as a regular.)

By BILL SMILEY

When I was young and ignorant and life was forever, nothing bored me more than "old people" talking so much about death.

As soon as my Dad received his hometown weekly paper, he would flip to the obituaries and read them to my mother, interspersing the printed word with comments about the deceased.

Often the latter was a distant cousin, or someone father had gone to school with or someone he'd worked for as a boy. He'd recall where the dead person had lived, what he'd done and some of his pecularities.

I couldn't imagine why my mother could be bothered listening. She didn't, of course. She was much too busy bustling around, cooking or sewing or doing a wash. But she pretended to, and would drop in the occasional comment or correct him on a date.

Now that I am old and not quite so ignorant and realize the brevity of our stay, I can understand. It wasn't a morbidity on my father's part. It was an interest in, and awareness of, the fact that death comes for us all, even for the archbishop. He knew it was closing in on his generation, quietly but relentlessly.

I am not about to start reading obituaries as a regualr pre-dinner treat, but I did read three lately, with a sense of almost personal loss, though I didn't know any of the three "involved", if that's the word.

Joe E. Brown. The name means nothing to young people today. But it recalled for me Saturday afternoon at the matinee, almost falling out of my seat from laughing at the antics of this great clown.

Betty Grable. She was never much of an actress, but she was a great Hollywood personality, in the days when there were such creatures. Pin-up girl of the western world before the centerpage, all-nude fold-out was dreamed of.

Veronica Lake. Fell half in love with her when I saw her first movie. She contrived to look sexy and sinful in the days before bikinis and bra-less bosoms.

Brown was an old man. But Grable and Lake were in their fifties, forgotten by the world but not exactly doddering. Each had a distinguishing specialty. Joe E. Brown had a mouth about the size of half a water melon. Grable had legs that inspired an innocent sort of lust at a time when an ugly, exposed navel would have been just that. Lake wore long, blond hair over one eye. Half the girls in town went around half-blind trying to emulate her hair-do.

My feelings of nostalgia were brought to a focus yesterday. My wife and I were at the beach. She was flat out, turning black under the sun, as is her wont. I was sitting up like a gentleman, in a chair, carefully covered, but still turning red in exposed areas, as is my wont.

Near us on the sand was a young couple, very handsome, with a little boy, very bad. He was bugging the life out of them: kicking sand in their faces; throwing cold water on their hot, dry bodies; running off and having to be fetched; demanding that his father do six things at once. But he was cute.

My wife watched, then asked nostalgically and tenderly, "Would you like to be young again like that, with the little ones?"

I thought carefully for 12 or 13 seconds and replied, "No."

I meant it. When I look at my flab, I'd like to be twenty years younger. When my seed wart is throbbing and my bursitis in the shoulder is burning like acid, I'd like to be thirty years younger.

But when I think of the agony and the ecstasy of starting all over again, raising those kids, sanity speaks.

Days at the beach, sure. But, even though watching them like hawks, the sudden disappearance of one, and the frenzied running up and down, searching, until the child was found playing with a dog, forty feet from the water.

Summer nights in a small town, yes. Until a four-year-old vanished at bedtime, and the frantic running around the block, calling wildly, knowing there was a deep ditch full of water, and the rage when little miss was discovered watching TV next door. Nope.

Sweating out music festival adjudicators' remarks I can do without.

Trying to steer out of drugs and into education I can manage to give up.

I think I can even sacrifice Santa Claus parades and riding with tots on the ferris wheel at the midway.

No, I don't want to be young again. It's too hard on a chap. I'm saving what's left for my grandchildren.

We'll walk on the beach and in the woods. And I'll answer, from my pinnacle of ignorance, all those impossible questions kids ask. And when I'm stuck, I'll say, "Go and ask your grannie."

Death, where is thy sting? Grave, where is thy victory? It's great to be getting old. Well, anyway, older.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Differentiating between ingenuity as cheating, and cheating as ingenious is a bit difficult for many of us older citizens who admit to 'hunching' while playing marbles for our keeps in the dimly remembered days of our youth.

We smile while reading about a concealed magnet and battery, recalling the adult shenanigans of the horse traders in an era with which we are more familiar.

Our philosophy toward youth is mellowed by recollections of placing wadded tinfoil in our hub caps to thwart the inquisitive radar monitoring our activities on the highways. With the exception of the Model T, the automobile has invited tampering both as a challenge and as deception with profit as the motive.

Reconditioning of used cars today is a refined variation of the tuneup of those early years, which was based on time tested practices. Graphite in the crankcase would muffle worn bearings. Oat meal in the transmission would silence chattering gear teeth. Ground cork in the differential would bind mating gears threatening to go their separate ways. A can of pepper in the radiator sealed minor leaks and discreetly placed wooden plugs served as fingers in the dike.

The Model T thrived on cork, oatmeal and pepper. Since there was no speedometer no legislation existed pertaining to it. Nor was a law requiring identity of previous owner necessary since the car was of such enduring quality and esthetic lines that the proud owner never relinquished it during its life span.

Not being of legal bent, my curiosity about the current legal flap regarding previous ownership prompted me to seek out my trusted mentor, Pumphouse John. Excusing himself from a smear game, which was providing little challenge to his talents, he proceeded to explain to me the purpose of the law in simple layman's terms.

"Those muddling bureaucrats in the Census Department are using this in an attempt to smear the reputation of car salesmen. Those tax paid incompetents claim their nose count of retired school teachers and ministers falls 13,498,272 short of their number trading in cars each year.

I concealed my amazement at this startling revelation by downing a glass of suds.

"They not only dispute our figures, they also accuse us of mis-stating facts."

"You use the word 'us', Pumphouse. Do you sell cars?" I asked.

"I am a retired car salesman," he proclaimed in a tone bordering on reverence. "Could you ever accuse me of being dishonest?"

Any listener would be convinced by his simple sincerity that an immediate probe of the Census Bureau is more imperative then any of the hundreds of investigations now in progress — even more vital than hearings concerning a magnet and battery.

Silver Ranks More Important Than Gold

Gold may steal the spotlight these days, but silver still gets rave reviews.

More than 150,000,000 ounces of the precious metal are used in the United States each year.

"Production," says a Department of Interior spokesman, "could be increased by discovery and development of new resources, and increased prices could encourage development of large known potential resources in low-grade disseminated deposits."

The photographic industry alone consumes more silver than the country's annual production from mines.

RAINDROPS

Compounds that turn dark on exposure to light are used in photographic film and sensitized paper. One of these compounds – silver iodide – has been used to seed clouds for artificial rainmaking.

The metal's special properties give it many other applications, the National Geographic Society says. Silver conducts electricity and heat better than any other metal; it is highest in optical reflectivity. One gram of the highly ductile metal can be drawn into a wire a mile long.

All these attributes have made silver components important in space vehicles, satellites, and sophisticated communications devices.

In affluent America, manufacture of tableware, jewelry, and other luxury items continues to absorb a substantial amount of the precious metal.

Silver in various forms fills teeth, backs mirrors, and seals home appliances.

Silver's intrinsic value has been recognized for centuries. The ancients linked the metal with the moon. Man's search for silver, according to some Greek myths, was moon-madness.

Athenian silver coins were standard in the eastern Mediterranean for 200 years after Pericles. Once shy of silver, Athens minted silver-[illegible] coppers like today's United States coin. Aristophanes fdmed: "debased, barbaric tender–this newfangled copper trash."

NEW WORLD LODE

Through the Dark and Middle Ages, men mined silver in many parts of Eruope. Silver has been taken from a mine near Goslar, Germany since 968.

All the Europena lodes, however, paled beside the silver riches found in the New World. A steady stream of silver from Mexico alone bloated Spanish coffers beyond belief. A single chunk found in Sonora weighed 2,750 pounds.

Silversmiths in the American colonies flourished despite the sentiments of people like John Adams, who wrote: "If I had power I would forever banish from America all gold, silver, silk, velvet, and lace."

The names of more thatn 150 silversmiths were recorded in Boston before 1800. One of them, Paul Revere, was not only an accomplished craftsman but a good horseman. Revere's silver works are now collectors' items. A teapot stand and creamer fashioned by the famous patriot recently sold for $70,000 at auction.

from highways or 30 feet from property lines.

The ordinance also sets forth regulations governing outdoor advertising and signs. "Flashing, intermittent, rotating, animated, oscillating and glaring signs" are expressly prohibited. The ordinance also regulates the proximity of signs to one another and sets a limit of 50 square feet per sign.

The ordinance also provides:

–That owners of residential premises may move a trailer onto their lot while their permanent residence is under construction, for a period of 12 months. An additional six months may be granted by the zoning administrator when justified.

–Existing non-conforming uses may be continued at the discretion of the property owner. Destruction of 90 percent of a non-conforming building means that the replacement must be conforming.

--Non-conforming uses discontinued for 12 months or longer may not be continued.

--Temporary winter roadside shelters may be provided for vehicles, so long as they don't interfere with road visability or snow plowing.

–At least 50 percent of the natural vegetation along the water's edge must be maintained for a depth of at least 25 feet. Buildings must not be located closer than 50 feet from the water's edge, except for boat and bath houses. Such buildings may not occupy more than 20 percent of the frontage of the parcel.

–No building will be permitted within 25 feet of the closest road boundary line. Fifteen-foot sideyards are required. Two buildings with a common wall must have 30-foot sideyards. Rear yards must be at least 25 feet deep.

–Commercial and business buildings shall have at least 600 feet of floor space. Buildings generally shall not exceed a height of 35 feet, with certain exceptions in A-1 and 1-1 and 1-2.

The ordinance concludes with provisions for the hiring of a zoning administrator, a description of certificates of approval and compliance, establishment of building permit fees and penalties for violation.

NOTICE OF PUBLIC HEARING

A public hearing will be held before the Common Council of the City of Charlevoix on Monday, September 10, 1973, at 8:00 p.m. in the Council Chamber in the City Hall in said City to consider certain proposed amendments to Ordinance Number 203, being the zoning ordinance of the City of Charlevoix, such proposed amendment being to re-zone and re-classify from Residential II to Commercial I zoning the following described property, owned by Ms. Eileen Duty Ance:

"Beginning at a point on the West Line of Burns Street 445 feet North of the North line of Dixon Avenue; thence North 136 feet; thence West 156.25 feet; thence South 136 feet; thence East 156.25 feet to the point of beginning; being part of Government lot 2, Sec. 26, T34N, R8W."

Viewing Parties Planned For Dem's 'Telethon II'

The second Democratic National Telethon is scheduled to be aired Sept 15 from 7 p.m. to 2 a.m., over WPBN TV Channel 7, Traverse City and WTOM TV Channel 4, Cheboygan. This new concept in open public fund-raising eliminated over $3 million of the National Democratic Party debt in 1972. Telethon II anticipates even greater success this year.

In an effort to share the new fund-raising method, proceeds from Telethon II will be split with the state party organization on a 50-50 basis.

Charlevoix and Emmet county Democrats are completing plans for local viewing parties. The event is planned to be a great night of TV entertainment as well as a way to encourage public participation.

During the Sept 15 program, individuals and groups may phone their pledges to the Michigan Democratic Telethon Committee to a phone bank at Cobo Hall, or an advance pledge can be sent to the committee at John F. Kennedy House, 800 West Michigan Ave., Lansing, Michigan, 48915, phone (517) 484-4511.

At a meeting of executive board members held Aug. 29 at the home of Jean Hosewig at Walloon Lake, both Martin Paul and Bill Grant, chairmen of Charlevoix and Emmet County Democrats, commented that paid memberships in their respective counties have far exceeded goals set for them by the State Central Committee at the beginning of the year.

Postal Exam For Carrier Announced

The United States Postal Service announces an examination for Substitute Rural Carrier of Record at the U.S. Post Office, Charlevoix.

Application forms 2479A may be obtained at the Charlevoix Post Office from Sept. 1 through Sept. 25, according to Postmaster Rex E. Davis.

Charlevoix Women's Club in Boyne City's downtown park.

As in past years, cyclists will leave Charlevoix via M-66, pedal to Ironton, cross the South Arm on the Ironton Ferry and continue down the peninsula to Boyne City.

From Boyne City, riders will return to Charlevoix via the Boyne City-rd.

Refreshment stops have been planned along the route, with soft drinks donated by local distributors.

Fee for the Lakeside Tour is $3.50, including lunch and a tour patch. Century riders will pay $4.50 and receive an additional patch.

All riders will be required to have flags affixed to their bicycles as a safety precaution. They will be on sale at the Chamber office the day of the ride by the Travelers Bicycle Club of Petoskey.

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT

Dazzling UFO Almost Landed on Her Car

A mysterious unidentified flying object (UFO) with a light so brilliant that it lit up the ground in the vicinity of U. S. 31 North and the Boyne City-rd. has been reported to the Courier by a summer resident who prefers to remain anonymous.

The eye-witness said she had come into town late Friday to pick up her mail at the Charlevoix Post Office and was enroute home about 11:40 p.m. when she noticed a round, blinding light approaching from the north, above the C and O tracks.

"It appeared to be descending and swerved toward me as I approached the Boyne City-rd. junction," she said.

As the informer made her turn onto the Boyne City-rd., the object appeared to be just above the utility lines which flank the railroad tracks on both sides.

She said the object appeared to hover directly above her and she accelerated rapidly in attempt to get out from underneath it. Seconds later, she glanced out the rear-view mirror and the object had disappeared behind a clump of trees to the south.

She said the object was round and the light emanating from it was so intense it was almost blinding. She said the only discernible features were nine antenna, a tall one in the middle and four shorter ones on each side.

"It looked as though there might have been something like a tail at one end of it, but I really can't be sure the light was so bright," she said.

She said the object was at least as big around as the distance between the utility lines. (A check Sunday by the Courier indicates that the lines crossing the Boyne City-rd. are about 75-feet apart.)

The witness said there was only one other car on the road at the time, a vehicle traveling north on U. S. 31. She half expected the car to pull over when the light began descending, but it continued north without stopping.

The observer was accompanied by her dog, which also was alarmed by the strange object in the sky.

"She didn't bark, but squeezed over as close to me in the front seat as she could get," the witness said.

She added that the object made no noise at all.

"It wasn't a bit like a helicopter or an airplane. It was just plain eerie," she said.

The incident is the latest in a series of UFO sightings reported to the Courier in recent weeks.

Literally dozens of northern Michigan residents have viewed mysterious objects hovering in the sky from the home of Courier ad man Robert Young south of Vanderbilt. Many Charlevoixans also have reported strange lights maneuvering over Lake Michigan.

The latest witness said the object appeared to have a white exhaust, with an occasional burst of red.

The observer said she hadn't intended to comment publicily on her sighting for fear of ridicule. However friends convinced her that she should make public what happened to her Friday night in hopes of shedding some light on the continuing UFO mystery.

She added that for several weeks, she and her husband have observed a strange light moving across Lake Charlevoix in a northwesterly direction, disappearing over Lake Michigan. She said the object usually appears about 10 p.m.

She didn't report her earlier sightings until her frightening experience with a UFO at close range.

(Editor's Note: We regret that the eye-witness declines to have her name used, but we certainly can sympathize with her sensitivity in respect to UFO's. We can only assure you that she is a mature, well-educated woman, scarcely given to flights of fancy.)

Strip Zoning Denied On Petoskey Road

The City Council voted unanimously Monday night not to rezone Norm Ance's Petoskey-rd. property from Residential-2 to Commercial-1.

The vote was viewed as a victory for about 45 North Side residents who came to the meeting to protest "spot" or "strip" zoning on Petoskey-rd.

Although the public hearing was advertised for 8 p.m., the question didn't reach the council table until about 11 o'clock to the aggravation of some of the visitors.

The council vote came after Donald Berlage, spokesman for the group, said that city fathers had a "mandate from the people" to keep Petoskey-rd. from commercial development.

He presented to the clerk 110 letters signed by North Side residents objecting to the change in the Ance property. He called the barrage of letters "extraordinary."

Berlage said the group had "no grudge against Ance," pointing out that Ance's request came at a time when a number of zoning changes are in the works.

Several months ago the council approved construction of a laundromat on the North Side. And earlier in Monday's meeting Pat Cornoran, representing Ken Peterson Associates of Petoskey, asked for a public hearing on the rezoning of the Ralph McRae property at the corner of Petoskey-rd. and Meech-st. from R-2 to Restricted Office. That hearing will be Oct. 8.

The Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission also voted against the rezoning of the Ance property, on grounds that Ance has no land-use plan.

Also speaking against the more were Tom Duke, Mrs. Robert Hooper and Mrs. Ben Gill who lives immediately behind the Ance home.

The only spokesman for a change was Bill Graves, who complained that most of the letter signers live on Michigan-ave. and Dixon-ave. Graves said anyone who has an opportunity to sell his Petoskey-rd. property for commercial use ought to have a right to do so.

Ance, who recently was named city attorney, said he was in an an "awkward position" and asked to present his views in writing to the council later. Berlage insisted that the hearing be held as scheduled.

Ance said his neighbors had no objection to the change, and pointed out that because of the heavy traffic and noise on Petoskey-rd. the street is not—and will never be—a prime residential neighborhood. He added that there already are several commercial establishments on

Ance Request Is Turned Down

Petoskey-rd. that were not non-conforming uses when the city was zoned.

He said he envisioned a small commercial establishment on his property with parking at the rear. There would be no access onto Petoskey-rd.

He also ridiculed the use of the words "spot" and "strip" zoning.

"When it comes down to it, zoning for condominiums is the rankest form of spot zoning," he said, a reference to the rash of condominium activity now in progress in Charlevoix.

He added that remarks about South Side commercial development in the letters circulated by Berlage and others were "insulting."

Rayders Meet Benzie Friday in First Game

Charlevoix Red Rayders will play Benzie Central at Charlevoix this Friday night for the first grid contest of the season. Game time is 8 p.m.

Athletic Director Dale Burge reports that season tickets will be on sale at the High School and at the small east gate Friday night.

Adult tickets for all sports during the year cost $10. Adult tickets for football only cost $6. Student season tickets cost $6.

Student tickets will be presold at all Charlevoix school this week for 75 cents.

Gate admission is $1.25, although students will pay 75 cents when accompanied by a parent.

Charlevoix has eight games scheduled for the coming season, all Friday nights.

Sept. 21, the Rayders travel to Grayling; Sept. 28 they play Rogers City at home; Oct. 5 they play at St. Ignace; Oct. 12 Boyne City comes to Charlevoix; Oct. 19 the Rayders go to Petoskey; Oct. 26 Gaylord comes to Charlevoix; and on Nov. 2 Charlevoix travels to Cheboygan.

The Benzie Central game this Friday is the only non-conference game of the season.

The team is coached by Don Carey, assisted by Bruce Morgan, Dave Moyer, Hal Evans and Norman Probert.

On the roster are Kevin Martin, Gary Novotny, Frank Muma, Mike Streeter, Randy Faust, Bob Alger, Ed Russell, Darrell VanLoo, William Kane, Steve McClellan, Brian VanLoo, Del Wood, Ed Buday, Dan Mort, Jim Sladek, Greg Stevens, Jim Potter, Phil Christ, Allen Gray, Steve Bearss, Dave Martinchek, Clay Jones, Brian Goss, Kirk Lieberman, Dan Greene, Steve Michael and Jerry Skippergosh.

The first Junior Varsity game of the season will be Thursday, Sept. 20, when Grayling comes to Charlevoix.

Tom Merta to Resign, Plans Printing Shop

Thomas Merta, executive director of the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, planned to submit his resignation to the Board of Directors at its monthly meeting Tuesday night.

Merta intends to go into a new printing, advertising and public relations business called "Village Graphics" after his resignation becomes effective about mid-October.

Merta's wife, Jacqueline, will continue to serve as office manager for the Chamber as long as she is needed.

Village Graphics will be located at 111 Antrim-st. in premises now occupied by Corbin Realty.

The business will be a subsidiary of Cinema III which Merta purchased last December with Sam Supernaw and Bill Supernaw, also of Charlevoix.

Merta said the shop will specialize in both quick print and quality print orders.

The company also will provide custom art work, advertising agency services and public relations services.

A quantity of printing equipment, including a Hamada press and IBM typesetting equipment, already is on order in anticipation of a start-up date in late October.

Merta anticipates a staff of five, including himself and Lawrence Wallace as salesmen, Sam Supernaw as cost accountant, one pressman and a secretary-receptionist.

Merta was named to the C of C post in March of 1971 and several months ago took on additional duties as manager of the East Jordan Chamber, a post he also plans to resign in the near future.

A 30-year-old former Detroiter, Merta graduated from Lee Thurston High School in Redford Township and received a degree from

Ski Club To Organize Sept. 19

The Charlevoix Recreation Department will hold a Ski Club organization meeting Sept. 19, 1973, at 7 p.m. in the City Hall Community Room.

The Ski Club is open to all Charlevoix residents 18 years of age and older.

At this meeting discussion will be centered around election of officers, club goals, objectives, activities, dues and special events.

Hospital Meeting

The Annual Meeting of Charlevoix Area Hospital will be held Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. at the Charlevoix City Hall, according to Richard Krueger, hospital administrator.

Major items of business is the election of three directors to succeed Max Novak and Rollie Dudek of Charlevoix and Tom Smith of Boyne City whose terms are expiring.

Also on the agenda is the hospital's annual report, a report by the Women's Guild, the treasurer's report, the auditor's report and a discussion of the progress the hospital membership in the hospital has made during the past year.

Krueger said a change in the by-laws affects voting rights. Voting is now limited to persons 18 years of age and older who have purchased a $3 one-year membership or a $15 lifetime membership in the hospital association.

BOULDER PARK

BUILDER AND Realtor Earl Young poses in front of 40-ton boulder which he recently had mounted at the entrance to Boulder Park on Lakeshore dr. Young had the boulder moved from South Point to the park 40 years ago, but never got around to having it righted and landscaped until this summer. Last Saturday night, Boulder Park residents gave a surprise party for Young on the shore--their way of saying "thank you." They also plan to have a plaque affixed to the stone in recognition to Young's many contributions to Charlevoix.

Suggests Crayon Sketch In Planning Garden

By Hilda Alexander

Members of the Garden Club held their August meeting at the home of Mrs. Marge Dinwiddie, with Mrs. Arln Staublin as co-hostess.

Plans and suggestions for the coming year were talked over with the new officers and the lesson was given by Mrs. Mildred Paddock on "Labor Savers and Perennial Gardens."

The time has come to think about next year's garden by studying the one we now have and deciding on the arranging of the plants according to color and size. It is wise to plan your changes on paper, using crayons for the color scheme.

Mrs. Paddock said:

"A flower garden offers solace and joy, brings back fond memories and provides therapy for troubled minds. It welcomes us home from journeys or an illness and yields both peace and delight. But essentially it is the doing and digging in the garden rather then the seeing which is the most benefit. It is all an act of faith. Choose a plan to fit your space. Provide a strong background. Put special emphasis on truly reliable plants. Consider the foliage as well as flowers and keep the borders low and neat. For reference, she suggested a book in the Charlevoix Library entitled "All about the Perennial Garden" by Montague Free.

The next meeting will be guest night with a potluck dinner at the First State Bank Club Room at 7 p.m. Sept. 11.

Locals

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Donnelly and family have returned home from a week's vacation near St. Ignace.

Mrs. Lynn Miller of Royal Oak is visiting her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James Miller and family. Mr. Miller recently had surgery at Little Traverse Hospital.

Cheryl Kenney Wins Degree

More then 2,600 diplomas were awarded at the summer commencement ceremonies at Western Michigan University's Read Field House recently.

Among the recipients was Cheryl L. Kenney of Charlevoix who received a bachelor of science degree. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kenney of Mercer-blvd.

Elzinga-Sitzema Rites Solemnized by Candlelight

Patricia C. Elzinga became the bride of Gregory A. Sitzema in ceremonies Sept. 1 at the Community Reformed Church, the Rev. Albert F. Mansen officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Lois Garver Elzinga and James Elzinga of Charlevoix. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Sitzema, also of Charlevoix.

The double-ring ceremony was performed before an altar decorated with arrangement of garden flowers and lighted tapers in the presence of more than 200 guests.

The bride's aunt, Mrs. Richard Elzinga served as organist, accompanying soloist Mrs. James Mansen who sang "Love One Another and "The Lord's Prayer."

Escorted to the altar by her grandfather, Oliver Garver, the bride wore an Empire gown of sheer nylon organza with an embroidered lace bodice and front panel. The full skirt terminated in a chapel length train. A Camelot cap of sheer organza with a seed pearl crown secured her veil and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and rosebuds.

Maid of honor was Connie Crain who wore a full-length gown of pink chiffon and carried a bouquet of garden flowers. Sue and Judy Elzinga, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids. They wore identical gowns of yellow and turquoise chiffon, and carried garden flowers.

Dawn Sitzema, sister of the bridegroom, was flower girl in a turquoise gown. Ricky Johnecheck of Boyne City cousin of the bride, was ringbearer.

Cecil Hawkins was best man and Ronald Sitzema of Ellsworth, a brother of the bridegroom, and Robert Cudd were groomsmen.

James Elzinga jr., Steven Sitzema and Philip Christ were ushers.

An evening reception was hosted by the mother of the bride and the groom's parents at the American Legion Post Home. Connie Crain and Marilyn Cummings served the wedding cake; Rebecca Hair attended the guest book and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Koistra were MC's.

The couple will make their home in Ellsworth.

Number of Jobs Open In State Health Dept.

The State of Michigan is now accepting applications for a number of jobs in the health related fields, State Rep. Ralph Ostling (R-Roscommon) today announced. Positions as public health consultants, speech therapists and in mental retardation programs are becoming available periodically and the Department of Civil Services is seeking to update its employment lists with a new examination.

All of the positions require a minimum of a bachelor's degree in relevant studies as well as various levels of additional education and experience. Persons with education and experience in one of these fields who would be interested in working for the State of Michigan are urged to contact one of the many state civil service offices for further information and applications. Applications must be submitted to the Department of Civil Service by September 17, 1973, to be eligible for the examination.

Representative Ostling emphasized that the new examinations would replace existing employment lists for these positions and that those who have taken previous examinations may wish to re-apply.

The jobs and their corresponding salaries are listed below:

Mental Retardation Program Supervisor 10, $11,149.92 to $13,718.16; Mental Retardation Program Supervisor 11, $11,713.68 to $15,117.12; Mental Retardation Program Director 12, $13,780.80 to $17,539.20; Mental Retardation Program Director 13, $15,284.16 to $19,193.12. Mental Retardation Program Director 14, $16,495.20 to $20,921.76; Mental Retardation Program Director 15, $17,852.40 to $23,030.64, and Mental Retardation Program Director 18, $24,596.64 to $30,290.88.

Speech Therapist Trainee 07, $10,231.20 to $10,648.80; Speech Therapist Trainee 08, $10,784.96 to $11,233.44; Speech Therapist 09, $11,003.76 to $13,551.12; and Speech Therapist 10, $11,818.08 to $14,469.84.

Public Health Consultant 11, $12,736.80 to $15,952.32; and Public Health Consultant 12, $13,780.80 to $17,539.20.

DON'T WASTE NATURAL GAS.

The feature Sarah Klein likes most about her new Gas dryer doesn't even use Gas.

In fact, it helps her conserve Gas. It's her permanent press cycle. Ten minutes of nothing but fresh, fluffing air on her permanent press clothes—to keep the wrinkles from setting in. This saves Sarah all kinds of ironing, all kinds of Gas, and all kinds of money. No wonder it's her favorite feature.

But there's much more to appreciate in today's modern Gas dryers. Improved insulation and more precise controls mean even less fuel consumed, and even more money saved. And a Gas dryer operates for about one-fourth the cost of operating an electric one.

So, when you think about replacing your old dryer, think about a new Gas dryer with the permanent press cycle and other money-saving features. Various size models are now on display at Gas appliance dealers and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

And, whether you purchase a new dryer or use your present one, here are a few good tips for increasing its operating efficiency: (1) Keep the dryer's lint filter clean. (2) Avoid overdrying your clothing. (3) Keep the dryer's flue clear of lint accumulations. (4) Don't forget to follow the manufacturer's proper operating instructions.

Ellsworth Turns Out in Force for Barbecue

By Anne Osterbaan

Our annual chicken barbecue Sept 1 is history. Henri Zacharias, president of the Chamber of Commerce, reports the day was a big success and is very appreciative of all those who gave of their time in planning the day and to all who worked so hard in the broiling sun that day. At 10:30 a bicycle and tricycle parade was held beginning at the corner of Hardy and Main, south to the blinker and back again to the Community School to be judged. There were some 40 decorated bikes and trikes, besides several other older ones who darted around and even a black and white dog! Honorable mention went to Jerry Gaunt, Patti Lemond and second prize to "Little Princess" by Annette Van Houten and third prize to "I love America" by Karen Geladt.

About 700 portions of chicken were sold with gallons and gallons of punch and coffee, lots of potato salad, baked beans, rolls and pie.

Ten booths for games were set up and 2,000 tickets were sold to play in them.

Si Doctor sr., and John Drenth won 1st trophy in horse shoe and Paul Doctor and Bob Smalley the 2nd trophy. The Atwood Reformed Baseball team defeated the "All Stars" 11-7.

The play "The Rubber Neck", given by the Sports Boosters Club, in the evening was well received by a good sized crowd. It was extremely hot and attendance at both were diminished by the same.

Plans are being made for a bigger and better Chicken Barbecue next year.

Recent visitors with Mrs. Rena Shooks were Mr. and Mrs. George Martin and daughter Nancy, Mr. and Mrs. Ren Snyder and daughter Carri, both from Ann Arbor, Mrs. Hattie Green of Detroit, Mrs. Wm. Coeling jr. of Petoskey, Mrs. Hattie Boss of Atwood, Mrs. Robert Green and Mrs. Margaret Martin of Charlevoix.

Holiday visitors of Mrs. Jennie Wynsma were Mr. and Mrs. John Wynsma and three children, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wynsma and son Jeffrey and their sister Grace Rieberle all of Grand Rapids.

Nicole, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chet Drenth celebrated her first birthday Monday, Sept. 2, so all the Drenth and Wynsma were invited over to celebrate.

Lawrence Wynsma entered Little Traverse Hospital, Petoskey for observation and possible hip surgery.

The three Kooyer brothers, Bill, Jim and Walt and their families were home for the weekend. And with their father John Kooyer and brother Ron gave special musical numbers at the evening service and the hymn sing at the Christian Reformed Church Sunday. The Kooyers also entertained with singing and guitars at the Barnard Methodist Church Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Jay (Joan) Wedeven and children of Minneapolis, Minn., were weekend visitors with Pete John Drenth family. Marcia, Pete Alice's daughter was also home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Timmer and children Tim and Marcy of Jenison left Monday night after visiting his mother, Elsie Timmer, since Thursday night.

Mrs. Hattie Shooks gave a luncheon Wednesday noon in honor of Mrs. Hattie Vandenberg Newland and invited the cousins in the community. Mrs. Newland has lived in California for several years but recently returned to live in Grosse Pointe and is making her home with her daughter and son-in-law. Mrs. Newland is 88½ years. Those coming to visit Mrs. Newland were Fern Burns, Effie Essenberg, Geneva De Young, Isabel Vanden Berg, Grace Klooster, Josie Wassenaar, Alice Vanden Berg and Gertrude Heeres.

Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Rozema of Cutlerville, Mich., were Wednesday overnight guests of her cousin, Jake Timmer. Elsie Timmer and Anne Osterbaan also visited with the cousin Wednesday.

Mrs. Maggie Wold and three lady friends all from Zeeland spent a few days in the community last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Klooster and three children from Wyoming came Thursday to spend the day with Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Essenberg and families.

Mrs. Bill (Jeane) Muha and four children recently flew to Mt. Vernon, Washington where they were guests of her brother, James Bugai.

School board officers of the Community School are Mrs. Jean Muha, president, Mrs. Martha Drenth, secretary; Arthur Rius, treasurer; and Walter Chellis, John Best, Robert Smalley and Richard Shooks, trustees.

Mr. and Mrs. Zoerhoff, parents of Mrs. Marvin Vander Vliet, spent the weekend at the parsonage.

Visitors with the Art Drenth family were their daughter Joann and husband Lowell Mott and baby from Warren, Iowa also Lowell's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Mott and two sisters from Grand Rapids.

Holiday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jake Drenth were Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Klooster of Wyoming.

Visiting their parents Mr. and Mrs. James Rubingh and Glenn were Mr. and Mrs. Gary Rubingh of Big Rapids and Allen Rubingh and son Edward from Grandville.

Sunday visitors with Mettie Vander Ark were Mr. and Mrs. John Venema and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Brinks of Hudsonville.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Groelsema of Grand Rapids called on Elsie Timmer Thursday.

John Koster and son John of Bridgeview, Ill., called on Fannie Koster Sunday.

From a reliable source, we have the information that in 1953 we experienced a nine-day 90 degree heat wave. If history repeats itself we can look for relief. Even a picture of snow looks good to us now.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Postmus and children and their aunts Mrs. Beryl Scott and Mrs. Gladys McKinnon of East Jordan spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Norton of Ludington.

Two bridal showers were given recently for Colleen Strange, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Strange. Colleen was married to Richard Donaldson jr., of Charlevoix on Sept. 6, 1973. Brenda Strange and sister-in-law, Mrs. Greg Strange, were hosts at a shower on Aug. 17. A group of about 20 classmates and friends attended. On Wednesday evening, a second shower was given by Judy Vollmer, Joan Best and relatives. About 25 women came for the shower in the Atwood Reformed Church.

Rev. DeVries from the Asbury Theological Seminary of Wilmore Ky. was home for a week to visit his father Siebe, who underwent major surgery at Charlevoix. Siebe is still very weak, but is out of the intensive care unit where he was from Monday to Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wathel of Royal Oak, Mrs. Betty Orton of Warren and Mrs. Mildren Starnaman of Fort Myers, Fla., were weekend visitors of Mrs. Robert Lemond on White Road.

Miss Thelma Drenth of Grand Rapids spent the weekend with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Gerrit George Drenth, her brothers Chet and wife and daughter Nicole and brothers Garry and Eugene.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold John Osterbaan and three children of Hudsonville came Saturday for the long weekend leaving again Tuesday morning. They were house guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Carpenter. They also attended the class reunion of 1958.

Cadillac '74

More than ever... America's Number One Luxury Car.

It is a matter of record that in the model year just ending more people chose to own Cadillacs than ever before in history—more than double those of the nearest competitor. And it is true that Cadillac traditionally leads all U.S. car makes in both resale value and owner loyalty. It's a record without equal. Yet in many ways the Cadillacs of 1974 are superior to the cars that established this record.

It's what you expect of Cadillac ...and something more.

More choice. And what a choice it is—the greatest in the luxury field. There are the three you see here. The classic Fleetwood Brougham. The magnificent new version of America's only luxury convertible—Eldorado. The newly styled Coupe deVille. Plus six other basic models. Plus...

New Special Edition Cars: Luxury versions of DeVille. A new Brougham d'Elegance. And the new ultra-elegant Fleetwood Talisman.

More elegance. Inside every 1974 Cadillac is a new instrument panel. Interiors are more luxurious than ever.

More flair. The smart new styling of the Coupe deVille is a case in point. Its new lines, highlighted by the private quarter window, accent its youthful flavor.

More driving pleasure. Finer engine performance from start to stop. Due in part to a new combustion chamber, a new camshaft, a choke rundexer to provide quick starting, a snorkel to supply the engine with cooler air.

And something less. Even less engine noise with high-damping engine mounts, a fan clutch and a muffler for air intake. Inside the car, a virtual network of acoustical materials—including double seals on doors—silently does its job. After all, it's a Cadillac.

To own or lease the 1974 Cadillac of your choice, see your Cadillac dealer now.

Strange-Donaldson Rites Solemnized at Atwood

Colleen Janus Strange of Ellsworth became the bride of Richard E. Donaldson Jr., of Charlevoix in ceremonies Sept. 6 at the Atwood Reformed Church, the Rev. Larry Brossett officiating.

The double-ring ceremony was performed in the presence of 150 guests before an altar decorated with baskets of white gladioli and pink and blue pom-poms.

Mrs. Hans DeYoung, organist, accompanied Mrs. John Best who sang "There is Love" and Mrs. Ken Boss who sang "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an old-fashioned gown of Satapeau and Cluny lace with a "V" bib bodice, high ruffled collar, bishop sleeves with ruffled cuffs, an A-line skirt and an attached chapel train. Her costume was accented by pink pull-through ribbons and streamers. Her full-length veil of illusion was secured by a lace trimmed baby doll bonnet highlighted by a bow and streamers.

She carried a cascade of miniature carnations accented with pink sweetheart roses.

Miss Brenda Strange, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Mrs. Greg Strange and Miss Sue Donaldson were bridesmaids. They wore gowns of pink crepe and nylon marquisette with flared backs, full-length sleeves and jeweled necklines. They carried bouquets of long-stemmed pink roses.

Jode Alward was flower girl and Billy Alward was ringbearer.

Robert Donaldson served as his brother's best man. Dan Strange and Ralph Doan were groomsmen and Greg Strange and Jim Donaldson were ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Strange hosted a reception at the church following the ceremony.

After a wedding trip to southern Michigan the couple will make their home in Ellsworth.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Donaldson home Sept. 5.

NOTICE OF HEARING ON A CONSERVATION PROGRAM INVOLVING GAS RATE SCHEDULES

On August 21, 1973, Michigan Consolidated Gas Company applied to the Michigan Public Service Commission for approval of a program for the conservation of natural gas by means of promoting insulation of residences heated by natural gas. (Case No. [illegible])

The application states that large numbers of the Company's residential space heating customers reside in older homes which do not have insulation meeting current standards established by the Federal Housing Administration. A study by the Company indicates that installation of 6 inches of ceiling insulation in a typical two-story, uninsulated house built in Detroit prior to 1940 would reduce the quantity of natural gas used for heating by about 17 percent, and that addition of 1½ inches of ceiling insulation in a typical two-story house built in the Detroit area after 1950 with 1½ inches of ceiling insulation would reduce the quantity of natural gas used for heating by about 10 percent.

The application states that in view of the critical current shortage of natural gas and other forms of energy in Michigan and throughout the country, conservation of natural gas used for residential space heating is in the public interest and in the interest of Michigan Consolidated's customers.

The program which Michigan Consolidated proposes for promoting insulation would include a major effort to communicate to the public the need for conservation of natural gas and the contribution which home insulation can make to that goal. The Company would employ advertising in press, radio, and television together with direct mail to customers and use of its outdoor signs and the message boards carried by its vehicles. It would prepare brochures and make them available through its offices and through insulation contractors.

The Company would urge homeowners to install insulation themselves or to hire a contractor to do so. The Company would also offer, on a non-profit basis to the Company, to arrange for the installation, in residential premises owned by any qualified residential space heating customer, of ceiling insulation meeting the most recent FHA standard. A residential space heating customer would qualify for the program if he is not in arrears in payment of his gas bill. Where the Company thus arranged for installation, it would finance up to 80 percent of the cost of the insulation over a period of up to 36 months, at an interest rate of 1 percent per month on unpaid balance. The Company would not itself sell insulation or install insulation, but would subcontract the work to dealers and contractors.

The application asks the Michigan Public Service Commission pursuant to Section 63 of 1969 PA 306 (MCLA 24.263) to issue its ruling declaring that the proposed program is a utility function within the scope of the service rendered by Michigan Consolidated as a public utility; and that the cost thereof is a proper charge to utility cost of service, to be reflected in rates hereafter prescribed for Michigan Consolidated. The application further asks the Commission pursuant to Section 7 of 1919 PA 419 (MCLA 460.57) to approve amendments to the Company's Schedule of Rules, Regulations and Rates for Gas Service (MPSC No. 31. Under the proposed amendments payments owed the Company for installation of insulation would become part of the charge for residential space heating gas service rendered to the insulated premises, and the cost of such installation, if not paid for by the residential space heating customer who contracted for the work, would be charged to successor customers at the insulated premises at the rate of $5 per month.

A public hearing will be held at 1:30 p.m., on September 24, 1973, and continue on September 25, 1973, commencing at 9:30 a.m., if necessary, in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, for the purpose of determining whether the rulings and approvals sought should be granted. Any interested parties may attend the hearing and participate subject to the provisions of the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure. Copies of the application may be obtained from the Secretary of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, or from the Secretary of Michigan Consolidated Gas Company, One Woodward Avenue, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

This Notice is published by order of the Michigan Public Service Commission, which has directed the Company to publish notice of this proceeding in all newspapers of general circulation published within its service area, 10 days or more prior to date of hearing.

It Should Be Good Year For Grouse Hunters

Last year was generally a good one for ruffed grouse hunters in the northern Lower Peninsula, but this year promises to be even better.

Reports compiled this summer by the Department of Natural Resources on the basis of observations by field personnel indicate grouse numbers are up in all four districts in the region.

The reports bear out opinion polls conducted last spring of DNR field personnel, federal forest rangers and selected sportsmen. Of the 189 persons who took part in the polls, 120 said they were seeing more grouse than in the previous spring, 54 were seeing approximately the same number and only nine were seeing fewer birds.

Department biologists attribute the increased grouse numbers to good carryover of birds during the winter, favorable hatching conditions last spring and continued improvement in grouse habitat through extensive woodland cuttings.

"Brood sightings and sizes are up substantially from 1972, which was a good year," reported Robert Huff, Cadillac District Wildlife Biologist.

Philip [illegible], Mio District Wildlife Biologist, rates this year much better than last in terms of grouse numbers. "We're seeing more birds and larger broods," he said.

Brood sightings also are up in the Gladwin district, according to Thomas Prawdzik, the biologist in charge of that district. He said there is "a tremendous food crop" this summer and that grouse are being found in good numbers in blackberry patches. Many broods also were being observed around new forest cuttings, Prawdzik said.

COMMON COUNCIL

COUNCIL MINUTES

August 27, 1973
8:00 p.m.

The Common Council met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Ald. Present: Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw.

The minutes of the August 13, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

James Corbin was present to inquire if the City might be interested in buying property on the North Channel bank or perhaps to make an exchange for suitable City property. The matter was put into the Land Use Committee, meeting scheduled for Sept. 5, 1973, for further evaluation.

Mr. Dhaseleer inquired if the Hudson Movers of Cheboygan had applied for a permit to move the house from 535 Petoskey Avenue. He was advised that no permit had been granted and informed he must make arrangements with Cable TV and the Telephone Company.

Charles Scherping inquired if the airport lease was ready. He was advised that the City Attorney is drafting the lease for hangar construction which should be ready by September 5, 1973 for the Committee to review.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Timms.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the City of Charlevoix has advertised for bids for the construction of the May Street Sewer, Division A, according to plans and specifications here-to-fore approved to be financed by the sale of revenue bonds and G. & T. Construction Company of Traverse City, Michigan is the lowest bidder therefore in the amount of $201,179.25.

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix award said contract for said Division A to the said G. & T. Construction Company for said sum contingent upon the sale of the proposed Revenue Bonds upon conditions, terms, interests rates, and conditions satisfactory to the City and within a reasonable time, in the sole judgment of the City.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Mayor & Clerk be authorized to execute said contract on behalf of the City, upon the sale of said bonds. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Alderman Timms offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderman Supernaw.

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix award to W. A. Porter of East Jordan, the lowest bidder thereon on Division B., Bridge Street Sanitary Relief Sewer, for $10,763 and that the Mayor and Clerk be authorized to execute the contract for the City. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph & Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The adoption of Resolution No. 2 prepared by Miller, Canfield, Paddock and Stone was discussed and referred to Attorney Ance for his opinion.

Alderman Supernaw offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Ald. Timms.

RESOLUTION

RESOLVED that the City of Charlevoix approve Donald Weston's revised proposed dock and wood piling (NCECO-O Process No. 73038) according to plans dated June 6, 1973 and revised August 15, 1973, except that the City objects to the Southeast piling shown thereon or any piling extending out in the lake beyond the proposed dock. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Mrs. Sommerville's land request was referred to Attorney Ance. He will trace past assessments to figure a price for the parcel by the next regular meeting.

A motion was made by Ald. Timms and supported by Ald. Supernaw that the City Administrator be authorized to send a letter to The Port of Bay City, stating that the City of Charlevoix wishes to go on record as being opposed to House Bill No. 4377 and that a copy be directed to Representative Ralph Ostling and Senator Robert W. Davis. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Attorney Ance advised Council that he now has all the City's papers from former City Attorney and will draft the proposed deed for the Bellaire Hydro Plant.

Attorney Ance advised the Mayor not to sign the Memorandum of Understanding, pertaining to insurance matters of the old Coast Guard Station, as requested by the Department of Natural Resources. He will examine it and have an opinion by the next Council meeting.

Alderman Timms offered the following Resolution and moved its adoption, supported by Alderwoman Wallace.

RESOLUTION

WHEREAS the City has discontinued the use of and sold the Bellaire Hydro Electric Generating Plant except for the electric generating unit and equipment thereon, which the City desires to sell;

THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the City advertise for sealed bids to be received by September 10, 1973 at 8:00 p.m. for the sale of said electric generating unit, exclusive of gates, with the bidder to assume all liability for removing the same and save the City harmless from an act of ommission in doing so, posting such liability insurance coverage as the City may require and without damage to the building or dam, except such as may be approved of by the City. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Correspondence dated August 10, 1973 from Ron Pair Enterprises was discussed. The City Attorney advised Council to get a financial report and to check them out. Mayor Hansen asked that a copy of their letter be mailed to the Department of Public Health.

The Department of Natural Resources lease and bill of sale on the old Coast Guard property were referred to Attorney Ance for his opinion.

Correspondence from the Department of Public Health dated August 21, 1973 regarding the inadequacy of the City's water supply system was discussed and the City Administrator was directed to inquire of McNamee, Porter and Seeley the feasibility of wells instead of the tank as shown in the 1972 report.

Administrator Hanna's letter of August 22, 1973 regarding the Municipal Electric System was reviewed. Mr. Hanna was authorized to investigate and submit names of consultants, get estimates on reviewing the system and a ten year capital outlay program.

The City Administrator's letter of August 24, 1973 regarding Septic Tank Dump Station Fees was reviewed. The City Attorney was directed to prepare an Ordinance.

The City Administrator's letter of August 24, 1973 regarding replacement of curb on the east side of Bridge Street was discussed. A motion was made by Ald. Supernaw and supported by Ald. Selph authorizing the City Administrator to advertise for the taking of sealed bids for 518 lineal feet of curb replacement on the East side of Bridge Street between Antrim and Park Avenue. Bids to be received by the City Clerk until 8:00 p.m., September 10, 1973. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Correspondence from Ward Brother's Boats regarding Timberlee Hills Dock Construction was reviewed. It will be placed on file until notice is received from the U.S. Corp of Engineers.

The City Administrator's letter dated August 24, 1973 regarding the lease of a 40,000 gallon storage tank that must be diked according to the State Fire Marshal's office was discussed. The matter was discussed and no action taken.

The construction of one pole building to be utilized as an addition to the Street Department Garage and a separate pole building for the purpose of providing cover salt storage was discussed and put into committee.

Motion was made by Ald. Timms and supported by Ald. Wallace that the Council authorize the City Administrator to prepare engineer drawings of the water main extension for Norwood Road for submittal to the State Health Department. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

The request of John Weinbaum for splitting of lot 103 Crouter's Addition into two lots, according to the survey and descriptions was reviewed. He was advised to return it to his surveyor for further information.

Rates for electricity were discussed and it was felt that new rates should be adopted. The matter was put into Committee for further study by the Committee, at their meeting September 5, 1973.

The Committee reported on their review of applications for the position of City Administrator. Mayor Hansen felt that in the absence of Mr. Hanna, who is on vacation and will be leaving permanently September 15, 1973, the City should have someone to head up that office and offered Robert Wexstaft, Assistant City Assessor, as his appointment to act on a temporary basis as Administrator, during the absence of a City Administrator. Motion was made by Ald. Selph and supported by Ald. Plumm that the Council accept the Mayor's appointment of Robert Wexstaff to serve as Administrator on a temporary basis during the absence of a City Administrator, to be paid at his assessor's salary. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: Alderwoman Wallace and Alderman Fochtman. Absent: None.

Alderwoman Wallace discussed complaints by her constituents of the condition of the City Park on Park Avenue. She reviewed the condition of the steps to the beach as being a hazzard to the public, and the general litter in the park.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $74,367.28 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Motion was made by Ald. Plumn and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that they be allowed and orders drawn for same. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman, Plumm, Selph and Supernaw. Nays: None. Absent: None.

Moved by Ald. Fochtman, supported by Alderwoman Wallace that Council adjourn.

'58 Class Meets at Ellsworth

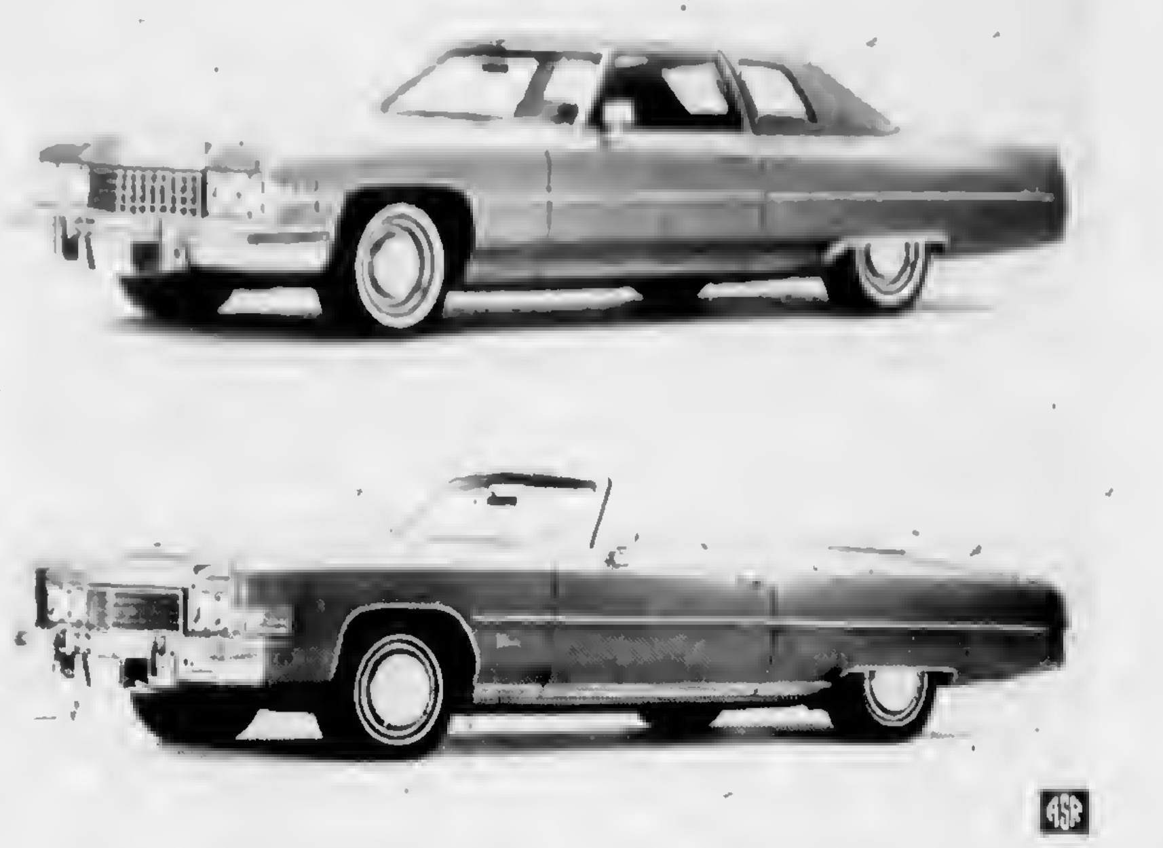
They met for supper at 5:30. The Ways and Means committee of the Ebenezer Christian School prepared a delicious meal which was enjoyed by all.

Letters were received from absent class members were read by Donna Heeres. John Peebles read the class will and class prophecy. Then each member of the class gave an account of his past years.

After the meal, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Tornga invited the members to their home for visiting and all enjoyed reminiscing of the good old school days.

Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. Jim Vander Wege (Virginia Brown); Mr. and Mrs. Jay Wedeven (Joanne Drenth); Mr. and Mrs. Robert Courtright (Arlene Goeman); Mr. and Mrs. Bud Tornga (Shirley Sitzema); Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osterbaan (Judy Carpenter); Mr. and Mrs. Richard Denny; Mr. and Mrs. James Goeman; Mr. and Mrs. Duane Evans (Joyce Spoelman; Mr. and Mrs. Terry Zidick (Janiee Compeau); Mr. and Mrs. John Peebles; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Burns (Rose Fairman); Mr. and Mrs. Jake Koens (Joy Stoel); and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Heeres (Donna Alward).



THE CAR WHICH most exemplifies Cadillac for 1974 is the re-designed Coupe de Ville (top). The standard front end features a new lighting arrangement. New bumper guards are wider and lower. The bumper impact strips are standard and are silver gray to blend with the bumper. The Fleetwood Eldorado convertible (bottom) also is in the line-up for 1974. Focal point of the new front appearance is a uniquely-styled fine mesh grille which extends below the center bumper bar and is protected against impact by two short guards. Seven convertible top choices are available.

Why the Apathy Toward Bike Tour?

It is ironic that a sporting event as widely publicized and as widely participated in as Charlevoix's Lakeside Bicycle Tour should enjoy so little interest or enthusiasm at home:

The third annual tour was held Saturday --- a perfect day for biking --- and about 200 cyclists from across the state converged on Charlevoix to take part.

Yet of all the riders, you could count the number of Charlevoixans in the pack on one hand, and still have a few fingers left over.

Members of Petoskey's Little Traverse Travelers Bicycle Club showed up in force, as did cyclists from Boyne City, East Jordan and other communities in the area.

But even they were outnumbered by the dozens of cyclists who traveled to Charlevoix from Grand Rapids, Lansing, Ann Arbor and Detroit to take part in one of the most delightful bicycle tours in Michigan.

Why the apathy in Charlevoix?

We don't pretend to know the reasons.

Perhaps Charlevoixans are just too worn out after Labor Day to lift a finger, much less two legs and a fanny.

Perhaps the trip, which takes cyclists through some of the most picturesque scenery in northern Michigan, is "old hat" to most of them. They have ridden the Ironton Ferry more times than they care to count.

HONK!
SCHOOL BUS
HUNTER

The charm of bicycling down the peninsula to Whiting Park, Advance and Boyne City sounds too much like work. And the rolling hills that make the Boyne City-rd. so alluring to visitors mean only hard pumping to localite astride a bicycle.

But that's not the point.

The absence of participation by Charlevoixans in the Lakeside Tour could spell its demise in a few short years.

Where were the banners across Bridge-st. welcoming the riders to town? Certainly many of them spent considerable money in Charlevoix, what with overnight lodging and food.

What entertainment was planned for them after the ride was over? The least we could do is have a dance for the riders Saturday night --- or a keg of beer and a cooler of pop at the finish line.

Why didn't one of the bicycle dealers tag along, with a truck loaded with spare parts, tires, tubes, a tank of air and a first-aid kit?

The Chamber of Commerce has done a superb job in getting the Lakeside Tour off and running. But the C of C can only do so much.

With half of the people in town addicted to the bicycle to various degrees, it seems that the time is ripe for the formation of a bicycle club to coordinate the Lakeside Tour.

Bicycling probably is the fastest-growing outdoor sport in America. And Charlevoix is in on the ground floor with its Lakeside Tour.

But we'll lose it to Petoskey or Harbor Springs unless we do something next year to make our riders feel that Charlevoix wants them to come back.

Is Foul Air Triggering New Ice Age?

Is air pollution triggering a new ice age?

Even in a hot summer, the question worries scientists. They point out winters have been getting colder for the last 30 years, and only an annual drop in temperature from 6 degrees F. to 8 degrees F. around the world would be enough to touch off a new ice age.

Eventually – in several thousand years – it would become the sort of chilling spectacular that drove early man deep into his cave, that proved too much for the woolly mammoth, and grooved lakes into hundreds of miles of Canada as an ice sheet thousands of feet thick ground over the land and mountains.

This time many of the world's cities might be crunched flat. "Energy crisis" and "food shortage" might be more than headline phrases, and man might seriously think about colonizing the moon.

FREEZING HOTHOUSE

The temperature may be edging downward, according to one growing belief, because thickening air pollution is shielding the atmosphere and reflecting the sun's heat rays back into space. If this is true, it may be because the phenomenon is winning a struggle against another doing the opposite – heating the world.

Evidence backs up both theories, the National Geographic Society says. Since about 1940, yearly temperatures have been slipping down, steadily if slightly.

Up to that time, temperatures gradually had been getting warmer, thanks to a "hothouse effect" in the atmosphere. Carbon dioxide, pumped into the air by factories and automobiles, much faster than nature's growing plants can use it up, has been trapping the reflected heat waves inside the earth's atmosphere, as in a hothouse.

On the other hand, if temperatures dropped to 40 degrees F., most of the world's plants would be killed. This could happen, scientists say, if 50 million tons of pollution particulates – fine dust – poured forth from factories and exhaust pipes.

This might trigger a "little ice age," unless prevented by natural events or by man's efforts with help of satellites to track climate patterns on earth and to measure the sun's warming rays as they try to penetrate the earth's atmosphere.

Another theory speculates the atmosphere might have been clouded with thick dust and ash of many volcanoes. In any event, man-made air pollution would be an original 20th-century cause of a new ice age.

Clockwise Back to the Soil

By BOB TLOCK

Welcome to the new America — a land whose survival in the last quarter of the 20th Century will depend on how well we can feed the rest of the world.

Although it's a pretty tough reality to face, the United States is no longer the industrial power she once was in relation to other nations. With the increasing industrialization of Europe and Asia, the percentage of manufactured products originating on these shores grows smaller with every passing year.

And it has finally reached a point that if the U.S. is to compete with other nations, we must do it in an area in which we still remain No. 1: Food production.

In just under 200 years, the United States has gone full cycle from an agricultural nation, to the greatest industrial society the world has ever witnessed, back to a nation where agriculture reigns supreme.

And this is one of the reasons — aside from the freezes and thaws imposed by the Nixon Administration — you are paying more for groceries today than ever before.

Europeans and Asiatics are too busy manufacturing automobiles, rolling steel, pumping petroleum and making cameras, TV's and stereos for U.S. consumption to raise enough foodstuffs to feed themselves.

Furthermore, some of them, notably Japan, don't have enough arable land to grow the food they need. And the more prosperous they become from their new industrialization, the more sophisticated their demands in the supermarket.

Nations which once survived on rice have now discovered the delights of wheat products. As a result, more than half of America's 1973 wheat crop already has been sold overseas.

Walter Wittenback, chairman of the Michigan State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, reported last week that for the first time since 1940, the U.S. government has no wheat in storage. And for the first time since 1948 it has no corn in storage.

Federal wheat storage bins have been dismantled and farmers who wish to hold on to their wheat for more favorable prices are storing it on their own farms.

Wittenbach says the situation is just what the public has demanded for years — a food market governed by supply and demand. And if a farmer can get more for his wheat and corn in Calcutta and Timbuctu than he can in Ellsworth or Harbor Springs, that's where he is going to sell it.

All of which should help our lop-sided "balance of payments." Because of the high cost of American labor, there is not much demand overseas for U.S. manufactured good. What could we possibly sell to Japan that the Japanese can't make themselves at a fraction of the cost?

And the same goes for just about every civilized country in the world. We have priced ourselves out of the world market in just about every area except one: Food. Thanks to a relatively small population, vast amounts of arable land, sophisticated farm machinery and even more sophisticated agricultural know-how, the United States is able to produce foodstuffs cheaper than any other nation.

And food is going to be our ace-in-the-hole until rising labor costs overseas put our manufacturers back into a competitive position.

There is no telling when this will happen. But you can be sure that when the union movement comes of age abroad, American-made goods will once again become competitive and the importance of agricultural goods in the balance of payments will begin to diminish.

In the meantime, what will happen to our sprawling factories, our thousands of miles of assembly lines and our wealth of technological know-how? I don't pretend to know.

Perhaps the government will have to step in to subsidize industry just as it subsidized the farmers for many years. Maybe we'll have "factory banks" instead of soil banks. Perhaps the wheat bins will be reassembled to warehouse nuts, bolts, fenders and transmissions.

The years ahead may be difficult, but they certainly aren't going to be boring.

Pass the rice.

If it Fitz

And then I wrote....

For me, life began at the age of five as I was walking home from Jefferson School with some other kid's galosh on one foot.

That is my earliest memory. All which occurred before that day is a blank. And there are countless gaps in the years since then - I can't remember what happened last Saturday night - but I've never forgotten the reckless abandon with which I got mud on that strange galosh I hopped through every puddle.

This memory was revived last week by a sad picture in the Port Huron Times Herald. It portrayed the dying gasp of Jefferson School. They have torn it down. Zounds. I must quit reading that paper before I run out of nostalgia. That town, as I remember it, is crumbling in the face of dratted progress.

Gone is the marvelous pavilion in Pine Grove Park where a kid could find a zillion hiding places...and prance grandly while the Kiwanis band played Sousa spine-tinglers.

Yesterdays Are Best

I delivered mail in Port Huron and, so help me, they have leveled my entire route. The same fate flattened most of my newspaper route. Urban Renewal, that gigantic bruiser of boyhood memories, has replaced dozens of worn but warm homes with a few cold office buildings. I wonder where all the people went, and if they are getting their mail and papers all right.

Now they've done away with Jefferson, my first school, and I will soon run out of places to drive by and point at and bore my kids talking about.

I attended Jefferson for only one year, kindergarten. Two things, besides the wrong galosh, I remember most. One is what I had to wear. Short pants and long, lumpy stockings held up by a garter belt. Remember? I can close my eyes and see again my long underwear bulking out between the tops of my stockings and the bottom of my pants.

The other thing I can remember most is our kindergarten band. I played the water whistle in it. Is there such a thing as a water whistle today? I don't think so. My whistle was shaped like a bird and you filled it with water and then blew through the tail and a shrill, gurgly noise came out the beak. I have always thought that Lawrence Welk must have played a water whistle in school.

Our band had a recital for parents, of course, My dad attended and complained for years after. He swore that I blew and blew but no noise came out. He was right. I was nervous that day and I forgot to put water in the whistle. When you are five years old, this is a terrible thing. But it makes a lovely memory.

When you write a column like this you can write about yesterday, today or tomorrow. When I write about today I am usually angry about something. For tomorrow I am hopeful, but leery.

Yesterdays are the best. The memories make me smile, and sometimes hoot, and sometimes my eyes get damp. And almost always I go back to that first day, hopping through the puddles, and I wish I could remember if that other kid ever got his galosh back.

County-wide Zoning Election Linked to U.S. Land Use Bill

(Editor's Note: Although county-wide zoning went down to defeat in the Aug. 14 special election, the outcome of the referendum in no way diminishes the need for careful, thoughtful land use now and for all time to come. The following article was written by Washington Post columnist David S. Broder this summer while vacationing on Beaver Island. It concerns the Charlevoix County Zoning referendum, but it also deals with the larger issue of how we use, or misuse, our most precious natural resource — the land around us.)

By DAVID S. BRODER

BEAVER ISLAND, Mich. — Out here on this island on the north end of Lake Michigan, Watergate-fever is as weak as the television signals that carry the witness' flickering image from the Senate caucus room via the stations on the mainland.

We have another concern out here — a referendum coming up in mid-August on revoking or retaining the new zoning ordinance of Charlevoix County, of which we are a part.

Beaver Island, which lay blessedly dormant in the century since the Irish and the Mormons fought a battle for its control, has been caught up in the great American recreational land boom.

Until the mid-1960's any beach you wanted to camp or swim or picnic on was yours to use. Then, the subdividers moved in and carved the best beaches into 100-foot frontages. Those lots have more than tripled in value in the past five years, as land-hungry families from Detroit, Grand Rapids and Chicago have ranged farther and farther north in their search for waterfront property.

The county government has moved to meet the challenge. A decade ago just as the first wave of developers arrived, the first contract was let to a Grand Rapids consulting firm to devise a land use plan for Charlevoix County. A member of that consulting team was hired two years ago to set up a one-man planning department for the county, and last October, the county enacted its first zoning ordinance.

Now, the infant zoning law is in trouble — for reasons as traditionally American as apple pie. Some folks are opposed to anything that limits their rights as property owners to put whatever they want on their land — be it condominiums or a carwash.

Others say they are willing to have zoning, but only if it's administered by a truly local government, the township, not that distant bureaucracy in Charlevoix. That sounds funny, but if you're out here in the lake or over at Boyne City, 20 miles east of the courthouse, you resent having to travel to Charlevoix for zoning hearings.

These forces of localism and individualism convince county planner Bill Mercer that the first weapon in his arsenal may be taken from him in the referendum — and then there will be no developers.

The local debate is part of a much larger national issue, which came to focus earlier this summer when the Senate passed and sent to the House, something called the Land Use Policy and Planning Assistance Act of 1973.

I had first heard of the bill more than a year ago, when its principal sponsor, Sen. Henry M. Jackson (D-Wash.), mentioned it one day on the presidential primary trail as "the most important bill" before Congress.

Somewhat skeptical, I made a mental note to look it up, and finally have gotten around to doing so. I have been sitting on the beach, reading the hearings and report and floor debate on S268, and, with the fervor of the newly converted, I am prepared to try to convince you that Jackson was right.

At the very least, I am now persuaded that the issue with which Jackson has been struggling for three years is as important to the future of this country as was Watergate. And it is a matter of some chagrin that, except for the excellent coverage of the Christian Science Monitor's Robert Cahn, those of us in journalism have let it go largely unreported.

The issue is important because of the scale and pervasiveness of the problem. As Jackson said in his speech introducing the measure last January:

"Between now and the year 2000, we must build again all that we have built before. We must build as many homes, schools and hospitals in the next three decades as we built in the previous centuries. In the past, many land use decisions were the province of those whose interests were selfish, short-term and private. In the future — in the face of immense pressures on our limited land resource, — these land use decisions must be long-term and public."

The other reason that the land use decision is as important as Watergate is that, like Watergate, it raises in very direct fashion the question whether our institutions of self-government are fulfilling, or subverting the public will.

As the Interior Committee report on the Jackson bill says, "A citizen may significantly suffer from or enjoy the impact of decisions to site an airport, grant a subdivision permit, widen a highway, fill wetlands, or purchase parkland, made not by his community but by the municipality located downstream, downwind, across the road, or up the street from him. Yet, neither he nor the public officials for whom he has voted may be able to participate effectively in these decisions."

That is the two-sided problem the voters here on Beaver Island are confronting next month — how to make the land use planning decision both effective and representative.

Jackson's bill, which will be discussed in the next column, offers one solution to that problem. And whether your concern is saving parkland, securing a decent housing supply, making cities livable, or — in our case — preserving a Lake Michigan beach, his bill is important to you.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Like nicknames, original place names persist beyond the life span of the founder's remotest kin.

This can be somewhat annoying to the present owners of a posh air conditioned restaurant which began as Dugan's Diner when a ten-day meal ticket cost six dollars. Now ten score years later people still arrange to meet at Dugan's for lunch.

Logic, rather then nostalgia, dictates this practice. Imagine our citizens attempting to memorize a long list of unpronounceable French, Greek or Italian names proclaiming the identity of successive caterers to a public more interested in the quality of the food then the ancestry of the current owner.

Dugans is the common denominator that solves the problem. Though unimpressive, it is easily remembered and without this reference point we would be directing hungry strangers county wide in search of this bygone landmark now in its neneteenth ownership.

Outlying areas are always referred to as 'farms' or 'homesteads', prefixed by 'old' to eliminate any latter day complications. This authentic fact provides us with the answer for the traveler who asks,

"How do I get to the Le Harve Shadylane Inn?"

Obviously, we can't direct him until we locate it with our mental cross reference as the Old McCafferty Homestead and with this information the vacationer can be zeroed in like a homing pigeon and will not wander off into Antrim County with that bundle of money some zealots believe essential to enjoyment.

The Chamber of Commerce benefits directly from this mule headed policy of us natives who translate their promotional brochures into specific locations. We resolve the conflict between their colorful advertising in French and Indian and the highway maps which are written in English and blissfully ignore the fact that Muddy Creek-rd. is now Meadowbrook Lane in the publications of the Society of Land Developers.

A tourist, surprised to find the Chamber office open, enters and seeks directions to a much ballyhooed resort and receives these instructions.

"Drive South on 66 to the Villa De Morpheus; then bear left to the Casa Que Anesthesia and make a right to the Costly Croche Manor."

The first four words contain the only information to be gleaned and heading south, the traveler ends up in Grayling with his bundle of green. Had he asked any freckle faced tyke for a translation of this travelogue he would be advised to turn left at the rusty windmill on the Old Williams Homestead and ask anyone weeding turnips where the Old Teeter Property is.

From Kokomo to Hamtramick these delighted vacationers exhort their friends to stop at the Teeter Place south of Charlevoix and to sample the lobster at Dugans. This local custom is a quaint little moneymaker.

Kids May Sign Up For Pass, Punt and Kick

Registration is now open for the 1973 Ford Pass, Punt and Kick Competition, according to Tom Erber, president of Erber Auto Co.

"We're looking forward to a big local PP and K competition in Charlevoix this year on Sept. 29," Erber said. "We hope all the youngsters 8 through 13 years of age in the area will come in to register and take part."

Erber said the competition is free of charge and that youngsters need only have a parent or guardian accompany them to the showroom to register.

Youngsters will be divided into six age groups for the PP andK contest, Erber said, with first, second and third place prizes awarded in each group, or 18 trophies in all.

He added that the different age categories increase the entrant's chances of winning.

Erber said there is no body-contact in PPandK.

"It's punting, passing and place kicking for distance and points, just as the name says," he pointed out. "First place winners in each age group in our competition will go on to the Zone competition. And from there, top winners go on up the ladder through District, Area, Division and National finals."

This year the finals will be held in Houston, Texas, on Jan. 13.

Upon registration, each entrant will receive a free PP andK Tips Book. The 1973 edition includes competition tips by National Football Leagues stars Jerrel Wilson, Norm Snead and Chester Marcol plus all-'round suggestions from head coaches Don Shula and Dan Devine. The Tips Book also includes complete PPandK rules and helpful conditioning exercises for contestants.

description of S. Bridge-st. in the letter was not insulting but factual.

Duke said that if and when shopping centers spring up outside of town, small strip-zoned commercial areas in the periphery of the city will be the first to go under.

In other business the council:

–Agreed to sell Mrs. Robert Sommerville a small section of property adjacent to her home on Palmer-st. for $500. The Sommervilles have cared for the property for years and have paid taxes on it although it wasn't included in their property description.

–Discussed stand-by power units to operate life pumps at condominiums during periods of power failure, as required by the state Health Department.

–Received a bid of $16,450 from Progressive Engineering Co. of Grand Haven for the purchase of generating equipment at the Bellaire plant and 28 miles of utility line which linked the facility to the city of Charlevoix.

–Agreed to split a triangular shaped lot owned by Jacob Wein baum on Crouter, Auld and Burns-sts.

–Set Oct. 8 as the date for a public hearing on a change in the zoning of Charles Taylor's property on Park-ave. from R-2 to C-1.

–Agreed to go 50-50 with the Waterways Commission to develop a waterfront plan for the area between the city dock and Clinton-st. Cost to the city will be $2,500. Engineering will be done by United Associates of Cheboygan.

–Approved a $50,000 hangar construction project at the airport with the Charlevoix Hangar Association. The Association will build the hangars and use them for 20 years before turning them over to the city.

Woodcutter Killed When Tree Topples

A Boyne Falls man was found dead Monday as the result of a logging accident on the Lucian Chapman farm in Hayes Township northeast of Charlevoix Sheriff Philo E. Sumner has reported.

He is Robert D. Paterson, 40, of RR1, Boyne Falls, who is believed to have been killed Friday when a poplar tree approximately 15 inches in diameter was apparently snapped off by wind and fell on him, pinning him against a tree which he apparently had felled and was working on with a chain saw at the time of the accident.

The body was discovered in an isolated wooded area on the Chapman farm by Chapman, Guy Burr of Walloon Lake and Walter Harvey of RR 3 Charlevoix.

Chapman told Sheriff Sumner that Patterson was among several men he had hired to cut trees on his property. He said that Patterson had left several days before after having worked in the woods for some time. He apparently returned on Friday and was felling trees with a chain saw when the accident happened. Sumner said that the tree that had fallen on him was a dead tree which was snapped off near the base by the wind. His pick-up truck was found nearby on an access road.

Dr. Robert G. Martin medical examiner, said death was due to the accident.

Sumner said that his office had received calls Monday morning that Patterson had not been home and asking him to investigate when he was informed that Patterson's body had been found.

HAYES TOWNSHIP
INTERIM ZONING ORDINANCE
CHARLEVOIX COUNTY, MICHIGAN

PREAMBLE

An ordinance to establish zoning districts in the unincorporated portions of Hayes Township, Charlevoix County, Michigan, and to provide for the regulation, government, and administration thereof, in accordance with the provision of Act 184 of the public acts of 1943 as amended and hereinafter referred to as, "the township rural zoning act."

Township Board of Hayes Township, Charlevoix, County, Michigan ordains:

Title - Section 1.01

This ordinance shall be known as the "Hayes Township Interim Zoning ordinance.

Purpose - Section 1.02

The purpose of this ordinance is to:
Promote the public health, safety, morals and general welfare, to encourage the use of lands in accordance with their character and adaptability and to limit the improper use of land, to avoid the overcrowding of population, to provide adequate light and air, to lessen congestion on the public roads and streets, to reduce hazards to life and property, to facilitate adequate provision for a system of transportation, sewage, disposal, safe and adequate water supply, education, recreation and other public requirements, and to conserve the expenditure of funds for public improvements and services to conform with the most advantageous uses of land, resources and properties; and shall be made with reasonable consideration, among other things, to the character of each district, its peculiar suitability for particular uses, the conservation of property values and natural resources and the general and appropriate trend and character of land, building and population development.

RULES APPLYING TO TEXT AND DEFINITIONS
Section 1.03

RULES APPLYING TO TEXT:

The following rules of construction apply to the text of this ordinance.

a) The particular shall control the general.
b) In case of any difference of meaning or implication between the text of this Ordinance and any caption, the text shall control.
c) The word "shall" is always mandatory and not discretionary. The word "may" is permissive.
d) Words used in the present tense shall include the future, and words used in the singular member shall include the plural, and the plural the singular, unless the context clearly indicates the contrary.
e) The word "building" or "structure" includes any part thereof.
f) A "building" or "structure" includes any part thereof.
g) The word "person" includes a corporation as well as an individual.
h) The words "used" or "occupied" as applied to any land or building, shall be construed to include the words "intended," "arranged," or "designed to be used," or "occupied."

i) Any word or term not defined herein shall be used with a meaning of common or standard utilization.

j) The term "adjoining lots and parcels" is intended to include lots and parcels separated by highways, roads, streets or rivers.

DEFINITIONS:

For the purposes of this Ordinance, the following terms and words are defined as follows:

ACCESSORY BUILDING OR STRUCTURE: A subordinate structure devoted to an accessory use and located on the same premises with a main structure. An accessory structure attached to a main structure shall be considered part of the main structure.

ACCESSORY USE: A use subordinate to the main use on a lot and used for purposes customarily incidental to those of the main use.

AGRICULTURE: See "farm"

BILLBOARD: A type of advertising sign which is either erected on the ground or attached to, painted on, or supported by a building which directs attention to a business commodity, service, entertainment, or other activity conducted, sold or offered at a place other than on the premises on which the sign is located.

BOARD: Whenever the word "Board" is used, it refers to the Board of Appeals.

BORDERING LANDS: All lands adjacent to a parcel of land, including, but not limited to those lands separated from the parcel by a road right-of-way, easements or public utility right-of-way.

BUILDING: A structure either temporary or permanent, having a roof supported by columns or walls.

BUILDING, HEIGHT OF: The elevation measured from the average finished lot grade at the front of the building to the highest point of the roof.

BUILDING, SIZE: Size is determined by outside wall straight lineal dimensions; size is exclusive of porches, attached garages, and sheds; split level homes, any two floors, not one over the other, may be considered the main floor.

CABIN: A detached building which is used for seasonal occupancy, but not including motels or autotels, as a dwelling or sleeping quarters but which does not meet the floor area requirements of a single family dwelling.

CABIN COURT: One (1) or more cabins used for seasonal occupancy as dwellings or sleeping quarters for transients or tourists for a fee.

CLUSTERED HOUSING: Two or more residential units on a parcel of land so situated as to provide less than the side yards otherwise herein required provided the total of the yards shall equal or exceed the total of that which would be required for individual home lots.

DISTRICTS: "Districts" as used herein is synonymous with the word "zones" or "zoning districts.".

DWELLING: Any building, or portion thereof, which is designed or used exclusively for residential purposes.

DWELLING, MULTIPLE: A dwelling or group of dwellings on one (1) plot and in one (1) structure, containing separate living units for three (3) or more families, but not including automobile courts, motels or hotels.

DWELLINGS, SINGLE OR ONE-FAMILY: A detached building designed for or occupied exclusively by one (1) family.

DWELLING, TWO-FAMILY: A detached building designed exclusively for occupancy by two (2) families living independently of each other.

DWELLING UNIT: A building, or portion thereof, designed for permanent residential occupancy by one (1) family.

FARM: All the contiguous neighboring or associated land operated as a single unit on which bona fide farming is carried on directly by the owner, or by his agent or by a tenant farmer, provided that the area thereof is sufficient to constitute actual farming; and for the purpose of this Ordinance, farms may be considered as including establishments operated as bona fide green houses, nurseries, orchards, poultry farms, dairy farms and apiaries and other similar activities. The words "agriculture" and "farming" shall be considered as synonymous.

FLASHING SIGN: Any sign having a conspicuous and intermittent variation in the illumination of the sign.

FLOOR AREA: The area of all floors computed by measuring the dimensions of the outside walls of a building not including porches, patios, terraces, breezeways, carports, verandas, garages, unfinished attics, attic floor areas with less than five (5) vertical feet from floor to finished ceiling, and basements, including walkout basements.

GARAGES: PRIVATE: A detached accessory building or portion of main building for the parking or temporary storage of automobiles, boats, house trailers and similar vehicles owned and used by the occupants of the building to which it is accessory.

GARAGES: PUBLIC: A building, other than a private garage, used for the care, repair or equipment of automobiles, motorcycles, snowmobiles, boats and other similar vehicles or where such vehicles are parked or stored for renumeration, hire or sale.

GASOLINE SERVICE STATION: A structure or structures and space combined, used solely for servicing motor vehicles with the usual operating commodities such as gasoline, fuel oil, grease, water, batteries, tires and other minor accessories, or services such as washing, waxing, and lubricating and in connection with which there is no repair or refinishing of motor vehicles, except that the repair of tires, lights, charging of batteries or engine repairs and adjustments when conducted within an enclosed building shall not be excluded.

HOME OCCUPATION: An occupation or profession carried on as a subordinate use by members of a family residing on the premises and which is clearly incidental and secondary to the use of the parcel of land for residential purposes and does not change the character thereof.

JUNKYARD: Any parcel of land maintained or operated for the purchase, sale, storage, dismantling, demolition or use of junk, including scrap metals, motor vehicles, machinery, buildings, structures, construction material or other salvaged material.

LIVING SPACE: That area within a structure intended, designed, erected or used for human occupancy.

LOT OF RECORD: A lot which is part of a subdivision, the map of which has been recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds, or a lot described by metes and bounds, the deed to which has been recorded in the office of the Register of Deeds at the time this Ordinance is passed.

MOBILE HOMES, TRAILER, BOATS AND CAMPERS: Mobile homes, trailers, including boats, and campers are defined as readily movable structures or facilities that are suitable for or are occupied as human residences. Unless specifically exempted the term "trailer" shall include any of the above terms.

A commercial trailer park is defined as any parcel of land so designed and improved as to accommodate three or more trailers. Parks shall conform to or exceed the minimum standards of the District Department of Health and the Michigan State Trailer coach act of 1959.

Any trailer that is added to, or installed in such a way as to become a permanent building shall be considered an improvement on the land.

MOTEL: Groups of furnished rooms or separate structures providing sleeping and parking accommodations for transient tourist trade, commonly known as motels or motor courts.

NONCONFORMING USE: Any use, whether a building or other structure or a tract of land, which does not conform to the applicable use regulations for the district, either at the effective date of this Ordinance or as a result of a subsequent amendment thereto.

OWNER: A person holding any legal, equitable, option or contract interest in land.

PERSONS: "Persons" includes any individual, political subdivision, estate, trust, or body of persons, whether incorporate or not, acting as a unit.

PRINCIPAL OR MAIN USE: The primary or predominant use of the premises.

RESTAURANT: A public eating place where food is prepared and served or sold for consumption solely within a building on the premises.

RIGHT-OF-WAY: A street, alley or other thoroughfare or easement permanently established for passage of persons or vehicles.

STREET: A public or private thoroughfare which affords the principal means of vehicular access to abutting property.

ZONING PERMIT: A standard form issued by the Zoning Administrator upon application and declaration by the owner or his duly authorized agent regarding proposed construction and use of land and buildings and structures thereon granting approval for the construction or use applied for.

DISTRICTS ARTICLE II

KINDS OF DISTRICTS Section 2.01

For the purpose of this ordinance Hayes Township is hereby divided into zoning districts as defined herein and as detailed in the accompanying Zoning map.

No land shall hereafter be used, and no building or structure erected, altered or used for other than one or more of the various uses permitted in the pertinent specific zone.

A-1 Agricultural
R-1 Exclusively Residential, single residences
R-2 Exclusively Residential, single residences
R-3 Primarily Residential, including duplexes
R-4 Primarily Residential, multiple dwellings
R-5 Primarily Residential, including motels
C-1 Commercial district
I-1 Industrial
I-2 Industrial

The zoning map, including all information and notation thereon are integral parts of this ordinance. Unless otherwise provided, the boundary lines of all zoning districts shall be interpreted as following along section lines or the division of sections such as quarter and eighth lines; or the centerlines of highways, streets and waterways; or the shoreline of water bodies; or the boundaries of incorporated areas, recorded plats or subdivisions; or property lines of legal record on the date of enactment of this ordinance.

AGRICULTURAL DISTRICTS ARTICLE III

USES Section 3.01

All usual agricultural uses, including logging and woodcutting, and roadside stands for the sale of products of which at least fifty percent (50 percent) are raised on the lot or parcel.

Residential and commercial uses not otherwise prohibited by law may be authorized after petition to, and favorable action by, the Board of Appeals.

AGRICULTURAL LAND DEFINED - Section 3.02

Unless requested to be re-zoned otherwise by the owner or owners, or are presently in other usage, all parcels of ten acres or more are zoned Agricultural A-1.

HEIGHT OF BUILDINGS Section 9.09

Except for District A-1 for agricultural purposes and as otherwise provided herein, no building shall hereafter be erected or altered exceeding a height of thirty-five (35) feet.

ADMINISTRATION AND ENFORCEMENT ARTICLE X

ZONING ADMINISTRATOR Section 10.01

The provisions of this Ordinance shall be administered by the township board of Hayes township in accordance with the provisions of Act 184 of the public act of 1943 as amended and hereinafter referred to as, the township rural zoning act.

The provisions of this ordinance shall be administered and enforced by a Township Zoning Administrator. Said Administrator shall be appointed by the Township Board and subject to such conditions and rate of compensation as said Township shall determine as reasonable. For the purpose of this Ordinance, he shall have the power of a police officer.

CERTIFICATES OF APPROVAL AND COMPLIANCE Section 10.02

All buildings and residences for Agricultural purposes on land zoned A-1 are exempt from Certificates of Approval. No building or structure subject to provisions of this Ordinance shall hereafter be erected, altered, reconstructed, used or moved on any premises until a Certificate of Approval has been issued by the Township Zoning Administrator. No such certificate shall be required for any building under construction at the time of enactment of this ordinance. This Certificate of Approval shall be displayed by the owner or his agent in a prominent position on the location so certified. An application for a certificate shall be signed by the owner of the premises or his agent, and shall certify that all provisions of this ordinance and other applicable laws and requirements are to be complied with. The application shall be filed prior to the intended initiation of any work on the premises, and shall be accompanied by:

> A blueprint or pen and ink sketch to scale in duplicate showing the location and dimensions of the premises including the boundary lines of all parcels of land under separate ownership contained therein; the size, dimensions, location of the premises, and height of all buildings or structures to be erected or altered; the width and alignment of all abutting streets, highways, alleys, easements and public open spaces; the front yard dimensions of the nearest buildings on both sides of the proposed building or structure. Such other information as may be required to determine compliance with the ordinance.

Whenever the building, structure, or uses as set forth in the application are in conformity with the provisions of this ordinance, the Zoning Administrator shall issue a certificate of approval within thirty (30) days of the filing thereof. If actions of the Board of Appeals is required, the Zoning Administrator shall issue such certificate within ten (10) days of such action, when approved. In case a certificate is refused, the cause shall be stated in writing to the applicant within ten (10) days.

Any certificate of approval, under which no work is done within twelve (12) months from date of issuance; shall expire by limitation; but shall be renewable upon re-application and on payment of one-half (½) of the original fee, subject, however, to provisions of all ordinances in effect at the time of renewal.

Within ten (10) days after receiving written notification of compliance with the provisions of this ordinance, from the owner, or agent, the Zoning Administrator shall inspect the premises and issue the owner or agent, a certificate of compliance if the building, structure, and use are in conformity with said ordinance.

For each Certificate of Approval, the established fees shall be paid to the township treasurer who shall place the same in a separate fund to be known as the Hayes Township Zoning Ordinance Fund. This fund shall be used solely for the administration of the ordinance as directed by the Township Board. No certificate will be valid until the required fee has been paid. No separate fee shall be required for accessory building or structures when application therefor is made at the same time as the principal building or structure. No fee shall be required for a Certificate of Compliance.

The building permit fee shall be established by the Township Board.

It shall be the duty of an architect, contractor, or any other person having charge of erection, construction or movement of a building or structure, subject to the provisions of this ordinance, before undertaking any such work, to determine that a proper Certificate of Approval has been granted therefor, and any such person or agent performing any work in violation of the provisions of this ordinance shall be deemed guilty of violation in the same manner and to the same extent as the owner of the premises.

Any building or structure which is erected or altered, and any use of land which is begun or changed in violation of any provision of this ordinance is hereby declared to be a nuisance per se.

Any person, firm, corporation or other organization which violates, disobeys omits, neglects or refuses to comply with, or resists the enforcement of any provision of this ordinance shall be fined, upon conviction, not less than twenty-five dollars ($25.00) nor more than one-hundred ($100.00), together with the cost of prosecution, or shall be punished by imprisonment in the county jail for not less than five (5) days nor more than ninety (90) days for each offense, or may be both fined and imprisoned as provided herein at the discretion of the court. Each and every day during which an illegal erection, alteration, maintenance or use continues shall be deemed a separate offense. The imposition of any sentence shall not exempt the offender from compliance with the provisions of this ordinance.

The Township Board, The Board of Appeals, the Prosecuting Attorney of the County, or any owner or owners of real estate within the Zoning District in which such building, structure or premises is situated may institute injunction, mandamus, abatement or any other appropriate action, or proceedings to prevent, enjoin, abate, or remove any unlawful erection, alteration, maintenance or use. The rights and remedies provided herein are cumulative and in addition to all other remedies provided by the law.

VALIDITY Section 10.03

This ordinance and the various parts, sections, subsections, sentences, phrases and clauses thereof are hereby declared to be applicable. If any part, sentence, paragraph, section, subsection, phrase or clause is adjudged unconstitutional or invalid, it is hereby provided that the remainder of this ordinance shall not be affected thereby. The Township Board hereby declares that it would have passed this ordinance and each part, section, subsection, phrase, sentence and clause thereof irrespective of the fact that any one or more parts, sections, subsections, phrases, sentences or clauses be declared invalid.

ZONING BOARD OF APPEALS ARTICLE XI

CREATION Section 11.01

There is hereby created a Zoning Board of Appeals which shall be constituted and shall perform its duties and exercise its power as provided by the Township Rural Zoning Act, and by the purpose and provision of this ordinance.

PETITION PROCEDURES Section 11.02

Application to the Board of Appeals shall be filed in writing to the Township Clerk, who will give notice of a public hearing on the application to a newspaper of general circulation in the township the cost of which shall be borne by the applicant. If it should appear that the application is not in accord with the purposes and provisions of this ordinance then such application shall be denied.

MEMBERSHIP Section 11.03

The Board of Appeals shall consist of three (3) members as provided by section 18 of the township rural zoning act. Members of said board shall be removable by the Township Board for non-performance of duty, or mis conduct in office, after a hearing by said board upon such charges.

AMENDMENT PROCEDURES ARTICLE XII

AMENDMENT PROCEDURE, NOTICE OF HEARING, COURT DECREE, SECTION 12.01

Amendments or supplements to the zoning ordinance may be made from time to time in the same manner provided in the township rural zoning act for the enactment of the original ordinance, except that the public hearing conducted by the township board shall not be necessary unless a request is made in writing by a property owner. If an individual property is proposed for rezoning, the property shall be conspiciously posted. The township zoning board shall also give a notice thereof to the owner of the property in question to all persons to whom any real property within 300 feet of the premises in question is assessed and to the occupants of all single and two family dwellings within 300 feet. The notice shall be delivered personally or by mail to the respective owners and tenants at the address given in the last assessment roll. If the tenants name is not known, the term occupant may be used. If the notice is delivered by mail, an affidavit of mailing shall be filed with zoning board prior to the hearing. The notice shall be made at least eight days prior to the hearing provided by Section 9, of the township rural zoning act stating the time, place, date and purpose of the hearing. It shall only be necessary to publish the section or sections to be amended in or added to the zoning ordinance. Any amendment for the purpose of conforming a provision thereof to the decree of a court of competent jurisdiction as to any specific lands may be adopted by the township board and the amendment published without referring the same to any other board or agency provided for in this act.

Red Rayders Defeat Benzie In Opener

Charlevoix's Red Rayders pranced over Benzie Central Friday night in the opening non-conference game of the season, 34 to 26.

Senior Quarterback Randy Faust scored three touchdowns and four conversion kicks, pacing the Rayders to their first victory.

The game got off to a methodical, middle-of-the-field start, but with 4:32 left on the clock Faust scored from the nine-yard line, and kicked the conversion for a 7-0 lead.

Benzie came back in the opening seconds of the second period with a pass from Bob Lathwell to Tom Freeland, who traveled 12 yards to the end-zone. The extra point was missed, giving the Rayders a one-point margin.

But there was still plenty of action in the quarter.

Faust loped 32 yards for Charlevoix's second TD, kicking the point, for a 14-6 lead.

Then with only 14 seconds left, Lathwell again passed to Freeland who covered 14 yards to paydirt. The conversion was missed leaving the score 14-12.

But the quarter still had seconds to run. On the first play from scrimmage, Faust passed to Dan Greene who sprinted 65 yards to the end-zone and Faust made good the extra point. At the half the score was 21-12.

In the third quarter, Brian Goss recovered a fumble by Steve McClelland and carried it across. With the extra point, Charlevoix led 28-12.

Faust scored again early in the fourth quarter on a 12-yard run, but lost the extra point.

Then Benzie started rolling, with TD's on passes from Lathwell to Freeland (42 yards) and Lathwell to Dave Childs (17 yards). George Milliron made good the conversion, leaving the score 34-26 at the whistle.

In other area action, Ogemaw Heights defeated Rogers City, 30-6; Onaway squeaked past Gaylord, 16-13; and Oscoda blanked Cheboygan, 12-0.

This week, Gaylord plays at Cheboygan, St. Ignace at Boyne City, Rogers City at Petoskey, and Charlevoix at Grayling.

BENZIE CENTRAL end Tom Freeland receives pass, but Charlevoix's Mike Streeter is on hand ready to bring him down.

County Will 'Buy' Delinquent Taxes

New Fund to Help Schools, Townships

School districts, townships and the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District won't have to figure delinquent taxes into their 1974 budgets, thanks to action taken by the County Board of Commissioners at the September meeting last week.

The board established a "Delinquent Tax Revolving Fund" which promises to insure 100 percent of delinquent taxes as early as next March, according to Lee Moerland, chairman of the Finance Committee.

In the past, local units of government had to figure that only about 90 percent of the tax monies due would be paid on time, with the rest dribbling in over a period of months or years.

Under the plan, the county will use funds on hand to "buy" delinquent tax accounts, making it possible for school districts and the townships to receive tax monies due them without delay.

The fund will be the repository for penalties and interest as well as delinquent taxes themselves.

A similar fund has been in operation in Antrim County for several years.

In other action, the board rejected two bids for construction of new vehicle ramps for the Ironton Ferry as too high. It was the second time bids were turned down.

Kenneth Anderson, representing the Grand Rapids Engineering Firm Williams and Works, said his firm would come up with a less expensive set of plans at no cost to the county.

The rejected bids were submitted by Gilliland Construction of Alpena, $321,053.02, and MDS, Inc., of Traverse City, $184,095.92.

The old ramps have fallen into a bad state of repair. High water in recent years also has complicated the problem. The ferry was closed for several weeks this summer while temporary repairs were made by the Road Commission.

Richard Tillen, director of the Department of Social Welfare, told the board that increasingly stringent regulations on nursing homes are forcing many of them out of business. As a result there is more and more demand for bed space at the Grandvue Medical Care Facility near East Jordan.

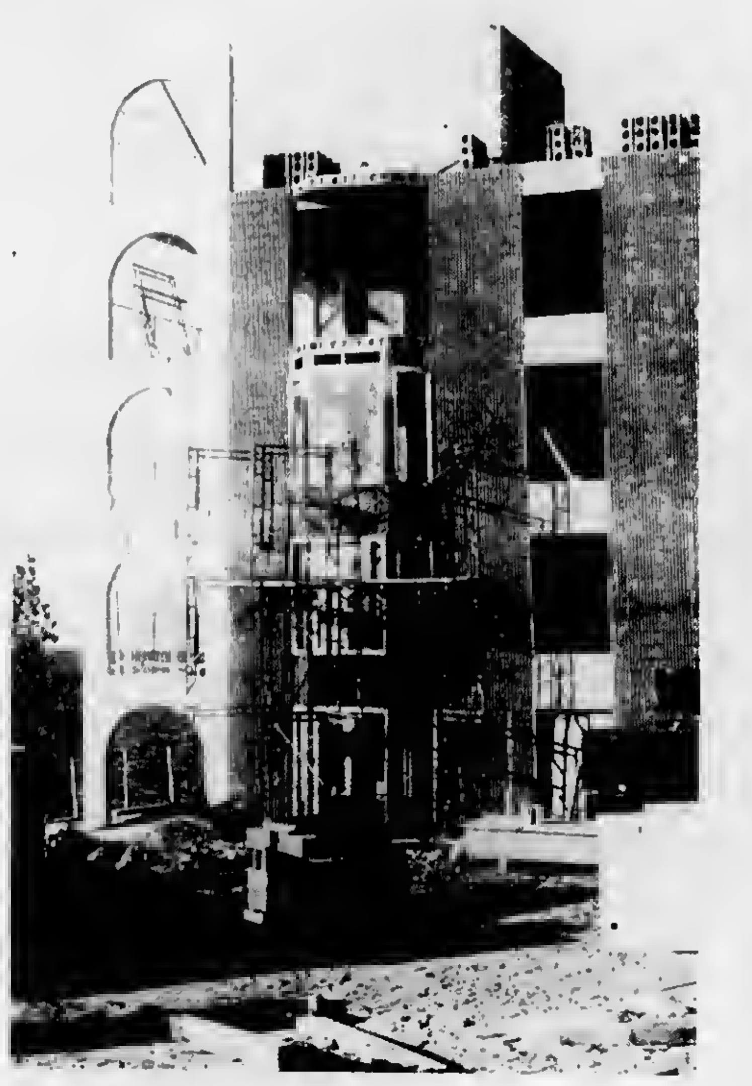
He suggested that 5,500 to 6,000 square feet wing be constructed at the facility, providing room for 28 additional beds.

He estimated cost of the project at between $280,000 and $300,000.

The problem was referred to the Health and Welfare committee.

The board also:

–Accepted the resignation of District 10 Commissioner Albert Kassin who is moving from the county. Chairman Ira L. Davis named Charles Kessler to fill the vacancy. A special election will be held in District 10 within 180 days to elect a permanent successor.



LA CROFT condominium at the foot of W. Dixon ave. is a study of angles and curves. The architect has made ample use of pre-cast concrete arches to give an "old world" appearance to one of Charlevoix's newest buildings.

New Column In Courier

A new column, "To Whom It May Concern," appears on the Editorial page of this week's Courier.

The column is written by Doris Huckle, a long-time resident of East Jordan, who has been a contributor over the year's to many of the state's leading publications.

Mrs. Huckle will discuss the problems and the pleasures of living in East Jordan with her own inimitable touch.

Mrs. Huckle and her husband, Bill, are proprietors of Huckle's Camera and Antique Shop in East Jordan.

Shop, Learning Center Aides Hired by Board

The Charlevoix Board of Education at its Sept. 10 meeting hired Howard Osterhouse as auto shop aide and Mrs. Barbara Walgamott as learing center aide, under the federal Emergency Employment Act.

Job descriptions for both positions also were approved by the board.

In other business the board:

–Received an application from Eugene Steele for his child to attend Charlevoix Schools on a tuition basis. Tuition for the 1973-74 school year was discussed, but was tabled until the next meeting.

–Approved a proposal by the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District that students from the Ironton School be allowed to use facilities for art, music and physical education, as well as the services of teachers of these subjects. The students will have lunch at the Middle School cafeteria the day they come to Charlevoix for classes.

–Authorized Supt. James A. McKimmy to apply for and be the signatory on all papers required for federal funds under P.A. 874. The funds assist schools with the children of service families in attendance.

–Heard a report by Business Manager Robert Bogart that two new bus routes have been added in an effort to balance loads within or below the minimum requirement.

–Received for study copies of the Revised Code for Student Conduct.

--Received first-day enrollment figures from building principals showing enrollment in excess of 1,700, up from 1972. A complete report will be made following the fourth Friday of September head count.

–Head a report by Miss Geraldine Stanko, Middle School principal, asking the board's support in major areas of change, many of them involving teacher-student interaction.

Among them is a "home base" situation where a teacher will be asked to serve in a guidance capacity for from 24 to 26 students to help him with his everyday problems such as scheduling before he becomes a part of the 500 to 1 situation with the guidance counselor.

She reported that Seventh and Eighth Grade students have been offered a master schedule from which they may select certain subjects they think they may enjoy studying, in addition to required subjects.

Sixth Graders will have an exploratory unit made available to them whereby they may select mini-classes that will require two or three weeks of study.

Miss Stanke said that because of a lack of facilities at the Middle School, all Fifth Graders will spend half of each day at the Elementary School. They all eat lunch at the Middle School.

Miss Stanko asked for supervisory assistance at lunch time, during certain periods of the day and on the playground from parents.

–Heard a report by Bogart that the heating system at Southgate will be in operation shortly.

Supt. McKimmy and Max Novak, a new member of the board, were to attend the fall session of the Michigan Association of School Boards in Marquette last week.

Next meeting of the board will be Sept. 24.

Fall Flea Market Slated for Saturday

Charlevoix's annual Fall Flea Market will be held Saturday, Sept. 22 in East Park, according to Tom Merta, executive director of the Chamber of Commerce.

Registration fee is $5, which entitles the park merchant to a space 10 feet square.

Merta says Flea Market exhibitors must appear at the Chamber office the morning of the sale to be assigned their alloted space. The office will open at 7 a.m.

In the event of rain, the Flea Market will be held Sunday, Sept. 23.

Many organizations have found the Flea Market a fine way to raise money for their various causes, Merta says.

Volleyball Managers to Meet Tuesday

The Charlevoix Recreation Department will hold an organizational meeting for men's, women's and mixed volleyball Tuesday, Sept. 25, at 7 p.m. at the city hall.

Recreation Director Curtis Kipke says the organizational meeting is for managers only.

At the meeting, rules, game times and game sites will be determined.

Tentative plans call for leagues play to begin the middle of October, continuing until the end of February.

Interested persons who wish to play but are not on a team may leave their names at the Recreation Department or telephone 547-4272.

Sign-up Now For Cruise

Tickets are now on sale at the Chamber of Commerce office, or from merchants displaying the "Color Cruise" sign, for Charlevoix's annual fall color spectacular aboard the motor ship Beaver Islander.

The cruise will leave the city dock at 1 p.m. Sunday, Oct. 14. The boat skirts the colorful shores of Lake Charlevoix, with a possible side-trip into Lake Michigan, weather permitting.

David P. Biegler

Witnesses To Meet In City

David P. Biegler of New York has arrived in Charlevoix to oversee the two-day convention of Jehovah's Witnesses scheduled for the Charlevoix High School, Sept. 22 and 23.

Biegler will set the assembly theme Saturday afternoon at two o'clock with a discourse on the subject "Keep Close in Mind Jehovah's Day."

Biegler has been a minister since 1951. In 1956 he was appointed as representative of the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of New York. He has served in this capacity having assignments in eight different states during the past 17 years. He is at present overseer of Jehovah's Witnesses in Michigan.

"This convention will bring together over 1,000 ministers and their families," Biegler stated, "and the program of Bible sermons and practical demonstrations will aid those in attendance to become more qualified ministers." He continued

"The highlight of the gathering will be the public address 'Act Wisely As The End Draws Near' which will be given on Sunday at 2 p.m. All the people of the Charlevoix area are invited to hear this free Bible discourse."

Pair Hurt as Trailer Flips

Car Tumbles End-Over-End Down Slope

A Grand Rapids couple are being treated at Charlevoix Area Hospital for injuries suffered shortly before 11 a.m. Saturday when they lost control of their travel trailer coming down Island View Hill on U.S. 31. The trailer came loose and their late model Mercury flipped end over end down a 20-foot embankment.

The victims are Raymond Riordan, 51, and his wife, Retah Marie, 49, of Grand Rapids.

Deputies say the left rear tire on the trailer apparently blew, throwing both the car and trailer out of control. Riordan crossed the centerline, then back into the right-hand lane in an effort to bring both vehicles under control. However the trailer rolled over, breaking the hitch, and the car cartwheeled down the embankment.

At first observers believed the Riordans were trapped in the wreckage and the Charlevoix Fire Department rescue squad was called. However ambulance drivers and deputies were able to get the couple out of the automobile before the unit arrived. They were taken to the hospital by the Charlevoix ambulance.

Riordan suffered fractured

Ellsworth Enrolls 326 Kids in School

By ANNE OSTERBAAN

Robert Gaunt, Ellsworth school superintendent, reports that 326 children are enrolled thus far. A few more are expected.

Dwight Boss has been appointed coach of the girls basketball to take Mrs. Vondront's place. Twenty-one girls are enrolled and working out for the first game to be played with Boyne Falls. Tuesday Sept. 18, 6 p.m. at home. New uniforms have been purchased.

Mr. Elenbaas reports 28 boys have signed up for football scrimmage games have been played with Suttons Bay and Manton squads.

Ground has been broken for two building trade homes on Coeling road across the road from Ebenezer Christian School. These homes consists of three bedroom house and an attached garage, built by students from Central Lake and Ellsworth. Project supervisor is Mr. James Fiedler, who is employed by the Central Lake school. This project has been carried on for several years, but this is the first house to be built in Ellsworth. It will be sold as soon as completed.

The head start program is scheduled to begin in early October, according to Mrs. Kathy Kundrat, last years director. The program is to service pre-schoolers from Ellsworth and Central Lake. It will be held afternoons in the kindergarten room.

Ron Riffits of the Butler Corp. met with the School Board last Monday evening to discuss the possibility of using a Butler building as Ellsworth's proposed school. Riffits said he could save the district up to one-third of the project construction costs.

Library notes

On May 7, 1915, the German U-boat 20 torpedoed and sank the "unarmed" passenger liner Lusitania off the southwest coast of Ireland, killing some 1200 men, women and children, many of them Americans.

The world raged at the barbarity of the Kaiser and the German people, and the act did much to precipitate the later entrance of the United States into World War I.

But the real truth of the disaster has never been revealed. With meticulous documentation, London Sunday Times correspondent Colin Simpson unearths a record of arrogance, ignorance and expediency that indicts dozens of high government officials in both England and America. If there was ever incompetence, irresponsibility and a massive cover-up, this is it. "The Lusitania" makes absorbing reading, and the numerous photographs add stark realism to one of the most fateful of all disasters at sea.

We frequently have patrons who come in with one request. They don't want a new book or a popular book or a famous book, they simply want a funny book. A book with a chuckle! "The Raid on the Villa Joyosa" by Robert Hopkins is just such a book. It is a rip-roaring, completely silly tale about a born loser and three sinister sharpies who become involved in a wildly ingenious plot that cons the jet set and fleeces the beautiful people from London to Spain.

"Curse of the Kings" is the new Victoria Holt book, and that's about all we have to say. One of the world's most popular authors, Miss Holt blends her mastery of romance and suspense with the adventure of a search for ancient treasures in the land of the Pharaohs. For centuries, the Paraohs' tombs had been haunted by a curse; whoever disturbed the sleep of the kings would die.

But surely a scientific expedition could not be hindered by an ancient superstition. Or at least so Judith Osmond believes! This exciting new novel demands one sitting. It isn't the sort of book a reader can put down and pick up again. It is absorbing and exciting right up to the very end.

Catherine Cookson has written more than 30 popular books. Her reputation is world-wide, with translations in eight languages. "The Mallen Streak" is the first of a trilogy that will follow the lives of the Mallens through three generations. Thomas Mallen of High Banks Hall had many sons, all except one, illegitimate. But to each of them he passed on his mark—a distinctive flash of white hair running down to the left temple and known as the Mallen Streak. It was said in the surrounding countryside that those who bore the Streak did not die old or in their beds. This is a powerful and compulsively readable novel, a wonderful example of accurate warmly-felt historical fiction.

Charlevoix ANNUAL FALL COLOR CRUISE

On Sunday, October 14, 1973 the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce with cooperation from the Beaver Island Boat Co. will again host it's FALL COLOR SPECTACULAR -- the "COLOR CRUISE" aboard the Motor Ship Beaver Islander.

The Color Cruise leaves downtown Charlevoix at 1:00 p.m. and cruises Lake Charlevoix's glowing shoreline (or Lake Michigan, weather permitting).

Passengers will be amazed at the un-obstructed view of the glorious colors from the lake.

Aboard is a large "PARTY ATMOSPHERE" with MUSIC, FREE SNACKS, SANDWICHES, and BEVERAGES all donated by local and regional distributors.

Tickets are limited to 200; and are now on sale at the Chamber office or at Charlevoix's Merchants, displaying a Color Cruise sign. It is expected that, as in past years; the cruise will be a complete sellout. The price of tickets are $3.50 for everyone and will be sold on a non-refundable, first come first serve basis.

For further information contact the Charlevoix Chamber of Commerce, P.O. Box 217, Charlevoix, MI. 49720 or phone 547-2101 or 547-2102

Family Loses All

A devastating fire destroyed the home of the Jerome Hand family on Pincherry-rd. about one mile south of Bay Shore last Wednesday morning.

It was the second time in less than six years that the family has lost all of its possessions to fire.

Boyne City and Charlevoix Fire Departments received the call at 11:10 a.m., but by the time they arrived on the scene the home was past saving. Boyne City sent two trucks and Charlevoix one truck and a tanker.

No one was at home at the time of the fire. Hand was at his job as an auto mechanic for Perry-Sales in Petoskey. Mrs. Hand had left the house about 20 minutes earlier with two of the couple's four children on an errand.

Cause of the blaze has not been determined.

In 1967, the family lost all of their possessions when their home in Bay Shore burned.

The latest fire also destroyed all of their personal property, most of which was covered by insurance.

Among the ruined household furnishings was a new refrigerator, a stove and a deep-freeze stocked with food.

State Will Auction 200 Motor Vehicles

More than 200 State-owned used motor vehicles – the largest single assortment of passenger cars and trucks ever offered for sale by the Michigan Department of Management and Budget – will be sold at public auction near Lansing Saturday, September 22.

Bidding will begin at 10 a.m. at the State Highway Department garage at the interchange of Interstate Highway I-96 and Michigan State Highway M-43 (West Saginaw Street).

Passenger vehicles to be sold include a large number of 1968 and 1970 model Chevrolets and 1969 through 1972 model Plymouths. Seven 1972 model Oldsmobile F-85s, used by Michigan universities, also are to be placed on the auction block. Other items going to the highest bidders will be a water pump, an air compressor, a generator and tires.

Prospective buyers may inspect the equipment from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. at the garage Friday, Sept. 21, and during the morning of sale. All purchases must be paid for in full by cash or check at the time of the sale and must be removed from the premises immediately after the sale.

Mrs. Kuiper Returns From the Netherlands

Mrs. Hattie Kuiper who enjoyed a tour of Netherlands with her sister-in-law for three weeks, returned home Friday evening.

CHS Has Own Version Of Most Popular Sport

Football is one of the most popular and colorful American sports. Hundreds of spectators fill our football field each fall weekend to cheer on the speedy ball carrier, who tries for long runs around or else through the opposing teams line. Our marching band, our cheering section, and the spectators all give the players more encouragement.

Aug. 1 marked the first day of hard training and conditioning for our Rayders, under head coach Donald Carey.

Although our CHS football team does not have as many boys as it could, there is still much potential for the 1973-74 football season. Our Rayders have quantity for speed, hitting well, making good contact, and participation among themselves.

Our Juniors are: Steve Bearss, Phil Christ, Alan Gray, Kevin Martin, Dave Martincheck, Dan Mort, Frank Muma, Jim Sladek, Mike Streeter, Darrell VanLoo, and Del Wood.

Our sophomores include:

New Superintendent Replaces Miller

By Pam Fochtman

June 17, 1973, the Charlevoix Board of Education announced the appointment of James A. McKimmy as superintendent of the Charlevoix Public Schools. McKimmey was appointed to replace Robert L. Miller, who left our system to accept an appointment as superintendent for the Grand Ledge Public Schools.

McKimmey is a graduate of Beaverton high school, Manchester College, Central Michigan University, and Michigan State University. His graduate studies are focused on administration and education.

He taught junior high mathematics, science, and also coached football at Battle Creek Springfield from 1960-1962, taught mathematics and science while coaching freshman football and varsity wrestling at Alma from 1962-64; was a teacher-principal at Deerfield High School on Lenawee County 1964-65; and was a high school principal at Shelby High School from 1965 to 1969.

McKimmey spent the 1965-70 school year at Cadillac as principal of the junor high school, while continuing research on the middle/junior high school concepts in education. He returned to Alma in 1970 as assistant superintendent of schools.

McKimmey accepted position as superintendant of the Charlevoix Public Schools for a number of reasons. He felt his previous background has enabled him to accept this position and fulfill it. He also appreciated the environment of the north country.

She'll Serve On Board

By Patti Warner

Deborah Lynn Powell was chosen as the student 'ex officio' member of the Charlevoix Board of Education. She is a senior at Charlevoix High and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Powell.

As 'ex officio' member, Deborah will attend all board meetings and be allowed to voice her opinion, although she cannot legally vote on any decision. She may, however, have motions proposed before the board through another member.

Being Student Ex Officio to the board this year, she would like to see, for one thing the Public Library hours lengthened.

Board Policy Explained

By Pam Foehtman

A new policy on attendance, absenteeism and tardiness has been adopted by the Board of Education.

The new policy is designed to alert students, parents and faculty members when absenteeism is getting out of hand.

After a given number of absent days, the school advises the parents or guardian of the consistant absenteeism and ask for a conference. If the student is seriously ill, the extenuating circumstances will be reveiwed by the administration.

A tardiness of 20 minutes or more may be considered an absence or three tardinesses of less than 20 minutes one absence. This newly designed program will bring on more responsiblity to the student.

The Bible course that heals.

The Bible is filled with accounts of spiritual healing. Health restored, lives regenerated, needs supplied. That spiritual power is still active today.

The Bible Lessons in the Christian Science Quarterly, which include citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, can help you find this healing truth.

You can buy your own copy of the Quarterly, or study the Bible Lesson in our free public Reading Room.

Women Principals? Yes It Happens

By Tina Black

Women principals? Yes, it does happen, although 3.5 percent seems to be the limit of them. The Middle School is now experiencing the administration of Miss Gerie Stanko.

Miss Stanko has previously had eight years teaching experience and two years of administration work.

Miss Stanko grew up on Grosse Isle, an island in the Detroit River. She completed her high school work at Adrian Girls' Academy. She then entered the convent for nine years.

She received her Bachelors degree at the convent, her Masters at a University in Nashville, Tenn. She is now working for her Specialists degree at the University of Florida. She is a Math-Science major and has previously taught at Royal Oak, Flint, Wyandotte, and East Lansing. She was then a principal for one year at Jackson Middle School.

She enjoys working with the Middle School age group mostly. Right now, she has 576 strong going students and 30 staff members to work with.

Miss Stanko feels that being a woman does not interfere with her abilities either working or talking with students or staff.

Women principals? Yes, it happens.

CHS Senior Attends Workshop in Drama

Carolin Swartwout, now a senior at CHS, attended a two-week Drama workship at Eastern Michigan University, in August of this year. The workshop dealt in many aspects of the theater. For the first week they worked on pantomimes, improvisations, and children's theater. Here they were given the opportunity to individually create an idea and turn it into a story. The workshop allowed the participating students to go to the various area parks and preform their improvisational children's plays.

The second week they began work on a play. Set construction, costumes, lighting, makeup, and memorizing lines were all completed within six days.

"I learned that anything is possible in the theater. It was a fantastic educational experience," she said.

Like the students who attend summer debate workshops, Carolin attended the drama workshop to broaden her ideas and experiences in the area of drama.

Ford introduces the 74's.
The news is big, medium and small.
At your Ford Dealer's.

Mustang II Ghia

Ford Mustang II. A new class of small car: First Class.

Mustang II is 19 inches shorter than last year's Mustang . . . even a bit shorter than the original one. It's more than a new Mustang. It's a whole new class of small car: First Class. In every way. From its jewel-like exterior to its handsomely appointed interior, the new Mustang II gives you a luxurious level of standard equipment you probably never expected to find in a small car. Yet Mustang II still carries an economical small-car price. Mustang II comes in two different body styles, four different models. See them soon.

1974 Ford Torino. The solid mid-size.

Torino's got a new young look this year. Excitingly restyled outside, exciting new features inside. And lots of solid car to go with them. A new young look, a smooth and steady ride. That's Torino '74.

Gran Torino Brougham 2-Door Hardtop shown with optional deluxe bumper group.

1974 Ford LTD. The quiet full-size.

Quiet, luxurious, beautifully built that's LTD for '74. A high level of craftsmanship wherever you look, from the fit of the doors, hood and trunk to the impressive list of LTD features. Steel belted radial tires. Automatic transmission. Power steering. Power brakes, and more. All standard on LTD for '74.

Ford LTD Brougham 2-door Hardtop shown with optional deluxe wheel covers, white sidewall tires and deluxe bumper group.

See all the 74's from Ford on September 21.

There's always big news in the Want Ads.

Motor News Publicizes Efforts to Save Jordan

The Jordan River, one of the few remaining wild rivers in Michigan, is the first such stream to be protected from the ravages of man-made pollution under a program authorized by the State Legislature, according to the "Conservation Corner" column of the September Motor News Magazine.

Motor News, official publication of the Automobile Club of Michigan, tells its 1,100,000 reader-members of the current effort to protect the state's streams under Michigan's Natural Rivers Program, authorized in 1970. The program is designed to preserve natural streams and their banks in as pristine a state as possible.

"Some 30 mainstream miles of the Jordan, which flows through Antrim and Charlevoix counties in one of Michigan's most scenic valleys, and a dozen of its tributaries, are now set aside for special protection," Motor News states.

Three other wild rivers are in line for the same protection, the article points out. They are the Benzie River in Grand Traverse and Benzie counties, the Two-Hearted River in the Upper Peninsula's Luce County and the Rogue River in Kent County, north of Grand Rapids.

On all four river systems, the protection measures would require that all new buildings be set back from the banks of the protected stream, on lots at least 200 feet wide, with a 50-foot strip of natural vegetation left along the banks.

Some property owners and developers protest the move bitterly, Motor News comments, claiming their right to do as they please with their land is being infringed in a supposed "state takeover."

However, Motor News quotes Chief Department of Natural Resources Planner Norman F. Smith: "The regulations merely establish an area within which certain types of development and use would be controlled. We are only trying to protect the natural qualities of the rivers, not only for the public, but for property owners too."

JV's Play Thursday

Charlevoix JV's will play their first game of the season this Thursday at 6:30 p.m. against Gaylord at Kipke Field.

SEVENTH Graders taking part in Flag Football turned out for practice Saturday morning at the city athletic field on Carpenter-ave. The Red Team above is coached by Robert Hoffman and Dave Novotny.

Flag Football Needs Refs

The Charlevoix Recreation Department is in need of referees for the Flag Football Program.

Two leagues have been set up for youngsters in grades four through six and seven and eight.

Recreation Director Curtis Kipke says volunteers should be willing to spend one and one-half hours one night a week.

Volunteers should contact Kipke at the Recreation Department, 547-4272.

Allstate Insurance Buys County Bonds

Allstate Insurance companies have invested more than $180,000 in bonds in Charlevoix County, according to Regional Manager Albert W. Bilgen.

Charlevoix County investments are part of more than $53 million in bonds held by Allstate in 41 counties in Michigan, Bilgen pointed out.

Local Allstate investments involved the Charlevoix and Antrim county schools, Bilgen said.

Other Allstate investments have helped build university housing, parks, sewer and water systems, municipal parking structures, and airport improvements.

"It is Allstate policy to support the growth and development of areas in which we do business by investing in local communities and industries," said Bilgen. "We are a corporate citizen in each of the communities in which our offices are located. Like all citizens, we will share in continued growth and prosperity."

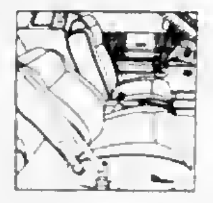
Come see the '74 Oldsmobiles.

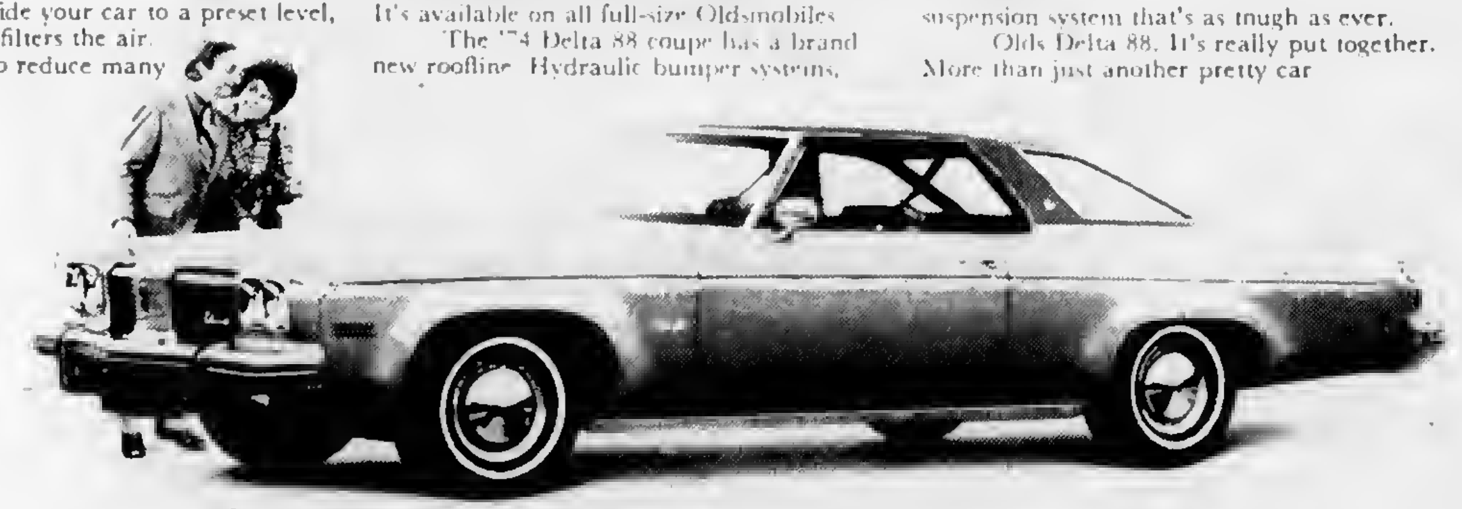
'But dad, all you said was that Cutlass Salon had reclining seats. You didn't say it came in a new coupe, too.'



Last year Cutlass Salon was a new kind of American car—a sedan built for its roadability.
This year there's a Salon two-door coupe. Like the sedan, it has a new, lower steering ratio for quicker response. Steel-belted radial tires to grip the road. Special suspension for tight cornering. Contoured seats that recline. And you can even order a Landau roof.
Cutlass Salon. Built in the Grand Touring Tradition.

"Look Walter! Now we can get an air conditioner that filters smells."

Not only does Tempmatic regulate temperature inside your car to a preset level, it also charcoal filters the air. The filter acts to reduce many offensive odors from the air entering the car. It's available on all full-size Oldsmobiles.
The '74 Delta 88 coupe has a brand new roofline. Hydraulic bumper systems, front and rear. And underneath—a suspension system that's as tough as ever.
Olds Delta 88. It's really put together. More than just another pretty car.



"Hey! I didn't know we could get these new little windows in the Toronado."

Order a Toronado with an opera roof and you get opera windows and a padded canopy of oxen-grain vinyl. You can also order a new interior with rich velour upholstery, a high-energy ignition system, and True-Track braking.
The 1974 Toronado has a new instrument panel with a message center that lights up to warn you when certain things such as your gas, oil pressure, seat belts, etc. require your attention; there's even an exceptionally accurate digital clock, with quartz-crystal controlled movement.
Front-wheel drive Toronado. Engineering can be beautiful.

Stop in at your Olds dealer's.
He's got surprises for every member of the family in all the other '74s, too:
Ninety Eight Regency, Cutlass S and Supreme, Omega and station wagons.

City Council Sinking Rapidly in Abyss of Unfinished Business

As much as we regret that Thomas G. Hanna has resigned as Charlevoix city administrator, we wish him well in his new duties with Paul-Reed, Inc.

He has served the city diligently for almost four years, and we are confident that he will offer the same caliber of executive talent to one of Charlevoix's leading industries.

Hanna, whose role in city government has been a political football for the last two administrations, finally bowed to pressure from mayor's office in July and submitted his resignation, effective Sept. 15.

Although the mayor and council have had plenty of time to find a fully-qualified successor, City Assessor Robert Wexstaff has been asked to pinch-hit for Hanna while the search for a "man for all seasons" goes on.

The awful truth is that it isn't going to be easy to find a man as skilled as Hanna in the day-to-day operation of city government at a salary the city can afford to pay.

Until a successor is found, much of the responsibility for the operation of the city must fall on the shoulders of the mayor and council, who already are staggering under such a backlog of unfinished business that the light at the end of the tunnel--if there is one--is not discernible.

--A public hearing on city zoning was held last March 5 -- but the zoning ordinance is still languishing in committee.

--The city needs a building code and a building inspector so badly that we are the laughing stock of contractors and developers. But a building code today is even more remote than a revised zoning ordinance.

--We have known for years that our electrical distribution system hasn't been kept up the way it should be. We have siphoned off money -- illegally -- - from the electric fund to meet routine operating expenses that should have been paid for with tax dollars. Far too little has been used to maintain and update the distribution system itself and our transgressions are going to catch up with us some cold winter night when the power fails once and for all.

--Our storm and sanitary sewer lines are still comingled in many areas, to the consternation of Health Department officials.

--Public sidewalks are crumbling under our feet and many streets are badly in need of resurfacing.

--Public stairways leading to Lake Michigan from Park-ave. and Michigan-ave. are in such a bad state of repair that they are hazardous to life and limb.

--Downtown parking grows worse every year.

--The water system is in need of extensive work.

There are literally dozens of other urgent problems facing the council that must be resolved with alacrity and dispatch, but progress in almost every area, with the exception of the May-st. sewer, appears to be at a virtual standstill.

If the council met eight hours a day, five days a week from now until Christmas it wouldn't be able to even make a dent in its backlog of unfinished business.

Of course, the council can't work eight hours a day, five days a week. And it shouldn't have to. Decisions pertinent to the day-to-day operation of city government should be in the hands of a competent city administrator.

But that won't happen until the people of Charlevoix get off their duffs and demand a city charter designed to expediate the functioning of city government.

Petitions calling for a charter election have been available at the Courier office all summer, but only a handful are in circulation.

If you think it's time for a change, pick up a petition, secure your signatures and return it. With any luck at all, we could have a home rule charter drawn up and adopted by next year at this time.

Why Did The Mayor Keep Them Waiting?

It was heartening to see so many townspeople turn out for the public hearing on the rezoning of the Norm Ance property on Petoskey-rd. last Monday's Council meeting. Citizen participation is what democracy is all about.

But it was unfortunate that they were forced to wait three hours before the subject in which they were interested was brought to the table by Mayor Edward P. Hansen.

When chastised for the long delay by Attorney Donald Berlage, the mayor replied that he had no hand in drawing up the agenda.

Of course he didn't draw up the agenda, but he certainly could have changed the order of business as he saw fit.

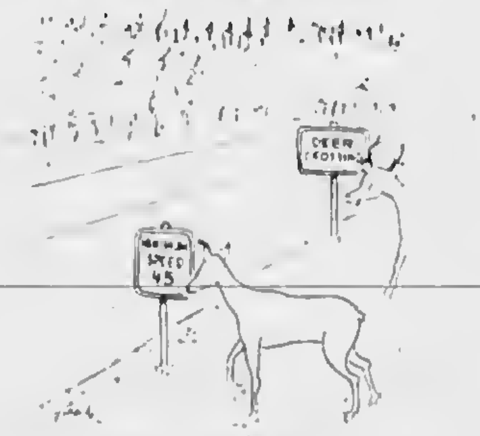
It was the height of discourtesy for the mayor to force more than 40 people to sit through three hours of tedious council proceedings before the hearing took place.

The hearing was advertised for 8 p.m. and it should have been held at 8 p.m., regardless of how many other items came before it on the agenda.

Alderwoman Jeannine Wallace has proposed that henceforth all public hearings be the first order of business. No formal vote was taken, but we certainly hope the present council and all future councils make her suggestion an unwritten council policy.

We have no idea why the mayor chose to punish those who came to the council meeting to speak for or against the zoning change. But we do know he didn't win many votes by making them cool their heels for three hours.

My Neighbors



"Over here, stupid!"

Do Condos Exclude Minorities?

Now it starts --

No, not really. It started hundreds of years ago. We're saying that high density population promotes and encourages intergration. Noah's ark was necessarily high intergrated. The teeming millions of India, with standing room only, know intergration of the races. Or come back home and you'll find that Detroit has extensive intergration today.

Now it starts -- in Charlevoix, that is. Last year the Charlevoix council, in their wisdom, and at the insistence of the condominium developers, voted to allow the high density projects which are now under construction.

The developers of these condominium projects evidently expect to eat their cake and still have it too, the theory being that the more units that can be crowded on a parcel of land the higher the profit.

But on the other hand every condominium association agreement contains a 'right of first refusal clause'. This means that the owner of a condominium unit is restricted in the sle of his property. He must first offer to sell his unit to the association and in this manner a member of a minority group has little chance of 'buying in'.

Many legal authorities say that such a clause is in violation of Michigan's Open Housing Act and a reliable source in Lansing recently mentioned that the Michigan Civil Rights Commissionis on the verge of legal action against condominium develooers with restrictive selling clauses.

Perhaps the time is now, before construction is completed, that the Charlevoix condominium developers publicly announce and advertise that they are reserving ten percent of their units to be sold exclusively to members of minorityu groups and thus show their willingness to comply with Michigan's Open Housing Law?

How about that, Ms. What's - Your - Name?

Q. What is the status of financial aid to people suffering medical catastrophes?

A. Financial help for families burdened with major medical expenses for serious injuries or long ilinesses that they cannot bear appears nearer than even the most hopeful advocates of such help thought possible just a few weeks ago.

At that time, a bill was introduced to provide state financial aid to families which had incurred medical expenses far greater than their ability to meet them.

Under normal legislative procedure, the time between the introduction of a bill, its consideration by two legislative committees and the full Senate and House, and passage and transmittal to the Governor is likely to run into several weeks -- and even months. Passage of legislation was never intended to be a speedy process.

But a way was found to speed medical aid by amending the public health appropriation bill, which already had gone through early stages of legislative consideration.

The amendment provided $475,000 to help families meet unusually heavy medical expenses and the bill already has been approved by both the Senate and the House of Representatives.

Provision was made, however, to withhold distribution of the funds until results of a study have been received on the best method of administering the fund. But, the important thing is:. Help is on the way.

Q. I think lottery winners should be spared all the publicity they receive. Is anything being done about this?

A. An interesting question has been raised as to whether state lottery winners should be allowed to remain anonymous.

In fact, a bill already has been introduced in the Legislature to permit a winner to remain anonymous by notifying the lottery commissioner ahead of time.

The reason is obvious: Winners - especially winners of the million dollar prize or other large amounts - are deluged with salesmen of all kinds and relatives and long-lost friends who come out of the woodwork.

Even worse than that, there is always the possibility that burglars or kidnappers will move in and make off with a winner's prize.

Why won't lottery officials agree to protect potential winners by refusing to disclose their names and addresses? The principal reason is the fear that many people will mistake the secrecy to mean that lottery officials may be mishandling funds.

Clockwise Horton Bay-rd.

By RON CLOCK

No matter how sedentary our lives, I think the spirit of adventure dwells deeply in many of us.

But instead of scuba diving off the coast of Madagascar, prowling the ominous craters of the moon, or scaling the icy pinnacles of the Himalayas, most of us must be satisfied with more mundane activities.

High excitement in my little world consists of leaving Petoskey with my gas gauge on empty and wondering if I will make it all the way to Charlevoix without running out of fuel.

Or trying to beat the coal carrier Fred Manske to the bridge. (The Manske always wins.)

Or wondering whether I will hit or miss that rotten little skunk who has humped his way out onto the highway in front of me. (The skunk always loses and so do I.)

However, every once in a while I make a bid for real adventure. Like last Friday evening when the Clocks were returning home from Petoskey. We were approaching the intersection of Horton Bay-rd. and U.S. 31 when it suddenly occurred to me that we have never taken time to do much exploring in the area.

Without notifying the family of my intentions, I made a sharp right turn onto the spur of Horton Bay-rd. which leads from the highway to Little Traverse Bay.

If you are not familiar with this road, let me tell you something about it. It runs through property owned by the Penn-Dixie Cement Co., according to signs posted along the right-of-way. It is so narrow that trees slap both sides of the car and make the radio antenna twang like a steel guitar.

After traveling 100 yards, I should have had the good sense to find a place to turn around and head back to the highway. But good sense has never been one of my strong suits and we continued past a half dozen little side roads that probably are the scene of many an amorous pursuit after the sun goes down.

The kids already had become ancy. They don't mind traveling with me in the car so long as I stick to main highways, paved and well marked. Whenever I take a gravel road to get anywhere—even the back route to Ellsworth—sheer panic sets in.

Even before we had crossed the C&O tracks, with U.S. 31 only a stone's throw away, Jennifer began reciting her familiar litany about being lost.

"We're lost! We're lost!" she shreiked, jumping up and down in the back of the bus.

"Turn around! Turn around!" Katie and Allison chimed in.

I should have taken their advice but I wasn't about to be dictated to by three kids who can hardly find their way home from Lewis-st., 60 feet from their front door.

So we continued blithly down Horton Bay-rd., like lemmings headed for the sea.

Finally we came to a rather steep hill, with what looked like a turn-around at the bottom.

"Hang onto your hats!" I shouted merrily. "With any luck at all we'll be able to stop before we get to the bay."

And down, down, down we went, over sheer outcroppings of limestone that I would never have tackled on a bet if I had known they were there. Toward the bottom we ran into a stretch of heavy sand that was even more forbidding than the limestone.

When we got to the bottom, I found that the turn-around was nothing but a sand trap and that our only hope for continued mobility lay in another narrow roadway that traveled east along the shore.

By this time the children, led by Jennifer, were panicky. They all started yowling and Danny, although I'm sure the urgency of the situation escaped him, joined in the general cacaphony as a matter of principle.

There was no place to turn around aside from the sand-pit behind us. Ahead the road was so overgrown it almost disappeared. I stopped the bus and told Judy I would do some scouting on foot to see where the road led.

About a quarter-mile ahead, I found that the road doubled back on itself and that with the removal of a few dead limbs I could easily make it wide enough for the bus. Which I did.

You wouldn't believe the caterwauling that was taking place in the bus when I returned. The four kids had convinced themselves that they would have to spend the night in the woods and were carrying on accordingly.

I explained to my progeny that I had found a turn-around and very shortly we would be back on solid pavement, heading home to Charlevoix. That pacified them for the moment.

Before long, we had negotiated the turn-around and were creeping back toward the sand-pit. As we neared the turn going up the hill, I laid on the gas and told everyone to hang on tight. But it didn't do any good because we stalled in the sand up to our hubcaps.

I tried to rock the bus back and forth to no avail. The rear wheels were digging foxholes.

"Excuse me," I heard Jennifer tell her mother. "But I'm getting out."

"No one's getting out," I roared.

"I am," Jennifer answered quite calmly. And by golly she did.

Then Judy suggested that I get out and push while she sat in the driver's seat, the most sensible suggestion I had heard all day. Little by Little, we managed to get the car out of the sand and back onto the grassy roadway.

Jennifer all this time was running from one side of the bus to the other, wringing her hands. It took all my powers of persuasion to get her back in the bus for our second attempt up the hill. She finally consented when I told her we wouldn't stop once we got rolling.

So with fingers crossed, I backed a little way down the road and laid on the gas again.

This time it took. The old bus labored uphill through the sand and then attacked the limestone outcroppings with a vengence. I was cheered on by a chorus of "hoorays" from the back seat. When we reached the crest of the hill we were doing 60 and we didn't slow down until we reached the highway.

So that's what's at the end of Horton Bay-rd. If you don't believe me, go take a look for yourself—in your ATV.

To Whom It May Concern...

By Doris Huckle

A northwest wind chills the recent heatwaved park and blows whitecaps toward another moveable feast.

Eating away at "our" State and Federally controlled earth, tugging at the roots of ornamental trees planted on the bridgeway by "our" neighbors for "our" pleasure, pushing against stones placed along the edge for inadequate protection at the expense of how many of "our" taxpaying dollars; this along the State owned M-32 bridge spanning the Jordan and the foot of Lake Charlevoix.

Whose responsibility to deny the whitecaps their furious consuming. And when?

Power lines over the bridge, strung with great gobs of cork to warn swans away scorn their death on contract, are almost rigid in the wind.

Did wrong wind-guess cause more than 30 of "our" great white "protected" wildfowl to crash with broken necks, flopping to death on the bridge below?

Whose responsibility to remove the wires, to protect swan from the wind?

The wind grabs a piece of sheetmetal hanging threateningly from Old No. 6. Steam Engine on dispaly in the park, trying to finish what some unthinking vandalizing youth started, to rip the unsightly metal off completely, blowing cold breaths on losened pain and tattered—train curtains, howling through broken windows, to add to the unkempt look of "our" historic gem.

Whose responsibility to groom the old gal, to chastise the vandals, to deny the wind?

The lanyard on the unused flagpole in front of the unused Community Building swings in the northwest wind freely, now pointing to a holed and splintered window, now swirling in a half-arc up and down Main-st.

The WPA ran out of funds in 1939 and did not complete "our building, temporarily used for the U.S. Postoffice until White Father edicts removed that little revenue (for private enterprise should build P.O.'s and lease them back to Father), thus twice reneged Father's good intents.....

Whose responsibility to blast the White Elephant, to turn it into something rewarding and untouched by the wind, to fasten and use "our" lanyard?

Once long ago we asked a local trapper to please set his muskrat traps along our Jordan River frontage because the scamps were setting up housekeeping there and undermining "our" banks.

These moments spent observing what the winds of time accomplish recalled the trapper's refusal and his honest observation: "Who in hell was here first....you or the muskrats?"

The Great American Billy

By JIM FITZGERALD

More over, Bunky Knudsen. Here comes Billy Martin, roaring around third and storming for home plate, manfully determined to score another run for The Great American Game of Baseball.

What I mean is, I thought Bunky left with class when he was fired as president of Ford Motor Co. a few years ago. He had a farewell press conference in which he admitted he wasn't sure how many cars he owned. And he said he had hired a lawyer to stand in line for him at the unemployment office.

Bunky gave a pretty impressive performance. Most middle-aged men, faced with the sudden loss of their paycheck, don't show that much bounce (except after jumping from tall buildings).

But it turns out Bunky is a bush leaguer compared to Martin. When Billy was fired as Detroit Tiger manager the other day, he had his Last Goodbye already taped and ready for immediate viewing on TV. There was even a "Goodbye Bille" song already written and recorded.

Now that's real class.

The ordinary Joe Slob, when he is fired, starts thumbing to the last page in his checkbook, with a trembling thumb. But not big league baseball managers. They've rounded that final base before (Doesn't that grab you? I should have been a sports announcer.) They know there'll be a greener job on the other side of the dugout. They know the game isn't over until they have been paid for the remaining 2 years on their contract.

There is no substitute for experience, no matter if the pitcher is a lefty or a righty. Experience is a switch hitter. (Can you stand it?) It was his experience that enabled Billy Martin to make such a classy trip to the showers.

Three years earlier, Martin had been canned as manager of the Minnesota Twins. At that time, as in Michigan now, there was great gnashing of teeth and painting of banners. There was also a special tribute filmed by a Minnesota TV station. It was the kind of tribute that gets you right here, or right there, depending upon where you wear your sliding pads.

The movie shows Martin standing in the deserted baseball stadium, looking out at the field with his most determined I'll-break-your-face expression. In the background, a voice sings "You can't win 'em all, Billy, but we're damn sure that you'll try." It is made clear that only an exceedingly dumb gutless person would fire a great guy like Billy Martin.

Then the voice sings that Billy should put his hands in his hip pockets and walk away, bravely. Which he does.

It is one of the great moments in sports history.

And, when Martin was fired again, that great moment was recreated. Detroit Channel 2 simply showed the Minnesota tribute filmed three years previously. After all, how many different ways can a man put his hands in his hip pockets while thumbing his nose?

Martin will manage another team. He will get fired again. And the local TV station can show that film again. It is a great convenience to all involved, including the fans who love to mew and puke as they watch their heroes suffer defiantly on TV.

Martin can even use the film as part of his credentials when applying for a new job. Have nose, will thumb.

Give me some peanuts and Crackerjack.

Brigade Workers Needed

More volunteers are needed to join the "Bucket Brigade," a project of the Charlevoix-Emmet Intermediate School District designed to help children with learning disabilities.

The project will resume Oct. 1.

Volunteers should contact Mrs. Judy Cockfield at 547-4138.

Pre- 1915 Buildings Rate 'Pioneer' Plaques

If your Charlevoix home is more than 58 years old, you are in line to receive a plaque from the Charlevoix Historical Society for mounting in an appropriate place.

Mrs. Berniee Wexstaff reports that the society decided at its September meeting to award the plaques "to keep local history alive in spite of the drastic changes that are presently taking place on our local scene."

Present plaques call for driftwood plaques which will be inscribed "Pioneer Building." The tablet may be hung or attached to the outside wall of any dwelling or business places constructed before 1915 which is still in use.

Mrs. Wexstaff says many buildings have been altered beyond recognition from their original design. However legal abstracts-of-title should prove sufficient to claim the award.

She said the owners of Belvedere Club cottages already have a head-start, since permanent records of construction dates are on file at the warden's office and are included in the Belvedere Club History, published in 1969.

Mrs. Wexstaff said the society is still open to suggestions regarding the marking of "Pioneer Buildings." However she said the group would like to have the project completed before the nation's bi-centennial celebration in 1976.

"It is to be hoped that all Charlevoix residents will check their abstracts of title and report their findings to the Society," she said.

Sanford

Funeral services for Frank J. Sanford, 68, who died Friday at Traverse City Osteopathic hospital, were held at the Winchester Funeral Home on Tuesday. The Rev. Elmer J. Faust officiated. Military graveside services were conducted at Brookside Cemetery by an honor guard from Wurtsmith Air Force Base.

Born Aug. 27, 1905, at Petoskey, Mr. Sanford lived here prior to enlisting in the U.S. Army. In 1960 he was retired as a Master Sergeant from the U.S. Air Force after having served a total of 26 years.

On. Sept. 20, 1951, he married the former Rowena McCormick at Roswell, N.M. The family came to Charlevoix in 1953 to make their home. He had resided in Traverse City for the past four years.

Surviving are his widow; a daughter, Mrs. Roy (Mildred) Grunch of Ludington; one son, Larry of Ann Arbor; two stepdaughters, Mrs. James (Maurine) Sneathen of Williamston and Mrs. Rita Hawley of Flint; three grandchildren and three brothers, Leonard of Scottsdale, Ariz., Forrest of Naples, Fla., and Harold B. of Las Vegas, Nev.

Griffin

Funeral services for George M. Griffin, 80, former East Jordan resident who died Sunday at Redford Community Hospital, was held at the Watson Funeral Home at 7 p.m. Tuesday under the auspices of the Rebec-Sweet Post No. 227, American Legion. Burial will be in Sunset Hill cemetery.

Born in Grand Traverse County April 23, 1893, Mr. Griffin came to East Jordan as a yound man. During World War I, he served with the Michigan National Guard, Co. I and Hdq. Co., 125th Infantry, 32nd Division as a First Sergeant. In 1918 he was married to the former Helen Lapine. They always made their home in Detroit except for the period of 1932-39 when he served as Chief of Police on Mackinac Island. He was a member of the Grove-Walker Post No. [illegible] American Legion of Farmington and Local 29, Mason Contractors Union, of Pontiac.

Surviving are four sons, George, jr. and Theodore of Union Lake, John of Detroit and Peter of Lum; two daughters, Mrs. Carl (Ann) Kamradt of Detroit and Pauline Griffin of Farmington; 13 grandchildren; six great-grandchildren and a brother, Harry of Roseville.

4th and 7th Grade Tests Scheduled

Fourth and Seventh Grade students in Charlevoix Public School will take part in the 1973-'74 Michigan Educational Assessment testing program from Sept. 24 to Oct. 5.

Purpose of the statewide testing program is to measure which skills and objectives in reading and mathematics each student has attained as well as those areas in which he needs further help.

The tests have been moved from January to September so that teachers will be able to use the results in determining which students need help in which areas.

In the past, the tests were used to determine how well each school district was doing in meeting selected performance objectives. However there has been a switch in emphasis this year that has turned the tests into a "teacher aid" as well.

vertabrae, bruises and lacerations. Mrs. Riordan suffered a concussion, bruises and lacerations.

Only minor damage was done to the trailer, but the automobile was believed to be totaled.

Hospital Meet

Charlevoix Hospital's annual meeting was scheduled to be held Tuesday, Sept. 18, at 8 p.m. at the Charlevoix City Hall. Election of three directors was on the agenda.

Tim Sorenson Hurt in Crash

Tim Sorenson, 24, Charlevoix, was treated for bruises and lacerations and released at Charlevoix Hospital Monday morning following a two-car crash on the Boyne City-rd. just east of the Horton Bay store.

Sheriff's deputies say Sorenson was traveling toward Boyne City in his small SAAB automobile when the vehicle went out of control on the rain-slicked pavement, spun around on a curve and crashed head-on into an oncoming 1970 Cadillac driven by Thomas F. Johnson, 44, of Northville, a summer resident in the area.

Johnson and his sons, Tim, 17, and Marty, 14, were not hurt.

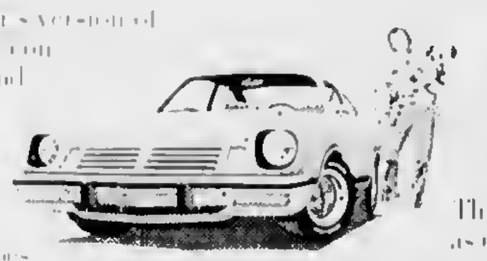
1974 Chevrolet
A better-than-ever way.

GM

When the wheel belongs to you, the road goes anywhere you say. And it's so much better with a '74 Chevrolet.

Caprice Classic. Introducing an elegant motor car, just asking to be enjoyed. Outside: an imposing new grille, and on the Coupe, a distinctive new roof line. Inside: peace, quiet and convenience. With standard power steering to do most of the turning, standard power front disc brakes to do most of the stopping, and a standard Turbo Hydra-matic transmission to do the shifting. If you want the luxury and comfort of a car that leaves little else for you to do but enjoy the ride, you don't have to look beyond the '74 Caprice Classic. However, the freedom of the open road begins with the freedom of choice.

Vega GT. This year's version of last year's Motor Trend Economy Car of the Year. And Car and Driver Readers' Choice as Best Economy Sedan for the last three years. With a reshaped nose, bigger bumpers, nicer carpeting, new stripes and new colors. Plus more good things to make it better. [illegible]



Camaro. The way it looks is the way it goes. Quick. Sleek and nimble. With a low, wide stance. Responsive steering. And comfort that's [illegible] that handles so well. Plus clean new styling and plushness from the cut-pile carpeting up.

Malibu Classic. A luxury Chevelle, new this year. With full foam seats. A fold-down front armrest. Wood-grained vinyl accents. Elegant inner door panels. Extremely tasteful upholstery and cut-pile nylon carpeting. That's just inside. The exterior is just as classic, in character and in detail, as the interior. Yet, it remains mid-size. And it remains all Chevelle. With Chevelle handling and at a Chevelle price. Now that you've looked, come and see the new Malibu Classic—and all the 1974 Chevrolets. The ones shown here, plus Impala, Monte Carlo, Nova, Corvette, pickups, vans and all our new cars and trucks.

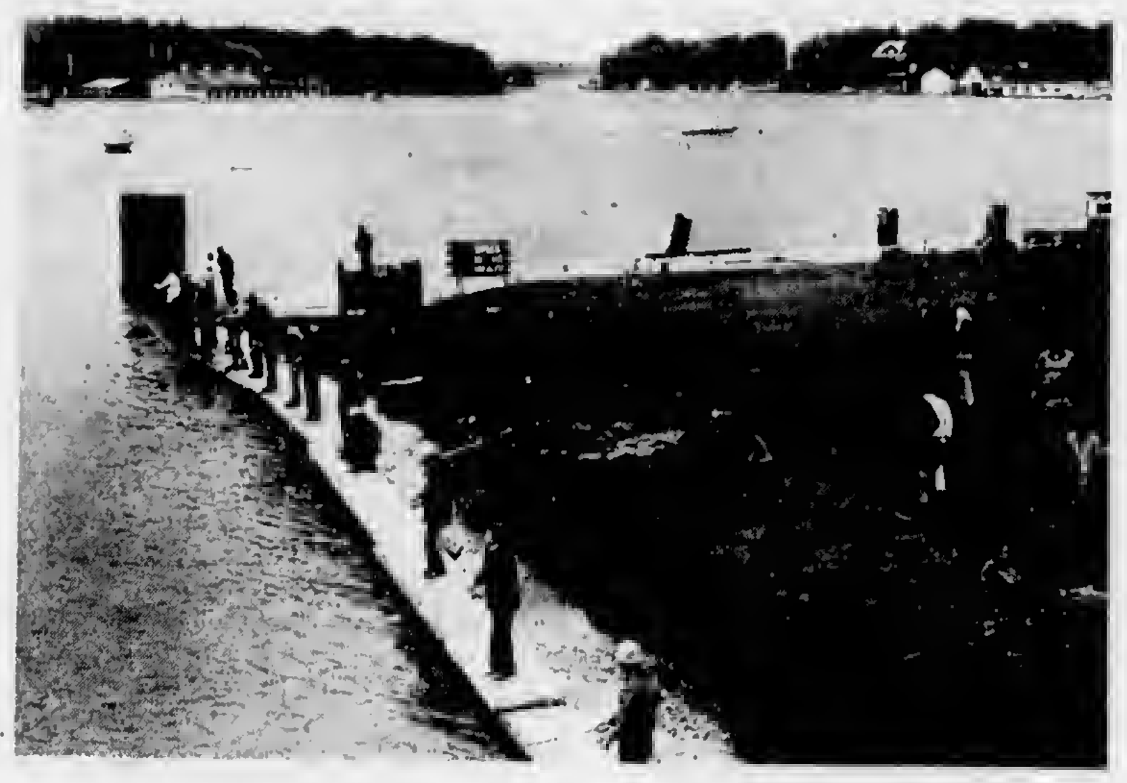
Happy Days Are Here Again



DOZENS OF fishermen lined Pine River Channel over the weekend as coho salmon began their annual spawning run. Several hefty lake trout were taken along with the cohos.

JIM ANNIS, an old pro at bringing in lake trout, shows he can handle coho salmon as well. He caught this beauty in Pine River Channel Saturday.

AL KNIGHT, who spends his winters in Florida, reports that the fishing at Port Charlotte can't compete with the angling in Charlevoix. He caught this trout Saturday afternoon just east of the bridge. Knight's home is on Clark Lake in Jackson County.

Ski Club Meets Again On Oct. 3

The Charlevoix Ski Club will hold it's second meeting Oct. 3, 1973 at 7 p.m. in the City Hall Community Rooms.

Because of the limited number attending the first meeting many club procedures have not been established. At the Oct. 3 meeting election of officers, planning activities, goals and objectives and other matters will be finalized.

Bring a friend and get in on the ground work of what will be a fun organization.

Conduct Code Is Adopted

The setting of tuition for out-of-school district students, adoption of a Code for Student Conduct and appointment of a vocational education director were on the School Board agenda Monday night.

Tuition rates established for the current school year were maximum rates as per formula and were $254.67 for the Secondary school and $217.80 for the elementary. Both charges may vary some when levied, it was explained.

The board, with minor changes to clarify its intent, approved the Code for Student Conduct which is now required by the State. There will be a hearing at Grayling on Oct. 10 at which time the state may recommend guidelines but not policies to be incorporated into the code which gives the student 'due process'.

Dry Rot Riddles Arches Bracing CHS Gym Roof

To Honor Injured Athlete

This week is John Geyer Week in Charlevoix, according to the Senior Class at Charlevoix High School.

Geyer is the Rogers City football player who suffered severe back injuries in last year's game with Charlevoix and is now paralyzed from the chest down.

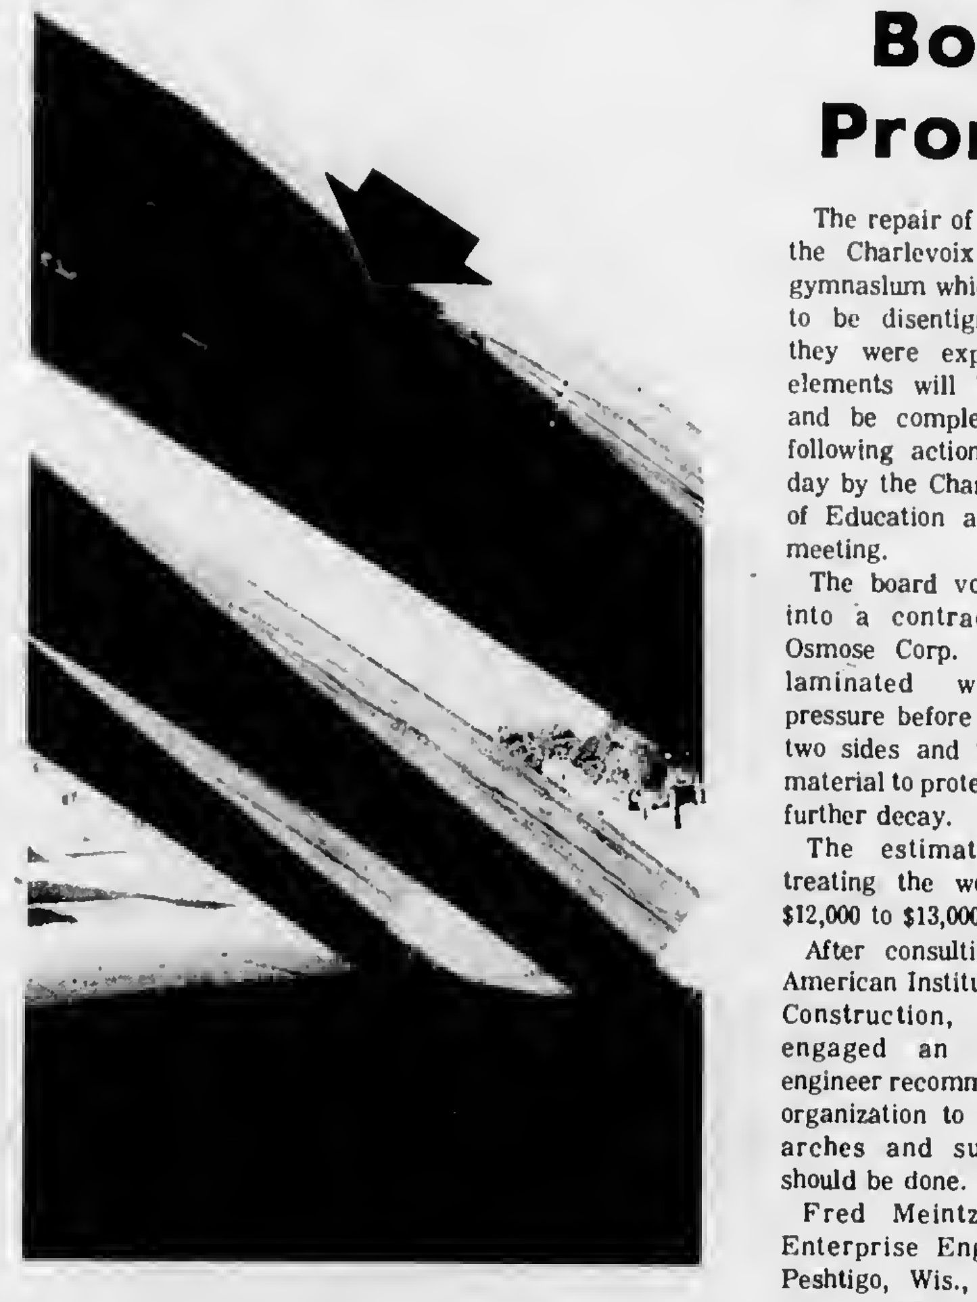
This Friday's football game is being dedicated to Geyer and he will receive the game ball.

The Senior Class also is accepting donations to buy Geyer an electric typewriter. Rogers City students will go 50-50 on the project.

Donations should be sent to the Senior Class, Charlevoix High School.

Geyer who suffered a partially severed spinal cord, is now able to sit up in a wheel chair for two hours at a time, but he must be strapped in. He has movement in both his hands, however, and will be able to use the typewriter.

The project is being coordinated by Sheilah Brady, CHS Senior, who wants everyone in town to attend this Friday's game with Rogers City (here) "to show that John Geyer is not forgotten."



SOME OF the laminated timbers supporting the roof of the Charlevoix High School gymnasium have been riddled with a fungus that has destroyed the bearing qualities of the wood. Members of the Board of Education discussed the problem at their meeting Monday night after receiving an engineer's report.

Board Orders Prompt Repairs

The repair of the arches at the Charlevoix high school gymnasium which were found to be disentigrating where they were exposed to the elements will begin shortly and be completed this fall following action taken Monday by the Charlevoix Board of Education at its regular meeting.

The board voted to enter into a contract with the Osmose Corp. to treat the laminated wood under pressure before encasing the two sides and the top in a material to protect them from further decay.

The estimated cost of treating the wood is from $12,000 to $13,000.

After consulting with the American Institute of Timber Construction, the board engaged an independent engineer recommended by the organization to examine the arches and suggest what should be done.

Fred Meintz, P.E., of Enterprise Engineering of Peshtigo, Wis., of the four would remedy the situation.

The four are food source, fungus development, moisture in the wood and temperature. By treating the wood under pressure and covering the exposed areas, two of the four items will be accomplished.

Meintz also recommended that Arch No. 3 (from the May-st. entrance receive special care because the leg must be replaced or boxed in with steel side plates to maintain an adequate structural elevation. This will be done though the route to be taken has not been determined at this time.

The covering for the exposed area will also be decided after the initial work on the arches is completed.

The building has seven complete arches. Each arch, however, is laminated into two separate pieces and bolted together at the apex.

The 'dry rot' condition that now exists resulted because the wood was not treated with a preservative at the time the arches were made about 12 years ago.

Meintz told the Courier that most of the decay is on the south side of the laminated arches which is exposed to

3-Way Tie In Courier Grid Contest

A three-way tie developed in the first installment of the Courier's annual Football Contest last week.

Steve Young, 205 W. Upright-st.; Bruce Avery, R-2; and Maurice Cudd, 703 E. Dixon-ave. will each receive a $5 prize.

All three missed on two games. Young picked Charlevoix over Grayling and Avery and Cudd were foiled by the Dolphins loss to the Raiders.

Of course, none of them foresaw the tie between the Lions and the Packers.

Please turn to Page 4 for this week's contest.

South Siders Demand Fast Action on Sewer

A group of South Side residents objected Monday night to sewer work beginning on the North Side before construction starts on the May-st. sewer.

A spokesman for the group said residents in the May-st. area have been waiting seven years for the sewer and they don't think it is fair to make them wait longer while sewer line work is done on the North Side.

City Attorney Norman Ance explained that the North Side work (replacement of a line crossing U.S. 31 just north of the bridge) does not involve a special assessment and is ready to roll. He said the city is moving as rapidly as possible through the required legal procedures to arrange the financing of the May-st. project.

He said if the city delayed now on the North Side work, "we would end up in a lawsuit."

Some of the South Side residents complained of odor from septic tank fields.

Mayor Edward P. Hansen said the city should never have accepted plats without sewer service as it has done in the May-st. area.

In other business the council:

--Approved the moving of the Hess house on Michigan-ave. to Burgess-rd.

--Suggested that realtor James Corbin continue looking for city-owned land he would like to trade for his frontage on Pine River Channel. Corbin was interested in one tract on Park-ave. which was listed as city-owned but is actually hospital property.

Flag Stolen From Sub Monument

The flag which has flown 24 hours a day above the national Submarine Veterans Memorial in East Park since its dedication this summer has been stolen.

Ben Gill, a member of the Michigan Submarine Veterans of World War II which sponsored the memorial, says the flag was taken from the flag pole either late Friday night or early Saturday.

Gill said no charges will be pressed if the flag is left at his home at 209 Burns-st. or at the Fire Hall on Mason-st.

"It might be another matter if we have to go looking for it," he said, adding that it is a federal offense to harm a national monument. He said the flag will be fairly easy to identify.

New Owner on Job At Harbor Hardware

Glenn Harris Is Familiar With Area

The Harbor Hardware Store on Bridge-st. has been purchased by Glenn Harris, a former resident of Lansing and long-time summer visitor to northern Michigan.

Harris purchased the business from Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Kimble of Beck-rd. The Kimble's future plans are uncertain.

A former Lansing real estate agent, Harris, his wife, Pat, and sons John, 15; Dan, 14; and Andrew, 6; are living in Harbor Springs.

Harris' father, Bucky Harris, is a long-time summer resident of Horton Bay.

Although he is new to the hardware business, Harris is pleased with the store's well-stocked shelves.

"I've been here a week now, and the only thing I have been unable to supply a customer is a cheese thermometer," he said.

The only major change Harris anticipates immediately is conversion of storage space on the rear balcony to sales space for housewares, lighting fixtures, small appliances, stereos and portable TV's.

He also plans to offer locksmith services and rental items for the home workman.

Harris also plans to have the store carpeted in the near future.

A native of Saginaw, Harris has lived most of his life in the Lansing area.

GLEN HARRIS, new owner of Harbor Hardware, believes the key to success in his new venture is offering customers what they want when they want it. He intends to maintain a complete stock of hard goods for home maintenance and repair.

Red Rayders Lose Conference Opener

The Red Rayders lost their Michigan-Huron Shores Conference opener Friday, bowing to the Grayling Vikings 24 to 6.

Up until the final quarter, it appeared that the Vikings might have a shut-out on the hands with 24 big ones on the board for Grayling and 0 for Charlevoix.

However in the finale, quarterback Randy Faust passed to Jerry Skippergosh who traveled 17 yards to score. The conversion attempt was blocked.

Grayling scored in the first period on a pass from Clif Bonamie to Bob Harris who galloped 22 yards to paydirt. Mark Hanson passed to Jim Bobenmoyer for the conversion, giving the Vikings an 8-0 lead.

The second period was scoreless, but after the half Hanson lobbed a short pass to Wayne Westervelt for the Viking's second TD. Bonamie added the conversion points, making the score 16-0.

Still not satisfied, Bonamie scored again from the three-yard line the next time Grayling got the ball and made good his own conversion, leaving the score 24-0 at the buzzer.

Charlevoix's lone tally followed in the fourth period.

In other Michigan-Huron Shores action, Petoskey defeated Rogers City 6-0; St. Ignace whipped Boyne City, 40-0; and Cheboygan snuck past Gaylord, 20-15.

This Friday, Rogers City comes to Charlevoix, Boyne City travels to Gaylord, Petoskey plays at Cheboygan and St. Ignace goes to Grayling.

Kevin McDonough Claims Bride at Holy Cross

Arrangements of yellow and white mums and gladioli graced the altar of Holy Cross church at St. James, Beaver Island, Saturday afternoon for the wedding of Linda S. Arden and Kevin C. McDonough.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Arden of Roseville and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence M. McDonough of St. James.

The Rev. Herbert Graf, O.F.M., and Rev. Edward G. Donohoe officiated at the double-ring service in the presence of more than 300 guests. Mrs. Walter Wojan, at the organ, played a program of traditional music and the wedding marches and accompanied the soloist, Linda Egbert of Lansing.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, chose a traditional gown of white lace for her wedding. Her mantilla was trimmed in the same lace. She carried a bouquet of straw and silk flowers in the rainbow colors.

Rebecca King of Roseville as maid of honor wore a yellow organdy gown and a white picture hat and carried a basket of straw and silk flowers in contrasting yellow shades. Serving as bridesmaids and wearing gowns in pink, lilac, blue and green, respectively, and picture hats and carrying baskets of flowers in contrasting shades were Karen Altadona of Sterling Heights, Michelle Arden, sister of the bride. Debbie Weiss, both of Roseville, and Pamela of St. James, sister of the bridegroom.

Heather Lee Totten of Cedar Springs, gowned in yellow, was flower girl and Eric McDonough of Grand Rapids, nephew of the bridegroom, was ringbearer.

Joseph McDonough of Grand Rapids assisted his brother as best man. Two other brothers, Gary McDonough of Los Angeles and Larry McDonough of Grand Rapids, were groomsmen. Daniel Gillespie of St. James and John McDuke of Detroit seated the guests.

A reception followed at the Holy Cross Parish Hall where more than 350 guests gathered for a dinner followed by a dance.

After a wedding trip through southern Michigan the couple will live in the Traverse City area.

The bride is a graduate of the State College of Beauty at Roseville. The bridegroom is a graduate of Ferris State College.

Mr. aad Mrs. Kevin McDonough

FIFTY-FIVE pre-schoolers already are enrolled in the Charlevoix Cooperative Nursery and there is still room for about five more, according to Mrs. James Miller, instructor of the morning sessions. The nursery welcomes youngsters three and four years old to morning and afternoon sessions at the Charlevoix Library. Here, Mrs. Miller assists her daughter, Sheryl, Patrick Faketty and Chad Horn with jig-saw puzzle. Parents interested in having their youngsters enrolled in the nursery should call Mrs. Richard Kelly at 547-9776.

Kuebler-Stanaback Rites Performed in Petoskey

Susan Stanaback of Alanson became the bride of Douglas L. Kuebler of Charlevoix in ceremonies Sunday, Sept. 16 in the First Christian Church in Petoskey.

Pastor D. B. Myers performed the ceremony in the presence of 300 guests before an altar decorated with candleabras.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Marge Stanaback of Alanson. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Kuebler of Charlevoix.

Given in marriage by Jack Curtis of Petoskey, the bride wore a gown of white taffeta with a hoop-styled skirt, lace bodice and her veil was secured by a Juliet cap.

Organist Mrs. K. C. Festerling of Petoskey played "A Time for Us" as the bride approached the altar and accompanied soloist Mrs. Gordon Burnett jr. of Charlevoix who sang "Jesus, You and Me" and "The Wedding Prayer."

Sue Pointer of Alanson was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Geri Kuebler, a sister of the bridegroom; Cindy McDonald of Midland, a cousin of the bride; and Donna Blomberg of Burt Lake. Miss Pointer wore a floor-length gown of light green dotted Swiss. The bridesmaids wore similar gowns in pastel yellow. They wore white garden hats and carried single long-stemmed yellow roses.

Best man was Calvin Fischer of Olive Branch, Mo. Groomsmen were Jeffrey E. Nicolaus of Washington, D. C.; John Wojaik and Stanley Andreika, both of Chicago.

Ushers were Marvin Coy and Bill Overholt, both of Petoskey.

The reception was held at the Sportsmen's Club in Petoskey.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Kuebler home Sept. 15.

After a wedding trip to the Upper Peninsula, the couple will live at R-3, Charlevoix. The bridegroom is employed at American Mold.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Mississippi, Illinois and Washington, D.C.

Wins Degree

David Woodrow, 323½ Bridge-st., was among several hundred candidates to receive degrees from Eastern Michigan University at the close of the summer session. Woodrow received a B.S. degree.

Pollution: it's a crying shame

But does it have to be? Not if you do something about it. So the next time you see pollution point it out to someone who can do something about it.

People start pollution. People can stop it.

All Area Women Invited to Retreat

The Neighborhood Bible Class of Petoskey is sponsoring a retreat for all women of the area Friday and Saturday, Sept. 28 and 29.

Registration begins at 4:30 p.m. Friday in the new auditorium at Petoskey High School. The retreat ends Saturday at 4:30 p.m.

A registration fee will cover the cost of lodging, meals, tax and tip and the meetings themselves, including four mini-sessions and three rallies.

Theme of the retreat is "Peace" taken from Isaiah 26:3: "Thou wilt keep him in perfect peace whose mind is stayed on Thee."

Principle speaker will be Jeannie Jeffery of Detroit, a member of "Winning Women, Inc."

Other speakers include Peggy Brown, "Conflict vs Forgiveness"; Peggy Burdick, "Peace in the Home"; Dorothy Lehman, "Loneliness" and Doyce Lafoon, Petoskey, "Surrender."

Evelyn Smiley will be organist and Jane Andrews will play the flute.

A book nook will be open between all sessions and at mealtime.

Miss Cebulski Will Marry In October

Mr. and Mrs. James J. Cebulski of U.S. 31 South, Charlevoix, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Joann, to Gregory Brenton Gregory, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brenton G. Gregory of Big Bend, Wisc.

The bride-elect was graduated from Central Lake High School in 1970 and is employed as a waitress at the Grill Restaurant, which is owned by her parents.

Her fiance was graduated from Catholic Memorial High School in Waukesha, Wisc., in 1969, and is a student at the University of Wisconsin-Parkside in Kenosha, Wisc.

The wedding is planned for Oct. 20.

The couple plans to make their home in Racine, Wisc., where they will continue their education.

The men who wrote the Bible also read it.

They were looking for a living faith, a foundation for regeneration, strength, and healing. And they found it.

SEVERAL HUNDRED Jehovah's Witnesses packed the Charlevoix High School gymnasium Sunday afternoon to hear an address by David P. Biegler of New York entitled "Act Wisely as the End Draws Near." In the morning, about 100 Witnesses were baptized by total immersion in ceremonies at the Lodge swimming pool.

Michigan Con Proposes Ceiling Insulation Plan

The Michigan Consolidated Gas Co., which serves the Charlevoix area, has asked the state Public Service Commission to approve a program which would reduce the utility's gas sales for home heating by encouraging customers to insulate their homes.

The program has a two-fold objective of conserving energy and holding down heating bills at a time when gas supplies are becoming more expensive.

The gas company says that owners of typical two-story homes in the Detroit area could save 17 percent in fuel costs by installing six inches on insulation in the ceiling. Six inches of insulation is the amount now required by FHA.

Homes which now have the one and one-half inches formerly required by FHA could save 10 percent of their fuel costs by adding an additional four and one-half inches of insulation.

The company said the 17 percent savings would amount to about $30 for the average homeowner. Cost of the insulation would come to about $90, which would pay for itself in about three years.

The company have even arranged to finance the cost of installing insulation, if the Public Serivce Commission concurs. Payment for the work would be made in equal installments over the first three monthly gas bills with no interest charges. If longer financing is desired, the customer could make a down payment and extend his installments over 36 months.

District Court

The following cases were heard in Charlevoix last week by District Judge Arthur Reibel:

Faron Schroeder, 17, Boyne Falls, posted $1,000 on a charge of breaking and entering (felony). He also asked the services of a court-appointed attorney.

Vernon Shepherd, 43, Boyne City, plead guilty to charges of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor and being drunk and disorderly.

Monroe Cutler, 21, Charlevoix, plead guilty to being a disorderly person. He will be sentenced later.

Sam Meangwie, 52, Charlevoix, plead guilty to being drunk and disorderly. He will be sentenced later.

Vincent Left, 17, Charlevoix, plead guilty to charges of being drunk and disorderly and having an open container of an alcoholic beverage on a public street. He will be sentenced later.

Robert Matts, 35, Boyne City, was assessed $200 on a charge of impaired driving. He also will surrender his driver's license for 90 days. The original charge of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor was reduced at the request of the prosecuting attorney.

William Redman, 26, Boyne City, plead guilty to charges of careless driving and speeding. He was assessed $80.

James Brandt, 23, Alba, was assessed $15 for possession of beer in public.

Angeline Sineway, East Jordan, was assessed $15 for assault and battery.

Walter Russell jr., 23, Charlevoix, stood mute and asked for a court-appointed attorney on a charge of disposing of personal property (felony). Case was continued.

Claude Vermillion, 39, Ellsworth, posted $150 bond and requested time to secure the services of an attorney on charges of driving under the influence of intoxicating liquor (third offense) and operating a motor vehicle while his license was suspended.

Charges that Mahlon Blakeslee, 65, Williamsburg drove under the influence of intoxicating liquor (third offense) and drove while his license was suspended were dismissed on the request of the prosecuting attorney. The prosecutor said Blakeslee didn't understand the charges against him.

Thursday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Garrett McDowell were Mr. and Mrs. Rex Dunlap of Traverse City.

Frost warnings were forecast for Monday morning, so picked a bouquet of beautiful Zinnias (just in case). We are happy with much needed gentle rain today.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kuiper and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Wynsma sr., left for a few days vacation in Canada.

Miss Marcella Vail of Grand Rapids came Thursday to spend a few days with her family, the Ted Vails. Mrs. Bill Berends (Bernette) and daughters came with her to be with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Jake and Jerroll Drenths.

A party honoring Mrs. Fannie Vesscher of Fremont was given by Mrs. Melvin Essenberg and Mrs. Ted Vail, Wednesday evening at the Vail home. Mrs. Visscher is the former Fannie Jansen and was a resident here many years ago. Guests enjoying the evening were her sisters-in-law Helen Jansen and Mattie Vander Ark and her nieces, Mrs. Gerret John Drenth, Mrs. Peter and Willard VanderArk, Mrs. Harold Jansen, Mrs. George and Harvey Drenth, Mrs. Peter Jake Drenth Miss Margie Drenth and Mrs. John J. Drenth.

Garry McDowell of Ortonsville is spending this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Garrett McDowell.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Van Stedum and children Tim and Grace Charbonneau left Wednesday for Grand View, Mo. The main attraction is little Aaron Kooyer, first son of Jack and Judy Kooyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Kuiper and children from Lowell were weekend visitors with his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Kuiper.

Changes have been made in the meetings of the P.T.A. of the Community School. The meetings will be held the second Tuesday of October. The December meeting will be the annual Christmas program on December 18th, the third Tuesday. The March 1974 and May 1974 meetings are also scheduled for the third Tuesday in the month. On September 11 a pot luck banquet was enjoyed by about 85 persons. In the absence of Arthur Drenth, president, the meeting was chaired by Mrs. Okey Peterson, vice president. It was a good meeting to welcome back all our faculty. The annual harvest sale is scheduled for the October meeting.

Arthur Drenth is again at the Veterans Hospital in Ann Arbor undergoing tests on his heart. Messages of comfort and well wishes can reach the family, c/o David Storer, 1139 Evelyn St., Ypsilanti, Mi., 48197.

TO THE ELECTRIC CUSTOMERS OF CONSUMERS POWER COMPANY

NOTICE OF HEARING ON MOTION FOR PARTIAL AND IMMEDIATE ELECTRIC RATE RELIEF

On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company filed an application with supporting testimony and exhibits with the Michigan Public Service Commission in Case No. U-4332, which requests authority to amend its retail electric rates so as to increase its retail electric revenues by approximately $36,100,000 on an annual basis. On August 27, 1973, Consumers Power Company filed a Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief, which seeks authority, on an interim basis, to amend its rate schedules so as to increase its electric rates by approximately $33,810,000 on an annual basis. On April 18, 1973, Consumers Power Company also filed an application in Case No. U-4331 with the Commission for authority to increase its rates for the sale of gas and at the same time filed a Motion for Partial and Immediate Rate Relief to increase its gas rates on an interim basis. At the hearing hereinafter noticed, the motion for partial and immediate gas rate relief, Case No. U-4331, will be heard concurrently with the motion for partial and immediate electric rate relief, Case No. U-4332. In its motion, Consumers Power Company has stated that significant increases in the cost of capital, fuel, taxes, wages, equipment, materials and supplies have had a serious adverse impact upon the earnings level of its electric business and that it has not been able to attain the level of earnings in its electric business found to be reasonable in the prior electric rate order of the Michigan Public Service Commission. Consumers Power Company further alleges in its motion that interim rate relief is required to attract on reasonable terms the capital required to serve the increasing needs of its service area.

The Michigan Public Service Commission has scheduled a hearing on the motions for partial and immediate rate relief filed in Case Nos. U-4331 and U-4332 and has ordered that notice be given that:

A. A public hearing on Consumers Power Company's motions for partial and immediate gas and electric rate relief will commence at 9:30 a.m. on October 8, 1973 in the offices of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913, and will continue, if necessary, on the succeeding days of the week of October 8 at the same location and at such time as shall be determined by the presiding officer until the matter has been fully heard.

B. The parties who have already intervened in the above-entitled proceedings shall be entitled to participate as parties in the hearing on Consumers Power Company's motions for partial and immediate rate relief. Any additional persons or entities seeking to intervene for the purpose of participating in the hearing on the motions for partial and immediate rate relief shall file with the Commission, five (5) days prior to October 8, 1973, an original and eleven copies of the petition to intervene with proof of service upon Consumers Power Company and the other parties to this proceeding. A service list can be obtained from the Secretary of the Commission, Law Building, Lansing, Michigan 48913.

C. The interim rate increases described in this notice have been requested by Consumers Power Company. The Michigan Public Service Commission may either grant or deny the requested increases, or may grant lesser or greater increases than those requested.

Jurisdiction of the Commission in this matter is pursuant to Sections 1, 2, 6, 7 and 8 of Act 106, PA 1909, as amended (MCLA §§ 460.551, 460.552, 460.556-8); Act 300, PA 1909, as amended (MCLA § 462.2 et seq); Sections 3 and 4 of Act 419, PA 1919, as amended (MCLA §§ 460.53, 460.54); and Sections 4, 6 and 6a of Act 3, PA 1939, as amended (MCLA §§ 460.4, 460.6, 460.6a); and the Commission's Rules of Practice and Procedure, 1954 Administrative Code, as amended, No. 54, R 460.11 et seq.

A summary of the proposed interim rate changes showing the requested increases by classes of service in terms of dollars and percentage is set forth below:

Time is Running Out For Academy Nominees

Cong. Philip E. Ruppe reports that individuals in the 11th Congressional District who wish to apply for one of the U.S. Service Academies—Army, Navy, Air Force or Merchant Marine---should contact his office no later than Monday, Oct. 1.

Cong. Ruppe's address is 203 Cannon House Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20515. The telephone number is (202) 225-4735.

The next class will start in July, 1974.

Ruppe noted that selection of nominees to the service academies is based on a competitive method, utilizing scores from the College Entrance Examination Boards, or the American College Testing Program.

Those interested in competing for nomination this year should arrange to take the examinations no later than Nov. 3, 1973, for the CEEB, and no later than Oct. 20 for the ACT.

Applicants should contact their school guidance counselors for further information concerning these tests.

Ruppe can make one nomination each to the U.S. Naval Academy, and the Air Force Academy, two to the Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., and 10 to the Merchant Marine Academy.

Applicants must be at least 17 and not more than 22 years old. They also must be U.S. citizens, currently unmarried and never having been married, good students with leadership abilities.

Mrs. Blanchard Explains Equalization on Isle

A presentation on assessing, equalization and taxes was given the evening of September 12th at the Beaver Island Community School by Joan Blanchard, Director of the Charlevoix County Equalization Department.

Mrs. Blanchard gave a brief review of procedure and responsibility for the assessing function in Michigan. The counties' performance of a vital intermediary role in county equalization and in providing assistance to both state and to municipal governments in discharging their respective responsibilities.

1. The assessing officers are responsible for assessing the property within their respective units. Uniformly.

2. The county is responsible for equality between the townships and cities within the county.

3. The state is responsible for the equality between the counties of the state.

There are two basic requirements established by the Constitution and Statutes:

1. That property be assessed uniformly and

2. That property be assessed at 50 percent of true cash value.

The director explained the county Equalization Department's responsibility is to conduct studies to determine what level of assessing each governmental unit is doing. With the information compiled by the equalization department, the county commissioners make sure each township and city is carrying its fair share of the county's total value. This is County Equalization.

Mrs. Blanchard went on to explain the assessors and the county commissioners establish only the value of property - not taxes.

The townships need money to operate, as does the county, the schools and the Intermediate School District. The law has established 15 mills to be allocated to these different taxing units by the allocation board, and anything over 15 mills is voted by the people.

This year in Charlevoix County, allocation was as follows:

UNIT	AMOUNT
Twp.	1.00 mill
County	4.30 mills
Schools	9.50 mills
I.S.D.	.20 mill
	15.00 mills

The budgets require a certain amount of money to operate the respective units. Knowing the S.E.V. (State Equalized Value) of a unit, determination is made as to the millage needed to raise this amount of money.

She gave an example of Peaine Township's estimated millage rate for 1973:

PEAINE TOWNSHIP

County tax-allocated	4.30
Township tax-allocated	1.00
Voted operational	4.00
Voted airport	2.00
Voted roads	2.00
Total township	9.00 mills

BEAVER ISLAND SCH. DIST.

Allocated	9.50
Voted operational	8.00
Voted debt	1.00
Total school	18.50 mills

CHX-EMMET INT. SCH. DIST.

Allocated	.20
Voted Special Ed	1.00
Debt. Ret.	.25
Total I.S.D.	1.45 mills
Total mill rate	33.25 mills

Of this total millage, all of the money raised on taxes stays on the Island, except for the 4.30 mills for county and the 1.45 mills for the I.S.D.

Mrs. Blanchard said understanding exactly what is meant by State Equalized Value seems to be difficult for many taxpayers. Stated as simply as possible, equalized valuation is a method devised to provide equality in the assessment of property for tax purposes for taxpayers residing in different taxing units.

Under our system of property taxaton, 18 different assessors are involved in setting the assessed value of property located in each of the 18 taxing units. (We have 15 townships and 3 cities). It is evident that there will be a difference in their approach in valuation. Consequently, there are differences in the assessed value that assessors place on like parcels of property.

State law requires, therefore, that a factor must be applied to the total assessed value of each taxing unit in order to bring them up to 50 percent of true cash value which is known as the State Equalized Value.

The State Tax Commission determines what factor must be used by each local taxing unit to equalize the valuations between units. For example, a home having a true cash value of $20,000 would have a S.E.V. of $10,000 (the 10,000 representing 50 percent of true cash value). Assuming that a local assessor assessed such property at $5,000, a factor of 2.00 would be set for this taxing unit. When the assessment of $5,000 is multiplied by this factor of

The Board voted in favor of the appointments.

RESIGNATION OF GEORGE F. MILLER

Moved by Commissioner Smith to accept the resignation of George F. Miller from the Charlevoix County Planning Commission. Supported by Commissioner Kujawski. Motion Carried.

RESOLUTION - INCREASED COST BY LEGISLATURE

Moved by Commissioner Smith and supported by Commissioner Kujawski that the following resolution be adopted:

WHEREAS, the Michigan Legislature has developed the practice of avoiding fiscal responsibility by requiring Michigan counties and not the State, to absorb the cost of implementing the wishes of the Legislature, and

WHEREAS, this practice has evolved by transferring former State functions to counties by increasing the costs to counties for discharging historic county functions, and by imposing new and additional functions upon counties, and

WHEREAS, we do not dispute the desirability or intent of such legislation, however, this practice either forces counties to increase the amount of their appropriated funds for implementing state legislative mandates or places counties in a vulnerable position for non-compliance, and

WHEREAS, such practice by the State Legislature violates the spirit if not the letter of the Michigan Constitution of 1963 in that the legislature in effect is appropriating county funds without itemizing and balancing the revenues from which appropriations are to be paid;

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED, that this County Board of Commissioners calls upon the Legislature and the Governor to exercise the fiscal responsibility intended by the Michigan Constitution and to resist the temptations of irresponsibility and to avoid adopting or approving any legislation which transfers State functions to counties, increases the costs of county operations or adds to the responsibilities of counties unless such legislation provides clearly and specifically for the allocation of State appropriated funds to defer the cost of implementing such legislation.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED, that a copy of this resolution be sent to all State Senators and Representatives, to all Michigan counties, to Governor William G. Milliken and to the Michigan Association of Counties with the intent of urging these individuals and organizations to support the spirit of this resolution in a vigorous manner.

Girls' Basketball Now A Fall Sport at CHS

By Regina Borths

What's new in fall sports for this year?

Why non other than girls' basketball.

Girls' basketball has been changed from a winter sport to a fall sport. The most part, the gym was too difficult to get during the winter, since there is now a girls JV team. (Why the poor girls would be there until 12-midnight getting all their practices in!!!)

This year, with two teams, there is still one unbeatable coach, Mrs. Toni Felter. Mrs. Felter has taught girls basketball in Charlevoix for the past three years, with the last two years in conference play.

Mrs. Felter reports she has a really great team this year.

JV members include sophomores Dona Bellows, Laura Corbin, and Barb Meadows and freshmen Kay Currey, Sandra Hodge, Sue Martin, Lou Ann Murray, Terri Novonty, Gail Powell, and Rita Wasoski. Student Manager is Chris Culbertson.

Mrs. Felter has announced that anyone else who would like to go out for the team is welcome, and won't get cut. If you are interested, just stop by her practices Monday through Friday at the high school at 3:30. Varsity practices are on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays, while the JV's practice on Tuesdays and Thursdays. Time for both practices is 3:30-5:00 at the high school gym.

few new rules added. They consist of: "Over & back." In other years girls could pass the ball back and forth across the line and not get called. This year 'Over & Back' will be called.

The option of moving while waiting for a jump shot also has been changed.

Girls can now move straight back as soon as the referee holds up his hand.

The bonus point rule also has been changed.

Girls will now need five team fouls against their opponents in order to qualify for the bonus shot. They will only receiv a bonus shot when there are less than five fouls and there is a foul called against the other team while a player is in the act of shooting.

Adult tickets cost 75 cents; student tickets 50 cents. Season tickets also are available.

Mugs, Bulbs To Be Sold

By Patti Marsh

The Student Council has 12 Rayder mugs and approximately three cartons of light bulbs left over from last year's fund-raising activities.

The mugs will be sold during the year to anyone who wants them.

Council members pla to set aside one night to sell the remaining light bulbs door-to-door.

New Style Marching Band

By ANDREA WAGNER

This past summer Charlevoix's Marching Band held a Band Camp in the last two weeks of August. This year's camp was conducted by Jim Lautzenhizer, Mr. "L", from NMU. Plus a staff of five experienced people to assist him during the first two days. Mr. "L" taught a brand new marching style.

This year's band has two new firsts. Jim Sundberg will lead the band as the first male Drum Major. Jim went to a Drum Major's Camp at NMU this past summer. He brought back with him many new ideas, including cals. There is also a corp, of eight Flag Girls who will be carrying the colors of our conference.

The camp was held at various times throughout the days. It consisted of entrance drills, full band rehearsals and sectionals with different instruments.

The camp was finished off with a picnic at Depot Beach. Support your band with DHS Band decals.

Hospital Staffers Deserve Voice on Board of Directors

We believe the time has come for a member of the Charlevoix Area Hospital staff to have a seat -- and a vote -- on the hospital's board of directors.

Members of the hospital staff turned out in force last week for the hospital's annual meeting at the city hall.

In fact, staff members made nominations for two vacancies on the board of directors, both of them husbands of hospital employes. One of them was elected.

Questioned later, one of the more vocal members of the staff who made one of the nominations and seconded the other said she hoped that if her candidates were elected they would remember some of the things their wives told them about hospital operations when it came time to make decisions as board members.

Which is all well and good. But why should members of the hospital staff have to win a voice on the board via the back door, so to speak?

At present, by-laws prevent hospital staffers from serving on the board, although the medical staff does have a voting representative.

In theory, the hospital administrator is supposed to be the employes' voice on the board, but even he does not have a vote.

It only seems good sense to us to have at least one member of the staff on the board as a representative all hospital employes. Such a representative would be better qualified than anyone we can think of to express the feelings of hospital employes and to help establish hospital policy.

One of the problems with our increasingly complex social, business and industrial institutions is the gulf that develops inevitably between labor and management. As our institutions grow, those reponsible for making management decisions are deprived of regular and meaningful contact with the very people those decisions affect most intimately.

We sensed the development of such a breach at the last hospital meeting.

And we are hopeful that there is still time to bridge the gap.

The husbands of the two hospital employes nominated by the staff are both highly qualified to serve.

But wouldn't it be better to have the staff represented in person, rather than through the sometimes garbled channels of matrimonial communication?

We think so.

Nixon Impoundment Undermines System of Checks and Balances

We wish Michigan Attorney General Frank J. Kelly well in his efforts to seek an immediate end to the impoundment of federal water pollution control funds by President Nixon.

Kelly reported last week that he has intervened in a case pending before the United States Court of Appeals for the Eighth Circuit in St. Louis, Mo.

The lawsuit originally was started by the state of Minnesota against the federal Environmental Protection Agency. U.S. District Judge Miles Lord ruled that the agency must rescind a $5 billion reduction in water pollution control funds but the decision has been appealed.

Congress allocated $11 billion for the construction of waste water treatment facilities in an effort to curb water pollution. However President Nixon vetoed the measure. Congress then voted to override the veto and the President came back with an order impounding almost half of the voted funds.

In announcing his intervention, Kelly said the issue involves the "most basic part of our constitutional system of government---the system of Checks and balances."

"Congress has the final say over what becomes law in our land, and a veto---not impoundment---is the only way a President can oppose an appropriation measure," Kelly said.

"In fact, the Constitution is meaningless if the President can refuse to carry out provisions of laws he does not agree with," the attorney general said.

He pointed out that the issue is crucial to Michigan which needs approximately $1.8 billion in the 1970's to build water treatment facilities.

Under the federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments, Congress mandated $980 million for Michigan for 1973-'74. However because of the presidential impoundment, the state only stands to receive $481 million.

"If this cutback stands, it will mean a possible five to ten year delay in water treatment construction programs in Michigan," Kelly said.

Kelly expressed concern over another ramification of the President's impoundment effort.

"We have seen in this country a rapidly growing erosion of respect for law and for the rights of others," he said. "It seems to me that when those in high places say, in so many words, 'if the President doesn't like an act of Congress, he doesn't have to follow it,' this decline in respect for the law escalates. If, after all, the President can ignore the laws he doesn't agree with, why can't everyone else?"

Band Hailed For Great Performance

Friday night's performance during the half time at the football game was overwhelming. The presentation was equal to and better than half-times at big colleges.

The spirit and enthusiasm of the band members and the great sound that came forth was so tremendous that it caught up the audience completely. The standing ovation at the end of the band's performance was one of the nicest things I have seen in Charlevoix.

Red Rayder Marching band keep up that great performance and spirit. It goes over great in Charlevoix.

Q. Is state park attendance up or down this year?

A. Easing of fears about gasoline shortages and of trouble makers appears to be having a good effect on attendance at Michigan state parks these days.

Early in the year, state park officials reported attendance at state parks, especially in campgrounds, was off rather substantially. The drop was attributed largely to a fear of a gasoline shortage.

In addition, many families which had been using camping areas in state parks had shied away from their favorite vacation spots because of reports of rowdyism and drinking in several parks, notably Silver Lake and South Higgins Lake.

O.J. Scherschligt, head of the Department of Natural Resources Parks Division, reported that state park attendance was down about 6.7 percent through mid-July but that camping permits were down only about 1 percent.

However, Scherschligt reported that in recent weeks park attendance had showed signs of picking up. He said he felt that many families had decided that there was no actual serious gasoline shortage and were taking to the highways more than earlier in the year.

In addition, the Parks Division had clamped down on drinking and rowdyism in several parks and noted that many problems had been eliminated by the get-tough attitude.

Q. How do upper Peninsula schools compare with other school districts?

A. You will have to pardon some Upper Peninsula school administrators if you find them "busting their buttons" these days. It is all because of a recently-released Carnegie report that discloses the Upper Peninsula is the top region in the 49 continental United States for "Unusually effective schools."

The report discloses that schools north of the Straits consistently score higher that the national average on reading and mathematics than any other region in the continental United States.

In fact, in a recent experiment involving two Upper Peninsula and three Lower Peninsula schools, the two Upper Peninsula school districts - Menominee and Sault Ste. Marie - outstripped the three lower Michigan schools - Detroit, Inkster and Ingham County - in a special readings and math program for poor learners.

Why are the results in Upper Peninsula schools so superior when measured against national scores? No one really known for sure. But the Carnegie report noted the rural nature of their setting which "may be contributing to unusual education effectiveness."

There also may be a real differences in the ability or interest of rural schools to improve their achievement scores.

But the Carnegie report also notes that the top U.P. schools are much below the state average in numbers of minority students and in the socio-economic status of families.

The Flea Market

By BOB CLOCK

Rummage sales have been described as the process whereby the accumulated clutter from attics and basements around town is redistributed to other attics and basements around town.

I suppose the same could be said for Charlevoix's semi-annual Flea Markets, the most recent of which was held Saturday.

Although some enterprising merchants of new and unusual materials set up shop in East Park for the day, most of the exhibitors are genuine Flea Marketeers, hawking cast-off objects for which they have no further use.

Ice picks, ice tongs, coffee mills, hatchets, butter crocks, bottle cappers, oil lamps and lanterns, laundry boilers, wash-boards, commodes — you name it. All were on display and for sale Saturday.

Many of the exhibits were displays of genuine early Americana which could have been transplanted in total to Greenfield Village for permanent display. It was surprising how many items changed hands in the course of the day, as one customer after another developed a hankering for some household appliance or tool that they remembered grandma or grandpa using 50 years ago.

I was particularly taken by an old school desk that had been sanded and refinished until the top shown like new. It was the kind of desk I had right through grade school, with an ink well in the upper right hand corner. This particular desk wasn't of much use because the fold-up seat was affixed to the front of the desk and would have required another such unit before you could begin to assemble your own classroom.

I looked around in vain for one of those old brass ink cans with a long, thin spout that was used to fill school ink wells when I was a boy, but there wasn't one in sight. Surely there must be thousands of such ink dispensers in existence somewhere in the archives of our older school buildings.

Unlike most of the Flea Market visitors, I never enter the park with the idea of buying anything. The Clock household, as it is, is pretty much a collection of antiques that are in everyday use, and no one is particularly anxious to add to the collection.

Highlight of my visit to the market was an encounter with Ralph Hamilton, sparkplus behind the Charlevoix Historical Society and a man with a lively interest in early American collectibles.

Hamilton passed along a rummage sale-Flea Market story which carries a moral of sorts but I'm not sure what it is.

Seems Hamilton attended a rummage sale several years ago and picked up an antique chair. He lugged it home with every intention of refinishing it and giving it a place of honor in the Hamilton household.

But it takes more than good intentions to refinish furniture. The antique chair soon found its way into the Hamilton attic to collect dust and cobwebs.

Several years later, Hamilton attended a similar sale and lo and behold! There was a chair identical to the one he had stashed away in the attic.

Now a matched pair of antique chairs certainly is better than one antique chair, so Hamilton snapped it up for $3 and hurried home with is prize.

His first stop was the attic to resurrect his original purchase. You can imagine his dismay at finding it gone.

It wasn't until he reported the burglary to Mrs. Hamilton that he discovered she had generously donated the first chair to the rummage sale.

Hamilton emerged from that little escapade $3 poorer, but awfully wiser.

To Whom It May Concern...

By Doris Huckle

Not long ago East Jordan residents read a news report stating that Mayor Harry Watson had asked Council members to "Be thinking how we should spend this Federal Revenue sharing money."

The Mayor was referring to funds totaling $58,739.00.

Consequent buzzing in the community was a sound familiar as the whirr of His Honor's experimental airplanes; people resembled a seige of locusts anxious to get their nibbles in for favorite projects; wide-mouthed they were at the thought the city couldn't figure out how to spend the funds.

A little checking revealed emphatically that mayor, council and city employees were not at all unknowledgable about community needs. The whole point of the mayor's request for cogitation involved prioities on a long, long, long list.

The whole city bunch must feel a little like the big winners in Michigan's lotteries: it sure is great, yet not enough to cure, or curb, all needs and desires.

It's downright disheartening to always see Council struggling to "make-do" on an always too small budget. They deserve an annual respite from the strenuous budget stretching exercises and the federal monies are providing a little of that.

Could be the federal program can be the very means of even deeper community therapy however, encouraging more unknowledgeable citizens to take an interest in learning how to be Council members. Once accomplished (and regular attendance at meetings is suggested), then they too can aspire to sit in on the more exciting money spreading spending sessions.

P. S. The city shared monies with the citizenry by: reaching youth and parent coaches with new fences and bleachers for softball; a new machine for the tax assessors office so her billings can be speeded; new wiring, roofing, firemen coats, antenna and generator for the fire department; radar and new car for the Police Department and a small appropriation for a police-public school project; materials and storage for the ambulance chief's office; funds for a winter skating rink; monies to enlarge the city's landfill; and purchases for city use: a microfilm machine, dozer trailer, base and four radio units, trash pump, A-frame, transmission jack, sickle bar, sander, 14-hp tractor, air chisel, vehicle replacement when necessary and carpet and drapes for city hall.

They decided against reducing the city millage by two mills for that would lower future revenue sharing funds.

A Target for Anger

By JIM FITZGERALD

Let's see. I think Le Thai Khuong has got to be it for today. He sounds like the kind of a jerk who would sell tickets to a massacre.

Some days it's not easy being an angry young man. For one thing, there's my age. For another thing, there's the matter of priorities. What should I be angry about today? How angry?

I want my wrath to be worthy of its target, but I must beware of over-mad. I don't want to waste any giant snarls and sarcasms on tiny villains, and then come up empty, practically sweet, when suddenly faced with a reborn Adolph Hitler.

There is a limit to how much anger one man can spew in one day. And, once his mad is gone, he is liable to start smiling and smelling the flowers again.

Fortunately, I was not grinning into a petunia when I read about Le Thai Khuong. Up until then, it had been a mild sort of a day and my anger had been used sparingly on such semi-disastrous things as the stupidity of the British people for providing free feed for the Princess Anne and her horses. There was plenty of really nasty mad left for Khuong.

Le Thai Khuong is chief of tourism for South Vietnam. He is promoting his nation as a resort area and envisions the day when tourists will bring in an annual income of $100 million. He is advertising his country with posters featuring a sexy Vietnamese girl under the slogan:

VIETNAM -- YOU'VE HEARD ABOUT IT: NOW SEE IT.

How about that? C'mon over and see where all your bombs dropped. See the rubble and shell holes where the peasants died. Watch the orphans scrounge in the garbage cans. Stand on the spot where the boy next door was killed.

But he's already been to Vietnam anyway. That's how he got that way.

Ah, yes. We've all heard about Vietnam. It received free advertising on all the front pages -- and obituary pages. Now some huckster named Khuong wants to make a buck out of that bloody notoriety. So I say I am angry with him.

But the tourists throng to Pearl Harbor and other Pacific bloodmarks. They have picnics on Civil War battlefields, in the shade of the monuments, and they stroll along the shores of Normandy, eagerly eyeing the debris of D-Day.

If some guy were selling tickets to a massacre, he'd probably fill every seat and jam the aisles. It is a sick world wherein there is glory in people killing each other proving who is king of the mountain.

My most terrible anger should be aimed at you and me.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

Old people know history. They lived it. A citizen of 80 seasons relives her past daily as she rations the last can of soup at the end of the month. She devotes her endless idleness watching the progress of the high rise garden apartments under construction in view of the solitary window of her hotel room for which she pays $85.00 per month.

She reads in her handed down newspaper that construction workers are demanding $10 an hour and a $650.00 pension after 30 years. In one overtime day he earns $124, the exact amount of her monthly Social Security.

Consider her, or a man, as a representative parent of a child born in 1933 now earning $12,000 a year plus fringe benefits. In that day the prevailing wage was 19 cents an hour and the labor pool was a vast ocean of humanity. There was no bargaining among the hundreds of men at every worksite-hoping, not picketing. One trotted, now walked, with a wheelbarrow of concrete. The mason wielded float and trowel for 30 cents an hour.

There was no unemployment insurance. Thirteen year old youngsters pitched green clovers to help pay the grocery tab at the neighborhood market. Many chose the cowards way -- suicide. No stray cats or dogs prowled the streets.

The land for this garden apartment was once a garden which fed and educated some of the condominium dwellers who may never sense the need of housing for the elderly. Even if their present tragic circumstances were of their own doing a certain amount of compassion would be in order; but, since many were taxed out of their homes to support various government charities they should rate more then benign neglect as a reward.

Poverty and privation are no strangers to these people who carried potato peelings and a crust of bread in their lunch buckets to leave meat on the table for the children. They did this with a dignity and pride which they cannot muster today as they stake out claims on the more nutritious garbage routes or when they resort to theft when pangs of hunger distort reasoning. The one who always had cookies and milk waiting for us after school is now dying of malnutrition!

They gave us potatoes when they were a luxury and deserve more than the peelings as a return on their investment.

Unfortunately, the instant boxed potatoes in vogue today contain no peelings to serve as a reminder of what we are doing to the aging patriarchs and matriarchs of our race.

Perhaps the potato processors could be talked into including a small towel with each box of flakes or granules. It would blot up the tears of a society which has lost its sense of values and priorities.

sunlight. Repeated freezing and thawing results in checking, which permits moisture to enter. Sunlight also breaks down the finish.

Meintz said that the flashing around the arches was improperly installed, allowing rain water to enter the wood.

The base of most of the arches where they join the concrete and steel shoes appears to be fairly sound, although the wood has a 30 percent moisture content which is very high.

Equalization

2.00 it would bring it up to the required level of $10,000 (S.E.V.)

The County Equalization Committee of the Board of Commissioners is required to submit their Equalization Report to the State Tax Commission each year for approval. The County Equalization Department surveys assessments with spot checks to determine what percentage of true cash value the assessor in each unit of government (all the townships and cities) is using. The Equalization Report is a recap from the Equalization studies done in the county each year.

Mrs. Blanchard gave an illustration to show how the equalizing factor is applied in order to equalize the tax paid on a like parcel of property in three different taxing units, with each assessing officer using a different percentage of true cash value in arriving at assessed valuations.

At the conclusion of the program, Mrs. Blanchard explained the reason the county had selected Manatron, Inc. for the new property assessment and tax system the county is changing over to, and the advantages this type of system would give the local units as well as the county.

Thomas Carey Elected To Area Hospital Board

Thomas Carey of Charlevoix was elected to a three-year term on the Charlevoix Area Hospital Board last Tuesday at the annual Hospital Association meeting held in the City Hall.

Carey will succeed Rollie Dudek, former hospital administrator and board member who is leaving the area.

Re-elected at the same time were Max Novak of Charlevoix and Tom Smith of Boyne City.

A board nominating committee had suggested the election of Tom Duke to fill Dudek's seat on the board. Carey was nominated from the floor and a vote was taken. Carey won 48 to 19.

Novak's seat also was contested when William Wilson was nominated from the floor. Novak won by a vote of 45 to 32.

There was no contest for the seat held by Tom Smith.

Voting at the meeting was open to everyone who attended, as has been the practice in the past.

However under new bylaws, voting will be contingent upon membership in the hospital:

"All persons who have attained the age of 18 years, and who have demonstrated their interest in the programs and activities of the Charlevoix Area Hospital by payment of membership dues of $3 annually or $15 for life membership shall be members of the Charlevoix Area Hospital Association. Dues will become payable on January of each year. Those persons having paid their dues prior to July 1 of each year will be eligible to vote at the association's annual meeting."

The audience heard reports by Board President Gerald Staublin, Hospital Administrator Richard Krueger and Treasurer William Peck.

The financial report showed a loss from operations of $8,534 during the fiscal year ended June 30. However general contributions and other revenues gave the hospital a net income of $21,027 for the year.

In-patient days of care showed a seven percent drop for the year, 48 fewer inpatients were admitted, percent of occupancy dropped from 54 percent of 52 percent and the number of babies born showed a 15 percent decrease.

However there was a 40 percent increase in the number of out-patients for emergency treatment, a 16 percent increase in out-patient emergency care and tests, and 11 percent increase in X-ray procedures, a 19 percent increase in lab tests and a 38 percent increase in the number of EKG's administered.

Some 66 patients were admitted to the coronary and intensive care units since they opened in February.

Obituary

Moerland

Funeral for Mrs. Norma E. Moerland, 84, was held at the Winchester Funeral Home Sept. 15, the Rev. Elmer Faust officiating. Services also were held Sept. 17 at the Creston Funeral Home in Grand Rapids, with burial in Fairplain Cemetery.

Mrs. Moerland died Sept. 13 at Grandvue Medical Care Facility where she had been a patient for 14 months.

The former Norma Yant was born at Larville, Ind., March 16, 1889, and was married to Issac Moerland Aug. 30, 1911. He died in 1947.

Mrs. Moerland made her home in Grand Rapids before moving to Charlevoix in 1963. She was a member of the First Methodist Church, the United Methodist Women, Charlevoix Senior Citizens and the Charlevoix Garden Club.

She is survived by one son, Lee, of Charlevoix; two grandchildren; and two sisters, Mrs. Lois Loomis of Whittier, Calif., and Mrs. Mary Dean of Charlevoix.

2 TD's Cinch Opener Against Grayling Vikings

Charlevoix JV's won their home opener against the Grayling Vikings Thursday, 12 to 8, on TD's by Mike Skippergosh and Randy Williams. Charlevoix has 22 sophomores and 22 freshmen on the team this year, according to Coach Norm Probert.

The Grayling team was made up entirely of sophomores.

The JV's did all of their scoring in the second period and then put up a stubborn defense, with Randy Williams, Doug Smith, Terry Drew and Mike Left leading the defensive unit in double figures on tackles.

A key interception by Mike Skippergosh helped the Rayders hold Grayling scoreless for three periods.

The CHS offensive line led by Terry Wheeler, Jay Potter and John Greene continued to open holes for an 80-yard rushing attack.

Gary Probert completed eight out of 10 passes for 79 yards to ends Casey Culbertson and Mike Skippergosh.

Randy Williams rushed for 50 yards in 12 carries for a 4.1 average. Tim Coen chalked up 10 yards in seven carries for an average of 1.3 yards.

Mike left muscled in eight yards in four carries for a two yard average and guard Tri-Capt. Terry Drew averaged 12 yards per carry on two attempts.

Skippergosh scored on a 27-yard pass play from Gary Probert. Tim Coen failed to make the extra point.

Later in the second period, Mike Left handed off to Randy Williams for seven yards, but Coen again missed the point.

Scoring for Grayling was Tom Haskel who made a one-foot plunge in the final stanza. Then John Scheer passed to Craig Hinkle for the two-point conversion.

The JV's travel to Rogers City this Thursday and will entertain St. Ignace in Charlevoix Oct. 4. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

the lowest of two received, was accepted. It was explained that all elements of 'No Fault' insurance are covered in the policy. The second bid by the Charlevoix Agency was for $3,186.36.

Low bids on equipment for the Middle School including 15" and 17½" stacking chairs, four drawer letter files with and without locks and in two sizes and classroom tables were also accepted. Five bids were received for the equipment.

The board gave its approval to requests by three parents that their daughters be allowed to graduate in June 1974 after having made plans to obtain the required number of credits by attending night school and / or summer school at North Central Michigan College. Supt. James A. McKimmy said that all three cases were considered on their own merits, that the trio had met the requirements and would be continuing their education at a college of their choice and thus were being granted permission for an early graduation. He added that this was not a policy peculiar to Charlevoix but was being requested across the state. A student must have 19 credits to graduate at this time and the three will have completed the requirements before receiving their diplomas. The three are Heidi Dove, daughter of Mrs. Donna Dove; Pamela Fochtman, daughter of the William Fochtmans; and Cindy Fassett, daughter of the Dale Fassetts.

Don Brown was named first delegate, Max Novak, second delegate, and Charles Elzinga, alternate to the MASB convention in Detroit.

Max Novak reported on the recent MASB meeting at Marquette. Charlevoix will host an in-service work session for area boards here Oct. 10 to relay to them the information shown at the Marquette meeting.

Robert Bogart, business manager, reported that the heating plant at Southgate was ready to be placed in operation and that final work was being done on the boilers at the schools.

Ray Fortin, assistant principal, said that 67 adults were involved in the Adult Education program, 40 in the enrichment program and 27 in the high school completion program.

Supt. McKimmy reported that more than 1400 people attended the Jehovah Witnesses' regional meeting held at the high school over the weekend. He commended those in charge for the organized manner in which they cared for the facilities and the way they left them following the two-day event.

Miss Stanko, Middle School principal, spoke briefly on the Middle School concept stating that there is an absence of the so-called 'star system' where a few students dominate all activities. Instead, this is being replaced in favor of success experiences for a greater number of students; that increased flexibility in scheduling and students grouping is being developed; that a wide range of exploratory opportunities, academic and otherwise, are being offered; they are receiving an earlier introduction to the areas of organized academic knowledge; attention is being given to the skills of continued learning and that more flexible physical plant facilities are being experienced.

She then outlined a number of areas where some progress is being made in bringing the Middle School concept into focus.

The next regular meeting of the board is Oct. 8.

Chest Board Sets Goal at $20,000

Letters are in the mail this week to all Charlevoix area residents asking their financial support of the 1973 Community Chest Drive, which is now under way. Goal in the drive is $20,000.

The letters have been sent as an alternative method of door-to-door solicitation which has been the practice in the past.

Businesses and industries will still be contacted personally by Community Chest workers.

Residents are asked to respond to the mail appeal with a generous donation to the chest which supports 12 local health, welfare and recreation agencies in addition to dozens of state and national agencies.

Of the $20,000, some $16,700 has been earmarked for city and county agencies, according to the Board of Directors.

State agencies will receive $2,455 and national agencies $293.

Once again, the board hopes to hold campaign expenses down to a minimal $300.

Following is a list of city and county agencies, and the amounts they will receive if the Chest goal is met:

Scenic Trails Council-Boy Scouts, $2,800; Charlevoix Area Hospital, $2,400; Charlevoix City Recreation Program, $2,400; Crooked Tree Council-Girl Scouts, $2,300; Charlevoix-Emmet Association for Retarded Children, $1,500; Salvation Army-Western Michigan Division, $1,200; Charlevoix County Big Brothers Association, $1,200; Mt. McSauba Recreation Program, $1,000; American Red Cross-Charlevoix County Chapter, $800; Camp Daggett, $500; Northern Michigan Planned Parenthood Association, $400; and the Charlevoix Community Nurse-Emergency Fund, $200.

Largest allocation on the state level will be the Michigan Heart Association, which is in line for $650 and the Michigan Chapter of the Arthritis Foundation which will receive $206.

Ad, Sales Clinic Slated Oct. 25 at First State

The Chamber of Commerce has application blanks on hand for a half-day clinic on "Retail Advertising and Merchandising" to be held Thursday, Oct. 25, from 1:30 until 5 p.m. in the First State Bank Community Room.

The clinic is being sponsored jointly by North Central Michigan College and Ferris State College, in cooperation with the chamber.

C of C Executive Director Thomas E. Merta says the clinic will be limited to 50 people. It is designed expressly for the owners, managers and employes of retail businesses.

The speakers will include Dr. Roland Hicks, a professor of advertising and marketing at Ferris State College; John Montgomery, an assistant professor of advertising at Ferris State College; and Robert Rock, an associate professor of retailing at Ferris.

Dr. Hicks has had long experience in the newspaper

Young Wins Again in Grid Contest

Eight-year-old Steve Young of 205 E. Upright-st. is making a good thing of the Courier's Football Contest.

Last week Young won $5 in a three-way tie with Bruce Avery and Maurice Cudd. (See picture on page 3.)

This week Young has the $10 prize all to himself, having picked all of the winning teams: Gaylord over Boyne City, Petoskey over Cheboygan, Michigan over Navy, UCLA over Michigan State, Notre Dame over Purdue, Ohio State over Texas Christian, the Browns over the Giants and Charlevoix over Rogers City.

Ten entrants missed only one selection each. Seven of them were tripped up by the Browns win over the Giants.

For this week's edition of the Courier Football Contest, please turn to Page 6.

Short Course In Football For Wives

"If you can't fight 'em,", join 'em,", recommends Recreation Director Curt Kipke in announcing a one-night "Football Widows Class" Thursday, Oct. 11, from 7:30 until 9:30 p.m. at Charlevoix High School.

The class, which will be taught by Dick Oestrike, assisted by Bruce Meggison and Kipke, is designed to familiarize the little lady with some of the terminology of game so she'll have a nodding acquaintance with a subject that occupies so much of her husband's spare time.

There will be no charge for the class.

Truck Found

The Charlevoix Garbage Service truck reported stolen Monday from Charlevoix Oil Co. was recovered later in the day parked on Alice-st., according to Charlevoix Police. The truck had been left at the oil company for repairs.

Train Rams Car, Boyne Man Killed

"We could see the whole thing happening, but there was no way to avoid it," C&O trainman Lee Snyder reported last Wednesday in describing the car-train accident at the C&O Boyne City-rd. crossing in which Donald James Murphy, 54, of Boyne City was killed instantly.

"We were on the downhill grade coming into Charlevoix, already slowing up to cross the bridge," said Snyder. "We could see his (Murphy's) car coming north on U.S. 31 with the police car behind it. He made the turn onto the Boyne City-rd. and I guess he didn't see us because he kept right on coming."

The crossing is located about 200 feet east of the junction of U.S. 31 and Boyne City-rd. The train was southbound.

Murphy, co-owner of Cass and Don's bar in Boyne City with Casimir Toton, was pronounced dead at the scene by Charlevoix County Medical Examiner Dr. Robert G. Martin.

The 15-car train, carrying several hoppers of cement south from the Penn-Dixie Plant in Resort Township, slammed into Murphy's car broadside, with the cowcatcher hitting dead center of the driver's door.

The train pushed the car sideways 855 feet to the south where both finally came to a stop, still touching.

The wheels of the car dug neat furrows in the gravel on each side of the track, although hubcaps and other parts were strewn along the right-of-way. The car, a late model Cadillac was totaled.

Snyder said all braking devices on the train were deployed in the emergency stop, including the automatic sanding of the track.

The police car following Murphy north on U.S. 31 was driven by Charlevoix Police Chief Jack Mol.

Mol said he spotted Murphy driving in an erratic manner near the Municipal Golf Course and tried to signal him to stop without success.

"He wasn't speeding -- couldn't have been going more than 25 miles per hour – but he was covering the whole highway," Mol said.

He said that he thought perhaps the driver were sick.

Mol was unnerved by the accident.

"I've never had anything like this happen to me before," he said.

The body was removed by city ambulance to Little Traverse Hospital where an autopsy was to be performed and blood samples analyzed.

A wrecker pulled the car from the tracks and the train continued south, virtually undamaged.

Only two trains cross the Boyne City-rd. a day, one northbound in the morning and one southbound in the afternoon.

The accident occurred on the southbound run, at 4:40

THE BODY OF Donald J. Murphy, 54, of Boyne City, is removed from his car after it was struck by a C&O train at the Boyne City-rd. crossing last Wednesday. Dr. Robert G. Martin, medical examiner (in white jacket) pronounced him dead at the scene.

Price of Milk to Jump Again in Mid-October

Charlevoixans are going to have to start budgeting more of their ever-shrinking food dollar for milk starting Oct. 15.

The Michigan Milk Producers Association announced last week that dairies in the Lower Peninsula will begin paying 65 cents more per hundred pounds for milk used for bottling purposes in mid-October.

Dale Boss, owner of Maxbauer's dairy said he hasn't computed the cost to the consumer as yet, but it could amount to as much as two cents a quart.

October is the third successive month that the price of milk has jumped.

The cost to dairies rose 45 percent hundredweight in August and 65 cents per hundredweight in September. Those two increases boosted the cost of milk two and one-third cents a quart.

The October increase will amount to seven percent over the current basic $8.55 per hundredweight and will permit dairy farmers to overcome increasing costs which have been substantial in recent months, according to Glenn Lake, president of the MMPA.

Lake said the price increase is "a step in a major effort to secure an adequate supply of fluid milk for the state."

"Price assurance is an absolute must if we are to avoid serious milk shortages," Lake said.

New price hike represents about a 25 percent increase over the wholesale milk price of last October. During the same one-year period, prices farmers paid for feed and other farm necessities jumped 20 percent, Lake said.

"More and more dairy farmers are making the decision to leave the dairy business," Lake said "And the high capital, long-term nature of the business is such that when they leave it, few return.

Lake said that at no other time in recent history has the dairy farmer had so little incentive to continue dairying. Seldom has he had as great incentive to sell all or part of his herd and turn to alternative opportunities which are less demanding in time and investment.

"Some 500 Michigan dairy farmers have quit the business in the past year," Lake said. "And as the number of dairymen decreases, the possibility of a shortage of fluid milk at the supermarket comes nearer to being a reality."

Autumn Ball Set Oct. 20

The Chamber of Commerce is making plans for its annual "Autumn Ball," scheduled Saturday, Oct. 20, at the Belvedere Casino.

Tickets cost $10 per person and are going on sale this week.

The evening will include a catered dinner and dancing until the wee hours.

Names of the caterer, the entree and the band will be announced next week.

HAND WEAVER Robert D. Sailors will be on hand Monday, Oct. 8, at Boyne Mountain's Deer Lake pavilion to discuss his craft with members of the Crooked Tree Arts Council. The second annual meeting starts at 9:30 a.m.

Hand Weaver, Artist Slated by Arts Council

Area residents interested in the arts are welcome to join members of the Top O' Mitt artists and craftsmen when they convene Oct. 8 from 9:30 a.m. until 3:30 p.m. for their semi-annual meeting.

The convenrion will be held at Boyne Mountain's facility on Deer Lake-rd. and will be hosted by members of the Crooked Tree Arts Council of Charlevoix-Emmet Counties, according to Mrs. Bret Riley, East Jordan, council president.

Following registration and coffee, the group will visit with Robert D. Sailors of Belmont, Mich. a former teacher of weaving at Cranbook Art Academy, Bloomfield Hills, who now operated his own studio of custom hand weaving.

Sailors will discuss earning a living by producing crafts, based on his experiences. He has won a number of firsts in international weaving exhibition competition.

The afternoon session will feature internationally famous Detroit artist Richard Kozlow, much sought after as a special lecturer and classroom teacher, when his schedule and energeries permit such visits, at such schools as Detroit's Society of Arts and Crafts.

Kozlow's works are in numerous museums and major public collections such as the Detroit Institute of Arts as well as many noted private collections like those of Mr. and Mrs. Benson Ford.

Kozlow's reputation is still growing as well as his genius as a largely self-taught artist who, through what he terms his obnoxiousness, was asked to leave well known art schools he briefly attended.

Reservations are necessary for the meeting and should be made by Oct. 3 with Mrs. W. W. Rogers, East Jordan, registration hostess.

Russian Immigrant To Address Women

The Womens Fellowship of the First Congregational Church will meet Wednesday, Oct. 3, for a potluck luncheon at noon.

This is an open meeting and guests are welcome.

Featured speaker will be Mrs. Tonia Kauppila, who will discuss her ten year immigration to the United States and the many troubled times she encountered from her childhood in Russia to citizenship in the "free" United States.

Ladies attending the luncheon are invited to bring a dish to pass and their own table service.

General chairman for the event is Mrs. Robert Riggle. Further information can be obtained by calling her at 547-9515.

Bill Kooyer and son Kirk of Grand Rapids spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. John Kooyer.

The old timers predicted a session of warm weather after a thunderstorm in the fall. So we are expecting. In the village we have some gorgeous colored leaves and sad to say, many have already blown off.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Essenberg and their uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. A.M. Klooster called on their mother and sister, Mrs. Jennie Essenberg in Elk Rapids, Sunday afternoon.

The Bible course that heals.

The Bible is filled with accounts of spiritual healing. Health restored, lives regenerated, needs supplied. That spiritual power is still active today.

The Bible Lessons in the Christian Science Quarterly, which include citations from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, can help you find this healing truth.

You can buy your own copy of the Quarterly, or study the Bible Lesson in our free public Reading Room.

LINDA MAURER WED

European Honeymoon In Store for Kleimans

Linda Diann Maurer of East Jordan became the bride of Brent Michael Kleiman in services Sept. 21 at St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church in Petoskey.

The bride is the daughter of William Maurer of East Jordan, and the late Kay Maurer. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Kleiman.

Approximately 150 guests witnessed the double-ring ceremony which was performed by Fr. Remy of St. Francis and Rev. Chandler Benton of the First Presbyterian Church in East Jordan.

Selections of classical music were played by organist August Huybrechts of Petoskey.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown designed by Oscar de la Renta which she fashioned herself. The flowing white Banlon jersey costume featured a V-neck, Empire waist and full-length train. Her veil was secured by a crown of baby's breath and she carried a bouquet of mixed fresh and dried flowers, including tiny white rose buds, daisies and baby's breath.

Mrs. Louise Mattson-Heron was maid of honor in a Banlon jersey of burnt orange.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Kenneth Kleiman, a sister-in-law of the bridegroom; Cynthia Kleiman, the bridegroom's sister; Andrea Maurer, a sister of the bride; and Debrah Nyland. They were gowns of burnt orange jersey and carried fireside baskets of dried fall flowers.

Monique Maurer was flower girl and William Maurer jr. was ring-bearer. Kenneth Kleiman was best man and John Kleiman, Randall Kleiman, Alan McLeod and Thomas Koernke were groomsmen.

A reception at Petoskey's Holiday Inn was hosted by the bride's father and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Maurer. Guests danced to the music of the Murray Jackman Trio.

The Kleimans, who are making their home at 223 Parkwood-dr., Lansing, plan a delayed honeymoon trip to Europe in December.

Both the bride and bridegroom will graduate from Michigan State University this spring and will continue their studies in the area of foreign relations. The bridegroom is a member of Tau Delta Phi fraternity.

Out-of-town guests attended the wedding from Connecticut, New York, Illinois, California, Ohio, Indiana, Missouri and various towns in Michigan. Congratulatory messages were received from all over the world, including Brazil, Argentina and Japan.

The candlelight rehearsal dinner before the wedding was held at Duffy's Country Inn, hosted by the bride and parents of the bridegroom.

Mr. and Mrs. Charley Cooper and Mr. and Mrs. George Alderton were guests Wednesday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Kemp.

Virginia Saunders was home this weekend from Central Michigan University in Mount Pleasant.

Mr. Brownie Podskalny has opened his new business, formerly the Jiffy Market, which he recently purchased from Louis Edwards. He plans on a year around business with a full stock of groceries and home products. We welcome Mr. and Mrs. Podskalny and two children, Nancy and Darrin to our community. Mrs. Marion Podskalny and children will come from their home in Plymouth, Mich. where the children are attending school, to be with him in their new mobile home at the rear of the store. The family has been spending summers with Mrs. Podskalny's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Fisher at their cottage on the east side of the lake on Ferry-rd., where they have been residents for 40 years.

Homecoming Fever Grips Ellsworth Student Body

By Anne Osterbaan

Ellsworth's homecoming football game will be played with Leelanau, Friday, Oct. 5.

Students began building floats this week.

The parade of floats will again be shown Friday, Oct. 5, at 2 p.m. on Main and Park-sts.

King and queen court representatives are for the 8th grade Marla Veldkamp and Larry Taylor, 9th grade, Cindy Baker and James Danbert, 10th grade Pam Holecheck and Jerry Klooster. King representatives for 12th grade are Hank Kulhawick, Allen Potter, and Robert Grose. Queen representatives are Cindy Boss, Joan Peterson and Nancy Wynsma.

Max Ellison, Michigan's poet laureate, started his annual lecture tour by visiting the high school last week. The lecture was the first of dozens Ellison will deliver across the country this year.

The musical organization, "The Friends" will appear at the Campus Life Assembly at the "Gym" Friday at 10:30 a.m. Campus Life Youth for Christ organization, is sponsored by the P.T.A.

Robert Gaunt, Bob Smalley, Jean Muha, Martha Drenth, Rick Shooks and Art Ruis, members of the school board attended a meeting Monday night with the Intermediate board of education, for the purpose of discussing the possible transfer of a piece of property to the Charlevoix school district. The matter was resolved by the Intermediate board when the issue of transfer was voted down 7-0.

Two more children enrolled last week. Mr. and Mrs. OBrien of Lake Fenton have moved to Atwood. Children are Sabrina, 5th grade and Elena, kindergarten.

Ellsworth's Volleyball Teams Off and Running

By Anne Osterbaan

Twenty-two members of the Ellsworth Girls' Volleyball Team have been working out two hours a day after school.

The team is coached by Dwight Boss, assisted by Sheila Farrell and Nan VanderArk.

Their new uniforms are black trimmed with red and white, with white jerseys for home and black jerseys for away games.

The JV team has black shorts and white jerseys.

Members of the varsity squad are Nadine Chellis, Janice Breckelsbauer, Mary Charbonneau, Paula Penfold, Janet Potter, Janelle Smalley, Brenda Strange, Eileen Vandenberg, Patty Wallick, Dee Ann Wynsma, Kathy Best and Susan Elzinga.

Members of the JV team are Coleen Elzinga, Dawn Lemond, Kathy Rozema, Janna Rubingh, Irene Postmus, Cheryl Belten, Joan Boss, Joan Fuller, Cindy Groesser and Julie Way.

The girls were scheduled to play Boyne Falls Sept. 18 and Wolverine Sept. 20.

Superintendent Robert Gaunt has been elected president of the Northern Lakes Athletics Conference. The election was held Sept. 17 at Gaylord. Dwight Boss, Tim Elenbaas and Hugh Campbell also attended.

J. August Franezek of Gaylord, attached to the Northern Regional Alcoholism program, was speaker recently at two assemblies for middle grade and high school students. Pupils from the Ebenezer Christian School also attended.

With three new students from Detroit in attendance, enrollment now stands at 332. The official count will be taken Sept. 28.

Volleyball Sign-up Meet Slated Oct. 8

– The Charlevoix Recreation Department will hold a organizational meeting Oct. 8, 1973 at 7 p.m. for anyone interested in playing Volleyball at the elementary school gym.

If you are a player, coach, or just interested, on a team or not, you should attend this meeting. Players who are not on a team will be organized or assigned a team at this meeting.

There will be a $1 player fee to participate in the program with the first game scheduled Oct. 29. The last game will be played sometime in February.

Interested persons unable to attend may sign up at the Charlevoix Recreation Department.

Visit Space Center

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Miller of Charlevoix visited the world's largest space exhibit during a recent visit to Huntsville, Ala., which bills itself as "The Space Place."

The Alabama Space and Rocket Center is designed to let the visitor be the astronaut. The center contains many educational exhibits and permit involvement in rocketry and space travel.

The Millers viewed spaceships used by astronauts, saw a full-size moon rocket close-up, and walked on a simulated moon crater.

They also snacked on space food, fired a rocket engine, operated a lunar landing computer and viewed a futuristic space station mock-up.

Driver Races Bridge, Almost Lands in River

A northbound woman motorist almost found herself in Pine River Channel last Thursday morning when she tried to beat the bridge.

Bridge tender Charles Bergmann was preparing to open the bridge for a fish tug and had turned on the highway stop lights when an unidentified woman motorist pulled up behind a car stopped at the southerly approach.

Inexplicably, she pulled around the stopped car and raced toward the bridge, barely squeaking under the descending road barrier.

Bergmann, who had seen the woman stop but had not seen her start up again, had already started to lift the bridge as the vehicle approached.

The driver, apparently alarmed to find the roadway rising under her, applied her brakes and slowed crazily across the partly opened arms of the bridge.

She managed to stop in time to prevent a collision with the barrier on the north side of the bridge.

Bergmann, who was unable to see the car while the bridge was up, didn't get the license number.

The incident occurred shortly before 8 a.m.

Flag Grid Results

Following are the results of Flag Football games through Saturday, Sept. 22.

On Sept. 17, the Reds defeated the Blues 34 to 19 in the Junior League.

Scoring for the Reds were Darrin VanLoo, 3 TD's; Greg Leymon and Richard Borths. Scoring for the Blues were Richard Russell, Bobby Warner and Joe Left.

On Sept. 20, the Whites defeated the Greens, 16-9 in the Junior League.

Chalking up points for the Whites were Gilbert Noirot and Steve Hufford, who scored on a pass from Greg Krueger. Danny Bruce scored for the Greens.

Saturday in the Peewee League, the Whites defeated the Yellows 26-13.

Scoring TD's for the Whites were Scott Morgan (4) while Robert Russell was credited with two conversion points.

Ross Carey and John Bradley scored TD's for the Yellow team.

Boys, 18, Still Must Register for Draft

State Rep. Ralph Ostling (R-Roscommon) reminds young men that even though there is no draft, they are still required to register with Selective Service within a 60-day period, beginning 30 days prior to their 18th birthday.

"While inductions have ceased with the expiration of such authority on July 1, the Military Selective Service Act remains in force," Ostling said. "The annual lottery will be held, young men must register and their local boards will continue to classify them."

By these actions, the Selective Service System will maintain an available manpower pool, as prescribed by law, in the event a national emergency requires the Congress to authorize the resumption of inductions.

"Young men can register at any of the Selective Service Area offices or with any draft registrar located in most high school, colleges, county buildings and other community centers," Ostling continued. "These include the Federal Building at Alpena, the United States Post Office Building in Cadillac and Cheboygan and at 417 National Bank and Trust Building, Traverse City."

In addition to registering, Ostling stated that young men have two other legal responsibilities: They must notify their local boards when they change addresses and they must carry their Selective Service cards until their liability expires, which is age 26 for most registrants today.

Marching Band Deserved Ovation

By Patti Warner

This year's Rayder Marching Band is really the greatest band Charlevoix has ever had, judging from the reaction in the stands. At the first home game of the season, the band received a standing ovation.

For pre-game they came downfield playing "Hey, Look Me Over." Then forming the letters BC they played "Fighting Red and White." Forming a "CHS" the band played the school song. Marching towards the north end of the field they formed a V and played the "Star Spangled Banner."

At half time, Director Gary Stutzman and Charlevoix's first drum major, Jim Sundberg, were introduced.

Along with the new drum major, there is a new flag corp consisting of eight girls: Sue Winchester, Sue Westenbrook, Sue Potter, Sandy Hodge, Denise Boss, Lynn Bradley, and with captains, Peggy Carey and Deb Powell.

Going downfield, the band played "Everything's Coming Up Roses," followed by "Bill Bailey's Combo" starring Mike Fochtman, Kevin Gallagher, Ronny Winchester, Jim Petis and Steven Bloom.

As its finishing number the band played "MacArthur Park" which cinched the standing ovation. The band then marched off the field to a drum cadence.

Bandsmen Stage Patriotic Halftime

By Susie Boss

The Rayder Marching Band, under the direction of Gary Stutzman and Drum Major Jim Sundberg, put on a patriotic halftime show on Friday, Sept. 28, during the Charlevoix - Rogers City game.

The band came downfield to "This Is My Country" and formed a giant "USA". From this position they played a medley of service songs, "The Patriots", and moved to a formation spelling out "PEACE".

The next formation was a huge peace sign, from which the band played and sang "I'd like to Teach the World to Sing".

The band closed its program with the Carmen Dragon arrangement of "America the Beautiful".

The Future Homemakers of America (F.H.A.) Club is in the process of getting organized once again this year.

Anyone interested in joining the club are welcome to sign up in the Home-Economics Room at the High School.

Mrs. Janet Odmark will again be advisor for the club.

Only 63% of State Kids Protected Against Polio

"The current level of immunization for Michigan preschool children is at a dangerous nine-year low," so declares Maurice Reizen, M.D. director of the Michigan Department of Public Health, and John J. Coury, M.D. president of the Michigan State Medical Society

A joint appeal to parents to be sure children one to five are protected against polio, measles, rubella, mumps, diptheria, tetanus and whooping cough has been issued by the two medical leaders, according to Dr. R. S. Libke, director of Health Department No. 3.

Michigan doctors of medicine and osteopathic physicians, nurses and other health professions have joined the Center of Communicable Disease Control in proclaiming October as "Immunization Action Month."

Medical leaders point out that only 62.9 percent of the one to four year olds are properly protected against polio by having all three recommended doses of vaccine. In 1964 the figure was 88 percent.

"Since a recently law dropped the requirements for smallpox vaccination, many people apparently feel there is no longer any need for immunization," Dr. Resizen suggests.

Michigan Currently leads the nation in incidence of measles with 4,336 cases reported through Aug. 18. Only 62.2 percent of the one to four year-olds in the state are immunized against measles.

Though the number of reported cases of rubella (German or "three-day" measles) is lower, the number of children immunized is also lower with only 56.9 percent protected. Though the disease is normally not considered serious to the child, the danger to expectant mothers who may come in contact with the child is much greater, doctors point out.

National surveys indicate five million of the nearly 14 million one to four year-olds are unprotected against polio, measles, rubella, whooping cough, or diptheria.

"Physicians are concerned too," says Dr. Coury, "that roughly half of the children who begin their routine immunizations never complete them plus leaving them improperly protected against these diseases."

Parents are urged to contact their family doctor for information regarding their child's immunization status. If a child has already received some immunizations then the same doctor, clinic or health department should be consulted as to which immunizations are still needed.

By law, public clinics are held periodically throughout the state to provide these services free of charge to any resident desiring them should he choose not to obtain them privately. Dr. Reizen reports that local health departments have dates, times and locations set for immunization clinics.

Library Notes

The background of the new Morris West novel is modern Italy—the dark underground of the big cities, Rome, Milan, Venice: the high society of politics and finance. "The Salamander" is a legendary beas. 'hat lives in fire and is a symbol of man's survival. It is also the code name of Bruno Manzini, a wealthy Industrialist with a colorful past. The author has lived in Italy for the best part of ten years. Every color in his story is authentic. Every character has a counterpart in real life. "The Salamander" develops not only one but several urgent contemporary themes. There is one surprise after another, and the climax is a startling and moving irony--the signature of a master storyteller.

Everyone is familiar with Joseph Wambaugh's two major bestsellers, "The New Centurions" and "The Blue Knight." "The Onion Field" is his first work of nonfiction. It is the vivid story of an incredible murder that led to the longest, most intricate court case in California's history. It is the complete story of four men—two of them criminals, two of them policemen—who were forced together one night in a California onion field. It will remind many readers of "In Cold Blood" -- a fascinating true account that combines years of research with the kind of insight and characterization only a skilled novelist can provide.

"So Far From Heaven" by Richard Bradford is a different kind of book. It is set against the Chicanos' battle to claim Federal land for their own use. The scenic, pastoral and provincial Southwest, with a little bit of Texas and a lot of New Mexico, is one of the targets of Bradford's gentle irony in this novel about an odd-ball Chicano family with a flair for misadventure. It is pleasant to be able to recommend this warm and humorous book.

It has been said that 50 percent of the people admire Howard Cosell and 50 percent of the people can't stand him, but however you feel about him personally, you will agree that this autobiograhy will rank among the best sport books of our time. Cosell always happens to be wherever things are happening. He was, for example, only yards away in the Olympic Village when the Palestinian guerrillas were holding the doomed Israelis hostage. He was with Muhammad Ali when he won the title and he was with him when he lost it. He writes about Patterson, Liston, Namath, Jackie Robinson, Jimmy Brown and many more. He tells great stories about them, tragic, dramatic or hilarious, and always revealing.

Grandparents Host Party

Miss Michelle LaFreniere was given a pajama party by her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Z. Reigle in honor of her seventh birthday recently.

Attending were Amy Green, Kathleen Green, Lynn McDonough, Lynn McCafferty, Dawn and Karen Nugent, Nancy Wagner and Jackie Timsak.

$300 Is New Limit For PO Money Orders

A new money order with the limit raised from $100 to $300 per order will be available at Charlevoix post office on Oct. 13, according to Postmaster Rex E. Davis.

Postmaster Davis said the new system can save both the customer and U. S. Postal Service money. Buyers of the new money order will pay one fee – 40 cents – for money orders valued from $50.01 to $300. Fees for the lesser amounts will remain the same.

"Under the old system, a $300 money order would involve three 40 cent fees for a total of $1.20. The new system will provide a 2 3 reduction to 40 centsm," Postmaster Davis said.

The Postal Service has centralized administration of its money order system at the Postal Data Center in St. Louis. "It has the most advanced paper forms processing system of its type in the world and as a result of this efficiency the Postal Service expects to save about $1.6 million a year," Postmaster Davis said.

He said a new money order imprinter will replace the punch machine now in use. "The imprinter is based on the same method of printing as the credit card imprinters used in department stores, and gas stations. It is designed to save time and effort at the postal window," Postmaster Davis said.

A three-part carbon interleaved money order form replaces the card form that is now in use. Postmaster Davis says the larger customer receipt will be less easily misplaced, contains a complete record of when, where, and in what amount was purchased, and will allow the Postal Service to provide faster claim service through machine processing.

The new money order form meets American Bankers Association standards for rapid handling and processing.

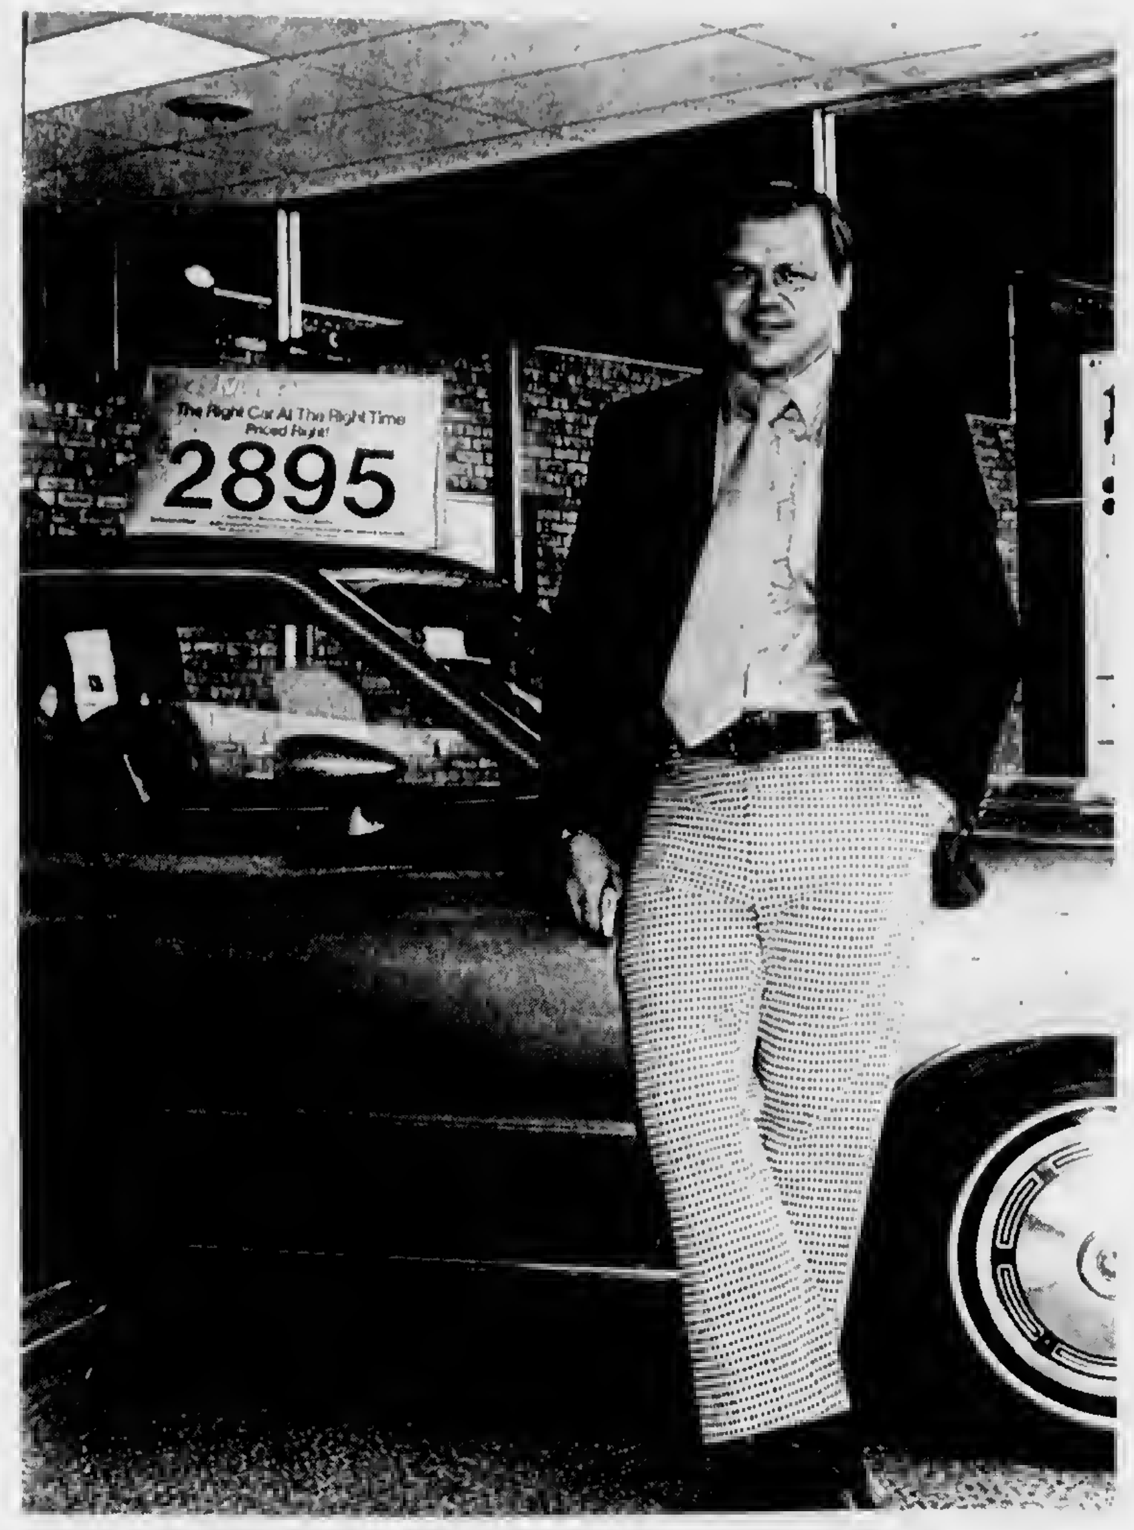
Erber Grand Opening Set Friday, Saturday

Three Big Prizes Will Be Awarded



The Right Car At The Right Time
2895

TOM ERBER, president of Erber Auto Co., poses with one of new models in company's new showroom and garage on U.S. 31 South at the intersection of Barnard-rd. Erber invites all Charlevoix area residents to drop in and inspect the new facility all day Friday and Saturday until noon during open house. Or stop by anytime to enter the company's big Grand Opening contest.

Erber Auto Co., which started in business when Henry Ford's Model T was still retty much of a novelty in northern Michigan, has moved to spacious new quarters on U.S. 31 South, at the southwest corner of the Barnard-rd. junction.

Although some of the garage equipment still is in the process of being moved, the company plans open house at its new location all day Friday and Saturday until noon.

Charlevoixans are invited to drop in anytime, however, to view the new models and to enter Erber's big Grand Opening Contest. A Tri-Cat recreational vehicle, a bumper pool table and a wall clock are the big prizes.

Carole Pence, Charlevoix's 1973 Venetian Queen, will be on hand at high noon Saturday to make the presentations.

Erber Auto Co. was started In 1918 as one of eight branches of the old Northern Auto Co. At that time, the Model T was only three years old and was still big news along the rutted by-ways of northern Michigan.

The Erber family — father Karl, his wife, Marge, and sons Jack and Tom — purchased the business in 1960.

Jack was the first president, with Karl acting as vice president and Tom as secretary-treasurer.

Jack has since left the business for the life of a gentleman farmer in the Upper Peninsula. Tom has taken over the presidency, Mrs. Marge Erber is vice president and Karl is chairman of the board of directors.

Until the recent move, the company was always located on Clinton-st., just west of Bridge.

The new showroom fronts U.S. 31 with a bank of plate glass windows. It is carpeted throughout, with attractive panel lighting in the ceiling.

Sales rooms are located along the rear of the showroom area.

The garage is large enough for 12 automobile stalls and one extra-large truck stall. The garage has doors at both the front and rear.

The bump and paint shop will be located at the south end of the garage.

Erber says the new sheet metal building covers about 19,000 square feet, including a 2,800 square foot canopied area at the garage entrance.

Coffee, cookies and other refreshments will be served throughout the open house.

Congratulations to one of Ford's Finest

Erber Staff Will Be on Hand to Welcome You

THE STAFF of the Erber Auto Co. will be on hand to welcome you during open house all day Friday and Saturday until noon. Pictured above are Marvin Wynsma, Lyle King, Chairman of the Board Karl J. Erber, Roy Lewis, Gordon Willis, Dan Gillespie, Ken Russell, John Schmidt, Dutch Sterly, Charlie Schlappi, Rhea Parsons and Marge Krchak.

Model T - Maiden Aunt of Ford Family

(Erber Auto Co. had its beginnings back in the days when Henry Ford's Model T was "king of the road." The following column by Charlevoixan Oscar Erickson commemorates that historic vehicle.)

By Oscar Erickson

Before their regrettable demise in 1927, fifteen million Model T's, uniformly black and each as individual as a finger print, unveiled the terrain of jacent counties to their proud owners cruising the open roads at the legal speed limit of 25 MPH. The first models cost $950 but in 1915 the economy model sold for $360.

The speed limit of 8 MPH in the business district was seldom attained due to a remarkable legal safegard which required a guide to preceed the horseless carriage to alert the animal and human population of approaching danger. After dusk this advance scout became a moving beacon with his waving lantern. To discourage violations, readily indentificable registration numbers three inches high were painted on the rear of the auto.

Such prudent laws made today's controversial bumpers unnecessary, and their absence simplified making the necessary carburetor adjustments required to start the engine. No two engines ever responded to the same proceedure. The octane enrichment linkage was a piece of baling wire protruding through the radiator core and had a finger loop twisted into the business end of it. With this, the left hand closed the choke while the right hand engaged the manual starter with a vigorous but cautious flip.

The T had more eccentricities then a maiden aunt. It most noted peculiarity was its ability to advance further inverse then in forward gear. When forward progress ceased before reaching the crest of a hill, the motorist simply turned the vehicle about face and reversed himself forward, all the while laying on the horn.

By even the most favorable camparison today's drivers are mere robots; with solenoids and relays shifting gears, controlling windows and adjusting the fuel mixture. In those early days there were no warning lights and the motorist kept a vigilant eye on the control console where quivering styluses recorded the oil pressure and the flow of amps in either direction. The other eye monitored the chrome cap atop the radiator which indicated with a hiss of steam any coolant problem in the throbbing reactor which was shielded from the petrified passengers by hardwood floorboards.

The Model T has never been surpassed both as transportation and as a sound investment. In 1903 the Ford Motor Company was formed with $100,000 capitalization, including $2,800 in cash, with James Cousens contributing $2000. Sixteen years later his interests were bought our by Henry Ford for a trifling $29,308,857.80!

Though millions of us did not profit quite so handsomely by our acquaintance with this engineering marvel, all of us are enriched by the ever vivid memories concerning that bygone age of mechanical perfection.

Ask Senator GRIFFIN

By cutting through red tape, members of Congress can often lend a hand to those with problems involving the federal government. Through the columns of this newspaper, Senator Griffin answers questions of general interest. He will respond personally to all communications addressed to: Senator Robert P. Griffin, Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

A friend of mine recently told me what I considered to be a funny story. While enroute from a thoroughly sober evening he had a collision with a horse. The horse was killed and his car was all but demolished. He called his insurance man and the conversation went like this: "George, I just hit a horse." "Good," his insurance man replied, "what did it pay." Well, that's not a very funny story at all. It seems that animal-vehicle collisions are common on our highways and I want to know if the Federal Government is doing anything about it?

—C. Y., Detroit

You're right, that's not a funny story, and the statistics compiled by the Federal Highway Administration point out the seriousness of animal-vehicle accidents. In 1972 approximately 130,000 white-tail deer and untold numbers of other animals were killed and automobile damage reached about $40 million in animal-vehicle collisions. However, the FHA has recently designed a program to assist various state highway departments, which build, maintain and operate the nation's principal highways. Steps being considered by highway engineers include specially-designed roadside fencing, plus underpass or tunnel construction to provide safe crossing points for deer or other animals. If you are interested in pursuing this further write to: Mr. Robert Belichick, Environmental Control Group, Federal Highway Administration, Washington, D.C.

On a visit to the U.S. Capital not long ago, I noticed that a lot of work was under way in a room on the first floor which I was told was once used by the Supreme Court. What's going on?

—C. M., Grand Rapids

What you observed was part of a major restoration program scheduled for completion for the 1976 Bicentennial celebration.

Actually, this was the first Senate Chamber after the Capital was moved to Washington. The Senate occupied the quarters from November 21, 1800 to 1808. It was here that President John Adams delivered his last message to a joint meeting of the House and Senate and in the chamber Thomas Jefferson, who had presided over the Senate as Vice President, took the oath of office as President on March 4, 1801.

In 1808, the room, then with a high ceiling, was divided into an upper and lower chamber. The Senate moved into quarters provided on the second floor and the Supreme Court took over the space on the first floor. The Court occupied the quarters until the completion of the Senate wing of the Capitol in 1859. Then it moved to the old Senate chamber on the second floor which it occupied until the completion of the imposing Supreme Court building in 1935.

When the project is complete both rooms will be restored to their original appearance of 1859.

Weigh Appeals System For Expelled Students

A series of public hearings on a proposal that would establish uniform appeals procedures for high school students who are permanently expelled from school anywhere in Michigan will be held by the State Board of Education, State Rep. Ralph Ostling (R-Republican) announced.

No date has been set for the hearings on the proposed Student Expulsion Appeals Procedure but they will likely be held in late September or early October at various locations throughout the state, Representative Ostling said.

The proposal calls for establishment at the Intermediate School District level of a Student Expulsion Review Commission that would review all appeals made by students who are permanently expelled from high school.

Members of the proposed commission would include a high school principal, a board of education member from a K-12 district, a K-12 school superintendent, two citizens selected at large and two students. The Intermediate District superintendent or his designee will serve as a non-voting member and secretary, Ostling points out.

"Decisions of the Intermediate District Student Expulsion Review Commission could be appealed to the State Board of Education which would appoint a hearing officer to determine if local procedures were in keeping with the State Board's proposed guidelines on student rights and responsibilities and were consistent with the local district's student conduct code and the review commission," Ostling concluded.

Cross Country Team Scores First Victory

By JIM SUNDBERG

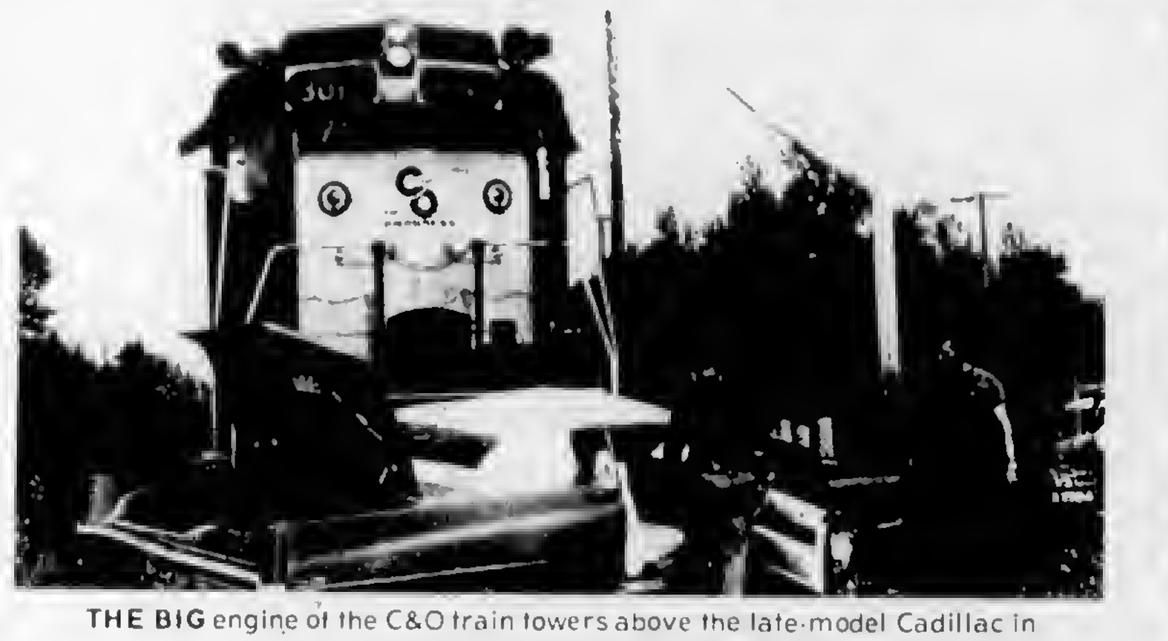
In a Cross Country meet with Grayling last Tuesday, Charlevoix scored its first win of the year with the score of 19-36.

Jim Sundberg placed first with John Osterberg taking second. Ken Paul edged Joe Kauffman by five tenths of a second for 4th place. Wally Drenth came in 7th sewing up the Rayder's first win of the year.

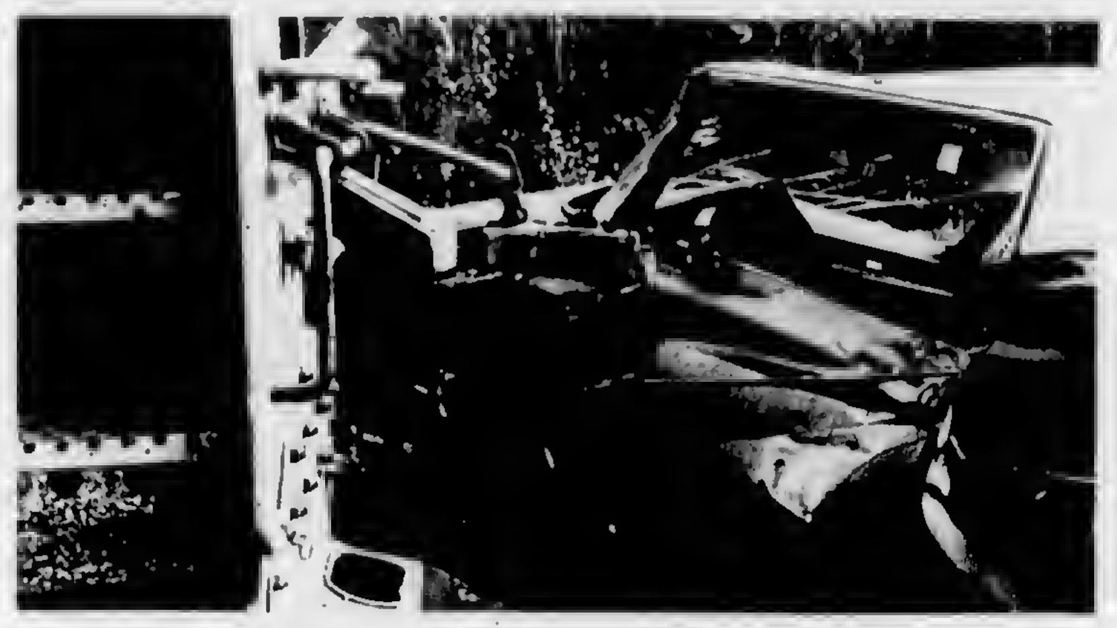
Randy Smith, Jim Donaldson, Mike Frasier, and Bob Sandahl also ran for the Rayders but were not in the top five scorers.

The Rayders next meet will be at Petoskey against St. Ignace and Petoskey.

Grim Aftermath of Rail Accident



THE BIG engine of the C&O train towers above the late-model Cadillac in which Donald J. Murphy was killed last Wednesday afternoon at the Boyne City-rd. crossing. Murphy was co-owner of Cass and Don's bar in Boyne City.



COUPLER on front of C&O engine struck the Donald J. Murphy car in the center of the driver's door. The car was pushed an estimated 855 feet along the track before the train came to a stop.

Red Rayders Defeat Hurons, Saints Are Next

Rogers City Bows To Pass Attack

With a solid victory against the Rogers City Hurons under their belts, the Charlevoix Red Rayders are working out with a vengeance--this week in preparation for Friday night's contest with the St. Ignace Saints, at St. Ignace.

The Saints are 2 and 0 for the season, in conference play against one win and one loss (against Grayling) for the Rayders.

The Rayders bounced back from their defeat by the Vikings by shutting-out the Hurons 19-0.

Charlevoix's first two TD's came in the opening period on a 29-yard run by halfback Kevin Martin and a 19-yard run by halfback Mike Streeter.

On both scores, the Rayders lost the conversion point, leaving the score 13-0 at the end of the first period. The score remained unchanged until the final stanza when Martin sprinted eight yards for paydirt. But once again the conversion attempt failed.

Statistician Dave Fowler reports the Rayders outplayed the Hurons on almost every count.

The Rayders achieved 12 first downs, compared to nine for their opponents.

They attempted 15 passes and completed eight of them, compared to 5 and 3 for the Hurons. They gained 122 yards passing, compared to four for the Hurons.

The Hurons led in the number of rushing plays (45 to 34), but they gained only 133 yards, compared to 228 for the Rayders. The Hurons also lost 27 yards by rushing, compared to 18 for Charlevoix. Net gain by rushing for the Rayders was 210 yards, compared to 106 for the Hurons.

The Rayders also outpenaltied the Hurons, 6 to 4, for losses of 57 and 50 yards respectively.

In other Michigan Huron Shores Conference play, St. Ignace defeated Grayling, 49-0; Petoskey trounced Cheboygan, 39-12; and Gaylord waltzed over Boyne City, 20-6.

This Friday, Cheboygan travels to Boyne City, Rogers City hosts Grayling and Gaylord plays at Petoskey.

Rayder JV's Lose To Hurons, 14-6

JV Rayders lost to Rogers City last Thursday, 14-6.

The young Hurons scored both their TD's in the opening minutes of the game on runs of 47 and 52 yards.

With five minutes gone on the clock, the score stood at 14-0.

The little Rayders dug in on defense, but the offense kept making costly mistakes.

"Every time we would start moving the ball, someone would get a penalty," commented coach Norm Probert.

Jay Potter and Terry Drew helped set up the only score for Charlevoix. Jay punted the ball dead on the Huron four-yard line and the Rayders forced a punting situation.

Drew blocked the punt and Mike Left scored on the first offensive play on a one-yard quarterback sneak between John Cinnamon and John Greene.

Defensive standouts were Randy Williams Terry Drew, Doug Smith and Mark Hosmer.

Randy Williams led the team in rushing with 74 yards for a 4.9 average per carry, with Gary Probert getting 13 yards for a 4.1 yard average per carry.

The Rayder passing attack saw Mike Left one for one for 12 yards and Gary Probert seven for 12 for a six-yard gain.

This Thursday, the JV's meet the St Ignace Saints at Kipke Field. Game time is 6:30 p.m.

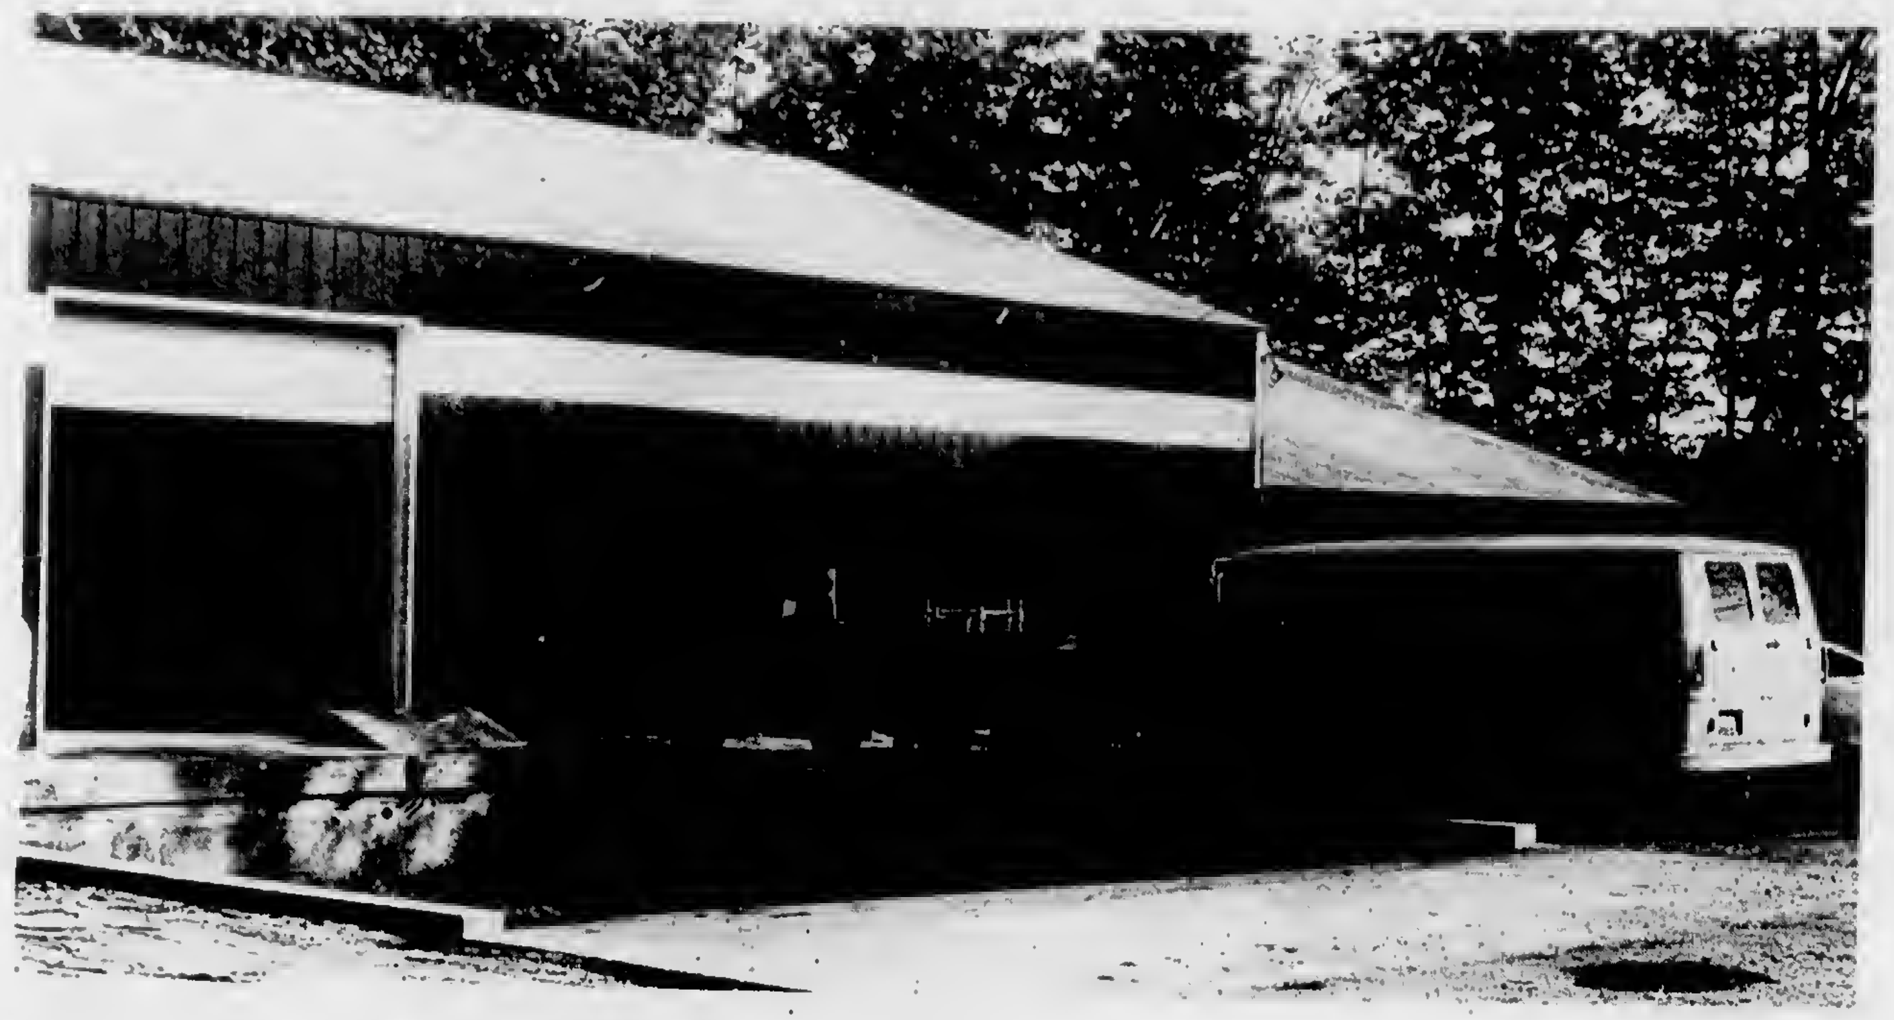
Charlevoix Chemical Open House Is Saturday

Company Opens Office, Warehouse on Martin-rd.



You might mistake the attractive red and white sheet metal buildings in a grove of maples and poplars on Martin-rd. as some kind of new farm enterprise.

But it's not.

It's the new general office and warehouse of the Charlevoix Chemical Co., one of Charlevoix's newest and most prosperous industries.

The company, which is owned and operated by George and Virginia Nipson of Lakeview Court, is holding open house Saturday, Oct. 6, from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

They'd like you to drop in, enjoy a cup of coffee and a snack and inspect their new facilities, just west of the Will-Flow Corp. off U.S. 30 North.

You'll be surprised by the general office, which features patterned wallpaper above the wainscotting, attractive carpeting and a built-in coffee bar.

Needless to say, the interior decorating scheme was the idea of Mrs. Nipson, a former commercial artist, who strived for – and achieved – a down-home atmosphere.

In the same building as the office is a "hot room" used for the storage of chemicals which must not be frozen, and a large dry-storage area.

A second large warehouse building is located toward the rear of the property.

The Nipsons are proud of the progress they have made in the five years they have been in business in Charlevoix.

Before moving north, Nipson was district manager of a four-state area for the Virginia-Carolina Chemical Co. and became a regional sales manager for the East Coast after Virginia-Carolina merged with Mobil Oil.

"The work was satisfying in some ways," Nipson recalls, "but the pace was not to my liking. My wife and I didn't particularly like the East Coast and the constant traveling I had to do was getting to be too much. I felt like I was getting old before my time, and I began questioning if what I was doing was really worht it to myself and family.

Nipson hit upon the ideas of starting a chemical distributorship in Charlevoix where he and his family had spent many summer vacations.

Although Nipson is a native of West Palm Beach, Fla., and his wife hails from Dayton, Ohio, they pulled up stakes and headed for northern Michigan.

They went into business officially on Jan. 1, 1969. At that time their "warehouse" was located in the basement of what is now the Kentucky Fried Chicken restaurant on Bridge-st. Their office was in their home — rented quarters in the former Dyksterhouse home on W. Dixon-ave.

In the spring, as business expanded, they moved into a warehouse owned by Lake Construction on U.S. 31 North. There they remained until moving into their own permanent quarters three weeks ago.

In the early days, Nipson spent most of his time on the road making calls. Mrs. Nipson stayed home to answer the telephone.

But the need for an expanded staff soon became evident. First Frank Risley was hired as a delivery man. Risley is still with the company as industrial salesman.

Then came Ron Zednicek, who also started as a deliveryman. Zednicek now handles all industrial sales.

Next Mike Meier joined the staff as a high school co-op student. Meier is still with the firm as a full-time deliveryman.

Then came Rick Baker, warehouseman, and Jeff Coen, assistant warehouseman.

In the front office, Debbie Lewis works mornings as receptionist, typist and neophyte bookkeeper. Afternoons, the office is manned by Jackie Pourier, another high school co-op student.

Mrs. Nipson, who is trying to ease herself back into the role of housewife, still handles the books and Nipson, in his quiet, southern manner, runs the entire operation.

What in the world does a chemical company sell in northern Michigan?

Plenty!

The company's 1973 catalogue lists 23 suppliers who keep the firm stocked with everything from coat hangers for dry cleaning establishments to hydroflorsilicic acid used by heavy industry.

Among the products the company sells are industrial chemicals, maintenance supplies for business and industry, janitor supplies, all kinds of goods used by dry cleaning establishments, from plastic bags to safety pins; laundromat supplies, including dispenser size packages of all the wash-day detergents; and swimming pool chemicals.

"We didn't think swimming pool chemicals would be a big thing," Nipson says, "something that would be seasonal at best. However we didn't count on the number of motels in the area which have their swimming pools open year-'round."

The company has three trucks which are on the road every day of the week supplying customers from Manistee to Sault Ste. Marie on a regular basis.

But the way the company is growing, three trucks are not enough.

"What we need now is a tractor-trailer that will enable us not only to make big deliveries but also to pick up our own freight in Detroit and Chicago," Nipson says.

The Nipsons never dreamed five years ago that the day would come when they would order full semi-loads of Proctor and Gamble products delivered to Charlevoix.

But it has!

NEW HOME of Charlevoix Chemical Co. (top) is located in a grove of trees on Martin-rd. Barn-red buildings with white trim blend with the rustic landscape. Sloping dock ramp makes for easy loading and unloading of vehicles. Above, salesman Frank Risley discusses order with Mrs. Virginia Nipson and receptionist-typist Debbie Lewis.

Pair Who Eloped in '23 Celebrate Their 50th

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott L. Lewis of 533 Petoskey-ave. are living proof that elopements sometimes work.

On Dec. 26, 1923, Lewis and the former Eva Ostrum, who was then living in Petoskey, took a train to Harbor Springs and had the matrimonial knot tied by a justice of the peace.

She was studying to be a school teacher at the time and school boards in those days didn't take a very kindly view of married school marms. They kept their marriage secret for a year.

But it's no secret that they plan to celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary Sunday, Sept. 30 at their Charlevoix home.

An open house was hosted last Sunday by their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Gus C. (Gwen) Strum of Evanston, Ill.

Lewis was born Aug. 9, 1898, in Petoskey and spent his boyhood in Hayes Township.

Mrs. Ostrum was born in Hayes Township May 7, 1904, and graduated from Charlevoix High School and the Charlevoix County Normal School in 1924. She taught at the Chandler School.

Mr. and Mrs. Elliott L. Lewis

The Lewis' lived in Charlevoix until 1928 when they moved to California for five years. In 1933 they returned to Charlevoix and lived on Division-st. and Dixon-ave. while he worked as a painter.

In 1941 they moved to Flint where Lewis was employed by Buick until his retirement in 1965. They returned to Charlevoix to build their present home on Petoskey-ave.

Lewis is a member of Charlevoix Lodge No. 282 F & AM and Mrs. Lewis is a member of Charlevoix Lodge No. 72, OES.

They spend their summers in Charlevoix, tending their prolific vegetable garden.

The Lewis' have one grandchild, Cynthia Marie, who will be two years old Oct. 9.

Accident Underscores RR Crossing Danger

With the reduction in rail traffic in northern Michigan in recent years, many residents have been complacent about the dangers inherent in railroad crossings.

Trains today are so scarce, that it's an occasion of sorts when you actually come across one.

We don't pretend to know the reasons behind the fatal accident at the C&O crossing on the Boyne City-rd. last Wednesday afternoon. But we do know that the driver's life could have been spared if he had been aware that the C&O track is still in use.

In fact, many tracks and spurs in the area are still in use on a fairly regular basis.

Two trains a day use the C&O tracks that pass through Charlevoix---one northbound in the morning and one southbound in late afternoon.

The fact that many of today's automobiles are air conditioned and equipped with radios and stereos increases the danger of car-train collisions. With the windows rolled up tight and the radio on, it is sometimes difficult to hear warning whistles.

So watch those crossings. You may meet a train when you least expect it.

New Construction Augurs Well for Area

The Courier adds its congratulations to those of area contractors and suppliers to two area businesses which are opening new facilities this week.

Erber Auto Co. is planning open house all day Friday and Saturday morning at its new Ford showroom and garage on U.S. 31 South, at the Barnard-rd. intersection.

Charlevoix Chemical Co., owned by George and Virginia Nipson, will welcome guests Saturday from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m.

Erber's spacious new showroom and garage is an attractive addition to the south end of town, an area which is developing with every passing year.

Charlevoix Chemical's new buildings on a wooded tract on Martin-rd. are finished in barn-red and white, blending with the essentially rural character of the area.

Such new construction in a time of tight money certainly augurs well for the future of the Charlevoix area.

With families like the Erbers and Nipsons investing in Charlevoix, our tomorrows are bright indeed.

Today's Young Parents Don't Remember Polio

Disturbing news about the immunizations of kids against communicable diseases has been reported by Dr. R. S. Libke, medical director of District Health Department No. 3.

Dr. Libke reports that only 62.9 percent of Michigan youngsters aged one to four are currently immunized against polio.

Figures for immunization against other diseases such as measles, rubella, mumps, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough are also discouragingly low --- considering that vaccines are available.

In fact, the current level of immunization among Michigan pre-schoolers is at a nine-year low.

Needless to say, it is the pre-schoolers who are being short-changed. By the time a youngster reaches school age, immunization against such diseases is mandatory.

We are puzzled as to why parents would allow their little tykes to go without such immunization protection, particularly when it is readily available at doctors,' offices and health clinics.

Equally disturbing is the fact that many youngsters who begin a series of immunization shots never finish them, leaving the amount of protection questionable.

We suspect that many of today's parents are too young to remember the ravages of communicable diseases such as polio and tend to view too lightly the consequences of not having their children protected.

Parents a generation ago almost dreaded the end of summer with the annual upsurge in the number of polio cases across the country. Sometimes the disease reached such epidemic proportions that the opening of school was postponed several weeks to prevent its spread among school children.

No one was immune. Rich and poor were stricken alike. Death sometimes arrived within a matter of days. Other victims survived, only to face years of rehabilitation followed by a lifetime of crippling deformity.

October has been named "Immunization Action Month" throughout the state.

If you so nothing else during the month, make sure that your pre-schooler has the necessary immunizations to give him a start on a long, healthy and productive life.

Q. Is anything being done about the abuses of the welfare system?

A. There is hope yet that the Federal government may do something about abuses of the welfare system.

At least, that is what seems to have emerged from a recent meeting of the Michigan County Social Services Association in Grand Rapids where Robert B. Carleson, Special Assistant to the Health, Education and Welfare Secretary, said home rule of welfare roles is necessary.

That is what Michigan officials have been contending for a long time but every time they try to put controls on these things the Federal government says "No, you can't do that. You must not make people feel bad."

Carleson should know what he is talking about because he was brought to Washington from California where he was credited with having played a major part in reducing the California welfare rolls by 340,000 while increasing payments to the needy.

Carleson made just that point in Grand Rapids - that those who need help the most are penalized when the welfare rolls are clogged with those who don't legitimately deserve to be there.

He said "persons most in need of public assistance are those who don't receive enough in compensation because the money available has been spread so thin." He put his finger on an important point when he noted that public confidence in the effectiveness of welfare programs has dropped considerably.

He attributed part of the drop in public confidence to the fact that "many of our present laws are laced with gaping loopholes which permit persons, not necessarily eligible, to be on welfare rolls."

Carleson said the Nixon administration would like to eliminate dependency on welfare altogether but knows this can never be achieved. But he does believe the situation can be improved considerably.

"Governmental units must realize that limited funds are available for social programs so we must get the most for our money," Carleson told the social workers.

"Americans have characteristically been a charitable nationality but we can't expect taxpayers to carry an added burden on their backs while they are trying to make a living for themselves."

The Washington official and state and county welfare agencies are capable of tightening eligibility requirements because, he said, "they are able, better than some official in Washington, to recognize a particular geographical area's specific welfare needs."

He added that he felt local governmental units could build a system of checks and balances into their operation to prevent "discretion from turning into flagrant discrimination."

The Federal government could start solving the problem by approving, rather than rejecting as it has done, a Michigan plan to make major welfare purchase checks out in duplicate names - one the recipient's and the other the seller's - so that welfare recipients can't use their check intended for purchase of a refrigerator to finance luxuries, or at least some unnecessary item.

Your questions and comments are always welcome and may be addressed to: State Senator Robert W. Davis, State Capitol, Lansing, Mi., 48902.

Clockwise

A Time Of Crisis

By BOB CLOCK

Judging from the public prints, very little is happening in Washington these days aside from the Watergate investigation and Spiro Agnew's cat-and-mouse fight with the Justice Department over the kick-back and fraud charges pending against him.

Every so often you read how the Nixon Administration is cutting off funds for the poor, divesting the indigent of housing opportunities, approving increases in the prime interest rate or cutting down on subsidies to small hospitals.

But by and large, Nixon's problems over the Watergate burglary and Agnew's "nightmare" over alleged illegal activities before and after he became vice president are copping most of the news space.

And perhaps they should, because both gentlemen deserve and get high readership, regardless of what they are doing.

But we can't help but wonder what shape this poor old country will be in by the time our chief executive and his sidekick get their affairs in order.

Take inflation, for example.

I can't recall in my long years as a resident of this planet a more desperate situation than the ever-increasing cost of living. Not even the dark days following Pearl Harbor were fraught with more urgency.

During the week when I'm busy trying to get out the Courier, I try to forget what's happening down at the grocery store. Then comes Saturday and our weekly buying-binge at the supermarket.

Although the harvest season is still upon us, the price of fresh vegetables is ridiculous. I saw a Hubbard squash for sale at one market this Saturday with a price tag of something like $2.40. Tiny, wrinkled green peppers that should bring no more than two or three pennies are on the block for 15 cents each.

Caulliflower and broccoli range anywhere from 55 to 69 cents a package, so you can imagine what they will cost this winter when both will be in short supply.

The real shockaroo comes at the meat counter. Although beef, pork and chicken have all dropped slightly in recent weeks, prices are still so high in comparison to what they were six months ago that any sizeable meat purchases are clearly out of the question for the Clock family.

It is pathetic to see customers, particularly old people, patiently pushing their shopping carts along the meat counter, examining every price and weighing it against the balance in their grocery budgets.

Last week I saw one old woman examine the pork and beef roasts, the hams, the steaks, the sausage and the hamburger, shaking her head all the time. Finally she picked up a small package of neckbones, dropped them disgustedly in her shopping cart and moved off slowly toward the cashier's counter, still shaking her head.

What bothers me most about the current round of food prices increases is the effect they must be having on other segments of the economy.

The little old lady who buys neck bones certainly isn't going to buy new kitchen curtains until prices come down. She and millions of people like her are being slowly forced into purchasing only the absolute necessities of life — food, shelter, fuel and clothing. And when this happens on a grand scale we are going to witness unemployment in this country that will make the Depression of the 1930's look like a Sunday School picnic.

Ironically, it hasn't happened yet, although we have been living with high prices all summer. I suspect manufacturers may be busy building inventories to last them until the worst is over, but there's no way of knowing.

What is certain is that unless the price of food drops to reasonable levels—or wages and pensions increase to compensate for higher costs—there are very dark days ahead.

That is why I wish things were less chaotic in the capital. There is so much to be done—and time is running out.

If it Fitz

Everybody's Doing It

By Jim Fitzgerald

How come the Republicans catch more hell from the press and TV than the Democrats do? Easy. It's because Watergate is a lot easier to spell and pronounce than Chappaquiddick.

But if that is true, how then do you explain Abplanalp?

Don't ask me. I'm still wondering if I should jump off a cliff just because Rich Davis jumps off a cliff.

When I was a litle kid, Rich Davis was my buddy. And when his parents let him ride his bike on the highway, or quit wearing long underwear, I wanted the same privileges. So I'd tell my dad that Rich could do it and my dad would always say: "If Rich Davis jumped off a cliff, would you jump too?"

This was Dad's way of rephrasing the old bromide: "Two wrongs do not make a right."

I was brought up on that marvelous bit of philosophy. It didn't matter if "All the guys" hitchhiked to Detroit to see the burlesque show. It was still the wrong thing to do and it didn't become a right thing just because Rich Davis did it, even if he was a minister's son.

Ah, memories. Whatever did happen to that idea about two wrongs?

A bumper sticker reads: "Nobody Drowned at Watergate." Which is as sickly funny as the story about John and Martha Mitchell meeting Ted Kennedy at a party and John asks Ted to drive Martha home.

The idea we are asked to swallow is that Watergate isn't so bad because, after all, Ted Kennedy drove a girl into the Chappaquiddick and then fled the scene like a thief in the night.

Or it's OK for Robert Abplanalp and Bebe Rebozo to buy a friend in the White House because Eisenhower's buddies gave him 15 tractors and a golf course.

Or it's OK for the taxpayers to build palaces for Nixon because they built airports for Lyndon Johnson.

Or it's OK for the GOP plumbers to break into a doctor's office in 1972 because the anti-war demonstrators made a lot of noise in 1969.

Or it's OK for Nixon to send your son to Vietnam to die because Johnson did the same thing to your neighbor's son.

And so it goes...

Lately, because of Watergate and Abplanalp and Spiro, the Republicans have been catching most of the mud. And many Republicans claim no fair newsman should use the word Watergate in a sentence that doesn't also contain the word Chappaquiddick.

I gave one of those Republicans my sternest look the other day and told him solemnly: "Two wrongs do not make a right."

"Don't give me that religious stuff," he answered. "If you were a real Christian you'd write something about Franklin Delano Roosevelt's mistress."

I think I'll take off my long underwear and go jump off a cliff.

Stumping the Woods

...With Ollie O. Stump jr.

As a young lass Jenny, Uncle Charlie's mule, overheard the expression 'a month of Sundays' and promptly adopted this as 12 logical divisions of the calendar year.

She countered Charlie's every effort to insert periodic working days with the aloofness reserved for hired help and tolerated his presence only when he was in the loft pitching down here evening meal and night rations.

Except for one occasion she remained deaf to Charlie's suggestions that certain urgent chores need be accomplished on the Sabbath. On this one occasion he brought up the name Evergreen Heino in his entreaty. Jenny knew he acquired this strange nickname by being the first to plant a Xmas tree farm in his barren section of the U.P. and she felt a kinship with this bachelor neighbor who prospered, however meagerly, from the land suited only to raising grasshoppers.

Recalling Evergreen's gifts of apples, she indicated by a nod that Charlie could continue his plea. From her accumulated knowledge over the years of Charlie's Finnglish she deduced that Evergreen's Model T had strayed off the highway on the return from a social visit in the village on Saturday night and that prudence prompted a change of the parking spots ere the law chanced by.

With the considerable misgivings she reserved for Sundays, she agreed to extricate the truck from the drainage ditch and pull it into the yard. After accepting Evergreen's vociferous thanks with becoming modesty she ambled home, deep in the uneasy thoughts prompted by her Puritan conscience.

That evening Charlie ascended to the loft, in his customary fashion, by the slats nailed to the wall studs. While swinging the first forkful of fodder he stepped on a rounded knot which had fallen from a hemlock roofboard and plummeted, in a cloud of suffocating dust, through the floor opening to become wedged in the tapered manger below. Plummeted is not adequately descriptive since Charlie rode the handle of the fork, which had preceded him, like a fireman's pole, on the last leg of the journey.

Peering reflectively at the intruder in her dinette, Jenny was at a loss to understand Charlie's cries of agony since he had landed on a soft pile of hay. She could glean little from his torrent of Finnish, to which he resorted in times of stress, but felt that the words and tone would hardly be acceptable even on a weekday.

Unbeknownst to her, Charlie was skewered, in an area out of her view, with a dry hemlock sliver the size of a cobblers awl which had penetrated his Soo wool pants and his long johns at an angle which made upward movement the least popular option.

The cooler head prevailing, Jenny took a toothy grip on the breast of Charlies sheepskin and gave a tentative tug, increasing the strain until Charlie lapsed into silence and his complexion took on a bluish tint due to the strangling effect of the coat collar on his windpipe.

She released her captive to give the problem further thought, regaining consciousness, Charlie's eyeballs became riveted in horror behind a crack between the planks. There in the dimness of the stall he spied a visiting mouse! Charlie feared neither man nor beast, but rodents were a different matter. Yelping in pain, he broke off the sliver with the hand pinned beneath him and ejected himself to the safety to a loftier perch.

Aunt Esther set the kerosene lamp on the kitchen table and performed the necessary surgery on her mate, with pliers, dorning needle and horse linament, who had to forgoe his customary dignity under these unfortunate circumstances.

He was not alone, for Jenny too suffered a blow to her pride. Charlie had just demonstrated convincingly that a mouse is stronger than a mule. This insult justified her absolute refusal to ever again play the role of a good Samaritan.

To Whom It May Concern...

By Doris Huckle

Now who did say it first; there's no Bartlett's on the desk today.

"To enjoy the present and anticipate the future we need to understand the past?" Or something similar.

Anyway, if you haven't played the game of interviewing great personages of the past yet, or re-discovered the challenge of it since school days, try it some forthcoming wintry evening.

For instance: none of us who recall lessons in our youthful American history is apt to forget it was a rather frustrated actor who killed President Lincoln.

A lot of people disliked Lincoln, mistrusted him as a leader, but now accept him, historically speaking, as being good old Honest Abe.

As a candidate for office Lincoln always personally provided the thoughts and words to promote interest in government.

His own studying and consequent unique kind of communication provided entertainment to friend and foe; it was the educational statesmanship of his times.

Now the game: What would Lincoln think of the recent Telethon wedding showbusiness and politicos, featuring notables of stage, screen and television urging we citizens to provide money for the very survival of our two-party (?) systems in this republic?

"Pap-fed, the republic is," he answered, staring intently at me from the pages of an old book once the property of an early East Jordan resident. "Pap-fed on entertainment."

"You mean who reads the old hard covers anymore? Blackstone, Greek, Shakespeare?" I ask.

"Mostly pulp," he said. "And some of you worrying about the shortage of that, too."

Then, with kindness of voice he prodded.

"Let me pose you some questions in return.

"Are governments and stagecraft quite one and the same?

"Would you say American is yet engaged in a great civil conflict testing if this nation, or any other nation, so conceived and so dedicated can long endure?

"Is it time yet for a change of name to States of America, United?"

Flipping the pages failed to disclose a portrait of Lincoln smiling.

These imaginary interviews, be warned, only lead to more digging of facts adding to understanding and present enjoyment.

It's that danged anticipation of the future that remains the real puzzle of the game that has no end, or real winners.

Community Nurse Feted For 20 Years' Service

Mrs. Keith (Jeanne) Miles, community nurse for the past 20 years, was honored Monday at a surprise luncheon hosted by her fellow workers at the District Health Department No. 3.

Eighteen of the 20 years Mrs. Miles has been associated with the department was as school and community nurse in the Charlevoix school district. As part of an austerity program two years ago, the school district engaged a nurse on a part-time basis and Mrs. Miles joined the District Helath program, dividing her time between Antrim and Charlevoix counties.

Seventeen of the staff at the Health Department and Mrs. Miles' daughters, Mrs. Daniel Swanson and Kathleen Miles were seated at Leutheuser's private dining room when Mrs. Miles entered with Mrs. Robert Hooper and, for the first time, became aware that the luncheon was in her honor. She was presented with an engraved locket in recognition of her years of service by the Health Board, a corsage from her fellow workers, red roses from her daughters and a lovely floral centerpiece from the Charlevoix Board of Education.

One of 'non-curricular' activities that has been a major part of Mrs. Miles years of service as community nurse was the annual Santa Claus project which assured every needy family in the community Christmas gifts for the children and a Christmas dinner for the family. She has informed those agencies which supported the project that she will be unable to take care of the project this year.

A native of Traverse City, the former Jeanne Goble is a graduate of Grace Hospital School of Nursing in Detroit and was associated with the Charlevoix Hospital as a registered nurse prior to becoming school and community nurse.

2 In Semi Finals For Scholarships

Susan J. Boss and William G. Mascioli have been named semifinalists in the 1974 National Merit Scholarship Program, according to Vane H. Smith, Charlevoix High School principal.

Miss Boss is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Boss of South Barnard-rd. Mascioli is the son of Mrs. Elizabeth Mascioli of Great Barrington, Mass., where he now attends school, and of Mr. Francis Mascioli. He attended school in Charlevoix last year.

They will compete for about 3,100 Merit Scholarships to be awarded in the spring, Smith said.

In the 18 annual competitions completed to date, 34,450 students have won scholarships valued at more than $95.5 million.

Miss Boss and Mascioli were among the highest scorers in Michigan in the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test-National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test administered last October to more than one million students in about 17,000 schools across the country.

They now must qualify as finalists to advance in the competition for Merit Scholarships. This involves endorsements by their schools, a second examination and proof of academic and other accomplishments.

About 90 percent of the semifinalists will become finalists and will be considered for one of the 1,000 National Merit $1,000 scholarships allocated on a state basis.

Many of the finalists will be considered for renewable four year Merit Scholarships supported by some 450 corporations, foundations, professional associations, colleges, unions, trusts and individuals. The renewable scholarships are worth $1,500 which adds up to $6,000 over a four-year college career.

Rev. Kohn In Ann Arbor For Surgery

Rev. Harold E. Kohn, pastor emeritus of the First Congregational Church of Charlevoix, is a patient at University Hospital in Ann Arbor awaiting surgery for removal of a tumor behind the forehead wall which is affecting the right eye.

Mrs. Kohn, who accompanied her husband to Ann Arbor, said Sunday that no date has been set for the operation, which will require services of three surgeons.

Rev. Kohn has had surgery several times in the past for the removal of similar tumors.

Friends may write him at Room 9339, University Hospital, Ann Arbor, Mich. 48104.

Guild Seeks Donations

The Women's Guild of Charlevoix Hospital is accepting donations to its annuol Thrift Sale, scheduled Oct. 19 and 20.

"We would like to urge our residents and visitors to help support this worthy and charitable civic project and notify us as soon as possible if they have any small pieces of furniture clean reusable items to donate," said Mrs. Opal Barrett, chairman of the event.

Income tax deduction statements will be given upon request.

The Charlevoix Recreation Department planned to show movies, "The Big Jumper" and "Fishing Fantastico," Tuesday Oct. 2, at Charlevoix High School.

Seniors Raise $652 for John Geyer

Charlevoix residents donated $652.67 to the John Geyer Fund last week, according to Charlevoix High School Senior Sheilah Brady.

The money will be used to purchase an electric typewriter for Geyer who was severely injured in the 1972 grid contest between Rogers City and Charlevoix.

Geyer, 18, a member of the Huron squad, suffered a partially severed spinal cord which has left him paralyzed from the waist down. However he still has the use of his fingers.

Some $289 was raised at Friday's football game with Rogers City.

Mis Brady and other representatives of the Senior Class drove to Rogers City Monday to present the money to Geyer at an assembly.

100 Tickets Already Sold For Cruise

Tickets for the annual Chamber of Commerce "Color Cruise" aboard the motor ship "Beaver Islander" are going fast, according to Thomas Merta, chamber director.

The cruise will be held Sunday, Oct. 14, with departure from the city dock.

Tickets cost $3.50 and include passage, beverages, snacks and live music for dancing.

The boat will skirt the wooded shores of Lake Charlevoix, which promise to be at their fall best at the time of the cruise. Tickets are non-refundable and may be purchased at the Chamber office.

Merta said 100 tickets have been sold, with 100 left to sell. Passage is limited to 200.

Parents' Night Is Oct. 8 At Elementary School

"Parents' Night" at the Charlevoix Elementary School has been slated for Monday, Oct. 8, from 7 until 9 p.m., according to Principal Glenn Snider.

Kindergarten teachers will be on hand throughout the evening to meet with parents.

Parents of First graders will be able to meet their children's teachers from 7 until 7:30. Second grade teachers will meet with parents from 7:30 until 8.

Third grade teachers will meet parents from 8 until 8:30 p.m. and Fourth grade teachers from 8:30 until 9.

Part of the program will be an explanation of the reading levels and other facets of the school program by the First grade staff.

The program has been broken up into time segments to allow parents to confer not only with homeroom teachers but also with reading and math teachers.

Music, art and physical education teachers also will be on hand to meet with parents.

Snider emphasized that the program Monday night is for parents only. Coffee will be served.

The Charlevoix Fire Department was called to the scene but was not needed.

Murphy was born Oct. 19, 1918, at Gilford, Mich., and moved to Boyne City in 1952 from Romeo when he went into business with his brother-in-law, Casimir Toton, as co-owner of Cass and Don's bar.

He was widely known throughout Michigan, particularly among Boyne Mountain skiers who spent their apres-ski hours at the popular Boyne City tavern.

A bachelor, Murphy is survived by his mother, Mrs. John R. Murphy, of Boyne City; two brothers, Monroe of Romeo and John of Birmingham, and five sisters, Mrs. Milton (Natalie) See of Romeo, Mrs. Neil (Marlene) Fletcher of Romeo, Mrs. Harold (Anna) Swartz of Marine City, Mrs. Leehugh (Betty) Buzzell of Livonia and Mrs. Cass (Barbara) Toton of Boyne City.

He was a veteran of World War II and belonged to the VFW, the Boyne City Eagles and the Northern Michigan Table Toppers Association.

Funeral was held Saturday at the Stackus Funeral Home in Boyne City, the Rev. Edgar Priess of the Boyne City Christ Lutheran Church officiating. Burial was in McMaffy Cemetery in Romeo.

Citizens To Study Schools

The Charlevoix Board of Education, at its regular meeting Monday night, approved the hiring of a new teacher for the Middle School, heard a report from the business manager regarding the estimated assessment for the May st. sewer on the school properties involved, discussed the Middle School locker problem, modified the school calendar, and established a Citizens Advisory Committee to survey the public school system and to make recommendations.

The appointment of Mary Ann McGin as a teacher in the Middle School was approved by the board. A Sociology and English Major, she will teach in the seventh and eighth grades. She is a native of Petoskey and is a graduate of Nazareth College, having taken some classes at Western Michigan University and taught one year in Kalamazoo. The hiring of another teacher at this level was necessary because of the increased enrollment in these grades.

Robert Bogart, business manager, reported that initial assessment costs for the May-st. sewer project have been set at $32,000 for the high school, the bus garage and the Building Trades house now under construction in Hampton Village. In addition, there will be a $200 tap-in charge for each of the three properties. More information relating to the length of the assessment charge and other details will be forthcoming following a meeting on the project scheduled for Thursday evening.

The locker situation at the Middle School where 3.5 students are using one locker was discussed. Supt. James A. McKimmy said that by utilizing some lockers being used elsewhere, 135 lockers would be needed to allow two students per locker. Space has been found for placement of the lockers to alleviate the crowded condition that exists. He was advised to seek bids on the lockers. He had received a pre-bid estimate of $25 per locker.

The board gave its approval to the modification of the school calendar to allow Nov. 28 and 29 as the dates of parent-teacher conferences on the K-12 level; to arrange the spring vacation break in line with the Intermediate School District calendar which allows for a spring break at a given

COHO LOUNGE

Girl Dies in Tavern Fire, Brothers Leap to Safety

Charlevoix firemen joined the Boyne City Fire Department early Saturday morning in battling a fire at the Coho Lounge on the Boyne City-rd. east of Horton Bay which claimed the life of Sandra Lee Bennett, 16.

Miss Bennett was the daughter of Wilford Morris Bennett, 43, owner of the cocktail lounge. Sheriff's deputies report that she apparently was asleep on the third floor of the building when fire broke out about 1 a.m.

Bennett's sons, William, 14, and Thomas, 11, also were asleep upstairs and were awakened by smoke. When they discovered the hallway on fire they jumped to the ground through a window and alerted their father and a customer, Gordon McClelland of Charlevoix, who attempted to reach Sandra's bedroom by wrapping wet towels around their heads. They were turned back by smoke and flames.

Bennett's wife, Leola, was in Detroit at the time to attend the funeral of her mother.

A passing motorist, Gordon Capelin of Boyne City, stopped at the scene and helped McClelland restrain Bennett, who tried repeatedly to reach the third floor of the burning building. He was later hospitalized for treatment of shock.

Bennett and his children had attended the Boyne City-Cheboygan game earlier in the evening. When they returned, the children went to bed and Bennett remained downstairs in the lounge to work.

The lounge was built about 10 years ago by Thomas Forton and was enlarged by Bennett last year to include living quarters above the cement block lounge area.

Services for Miss Bennett were held Tuesday at the Boyne City United Methodist Church, the Rev. R. Bruce Pierce officiating. Burial was in Maplelawn Cemetery.

She was born April 12, 1957, in Grosse Pointe. The family later lived in Mt. Clemens before moving to Boyne City, where she was a junior in the Twin Valley system.

In addition to her parents and her brothers, she is survived by a sister, Mrs. William (Nickki Lee) Fuller of Pittsburgh, Pa., and her maternal grandfather, Richard Morgan, of Yale, Mich.

Memorial contributions may be made to the United Methodist Youth Fellowship in Boyne City.

Auction Proceeds to Aid In War on Leukemia

The Brucie Chapter of the Children's Leukemia Foundation will hold a public auction Saturday, Oct. 13, from 1 until 5 p.m. at Castle Van Haver on M-66, with all proceeds going to the foundation.

Mrs. Nancy Oakes of Boyne City, co-president of the chapter with her husband, Ken Oakes, reports that she has been "overwhelmed" with the response by merchants in Charlevoix and East Jordan who were asked to donate items and services to the auction.

"The merchants have been terrific," she said.

Among the items to be auctioned will be appliances, furniture, a case of asparagus, dinner for two, snow tires, house plants, a free auto lube job and dozens of others.

The Oakes' son, Brucie, 6, died Nov. 10, 1971, after being a victim of leukemia for eight months.

Vice president of the Brucie Chapter is Mrs. Dorothy Withers of Charlevoix, whose husband, Bruce, died of leukemia last year.

Mrs. Oakes says that all money raised at the auction will remain in Michigan to aid in leukemia research and assist leukemia victims.

Lawyer With Charlevoix Ties May Succeed Justice Brennan

A man who has close ties with the Charlevoix area has been suggested as a nominee for vacancy on the Michigan Supreme Court to be created by the resignation of Justice Thomas E. Brennen.

He is Glenn Allen jr, a long-time summer resident of the Belvedere Club who recently purchased and refurnished the Maria's restaurant property on the Boyne City-rd. as a second home.

A native of Kalamazoo and former Kalamazoo mayor, Allen has been endorsed by the Kalamazoo Gazette as a possible successor to Brennan, whose resignation is effective Dec. 31. Brennan decided to step down after the press revealed that, in addition to his duties on the bench, Brennan is also operating his own law school.

A successor for Brennan will be named by Gov. William Millikem sometime before the end of the year.

Allen, 59, has degrees from Amherst College in Massachusetts, Kalamazoo College, the Columbia Law School in New York City and the Judge Advocate General's School at the University of Michigan.

In addition to years of private law practice, he served as state controller and budget director under Gov. George Romney and as special counsel for legal, fiscal and legislative affairs under Gov. Milliken.

He also was a delegate to the Constitutional Convention and has served as a member of the Kalamazoo County Board of Supervisors, Kalamazoo city commissioner, vice mayor and mayor.

During World War II he was a legal advisor to Gen. George Patton and was awarded four battle stars and a Bronze Star.

In its endorsement, the Kalamazoo Gazette said:

"Allen, whatever responsibility faces him, does his homework soundly. He performed well while in public life in Kalamazoo, including eight years as mayor. He was an active member of the Michigan Constitutional Convention. He has continued to perform well in the various assignments, many of a legal nature, given him by Govs. Romney and Milliken. His service to the people of Michigan has been outstanding.

"Glenn Allen has the temperament, legal background and practical political experience that would come in good stead if he were named to the bench."

William Cooper of Charlevoix, GOP coordinator for the 11th Congressional District, reports that Allen has been endorsed by the 11th District.

Zone Change Loses On a Technicality

Park-ave. Lots Stay Residential

Although the City Council voted three to two in favor of rezoning Charles Taylor's Park-ave. property from R-2 to C-1 at Monday night's meeting, the change won't take effect, according to City Attorney Norman Ance.

Ance pointed out that since a letter of objection was received from the Board of Trustees of the First Congregational Church, passage of the resolution would have required at least a three-fourths vote of the council.

The church board represents more than 20 percent of the property across the street from the 100 feet Taylor wanted rezoned.

Aldermen Gerald Selph, George Plumm and Robert Timmis voted for the change with Aldermen Jeannine Wallace and Sam Supernaw voting against it. Alderman Richard Fochtman is on vacation and was absent from the meeting.

Earlier in the meeting, Attorney John Michael presented petitions to the council signed by 105 Park-ave. residents objecting to the change.

Michael said that although all of the first block of Park-ave. west of Bridge-st. is zoned C-1, the street never has truly been a commercial neighborhood, with the exception of two beauty shops.

"I know of no other area in the city zoned contrary to its present use," he said.

He said he was "shocked" that the Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission had approved Taylor's request for the zoning change.

He further said that Taylor had submitted no specific site plan for future use of the property, which abuts Pine River Channel.

Taylor, who lives in Charlevoix and Little Rock, Ark., actually owns 200 feet of Park-ave. frontage. The easterly 100 feet already is zoned commercial.

He told the council he would be able to make better use of the land if it were all zoned commercial. He said that at present there are only two small houses on the land "and anything we do would be an improvement."

Taylor pointed out that his neighbors on Park-ave. between State and Bridge-sts. all have approved the change. He promised to submit a site plan to the council before proceeding with any project.

After the vote, Taylor thanked the council for its support without realizing that the change couldn't take effect because of a technicality in the law.

Deliberation of another zoning change at the corner of Meech-st. and Petoskey-rd. was cancelled after the council received word from Pat Cormican, representing

Mr. and Mrs. David R. Himebauch

Gregg-Himebauch Rites Solemnized at Holy Cross

Ruth Ellen Gregg of St. James became the bride of David Ray Himebauch of Charlevoix in ceremonies Sept. 22 at Holy Cross Church on Beaver Island, the Rev. Fr. Herbert Graf, OFM, and Fr. Donhue officiating at the double-ring rite.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Robert Gregg of St. James. The bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Archie Himebauch of Charlevoix.

Approximately 200 guests witnessed the ceremony which was performed before an altar decorated with orange and yellow mums.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an organza gown accented with imported peau d'ange. The gown featured a long train, high neckline and long, full sleeves. Her veil was secured by a cap of lace and she carried a bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses.

Music was supplied by Barry Loper on the guitar.

Mrs. Joseph Moore, a sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. David Pischner of Charlevoix and Miss Mary Gillespie and Miss Mary Ann Palmer of the island.

The maid of honor wore an Empire-styled gown of rust orange with white lace trim. The bridesmaids wore Empire-styled chiffon gowns in mint green with white lace trim. They carried baskets of varicolored fall leaves and yellow and orange mums.

The bridesgroom's brother, John Himebauch of Charlevoix, was best man. Groomsmen were Barry Loper of Charlevoix, Jeff Himebauch of Charlvoix and Joseph Moore of Traverse City. They also served as ushers.

After the wedding, the bride's parents hosted a reception at Holy Cross Hall.

After a wedding trip to Sault Ste. Mari, Ont., the couple will make their home at Bay Shore.

The bridegroom is employed at Will Flow Corp. and the bride owns her own gift shop.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Gregg wore a navy-blue dress with white accessories. Mrs. Himebauch wore a blue and white dress with white accessories.

The bridegroom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the Circle M the evening before the wedding.

Antrim Will Host Dinner for Ruppe

U.S. Cong. Philip E. Ruppe will meet with his constituents in Antrim County for the first time Monday Oct. 15 at the Antrim Republicans' annual fall turkey dinner at Shanty Creek Lodge.

The occasion will mark the first time Ruppe has had a chance to meet socially with Antrim County residents since the county became a part of the 11th Congressional District last year. Ruppe will be the principal speaker.

A cash bar with complimentary hors d'oeuvres will be open at 6:30 p.m., followed by dinner at 7:30 p.m.

Tickets are available from members of the Republican Committee in Antrim County or from County Chairman Dick Dunsmore at Shanty Creek Lodge, Bellaire.

Tim Parsel Completes Truck Course

Timothy P. Parsel, R-3, Charlevoix, was among the graduates of the 101 Truck Driver Training Class of Lansing Community College.

Training involved 40 hours of classroom instruction and 120 hours of driving on the training range and highway including an over-the-road trip to parts of Michigan, Kentucky, Ohio & Indiana.

Truck Driver Training Certificate are awarded to the students at graduation ceremonies Sept. 28, 1973 at Fort Custer in Battle Creek.

Potluck suppers and adult education courses will be incorporated into the Wednesday events later in the season.

Town Responds to Idea Of Marking Old Homes

By BERNICE WEXSTAFF

Old-timers and new-comers to Charlevoix are responding with enthusiasm to the Historical Society's project of honoring old structures with commemorative plaques to preserve local history and observe the national bicentennial in 1976.

Mrs. Alice Gebeau, 106 W. Lincoln, one of the first to respond, says her abstract of title is dated 1883 and although she is not certain when her building was erected she is dead certain her store building is old as the lumber was fastened with wooden pegs, antedating metal nails in use today by over a half-century.

Albert Seger, 200 East Hurlbut, has also contacted the Society and plans to join the group as a member. He will furnish the Society with further information relative to his dwelling. Seger is a newcomer to Charlevoix but there are those in the Society who recall that his property was once owned by Capt. George Weaver who once sailed Pine Lake (Lake Charlevoix) as master of a passenger-freight ship that ran regular schedules between Boyne City and Charlevoix.

The dwelling at 110 Park-ave. now owned by Hudson Phelps was once known as the Morris Stockman home and may be the oldest residence in the original Charlevoix plat having been built in 1887.

However, Stockman must surely have owned some other home previously as his wife was the village school teacher on what is now Belvedere Club property before the club was organized in 1878.

There is also in existence a picture taken in 1889 from the belfry of the old white brick school house (now long gone) with the Bergeon, Brown and Bennett homes clearly defined.

It has been suggested that the cut-off date for pioneer homes by the year 1900, making all so-marked homes at least 75 years old by the bicentenial in 1976.

These homes now reported will be permanently noted in the Charlevoix Historical Society's records. Others who plan to co-operate in the project may phone Mrs. Carl Kohler --547-2963 or Frances Durance, 547-2937.

Anthony Genia Named To Post at Dartmouth

Anthony Genia, a native of Charlevoix and graduate of Charlevoix High School, has been appointed to an administrative position at Dartmouth College, Hanover, N.H.

He will serve as liaison officer with the Office of Admissions and Financial Aid, with responsibility for Indian student recruiting.

Appointed with him was Mrs. Sandra Lakota Spaulding, who will serve as counselor in the Native American Program.

Genia is an Ottawa-Choctaw. Mrs. Spaulding is a Santee-Yankton-Dakota.

The appointments were announced by Dr. Donald L. Kreider, vice president and dean for student affairs. Kreider said Mrs. Spaulding and Genia will also serve as adminisistratlve representatives on the newly formed Native American Council, the major policy-making organization for non-academic Indian programs at Dartmouth.

Genia received his B.A. in Business Administration from Michigan State University in 1967, his M.P.P. in Public Policy Studies from the University of Michigan in 1972 and is presently a Ph.D candidate in community college administration at the U of M's Center for Higher Education.

From 1968 until 1972, Genia worked as a consultant for Oklahomans for Indian Opportunity in Norman, Okla., and later in Washington, D.C.

In addition, he served as low-rent housing specialist in 1971 for the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD), and as a native American counselor at the U of M.

At the university he also initiated recruitment and support services for native American students, such as studies programs, work-study projects, a native American student association and helped increase native American enrollment from nine to more than 80 students.

Genia is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Genia of Charlevoix and is married to the former Ann Hawley of Charlevoix. They have four children, Anthony jr., 11; Jinny, 9; Andrea, 7; and Timothy, 4.

Mrs. Genia and the children will continue to make their home in Ann Arbor until December, when they will move to Hanover.

DON'T WASTE NATURAL GAS.

In fact, it helps her conserve Gas. It's her permanent press cycle. Ten minutes of nothing but fresh fluffing air on her permanent press clothes—to keep the wrinkles from setting in. This saves Sarah all kinds of ironing, all kinds of Gas and all kinds of money. No wonder it's her favorite feature.

But there's much more to appreciate in today's modern Gas dryers. Improved insulation and more precise controls mean even less fuel consumed, and even more money saved. And a Gas dryer operates for about one-fourth the cost of operating an electric one.

So, when you think about replacing your old dryer, think about a new Gas dryer with the permanent press cycle and other money-saving features. Various size models are now on display at Gas appliance dealers and Michigan Consolidated Gas Company showrooms.

And, whether you purchase a new dryer or use your present one, here are a few good tips for increasing its operating efficiency. (1) Keep the dryer's lint filter clean. (2) Avoid overdrying your clothing. (3) Keep the dryer's flue clear of lint accumulations. (4) Don't forget to follow the manufacturer's proper operating instructions.

By ANDREA WAGNER

The Student Council met Sept. 26 with President Janet Begrow presiding.

This year's Senior escorts for homecoming are John Osterberg, Pat Whitley, Tim Moerland, Tom Keie, and Randy Smith

Homecoming committees were set up. They are as follows: Bonfire-Chris Begrow, Jim Marshall, Jon Mays, and Wally Drenth. Cars for cheerleaders-Kim Carter and Marian Staley. Judges-Peggy Carey and Dona Bellows. Master of Ceremonies-Jim Marshall and Glenda Reedy. Window Painting-Rae Anne Slone.

A motion was made by Dona Bellows to join the National Association of Student Councils. The motion was seconded by Rae Anne Slone. The motion was passed.

CHS Musicians to Join In MSU Band Day Fete

By Jim Berlage

On Saturday, Oct. 20, three bus loads of the 120 member Red Rayder Marching Band, under the direction of Gary Stutzman, and one U-Haul, will travel to Michigan State University, in East Lansing, for the 19th Annual MSU Band Day.

Charlevoix will be one of the 36 bands participating.

The Rayders will leave Charlevoix for Michigan State at 2:45 a.m., on Saturday and arrive at Old College Field around 7:30 a.m. At 8 a.m., drills start and will continue until 10 a.m.

From 10 to 11 is lunch break for everyone.

At 11:30 all the bands line up to march onto the field at two minute intervals.

The high school bands presentation is set for 1:10 p.m. with the MSU Band pregame show following at 1:15. Kick-off time is 1:30 with Michigan State opposing Illinois.

At halftime a performance by the massed bands, totaling 3,527 bandsmen, will be presented. The combined bands will play "Colonel Bogey" by Alfred, "Lassus Trombone" by Fillmore, "On The Mall" by Goldman and "Stars and Stripes Forever" by Sousa.

A postgame presentation will feature three bands, each doing a seven minute show.

At 4 p.m. the Rayders will leave the stadium and stay for the night at the Hospitality Inn, located two miles off campus.

Chaperones for the trip are Mr. and Mrs. Jack Mol, Mr. and Mrs. David Fowler, Dr. and Mrs. Robert Tollas, Mr. and Mrs. James Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Carland, Mr and Mrs. Gary Stutzman.

As of Oct. 2, more than 100 tickets to the game had been sold in the community.

This year the Rayder Band has a new look, with Jim Sundberg as Drum Major, plus eight beautiful girls in the Flag Corps. Carrying the colors of the conference are Debbie Powell, Peggy Carey, Susie Potter, Lynn Bradley, Denise Boss, Sue Westenbroek, Sandra Hodge and Sue Winchester.

CHS Golfers Winning Most of Their Matches

By PAM FOCHTMAN

Charlevoix High School's sixth season of golf began Sept. 27.

Although Charlevoix's golf team consists of 14 boys, only five are eligible to compete at each meet.

Gerry Sandahl, Chuck Faust, Joe Early, Bud Klooster, and Chris Hanna represented Charlevoix in the first golf match against St. Ignace. Charlevoix was defeated by the Saints, 172-180.

Sept. 19, Charlevoix competed with Elk Rapids. Representing Charlevoix were: Gerry Sandahl, Chuck Faust, Jim Marshall, Jim Pettis, Bud Klooster and Chris Hanna. Charlevoix defeated Elk Rapids, 181-195.

Gaylord, Grayling and Charlevoix met in a dual meet held at Gaylord, Septemeber 24, 1973. Gerry Sandahl, Chuck Faust, Bud Klooster, Jack Tillen, and Jim Marshall traveled to this meet. Gaylord placed first, Charlevoix second and Grayling third.

Library notes

Some of our patrons may have seen an interview recently on the Lou Gordon program when Dougal Robertson told how he had purchased the 43-foot schooner Lucette to take his wife, his 18-year-old son, his 12-year-old twin sons and a student friend on an educational cruise around the world.

The schooner was attacked by killer whales in the Pacific and sank in 60 seconds. Equipped with emergency rations of food and water for only three days and no maps or compass instruments, they decided to make for the coast of Costa Rica, 1,000 miles and an estimated 50 days away with only an inflated rubber raft and a 9-foot dinghy. "Survive the Savage Sea" is the first person account of their 38-day ordeal before they were finally rescued by a Japanese fishing boat. This is surely one of the great adventure stories of our time.

When you're famous, black and over seven feet tall, you soon discover that there's no place to hide, so Wilt Chamberlain hides nothing. He's seen just about everything, and in this new autobiography, he tells about it. "Wilt" is more than just a book about basketball. Chamberlain is a sophisticated world traveler with gigantic appetites for people, places and fun. He talks about the celebrities he's known, his million-dollar house, his friends, and his enemies. A lot of players won't like this book. A lot of fans and readers are going to love it.

"The First Deadly Sin" by Lawrence Sanders is a very different and very exciting suspense novel. Many people have thought of killing someone—an unfaithful wife or a dangerous business rival, but very few people would think of taking the life of a complete stranger. What kind of man would take delight in it, plan it carefully, go into training for it like an ambitious athlete. The other strange question unusual novel of murder and detection concerns the make-up of an efficient detective who gives up his former like to study crimes and pursue criminals. For a novel about murder this book contains remarkably little physical violence.

Priest to Address Businessmen

Fr. Al Blonigen, C.M.M., will be the guest speaker at the October dinner sponsored by the Full Gospel Business Men's Fellowship on Oct. 13 at 6:30 p.m. at the Holiday Inn in Petoskey.

He is a member of the congregation of Marianhill Mission Society and a teacher on the staff of the Divine Word Seminary at Perrysburg, Ohio.

He took two years of special training at the University of Wurzburg in Europe and obtained his degree in music. He presently teaches liturgy and music.

Fr. Blonigen also directs the worship services at St. Raphael's Parish in Garden City, Mich., is a chaplain of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes, and is director of the Amazing Grace prayer group. He has done considerable counseling of married couples and people with problems of alcoholism. His talk will be on "Healing in the Church."

The program starts at 7:30 p.m. and anyone wishing to attend the program but not the dinner is welcome.

Reservations for the dinner may be made, not later than Wednesday, October 10th, by calling Charlevoix, 547-4291, or Petoskey, 347-2728 or 347-9797.

Training In Classrooms

Stewart E. Coleman and Ruth N. Kruse of the Charlevoix area are two of 44 Alma College students who are doing student teaching during the college's fall term.

Coleman, the son of Mrs. Marjorie Coleman of 102 E. Hurlbut, Charlevoix, is teaching fifth grade at Luce Road Elementary School; and Miss Ruth Kruse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Kruse, Jr., of Eastport, is teaching kindergarten at Westgate Elementary School.

Terry Grears At Seminar

Dr. and Mrs. Terry Grear of the Charlevoix Chiropractic Center will be attending a chiropractic seminar in Kansas City from Oct. 4 through Oct. 12.

SPEED READING COURSE

Set to Begin in Petoskey and Charlevoix areas

A seven week course in speed reading will be conducted in Petoskey by Accelerated Reading of California.

The course is open to anyone above the age of 13 and guarantees every graduate a minimum improvement of double their initial reading speed with better comprehension. The average graduate obtains 1500 plus words per minute.

The cost of this course is less than half that of many similar courses you may have investigated, and after the seven week program a person can read any average length book in less than one hour and understand it better. In addition to speed reading, the course also emphasizes improved study techniques, better test taking skills, and increased concentration and retention abilities.

The course requires a person to attend one class per week on the evening of their choice. For those who would like more information, without obligation to enroll, a FREE 1-hour orientation lecture has been scheduled.

These meetings are free to the public and the course will be explained in complete detail including entrance requirements, class room procedures, tuition, class schedule and location. Also on the program: How to become a speed reader at Home or at the Office.

..ONE FULL COURSE GIVEN FREE AS DOOR
..PRIZES, also Drawings for other valuable
..Door Prizes.

CHARLEVOIX JV'S lost to their St. Ignace counterparts last Thursday, 28-0. Ballcarrier (No. 14) above is Randy Williams.

St. Ignace JV Squad Blanks Rayders, 28-0

By Norm Probert

The St. Ignace JV's scored twice in the first period and Charlevoix's inability to mount an offense sealed the JV's fate Thursday evening at Kipke Field. It was a shut-out, 28-0.

St. Ignace scored in the first four minutes of the game when Micky Campbell ran 30 yards on a reverse. The extra point was stopped.

The Saints' defense then joined in when Curtis Cheeseman, a linebacker, intercepted a Charlevoix pitch and ran nine yards for the score. Mike Woodford tacked on two points on a dive play.

St. Ignace scored again with four minutes left in the half on a 30-yard pass from Tom Frazier to Jim Bishop. Again, Mike Woodford tacked on another two points for the Saints.

In the second half, Charlevoix's defense stiffened, following the lead of Randy Williams. With 17 tackles, the JV's showed they were capable of containing the Saints.

Other Charlevoix defensemen who played well were Doug Smith, linebacker; Casey Culberson, free safety; and Mark Hosmer, defense end.

St. Ignace's final score came with five minutes left on the clock when Mike Woodford capped a 35-yard drive with a two-yard plunge, leaving Charlevoix on the wrong end of a 28-0 score.

Charlevoix will travel to Boyne City this Thursday to take on the very tough Rambler JV's. The following Thursday, Charlevoix will host Petoskey at Kipke Field.

Both Boyne City and Petoskey should prove a good test of the Charlevoix squad.

The Common Council of the City of Charlevoix met on the above date and time with Mayor Hansen presiding. Ald. present: Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman and Plumm. Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

The minutes of the Sept. 10, 1973 meeting were approved as presented in writing and as recorded in the Council Minutes Book.

Motion was made by Alderwoman Wallace and supported by Ald. Plumm that the Council grant the permit to the Hudson Movers of Cheboygan, Michigan to move the Hess home from 207 Michigan Ave. (now belonging to C. Lee Meltleur) to Hayes Twp. according to Permit and Agreement-Building Moves, dated Sept. 11, 1973 accompanied by a $1500 deposit. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas Ald. Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald Fochtman and Plumm. Nays. None. Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

A representative from Holiday Stationstores, Inc. was unable to attend the meeting and requested to meet with the Council at the next regular meeting.

Alderwoman Wallace offered a Resolution regarding the resetting of the Public Hearing for the May Street Sewer Project from Sept. 27, 1973 to Oct. 11, 1973 and moved its adoption supported by Ald. Timms. The Resolution was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

James Corbin appeared and advised the Council that the piece of property he had hoped to exchange with the City no longer belongs to them. The Temporary Administrator was instructed to work with Mr Corbin to find another suitable piece for exchange.

Correspondence was read from Wesley K. Scott, showing his interest in obtaining the Fairbanks-Morse 32E Diesel engine for his museum collection. The matter was put to the Utility Committee for recommendations

Thomas Hanna's correspondence of Sept. 13, 1973, regarding contract negotiations of the labor contracts which will expire March 1, 1974 was reviewed. The temporary Administrator was instructed to set up a meeting with Mr Jacobs of Huston, Jacobs and Ward to discuss the procedures relative to the matter

Correspondence from Ron Pair Enterprises of Sept 17, 1973 regarding the purchase of property in the Industrial Park Site was referred to the City Attorney for his research. The Council felt that the property should be platted a value put on it and find out what facilities are needed

New rates of electricity were discussed briefly and put back into Committee for further study. Date of committee meeting Oct. 1, 1973 at 8 00 P M.

Mr Wexstatt asked that he be allowed to attend the Advanced Short Course for Assessing Personnel, Oct 23 25, 1973 in Ann Arbor. Council had no objection to his attending the meetings.

Motion was made by Ald Plumm and seconded by Ald Selph that the City employees selection of Benjamin Gill as delegate and Norman Empey as alternate delegate for the employees be certified and that Ald Fochtman be selected as delegate and Alderwoman Wallace as alternate delegate to represent the Municipality at the Mich Municipal Retirement Annual Meeting in Traverse City, Oct 25. 1973. The motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote Yeas: Ald Selph Timms Alderwoman Wallace, Ald Fochtman and Plumm Nays None. Absent Ald Supernaw

Moved by Ald Fochtman and supported by Ald Timms that the city approve of the renewal for license of Joe McPhillips as Airport Manager for the year beginning Nov. 1, 1973 and ending October 31, 1974. The Mayor is hereby authorized to sign the application on behalf of the City of Charlevoix. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

Moved by Ald. Fochtman and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the City approve the renewal of the Airport License by the Michigan Dept. of Aeronautics for the year beginning Nov. 1, 1973 and ending October 31, 1974, and that the Mayor be authorized to sign on behalf of the City. Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald. Fochtman and Plumm. Nays: None. Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

Robert Wexstatt, Temporary Administrator, was instructed to post for job description a lineman, equipment operator and a water service man, and to hire a laborer.

Correspondence was reviewed with regard to Police Chief Mol having been extended an Invitation as candidate to attend the next session of the FBI National Academy during Jan., Feb., and Mar 1974. Council unanimously directed Mr. Mol to attend the F B I Academy.

Motion made by Ald Fochtman and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the Mayor be authorized to sign for the City, the Memorandum of Understanding with the D.N.R Motion was adopted by the following yea and nay vote Yeas Ald Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald Fochtman and Plumm. Nays None. Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

Alderwoman Wallace reported the complaints received by her from her constituents with regard to the Garbage Service and of the Park steps at Michigan beach Mr. Wexstatt, Temporary Administrator, was directed to check with the Charlevoix Garbage Service and also to review the contract before the next regular meeting.

Ald Fochtman raised a question as to why the street lights on the south side of Dixon Ave. have not worked for the past four months. He requested that estimates of cost be gotten for a 20' x 40' wooden building, for salt storage, with 6 inch concrete floor and 2½ or 3" creosote plank lining; also estimates on a 50' by 100' cement block or steel building with four bays and industrial fiberglass doors 12' by 12'. The Temporary Administrator was directed to get the estimates.

Mr. Fochtman also asked the Council's thoughts on contributing to the Planning Commission. He felt since nothing had been set up in the budget, perhaps monies set up in the Council budget might be used to support the commission He told the Council that the Commission is working on a parking plan for the downtown area, which he feels needs their support. Complaints have been registered with him about the residents of Charlevoix depositing trash at the curb and calling the street garage to have it picked up. He asked that the city set up a policy for this. It was suggested that this be reviewed Oct. 1, 1973 along with the Garbage Service contract.

The Finance Committee having examined bills totaling $93,154.28 find them correct and recommend they be allowed. Moved by Ald Plumm and supported by Ald. Timms that the bills be allowed and orders drawn for their amounts. Motion adopted by the following yea and nay vote. Yeas: Ald. Selph, Timms, Alderwoman Wallace, Ald Fochtman and Plumm. Nays None Absent: Ald. Supernaw.

Moved by Ald. Fochtman and supported by Alderwoman Wallace that the Council adjourn. Carried

Edison Still Must Seek Best Qualified Workers

In his decision that the Detroit Edison Co. has been guilty of racial discrimination in not hiring more blacks and in not advancing more blacks to high administrative positions, U.S. District Judge Damon Keith overlooks the fact that many of the better-paying jobs in a power utility are of a highly technical nature which demand a certain amount of technical expertise.

In the past, Edison has used IQ and aptitude tests in its hiring process and blacks, because of faults in the educational system, do not perform so well on such tests as non-blacks.

As a result, Judge Keith has ordered the tests discontinued.

Edison says it will appeal Judge Keith's decision, which would require the company to pay more than $4 million to blacks who were judged victims of racial discrimination.

He further ordered that Edison should strive to achieve at least 30 percent black employment, about the ratio of blacks to non-blacks in Edison's service area.

Which is all well and good. Employment bias --- whether intentional or unintentional --- lies at the root of most of the racial problems facing the country today.

What bothers us about Judge Keith's decision is his order abolishing IQ and aptitude tests.

Detroit Edison, after all, is a publicly owned utility which must strive to secure the best qualified employees possible if it is to continue to provide electric power at prices the public can afford to pay.

To deprive the company of the expertise it needs to make things run effectively would be totally unfair not only to Edison but to the company's, customers.

The alternative, it seems to us, would be to expand recruitment activities among blacks to create a larger pool from which to select the best qualified employes.

If Edison is forced to hire every incompetent --- either black or white --- who knocks on the door, the company could find itself in grave trouble.

Charlevoix's Fog Horn Still Isn't Automated

Editors Note: The following letter was received by Frank A. Rothschild in response to an inquiry about the Charlevoix fog horn directed to Capt. H. E. Lindemann of the Ninth Coast Guard District. Rothschild asked whether the Charlevoix horn were automated, since it sometimes operated on bright sunny days. And on some foggy days there's nary a peep out of it. Here Capt. Lindemann's answer.)

Mr. A. Frank Rothschild
1200 Hamptondale Road
Winnetka, IL 60093

Dear Sir:

On September 18, 1973 you wrote regarding the Charlevoix, Michigan fog signal, and cited an article in "Lakeland Boating," issue of July 1973.

I am not familiar with the article "Battle Looms Over the Light List" in that publication, but I will attempt to answer your queries about fog signals.

First, the fog signal at Charlevoix is still manually controlled. It is turned on when visibility over Lake Michigan is less than two miles. It is entirely possible that on a bright sunny day in Charlevoix there is fog over the Lake, and conversely. It is also possible that the men operating the signal were slow in responding to changed conditions, although the latter is unusual since there are usually quite a few people who will contact the local Coast Guard Station if the fog signal operation isn't normal.

Second, regarding automation, it is possible to buy a device to automatically turn a fog signal on and off depending on visibility, day or night. We do have a few of these in operation now, but the supply is quite limited for a number of rather complex reasons I won't go into. We do expect, and I have stated to a number of people, including the press, that in about two years (fiscal year 1976) I expect the supply problem to be eased so that we can get them when the cost warrants. In the interim, at a number of locations (but not Charlevoix) we have placed fog signals in continuous operation. The success of these efforts (an attempt to cut costs) has been mixed. In some cases local residents have complained about the noise, in other boatmen have complained that the lower powered fog signal wasn't loud enough, and sometimes we've gotten both complaints about the same fog signal. Some of our efforts have worked out quite well, that is without complaints from anyone.

The fog signal at Charlevoix was changed this last summer from an air powered horn to an electric horn. That change was simply because parts to repair the old air powered horns are no longer available, and because the newer electric horns require much less machinery and equipment to operate and are hence much more reliable and easier to maintain. We did get some complaints about the tone of the new horn, but its power and the method of turning it on and off, are still the same as for the old horn.

Sincerely,

H.E. LINDEMANN
CAPTAIN, U. S. Coast Guard
Chief, Aids to Navigation Branch
By direction of the Commander
Ninth Coast Guard District

Wild Beasts Roam Streets Of Jasper

(The following article from the Sept. 12 Jasper (Alberta) Booster has been received from Dr. and Mrs. James Cunningham, who moved to the wilds of the Canadian Northwest this summer. In addition to the roving beasts mentioned in the article, the Cunninghams report black bears sauntering by their kitchen window and coyotes in the parking lot.)

"Winter is coming and maybe it is going to be a dilly. At least some signs point to that as some animals have shown.

"The Joe Blasko family were awakened Saturday morning by their dog raising an uncommon ruckus. They investigated and found a large cougar, maybe 60 pounds or so, in the back yard at 812 Patricia Street. The wardens were called and they tranquilized the cat, moving him out to the Devona area where he woke up, none the worse for his trip to town.

"Another incident last week brought down the curses of another Jasper family on a large buck deer. This one invaded the back yard of the Cliff Johnston family at 215 Patricia Street and demolished three small trees. The wardens were called but declined to become alarmed. Mrs. Johnston told us she was very concerned over the safety to people as this deer seemed to be livid with rage and she thought children, especially, could be in danger from this large deer.

"Mrs. Johnston said they had seen many deer in their many years in Jasper, and of course, had seen them brooming off their velvet, but this deer looked deranged he was so vicious. The warden who answered her phone call said he was probably just brushing off some velvet."

As a postscript, Mrs. Cunningham added:

"Oh well, were I back in Charlevoix, a UFO might get me! Prefer to go "naturally."

Dear Sir:

If we are to re-establish the Constitution of the United States to full force and effect, and that is a primary objective of the Michigan Americanism Council, it is the duty of us all to awaken our neighbors to the fact that the protection of freedom is an individual responsibility, not something left to "government". More and more we hear sadly, "the government will not let this or that happen", or "the government will take care of us". This growing blind indifference and complaisance is frightening beyond description.

You may be sure, government will take care of us as did Hitler, Caesar and all dictators throughout history when the Constitutuional protections are fully destroyed.

A prime method used to destroy freedom is confiscation of property through Inflation. This issue must be stressed by each of us because without doubt the forces of inflation have been felt by more of the general public during the past three months than at any single time in the past three decades. Since the public is awakening and is becoming aware, we must let them know that without dollar convertibility (to gold) we face:

1. Trade wars that could easily lead to a vast shooting war;

2. Shortages of every conceivable kind;

3. Loss of savings, property values and;

4. Not only loss of economic values, but political freedom itself!

This issue is simply whether government shall be the servant of a sovereign people, or whether the private citizen shall be enslaved by his government. Shall respect be restored for our right to private property as provided in the Constitution, or shall we be squeezed to death in the coils of the socialist state?

What can you do? You can use the legal, moral and ethical protections that our founders provided us with. The Constitutional right and duty to petition your Congressman to uphold his oath of office and demand that you be allowed to own the commody gold and that Congress re-assume its constitutional authority in matters pertaining to money.

If your Congressman voted recently against your constitutional right to own gold, as did mine-Phillip Ruppe-then ask him why? Ask him why he places you along with the slaves in communist dictatorships as the only people on earth forbidden to protect your property through gold ownership? And, ask him when he is going to do something about taking your financial future out of the hands of special interest bureaucrats who have usurped your constitutional right to financial freedom?

And if you get socialistic double talk in reply, as Congressman Ruppe is want to give, let him know that you intend to lead the parade of voters next year dedicated to replacing him with a man that will uphold his promise to the people, before God, to protect and preserve the United States Constitution.

Clockwise The Leaf Collection

By BOB CLOCK

If our nine-year-old Katie tackles every hurdle in life with the enthusiasm she gave to the "leaf collection" Mrs. Connie Pointner assigned her Fourth Graders recently, I'm not too worried about her future success. At least not if she takes to collecting leaves for a living.

She somehow managed to get us all embroiled in the project, and to tell you the truth I learned more in the past month about leaves, the way they are arranged on a branch, the differences between the many oaks and maples and how they got their names than I ever dreamed possible.

Mrs. Pointner asked only for ten samples of leaves and she gave the students a good month to complete the project.

Katie has 10 different leaves picked and pressed the first day. Everything after that was a labor of love, and no living botanical specimen was immune from her attentions.

I don't know how many hours we spent touring the countryside looking for strange and exotic trees to add to the collection. All of our friends and neighbors were duly alerted to keep their eyes open for unusual contributions.

During the collection period, Katie's cousin Tom Gross from Plymouth paid us a visit and was drawn into the project. When he returned home, Katie received a letter from him containing sycamore and gingko leaves from trees in his backyard.

Sycamores and gingkos apparently don't do well this far north, but they thrive in the Detroit area.

The following day a big envelope arrived from Tom's girl, Jill Parks, who lives in California. She contributed a eucalyptus, a lemon and an avocado, which were pressed and eventually mounted.

During the course of the project, Judy bought Katie a book on leaf identification and we have all read it from cover to cover. Our encyclopedias also were pressed into use, as was Webster's Dictionary.

Did you know, for example, that forsythia is a member of the olive family and that it was named after British botanist William Forsyth who was born in 1804? I didn't. Forsythia is a trifle unusual in the plant world because the flowers appear before the leaves. I guess I knew that much about forsythia, but I never gave it much thought, to tell the truth.

I mentioned to Katie that there was a miniature holly tree growing in front of the News-Review office in Petoskey. She couldn't sleep until I produced one bright, waxy leaf to add to her collection.

When all the leaves were collected, Katie scrounged some poster board from her dad and borrowed his typewriter to type the names of the various specimens. Judy spent a small fortune on clear Contact paper at the hardware store and the living room floor was expropriated for several evenings as Katie mounted her leaves.

When completed, the exhibit contained 38 specimens all identified to the best of her ability.

Saturday afternoon, I sat down at the piano in the living room to see if I remembered how to play. The sound was terribly tinny. I yanked open the front and reached down inside in front of all those little hammers to see if I could discover the problem. I pulled out a large, dry leaf and handed it to Katie.

"It's my American elm;" she squealed. "I wondered what happened to it. We'd better save it for Jennifer's collection. There won't be many elms left when she gets to Fourth Grade."

Color Tour? Humbug!

By Jim Fitzgerald

The Auto Club says I should drive north and look at the leaves before they are raked.

What gas shortage?

Has Johnny Cash been kidding us? There is he on TV every night, tying a knot in the gasoline hose. Stay home or slow down, he says. There's not enough gas to go around.

But go take a color tour anyway. See the pretty leaves. That's what Triple-A and tourist associations urge every fall. They lure us into the country with poetic descriptions of tree-filled ravines and wooded bluffs.

It was only recently that I fully understood the meaning of a "color tour." I'd heard the expression for years without paying much attention. I always thought a color tour meant something like a group of tourists filing through a Sherwin-Williams factory. Or a Greyhound bus, with Fred MacMurray at the wheel, speeding through Harlem.

I was astounded when I finally realized someone was seriously suggesting I should drive hundreds of miles for no other purpose than to look at trees. There are trees in my backyard that I have never looked at.

Don't get me wrong. I know only God could make Joyce Kilmer (and only Jeffery Lynn could play the role in the movies. Name the movie and win a cigar). I wince every time I see a tree stump. But I see most of those stumps along roadsides. The trees have been felled so the road can be widened, or so another freeway can connect two more Holiday Inns.

The point is obvious: There would be more trees to look at if there were not so many highways built for people who want to drive somewhere to look at trees.

This is the wrong attitude, I'm sure (I'm not really sure, but you probably are and I don't like to antagonize readers). Doctors are always prescribing a week in the country. Poets have filled books describing the beauties of getting lost in a swamp. Everyone knows Mother Nature lives outside of town and only a fool would refuse her siren invitation to come calling.

How could I be such a fool? How could I prefer subways and theatres and poolrooms to hills and dales and daisies?

Well, it used to be hard. I used to feign a flattened fibula when the rest of the kids went on a hike. I would plead pleurisy when my family went picnicking. I avoided hunting trips by telling my brave friends I suffered with the rare anticompass disease which prevented me from going anywhere from which I could not find my way back home by following an extension cord.

But no longer need I resort to such sticky subterfuge. Now I refuse to go on a color tour because of Johnny Cash and the world's dwindling supply of gasoline.

I am not a homebound sissy. I am simply patriotically ecological, or ecologically patriotic, take your choice.

And please pull that drape. I think I just saw a tree.

To Whom It May Concern...

By Doris Huckle

While some schools in Michigan struggle with teacher strikes and busing problems, here in the East Jordan-Boyne City area other kinds of dissension plague school boards, administrators, Citizens Advisory groups, taxpaying parents, and even news reporters.

It's been a long tedious trail for all, in what is now known as the Twin Valley School, ever since voters gave approval to consolidate the East Jordan and Boyne City school systems on July 19, 1968.

Job applications from downstate teachers flood in, so do students while housing problems of both schools remain unsolved.

Immediately after consolidation, some voters yelled "Foul!"

They claimed they only voted for consolidation because they thought it meant saving administrative expense, not physically combining student classrooms, building a new facility, or bussing to and from their respective cities.

They wanted another election, but were turned down by the State Legislature.

Then they, along with other taxpayers, defeated a bond proposal to build a new school.

For over five years, concerned Citizens Advisory Groups have spend endless hours in discussion with each other and with school boards. Some board members and administrators have since been replaced.

Blaming the bond proposal defeat to lack of communication, Twin Valley administrators started sending our informative newsletters periodically. A film showing school conditions, temporarily rented facilities and purchased portables used for classrooms has been making the rounds of area service and civic clubs recently.

Both proponents and opponents have thrown money into funds to advertise and publicize their views. Radio public affairs hours have donated airing time.

Next Monday, Oct. 15, voters will again be ask to approve an unlimited 7.5 billion bond issue to build a new school.

Through the years, the school board has maintained options on first one, then a second, centrally located property judged suitable for a new facility.

Opponents remain fearful, pointing to ballot working which they interpret as approval for levying any amount of mileage necessary to retire the bonds.

Rural and City residents in both communities point to increased cost of sewage and water systems, policing, janitorial work, busing and insurance.

Some East Jordan area people also fear a new school might even end up in Boyne City because the school board will make the decision and there are five Boyne City area members to East Jordan's two.

They say both schools already own comparable in size acreage sites near their present school facilities.

Originally, Boyne City residents voted 358 for and 219 against consolidation, they say, while East Jordan had 451 for and 165 against.

Recently persons who say they will vote against the bond issue told us the situation reminded them a little of what was called "The Charlevoix County Seat Troubles" starting back in 1865 and continuing until the late 1890's. So we looked it up.

It is a rather length narrative of power plays started by the then Emmet county clerk who didn't want the county seat moved to Charlevoix. The report is in a large tome entitled "Northern Michigan", published in 1905.

The clerk, working behind the scenes with the State legislature, was successful in seeing two counties emerge so he could let Charlevoix have it's own county seat.

Following is an accounting of more behind the scenes maneuvering by county supervisor board members and transition of the county seat through the years! First to East Jordan from Charlevoix (at the suggestion of Boyne City), subsequent grabbing from East Jordan by Boyne City and the re-taking, once more by Charlevoix, in 1897.

The narrator, one of the supervisors on the scene, ends with questioning: "And now will Charlevoix retain it. It doesn't seem possible that a two-thirds vote could ever be gotten to remove it to Boyne City again, and yet as strange things as that have happened in the past. Boyne City lost it from dissensions at home; like produces like effects."

Maybe the Twin Valley school bond election will attract droves of voters next Monday.

Maybe it is perfectly clear that behind the scenes maneuvering is most unpopular this October, 1973.

Maybe it won't take over 30 years of struggles before the present school situation can become a marriage of the spirit and the borning of Twins, other than in name only.

For there is another point that remains perfectly clear: the State of Michigan declares no divorce is possible.

Volleyball Sign-up Set For Oct. 10

The Charlevoix Recreation Department will hold an organizational meeting Oct. 10, at 7 p.m. for anyone interested in playing Volleyball at the elementary school gym.

If you are a player, coach, or just interested, on a team or not, you should attend this meeting. Players who are not on a team will be organized or assigned a team at this meeting.

Saints Trip Rayders, Boyne City Here Friday

The Red Rayders bowed to the St. Ignace Saints Friday night, 47 to 14, for their second loss in conference play this season.

In other Michigan-Huron Shores Conference action, Petoskey defeated Gaylord, 10-0; Rogers City trounced Grayling, 24-8; and Cheboygan blanked Boyne City, 28-0.

This Friday, Boyne City will play at Charlevoix, Petoskey at Grayling, St. Ignace travels to Cheboygan and Rogers City plays at Gaylord.

The conference-leading Saints came on strong against the Rayders, with two TD's in the first period by Butch Calcaterra and Phil Ruegg. Both conversions were missed.

In the second period, Jim Prout intercepted a Charlevoix pass and traveled 50 yards to score. The conversion was good.

With only seconds left in the period, Rayder Randy Faust passed to Terry Skippergosh who passed to Dan Greene, placing the ball on the Saints' four-yard line. Steve McClellan took it across, with Faust adding the conversion.

In the third period, Calcaterra and Bill Grogan both scored for the Saints and the conversions were good. Going into the finale the score was 33-7.

In the final period, Charlevoix scored again on a pass from Faust to Skiopergosh with Faust adding the conversion.

However, the Saints frosted their cake when Grogan capped a 15-yard run by Dan Schlehuber by scoring TD No. 6. McDonald kicked the conversion.

time in the school year rather than in keeping with the Easter holiday and to plan extended work days with the teachers' association for curriculum planning and in-service training sessions following final approval by the Charlevoix Education Association.

The establishment of a Citizens Advisory committee to survey the overall condition of the public school system was discussed at length. Robert Wasoski who had been involved in such a survey in California spoke to the board, emphasizing the value of a comprehensive advisory committee which involve a cross-section of the entire district to study present facilities, needs and how best to reach these goals. He said it was also a way of acquainting the community with school needs and giving the people of the district an opportunity to help solve problems.

The board decided to go ahead with the formation of such a committee or steering committee composed of five basic committees that would feed information to the steering committee. Suggested committees include High School, Middle School, K-4 School, Finance, Non-Academic and building committees.

Winners Named

Winners were selected at noon Saturday in Erber Auto Co.'s big grand opening contest.

Winner of the grand prize—a Tri-Cat recreational vehicle—was R. M. Sutton of Charlevoix.

And Miss Sharmon Dulaney of Barnard-rd. won the Seth Thomas wall clock.

Winning sets of tumblers were Dr. Walter Hoffmann, Henry Klooster, Steve Gennett, Mrs. Steve Gennett, Hal Forbrig, William Boss, Ellsworth; D. Swartwout, Alta Hammerle, Kewadin; Charlene Way, Ken Balch sr., Mrs. E. Aerny, Eleanor Carson, Edna Stafford, Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Ted Weidman, John Wieland, Arlow Crites, Don Schorsch, Harold Dutcher, Helen Richards and Harvy Crozier sr., Boyne City.

Assisting with selections were Charlevoix Venetian Queen Carole Pence and Lyle Miles, who coordinated the grand opening for Erber.

May-St. Assessments Approved by Council

Public Hearing Scheduled Nov. 5

The Charlevoix City Council met in special session Monday night to approve a special assessment for the May-st. sewer and set a date — Nov. 5 — for a public hearing on the assessment roll.

The hearing will be held at 8 p.m. in the council chambers at the time of the regular council meeting.

The total assessment for the sewer project comes to $234,237, of which one-sixth or $39,039.50 will be paid by the city.

The balance will be assessed to the owners of 117 tracts of land at the rate of $12.66 a front foot, with factors applied to extremely large and small lots.

The property owners, in total, will pay $195,197.52.

The assessments were worked out by Mayor Edward P. Hansen and City Administrator Robert Wexstaff with the cooperation of the Special Assessment Board, made up of Mrs. Mary Feindt, Dr. Walter Hoffmann and Ronald Peterson.

Aside from the city's share, the second largest assessee is the Charlevoix School District which has two tracts of property on May-st. — the high school site south of Garfield-st. and the bus garage site. The school district's total assessment will be $31,849.16.

The assessments range from $151.95 for a 12-foot wide tract on Eaton-st. owned by Mr. and Mrs. Edward Vogler up to and including the school assessment.

Persons being assessed will be notified by mail of their share of the cost.

In other business at Monday's meeting, the council reviewed plans for increased downtown parking submitted by John Campbell of the Charlevoix Regional Planning Commission.

Campbell recommended that the council establish a parking authority to acquire property for parking lots and the construction of parking structures.

Campbell presented maps outlining four major downtown parking sites, three of them west of Bridge-st. between Antrim and Park-ave. and the fourth east of Bridge-st. in the area fronting Round Lake between Clinton-st. and the Beaver Island boat dock.

The parking lots would provide the city with about 400 spaces in the downtown section, with the possibility of more if parking structures are built.

Phase I of the project would be the area surrounding the city hall and post office which could be improved to accommodate 150 cars. Estimated cost of the project would be $369,324, including the purchase of needed property, site preparation and development, paving, lighting and three entry meters.

The waterfront property could be developed at a cost of about $107,366, Campbell said, because all the property is presently owned by the city.

He had no figures for development of the other two areas.

The council appeared favorably impressed with the plan and asked City Attorney Norm Ance to look into the legal procedures for establishing a parking authority.

Once established, the authority would decide the means of financing the Bond Issue Fails In Twin Valley

Twin Valley School District District voters made it emphatic at the polls Monday:

They're not ready to saddle themselves with a $7,125,000 bond issue for schools no matter how badly they're needed.

In District wide voting Monday, residents turned down the big bond issue 1,711 to 649, for a no-yes ratio of almost three-to-one.

The vote in East Jordan was No-740; yes-305.

In Boyne City the vote was even wider: No-971; Yes-344.

Voters in both school district also turned down a proposal which would have spread Boyne City's existing bonded indebtedness over both of the former school districts which now make up Twin Valley.

East Jordan turned down the proposal 873 to 174. Boyne City Voters thought more highly of the scheme, but still turned it down 706 to 606.

If it had passed, the assumption of bonded indebtedness proposal would have cost district taxpayers about 1½ mills a year. No debt will continue to be born by Boyne City alone.

Defeat of the bond issue means that the Twin Valley Board must shelve – for the time being at least – its plans to acquire a site and erect a new high school and vocational education center; build additions at both the Boyne City and East Jordan elementary schools and remodel the present East Jordan high school as a middle school.

Why did the millage fail?

Lawrence Addis, election board chairman for the East Jordan precinct, has his own ideas.

"Folks figure their taxes are high enough already," he said after the votes were counted Monday night. "You know, we have an awful lot of retired people living around here, and they just can't afford to pay any more. Some can, but some can't."

Addis, who also serves as South Arm Township clerk, attributes a rash of voter registrations in recent months to the school election.

"They wanted to register just so they could vote against the bond issue," he said.

Board Adopts $1 Million County Budget for 1974

The Charlevoix County budget will exceed $1 million in 1974 – the first time in history it has run into seven figures.

The budget as approved by the Board of Commissioners last Wednesday comes to $1,063,383 – an increase of $64,721 over the 1973 budget of $998,662.

More than half of the money will come from property taxes, meaning a levy of 4.3 mills, based on the county's State Equalized Valuation of $153,835,409.

The 4.3 mills will bring in $661,492.

Because of a revolving fund established in September by the board to cover delinquent tax payments, there will be no carry-over of funds from 1973 to 1974. Any surplus will go into the new revolving fund.

Aside from property taxes, other major sources of revenue will be Revenue Sharing, $186,291; anticipated income tax, $75,000; fines and penalties, $27,500; land transfer funds, $15,000; reimbursement for emergency employment, $20,000; service fees, $10,600; abstracts, $10,000; and refunds, $18,500.

Although more money has been budgeted, some county agencies will experience cutbacks from 1973. The Department of Social Services has been trimmed $35,000; airport, $16,000; advertising, $8,000; and contingency salaries, $7,900.

In addition, funds for capital outlay have been reduced from $62,355 last year to $25,000.

Budgeted for the Board of Commissioners was $39,600; judiciary, $105,991; county government, $365,333; health, $74,829; and Veterans Affairs, $9,700, among other expenditures.

Only one person not affiliated with county government showed up for the budget hearing Wednesday afternoon. He was Karl Waldner of Boyne City, a spokesman for Citizens Information Service, who objected to an appropriation of $26,169 for the Planning Commission in view of the fact that county-wide zoning was turned down at the polls in August.

Lee Moerland explained how the money would be spent and said that the budget for the office would have to be increased if county-wide zoning had been implemented.

After several heated exchanges with members of the board, Waldner said he wanted to go on record as opposing the Planning Commission budget.

Last month, Waldner recommended to the board that the commission be dissolved in light of the vote on zoning.

In other business Wednesday, the board bought two sheriff's patrol cars from Jack's Auto Sales in Boyne City for a total price of $5,242.88. Other bidders were Charlevoix Oil, $7,474; and Woodland Motors, $5,474.

Tuesday, the board heard a report by August Franczek, coordinator of the Northern Regional Alcoholism Program.

Franczek said that out of Charlevoix County's 16,000 residents, 800 are alcoholics.

He said the new alcoholism unit at Lockwood-MacDonald Hospital has treated 112 patients to date with combined in-patient and out-patient services.

He added that treatment of other types of drug addiction probably will be incorporated into the program sometime next year.

Franczek said he has movies and speakers available to acquaint groups with how the program operates.

A NEW GOURMET restaurant will open in early December in the former Bits of Yesteryear building (the old First State Bank) on Bridge-st. Proprietor is Bill Adams, formerly of Birmingham who has purchased one of the Wharf condominiums. In keeping with Charlevoix's French theme and Adams' proposed French cuisine, the restaurant will be called "Tres Bien," roughly equivalent to "Very Well" in English. The exterior of the building is being painted black, with gold trim. Adams plans to bring in a French chef and a staff of French waiters from Colorado for the new business, which will be open weekends during the winter. He also hopes to have a beer and wine license in time for the grand opening. Question: Why didn't he call it "The Left Bank" or even "The Left (over) Bank"?

SPEAKING of restaurants, Leutheuser's is planning to start a series of "International Nights" early in November. Each Thursday evening the cuisine of a different nation will be featured. Sounds like a tasteful way to travel round-the-world without leaving Charlevoix. Watch for upcoming advertisements on the various "International Nights" menus in the Charlevoix Courier.

COMMENTED DR. Harry Custer Friday night after learning that Rep. Gerald Ford had been nominated as vice president: "Well, we've had a Lincoln; we might as well have a Ford."

WEATHER NOTE: Tom Dammann of the Boyne City-rd. is still swimming every day in Lake Charlevoix.

ON THE BASIS of the weather to date, Soup to Nuts predicts the Charlevoix area won't have its first hard frost until November. Look for rain mixed with snow in December, and there's a possibility we'll have a green Christmas for the first time in eight years. Lake Charlevoix won't freeze until late January or early February and Lake Michigan and Little Traverse Bay will remain open all winter. Looks like an early spring, too.

Cordon Bleu Entree For 'Autumn Ball'

Chicken cordon bleu will be the entree at the annual 'Autumn Ball" sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce, according to Thomas E. Merta, executive director.

The dinner-dance, which will be held Saturday, Oct. 20 at the Belvedere Casino, will be catered by Grey Gables.

Served with the entree will be chicken velonte sauce, rice pilaf, broccoli with cheese sauce, Waldorf salad with Mandarin oranges, assorted relishes, rolls, muffins, butter, beverage and a dessert of assorted French pastries.

After midnight, a breakfast of hot rolls and coffee will be served.

The Dave Engstrom Quartet of Charlevoix has been engaged to provide music for the evening, according to Merta.

Tickets for the annual bash cost $10 and may be purchased from downtown merchants or at the chamber office.

High Winds Rake Area

Winds gusting up to 60 miles per hour knocked down limbs and sign boards in the Charlevoix area Sunday, Monday and again Tuesday morning.

The northwesterly winds brought with them hail and some sleet, but no damage was reported.
